**EXAVIIITH CONGRESS.—FIRST SESSION.**

WASHINGTON, March 10.

SENATE.—Mr. Summer (Mass.) presented the memorial of the leading manufacturers of Lowell against an extension of the patent of Charles Goodyear for vulcanized India Rubber.

Mr. Morgan (N. Y..) presented petitions from various citizens, asking for increased railroad and mail facilities between New York and Philadelphia. Referred to the Committee on Post-offices and Post-roads.

Mr. Ten Eyck (N. J.) presented similar petitions, which were likewise referred.

Mr. Dixon (Conn.), from the Committee on Post-offices and Post-roads, submitted a bill giving the franking privilege to the President and Vice President, which was passed.

Mr. Sumner, from the Oommittee on Slavery and Freedmen, reported a bill providing that the Proclamation of Emancipation issued by the President of the United States on the 1st of January, 1663, so far as the same declares that the slaves in certain designated States and parts of States thence-forward should be free, is hereby adopte 1 and enacted as a statute of the United States, and as a rule and article for the government of the military and naval forces thereof.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the amendment of Mr. Sherman to the resolution of the House, authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury of the House, authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States not necessary for the payment of the interest on the public debt.

Mr. Sterman said there is now gold in the Treasury of the Interest on the public debt.

amendment of Mr. Sherman to the resolution of the House, authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to anticipate that payment of interest on the public debt, as follows: "And he is hereby authorized to dispose of any gold in the Treasury of the United States not necessary for the payment of the interest on the public debt.

Mr. Sterman said there is now gold in the Treasury to the amount of $19,670,470 ever and above all the same of the United States and outstanding accounts. At the average has an an account of July, $22,272,175; to meet dues and interest to the first and the same of the payment of the day it will require $20,819.700 or thereauth to that day it will require $20,819.700 or thereauth to that day it will require $20,819.700 or thereauth to that day it will require $20,819.700 or thereauth to the same of the s on and give it a wider circulation. Mr. Wilkinson said the honorable Senator tells Mr. Wilkinson said the honorable Senator tells as that he was chairman of a National Executive Committee which had met in some dark corner, but he does not tell us that there was any notice given of the convention of these distinguished persons, who loved their country so much better than others. He agreed pretty much with all the Senator had said, though a great deal of it was dail and stale. How does the Senator know what is set forth in the circular, that Mr. Lincoln cannot be re-elected? He would like to inquire of the Senator (Mr. Pomeroy) whether Secretary Chase had ever given it as his opinion that the seceded States should be allowed to retire from the Union in preference to a war?

States should be allowed to retire from the Union in preference to a war?

He (Mr. Wilkinson) believed the President too slow, but he did not wish to see the confidence of the country impaired in him by such circulars as that of the Senator from Kansas He could not assail the Secretary of the Treasury, for he believed the Government never had an officer who discharged his duties with greater ability; but was it in good faith for the friends of the Secretary to assail his chief in order to elevate himself to power.

out was it in good faith for the friends of the Secretary to assail his chief in order to elevate himself to power.

After a colloquy between Messrs. Lane and Pomeroy, of Kansar, in which the former charged the latter with raving impeded the removal of General Schofield, and a rejoinder by the latter to the effect that he had recommended his the effect that he had recommended his retention as being as well able to carry cut a radical policy in Missouri as any other General, the amendmen of Mr. Davis was rejected—ayes 6, noes 31.

The oil was then passed—yeas 31, nays 6, as follows:

YEAS—Messis. Anthony, Brown, Chanler, Clark, Conness, Cowar, Dixon, Doolittle, Feschden, Foot, Poster, Grimes, Harlan, Harris, Howard, Howe, Johnson, Lane (Ind.), Lane (Kansas), Morgap, Morrili, Nesmith, Pomeroy, Ramsey, Sherman, Sunner, Ten Eyck, Van Winkle, Wade, Willey, and Wilson.

NAYS—Messis. Buckalew, Davis, Hendricks, Powell, Riddle, and Wright.

The bill granting lands to aid in the construction of a railroad from St. Paul to Lake Superior was passed without amendment, after considerable debate.

The Vice President laid before the Senate a despatch announcing the pussage of the emancipation act by the Virginia Constitutional Convention, and the Senate then adjourned.

House.—Mr. Arnold (Ill.) introduced a bill, which was referred to the Committee on Commerce, providing for such appropriations for harbors on the northern lakes and western rivers as are necessary to preserve them from raise. are necessary to preserve them from ruin, and to make such temporary repairs as may be neces sary before more permanent works can be con-

Mr. Wilson (Iowa) introduced a bill to abolish the Count of Claims, which was referred to the Committee on the Judicary.

