STATIONS have been multiplied, each with 1ts chapel and store tents, free writing tables, and clothing, comforts and reading matter for gratuitous distribution.
VOLUNTARY DELEGATES, in numbers greater than ever before, have been sent to preach the Gospel at the stations and in regiments, bat-teries and camps without Chaplains, distribute reading matter and stores, and labor for the good of the Soldiers.

of the Soldiers.

A PERMANENT FIELD AGENCY has been sufficiently extended to establish stations and A PERMANENT FIELD AGENCY has been sufficiently extended to establish stations and superintend the work.

THE BLESSING OF GOD rests signally on all parts of the work. Many thousands have been cheered, benefited and saved. Still a large part of the Army remains unreached, and double the number, both of stations and delegates, are needed to meet the urgent demand for them.

The Christian Commission offers to the people a perfectly reliable and wonderfully economical channel to reach the entire army in all its various fields. The money given goes in full measure, in benefits for body and soul, directly to the Soldiers; and stores also, immediately from the hands of delegates from home, who add words and deeds of kindness to the gifts when bestowed.

Let the people give the Money and Stores, and the work will be done.

The large corps of Delegates now in the field will serve as a grand corps of relief when the armies shall move and battles be fought, and the greater their number the more prompt and effective will be the relief they shall render.

Let not the present work languish. Wait not for the cry of the wounded and dying before providing relief.

THE FATE OF COL. DAHLGREN. REBEL REPORT OF HIS DEATH. CONTRADICTORY ACCOUNTS FROM OTHER SOURCES.

The Richmond Sentinel of March 5th, contains further accounts of Kilpatrick's raid.

A correspondent in the Army of the Potomac A correspondent in the Army of the Potomac says:

The gallant Dahlgren is dead. After leaving Richmond he proceeded with a portion of his men toward the peninsula, through the county of King and Queen, where he met Lieutenant-Colonel Pollard, of the 9th Virginia, and had a sharp encounter, in which Colonel Bahlgren was shotdead. Some seventy or eighty of his men were captured. The remainder have rejoned Kilpatrick, as has been already stated. Colonel Dahlgren was one of the bravest sons of America, and his death will be regretted by all whoever knew him. He had lost a leg in the service, and had just arrived at that period of convalescence when he could take the saddle, when he was cut down by war's relentiess hand. Upon his person was found an address to his men and a memorandum of the route he was to take with his command when he left Kilpatrick, where he was to go, what he was to do, take with his command when he, left Kilpatrick, where he was to go, what he was to do, when he was to be there, and when he was to rejoin the main force. The address to his men is a most epirit-attring and patriotic appeal to their sympathies and valor in behalf of their fellow-soldiers who are suffering imprisonment in the loathsome dungeons and upon the desert islands of the Confederacy. He begs them not to falter or flag, but to follow him to open prison doors, and, putting arms into the hands of their released brethren; they would all march together to kill Davis and his Cabinet, and then return home to their friends, ready and anxious for further

It declares that the world can now see that this war is prosecuted from partisan hate, which exceeds that of the savages of old, forgetting apparently, that Southern men were the first to introduce adds, robberies and murders into this country and this war. introduce aidis, robberies and murders into this country and this war.

The Scatinel claims that they have captured two hundred and four of Kilpatrick's men and five officers. They do not claim to have kulled many, but give an obituary of Captain Ellerey, of their own forces, who was killed in defence of Richmond. It also announces the safe return of Col. S. S. Bell to Richmond, who escaped from the cars on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad when being conveyed from Johnson's Island to Point Lookout.

CONFLICTING RUMORS.

A Washington despatch to the Tribune, dated, March 7th, says:

"The latest official intelligence from Colonel Dahlgren is the despatch received yesterday by the President from Gen. Butler, who says he had just received a communication from Gen. Kilpatrick stating that he had heard from Colonel Dahlgren and his men at King and Queen's Court House. General Butler adds that he had sent a force out to meet them. King and Queen's Court House is about 35 miles from Williamsburg."

The same paper contains the following:

"WASHINGTON, March 7.—The President has received a despatch that Col. Dahlgren and command reached Williamsburg this morning." CONFLICTING RUMORS.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Wednesday, March 3.

Gen. Seymour's forces still remain in front of Jacksonville. The videttes are about a mile be-Jackson ville. The videttes are about a mile beyond Camp Finegan, and nine miles from the town itself. The troops have entirely recovered from the slight shock imparted by the late unfortunate result at Olustee, and are in excellent condition to again meet the enemy. We do not entertain the slightest belief that the enemy will attack us in our present position. Whether another fight occurs depends altogether on our advance movements.

curs depends altogether on our advance movements.

