XXVIIITH CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION.

CONCLUSION OF SATURDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

NOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

NOTSE OF REFRESENTATIVES. Mr. Balwin (Mass.) spoke of the Democracy as a dying dynasty, which would coale-sce with those now in rebellion, and substitute State sovreigaty, with all its destructive consequences, for human rights and nationality. For the last thirty year-the States rights' cry has been used to break down our Government, and establish instead a planta-tion despotism. He alluded to ex. President Bu-chandm as a miscrable, weak man, who had d-clared there was no power to coerce trainors, and who was not equal to the duties with which he was entrusted.

who was not equal to the duties with which he was entrusted. Mr. Stevens (Pa.) wanted to know whether it was in order to call his neighbor (Mr. Bucanan) a miserable man? [Laughter.] Mr. Baldwin. resuming, said Mr. Buchanan had rendered himself responsible for the outbreak of the most infamous conspiracy and treason ever re-corded; his treasonable doctrines having found a ready response in his Northern allies as well as in the Southern heart. Mr. Boyd (Mo.) replied to the remarks hereto-fore delivered by his colleague, Mr. Biar. He wished to disabuse the minds of gentlemen of the false impressions sought to be made by his censo-rious colleague against him (Mr. Boyd) as one of the four radical members from that State on this floor. They were the only true representatives here of the free and Union-loving citizen of that mbch abused loyal State. He had confidence in President Lincoln, who had said to him. ... the had great confidence in the Radical Union men of Mis-souri;" and the President had further said to him, ... if the throats of either the conservatives, Clay banks, or those of the radicals. " would spare the radicals." • Mr. Boyd insisted that they were for immediate

Mr. Boyd insisted that they were for immediate emancipation and for confiscation. He arraigned his colleague (Mr. Blair) on various charg-s, leaving it to the House to determine which was the best Administration man. He declared himself opposed to the amnesty proclamation, as unwise-and humiliating. It was an just to the loyal people, for we have the power to enforce obelience with-out a resort to such an expedient to purchase the peace of had men. The amnesty is a mistaken mercy, and will enkindle a spirit of opp sition. Let us appeal to the President to recall. revoke or modify the amnesty proclamation. The Union should be met.

Mould be met. Mr. Voorheess (Ind.) said it was a melancholy pectnels to behold a free government die. Liberty nice lost has never in the history of the world been egained by the same people. A republican form of government once overthrown has never risen gain. Whenever in the wide domain of human onduct a people once newseesed of theory with again. Whenever in the wide domain of human conduct a people once possessed of liberty, with all the power in their own hands, had surrendered these great gifts of good at the command of a "surper, they have never afterwards proven themselves worthy to regain their forfeited trea-sure. The American republic, he said, is dying, and he proceeded to enumerate the causes which are working, its downfall, saying, among other things, that under the present Administration instice was no longer established, nor the blessings of liberty secured to the citizens. No instance in all history could be found where a people claiming Ohristain civilization has waged a war of any kind against any foe, in dumb, ferocious silence, without a word, sign or look in behalf of a peace-fal solution. As long as we have now been engaged in this cruel conflict.

In this cruel conflict. He argued at length that negotiation now opened would lead to a restoration of the Union without further slaughter, and that such a course of statesmanship was sanctioned by enlightened precedent, and especially commanded by Divine law. But such a course would not accomplish emancipation nor build up'a central despotism; hence it was not pursued by the party in power. He argued that the management of the Treasury Department had rendered ruin and bankruptcy inevitable. He spoke of General Burnside as in-famous and brutal, for his agency in banishing that statesman and Christian gentleman, Mr. Vallandigham, and in conclusion said the Union Could not be fully dissolved, but that every day which the present party remained in power ren-dered its restoration more remote, and the burdens and sufferings of the people more historable. He which the present party remained in power ren-dered its restoration mere remote, and the burdens and sufferings of the people more intolerable. He warned the South not to look forward to separa-tion and independence, but to embrace every op-portunity to cooperate with the conservative men of the North, in returning to their allexiance on a basis of perfect security for all their rights and in-stitutions as American citizens. If this be done, the next Presidential elec ion will put an end to the war and death, and bring a constitutional Union of the States. Mr. Anderson (Ky.) delivered a speech, the Object of which was to show the people of that State who are representing the Union sentiment of Kentucky, and to vindicate himself and other members here, standing on the Union platform of Kentucky, and sustaining the government by furnishing means to crush out this unholy and damnable rebellion. He referred to the proceed-ings of the late State Convention to show that while the leaders of the so-called National Demo-cracy, condemned the Administration, they had not a word of dissent to the rebellion. He reformed the these union men of Kentucky could support the present incumbent of the Presidential chair, or any other man gominated by the Union Convention, pledged to crish out the rebellion. The gentleman from Indiana (Mr. Voorhees) had declared the war savage and barbarous; but did he forget the rebels are resorting to all manner of cruelty and atrocity, even employing blockhounds to hant np conserptis. The gentleman leveled his denuncia-tions against those who are conducting this war on our part, and had not one word to essay in con-tions against those who are conducting this war on our part, and had not one word to say in con-demnation of the traitors in arms. Mr. Grinnell (lowa) characterized Mr. Voor-hees's speech as very remarkable. He had called the President a usurper-traly a most beautiful compliment. They had seen the President take the oath to support the Constitution; and it was the belief of the conntry he was maintaining the integrity of the Government in all its power. The gentleman said the republic was dying. If so, how, and by what means? By traitors in arms and their sympathizers on this floor and everywhere. The gentleman had spoken of Val-landigham as a Christian statesman and patriot. Ah, how stood Vallandigham on the record? He had declared that he never voted, nor would he vote, a dollar to carry on the war. He (Mr. Grin-nell) thought Vallandigham had been served right in being sent among his tory friends. The reason the war was not ended was because the lovers of the country have to fightrebels in front, as well as their sympathizers in the rear. The Democratic party had their faces to false gods, and now wor-ship slavery-the idol which was set up thirty years ago.

ship sizvery-ine into attention to Fernando Wood Mr. Grinnell paid attention to Fernando Wood and Mr. Cox, saying the Democrats were in sym-pathy with the South in building up a govern-ment or church, the corner-stone of which was Mentor church, are contra-some of anti-slavery. Mr. Hubbard (Iowa) indicated the points of a speech, taking ground that this was a war between freedom and slavery, and placing himself on the side of the former, believing this country will become in truth, as it is in name, the land of freedom freedom. The time is not far distant when the leaders of this foul and dameed rebellion will receive the traitor's doom and felon's death. He alluded to Vallandigham and Fernando Wood, the leaders of. pence to rebels, as the friends of trenson and taitors. The controversy on be terminated only at the point of the sword and the cannon's mouth.

The House adjourned at five o' clock.

We leave this matter for our practical readers, with the turther remark that we this day weighed one pound of eight-pruny nails, and it contained ninety-six nails by count—no less that thirty-eight millions four hundred thousand distinct nails in one building in Ohicano. Supporting there there one building in Chicago, supposing them to aver-age 8d. Think of that. -Piltsburgh Post.