Mr. John Law (Md.) reported a bill from the Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, giving to revolutionary pensioners each a hundred dollars per annum; to commence from the first of January, 1864, and to continue during their natural lives, in addition to pensions to which they are eatiled under former acts of Congress.

Mr. Farnsworth wished to know how many revolutionary pensioners there are I ving.

Mr. Law replied, only twelve, the youngest being ninety two-and the oldest one hundred and five years of age; it was not probable that these pensions would continue more than two years.

Mr. Stevens asked whether the additional pensions would be continued to the widows of these pensioners? [Laughter.]

Mr. Law replied in the negative.

Mr. Stevens humorously gave as a reason for asking the question, that the widows would marry in a year. [Laughter.]

Nr. Mallory (Ky.) wished to know whether the gentleman intended to marry one of these widows?

Mr. Stevens said he would take warning from

The bill was unanimously passed.
The House passed the Senate bill placing the names of John L. Burns (Pa.) on the pension roll, for his patriotic services at the battle of Gettysburg, where he was wounded on the first of of July, 1863, at which time the pension shall commence.

Mr. Arnold (Ill.), from the Committee on Roads and Canals, reported a bill for the construction of a ship canal for army and naval vessels from the Mississippi river to the northern lakes, and for other purposes, and asked that the question be taken on its passage.

It provides that so soon as the State of Illinois shall transfer and yest in the United States all her right to the bed of the Illinois and Micnigan canal the improvement shall be commenced, and prosecuted with such dispatch as the nature of the work and the funds appropriated by Congress will permit. The revenue ever and above the expenses for the management and repairs, shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States. The government are required, as soon as Illinois shall transfer the required, as soon as Illinois shall transfer the said canal, to issue thirteen million three hundred said canal, to issue thirteen million three hundred and forty-seven thousand dollars' worth of bonds, redeemable in twenty years, and bearing an intest of six per centum per annum, the canal to be free to all vessels on the payment of tolls.

Mir. Holman (Ind.) raised the question of order, that as the bill made an appropriation of money, it must, therefore, receive i.s first consideration in the Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union.

Union.
The Speaker sustained the point, and the bill was so referred.

Mr. Arnold, from the same committee, reported a bill similar to the above, but with such alterations as to aveid objections to its consideration betore the House. Objection was made to the second reading of the bill.

The question therefore occurred, under the rules, shill the bill be rejected?

Mr. Arnold, with a view to accommodate the genlieman, asked that the bill be postponed to a certain day, in order that a measure which involved such important interest should receive full and fair consideration. The question was of creat moment. onsideration. The question was of great moment, not only to the West, but to the entire country. This bill was substantially the one reported during the last session. The government was asked only to I.nd its credit, as the receipts would keep pace with the expenditures in the prosecution of the work. the work.

Nr. Norton (Ill.) said this was one of the most important militar, and naval defences to the great Northwest that could be presented to the House. Was it right and courteous to strangle the bill without at examination? He asked for an open field out an examination? He asked for an open field and a fair fight.

Mr Stevens (Pa.) said he should vote for the rejection of his bill, whatever might be its merits, on account of the irregular way it came into the House. The bill previously reported was before the Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, where it would have a fair discussion.

Mr. Dawes (Mass.) would not support this measure unless it should be properly modified, but he was willing the bill should receive proper consideration.

measure unless it should be properly modified, but he was willing the bill should receive proper consideration.

After-further remarks from other gentlemen, Mr. Arsold moved a postponement of the bill till Monday week, and this was agreed to.

Mr. Arnold (Ill.), from the Committee on Roads and Canals, reported a bill on which no definitive action was taken, amendatory of an act heretofore passed, so as to authorize the Louisville and Nashville and the Jefferson and Maysville Railroads to construct bridges, over the Falls of the Ohio.

The House, in Committee of the Whole on the state; of the Union, resumed the consideration of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Appropriation bill. Among the items are, for the Department of Agriculture, $23,000 for collecting agricultural statistics, and $80,000 for the purchase occreal vegetables and flower seeds. Apprepriations are also made for the propagation and distribution of valuable plants, cuttings and shrubs. The bill, with amendments, was reported to the House, but definitive action was not taken thereon.

Mr. Spalding (8)hio) introduced a bill granting pensions to the surviving soldiers of the war of 1812, and includes in its provisions all who served in the regular army or navy or in the militia for the term of two months.

The House, at 4% P. M., adjourned. PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.