The fortifications ir front of Jacksonville are of a formidable character, either for offensive or defensive purposes. The troops have been at work on them day and nigbt, and an immense amount of labor has been bestowed upon them. The absurd reports that our forces were in imminent danger of capture were without the shadow of foundation. The enemy was too badly crippled to follow us on the retreat, and we are confident that he has little relish to attack us now. A number of gambats relish to attack us now. A number of gunboats lie in the stream ready at a moment's notice to open fire. Gen. Seymour's command has been largely reinforced, so that at the present moment it far exceeds the number that the rebels are reported to possess. largely reinforced, so that at the present moment it far exceeds the number that the rebels are reported to possess.

A cavalry skirmish between one company of the rebels and a detachment of the Independent Massachusetts Battahon, occurred on Saturday, a short distance beyond Camp Finegan. The fight was of short duration, and resulted in the complete rout of the enemy, with a loss of one killed and three wounded. No casualties occurred on our side.

Last week, Capt. Dana, of the Signal Corps, and at present Acting Aid to General Seymour, received instructions to communicate with the enemy under flag of truce. The object was to obtain permission to bear our wounded from the enemy's possession. He failed to obtain the permission, and on Friday Lieut. Jackson, of Gen. Seymour's staff, was despatched on the same errand. Lieut. Jackson was also unsuccessful in his endeavors, the enemy giving as a reason for his refusal that the wounded would convey to us valuable and dangerous information. Lieut. Jackson had an interview with Gen. Finegan in person. He was received in a gentlemanly and courteous manner, and occupied a full three hours in conversation. A minor officer stated that Finegan was in command at the battle of Olusies. There were also present Generals Gardiner and Walker. It was claimed that Beauregard had arrived at Baldwin with reinforcements since the engagement. Finegan himself acknowledged his loss was extremely heavy, and two or three rebels had been heard to say that it would amount to between 1,500 and 2,200 killed and wounded. We have not telegraphs as follows: telegraphs as follows:

From private intelligence received this evening from Charleston we learn that the business of blockade running has been resumed there, and that hardly a week elapses without a couple of blockade runners running over the pass and entering the harbor. This is attributed to the insufficiency of our blockading squadron, greatly reduced by Gillmore's expedition, and to a lack of vigilance in the officers entrusted to watch the entrance of the bay. The vessels which have succeeded in buffling the squadron during the last month came from Nassau with full assorted cargoes of muskets of English manufacture, shees, blankets and medicines. medicines.

The comparative rest which the Charlestonians have recently enjoyed has been used by them in the completion of the works of defence which are now progressing rapidly, and which will soon, they hope, make Charleston one of the strongest of the rebel cities. All the disposable hands are now engaged upon these fortifications, numbering, it is said, over 10,000 men. The slaveholders have been compelled to furnish to the military authorities one-fourth of all the male slaves between the ages of 15 and 50. CITY BULLETIN.

Mr. Murdoch's Patriotic Lecture and Recitations.—Last evening Mr. J. E. Murdoch gave his second entertainment at the Academy of Music, on behalf of the "Special Relief." The house was a full and brilliant one, and Mr. Murdoch's eloquent and patriotic utterances were greeted with the heartiest sympathy and the warmest applause. His subject was "Frovidence, and Love of Country," and nobly was it discussed. Recitations of patriotic poetry were interspersed with the lecture, and were listened to with the intense interest which Mr. Murdoch's admirers always accord to his admirable elocutionary efforts. The recitations were introduced by quotations from Bryon's "Gisour." He gave various readings from Mr. Boker—"The Standard-Bearer's Battle-Cry," from Whittier, "Barbara Frietchie," from Bayard Taylor, "Scott and the Veteran," and others, together with Janvier's new poem, "Gettysburg." Ex-Govarnor Pollock made some felicitous remarks at the opening of the entertainment.

MILITARY FUNERAL.—The interment of Major Henry C. Whelan, of the 6th Pennsylvania Cavalry, took place yesterday at St. Mary's church. The funeral was attended by a battalion of the Provost Guard, commanded by Colonel Frink, and the old corps of Washington Grays, under Lieutenant Raiston, preceded by Birgfeld's Band. A large number of army and nary officers, and the male friends of the deceased, formed a part of the procession. At the church a solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. George Strobel, assisted by Rev. Chas. M Monigle as Deacon, and Rev. T. Hannegan as Sub-Deacon. The music of Ohnewald & Requiem Mass was sung by the choir. At the Agnus Dci, "Angels ever Bright and Fair," by Haydin, was sung by Miss Josephine O'Connell. The funeral sermon was delivered by Rev. Father Strobel, after which the remains were deposited in a vault adjoining the church, and the usual firing was performed by the company of Washington Grays.

Among those present are Bishop Clark, Judge Skinner, of Chicago, and Prof. Gibbs, of Harvard University. AMUSEMENTS.

THE CHESTNUT.—Mr. Grover still presents lovers of the drama with novelty after lovelty, and with each new play the scenery improves, and all the appointments become more attractive. Last evening Marston's 'Pure Gold' was given to a good house, and it passed off very well, considering the fact that the artists generally were scarcely up in their paris, and that they seemed to fear to let themselves out with spirit and energy. The plot turns on the false accusation of a father, of robbery and murder, and his restoration to his daughter and to society, with an untarnished reputation. The father aforesaid was played by Harry Pearson; the daughter by Miss Sophy Gimber. Miss G. 2cted with her usual tenderness and effectiveness. Miss Germon gave an admirable portraiture of a noble hearted and quick witted English lady; Mr. Denaldson played a rake and dandy with his usual ability; Mr. Chapman did the best he could with the character of a stiff old aristocrat of broken fortune, and Mr. Mordaunt threw some spirit into the part of an Italian refugee. The minor parts were tolerably performed and will be given with much more effect at later performances of this attractive piece, when all the artists are-familiarized with the text and the simations. To-night "The Colleen Bawn" will be repeated, and shortly "The Ticket-of-Leave Man" will be revived.

"Our First Baby' is the subject of Mr. De Cordova's third and last lecture at Concert Hall "OUR FIRST BARY" is the subject of Mr. De Cordova's third and last lecture at Concert Hall on Thursday evening. Judging from the two first, we have no doubt the Hall will be filled to overflowing.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT ERFE, PA. [From the Erie Obserwar, March 5th.].

A fire broke out about 4 o'clock this (Friday) morning in the rear portion of the Reed House, and spread with astonishing rapicity. Before it had been under headway half an hour, the entire roof of the building was in flames, and it was scon evident that the whole structure would be destroyed. Active efforts were made by the utilizens to save with success.

The Beach House was the hotel, and generally dent had the whole structure would be destroyed. Active efforts were made by the citizens to save the movable property of the hotel, and generally with success.

The fleed House was occupied by Mr. Grisword, who is one of the heaviest losers. It bellonged to Gen. C. M. Reed, and was valued at $75,000. The insurance was only $10,000. The let ctory was rented by business men, most of whom were insured, in whole or part. Their goods, &c., were nearly all saved. The following is a list of the occupants of the let story: Wm. P. Hayes & Co., First National Bank, Dr. L. Strong, Joseph Justice, Booth & Co., A. M. Guild, McConkey & Shannon, M. W. Mehl. Most of these parties were prominent business firms, and the loss to the trade and prosperity of the city, over and above immediate losses, will be great.

In the confusion attendant upon affairs at the period of writing (Friday morning), it is difficult to ascertain the precise loss. We do not think it will be below $75,000.

During the progress of the fire at the Reed House, in heavy clouds in a northeasterly direction. A the wind blew quite strong, and drove the sparks in heavy clouds in a northeasterly direction. Another larg brick buildings on French street caught on the roof, and was soon destroyed. Another larg streets, occupied by Dennis Fogarty and M. Mc Mahon caught in the same way, and burned to the ground. It was feared for a while that the fire would sweep a broad streak direct through the city from the Reed House to the Lake, but the vigorous exertions of the people in that locality saved us from that calamity. The magnificent block known as Wayne Hall, was in great danger for a while, together with the buildings adjoining. The house at the corner of French and Fourth streets belonged to the Hamot estate; the other, we believe, to the Colt estate. The people in that some of them will suffer greatly. We have not learned whether there was any insurance on the buildings.

A portion of the wall of the Reed House fell at that past seven o' clock with a loud crash

PERSONAL.

PERSONAL.

The health of Governor Hicks is slowly improving, but his condition is now such that he can be removed from Washington to his home, near Cambridge, Md., with safety.

Hon. Fernando Wood is lying dangerously ill at his residence, at Bloomingdale, from an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. A. D. Richardson, the wife of the correspondent of the New York Tribune, died on Friday last, at her home in Massachusetts, after a single week's illness. Her disease was congestion of the brain, induced by an attack of measles, but that it should have taken this form is to be attributed doubtless to the intense anxiety she has suffered in consequence of her husband's imprisonment. Mr. Richardson, with another correspondent of tha Tribune, Mr. Julius Browne, was taken prisoner on the 3d of May last, while attempting to pass Vicksburg in a tug, which was blown up by a rebel shot. They were sent to Richmond, with paroles in their pockets for exchange, and thrown into Libby Prison. From Libby Prison they were removed early in the winter to Castle Thunder, and from Castle Thunder more recently to North Carolina. To this cruel treatment of Mr. Richardson is now added the death of his wife and the orphanage of his children.

THE GUNDOLT DE SOTO.—A private letter from Havana, dated March 1, states that the United States gunboat De Soto was in the dry dock there. The blockade-runners and Seces sionists in Havana had threatened to burn the vessel, and also threatened the officers with iolence. The Spanish authorities, however, had given the officers of the De Soto permission to wear their side-arms, and they now visit the city fully armed.
