RECIPROCAL AID.

Official documents in the State department a Washington prove that nearly two hundred thousand immigrants arrived in the loyal States of the Union during the year 1863. The number that landed in New York was one hundred and seventy-three thousand. Massachusetts was favored with over nine thousand, California with nearly seven thousand five hundred, Maine with forty-five hundred, and Pennsylvania with three thousand. Thus does this nation, blest by the help of Providence, repair the waste of war and maintain the glorious right arm of her strength. Thus by the alluring infinence of democratic institutions are down-trodden-fugitives from old-world tyranny transformed, by thousands, into American freemen, co-workers with the native sons of Columbia in upbuilding the edifice of liberty whose massive foundations were laid in 1776.

Thus "A nation which hath never worn a crown; A land which hath not held a throne, or felt The foot of king, or seen his purple robe;"

receives to its bosom the sturdy toilers who will support and defend its institutions as pillars hold up a temple dome. Rome made citizens of the populace of provinces vanquished by military strength; America conquers and enfranchises by calling across the ocean with a voice which tells of liberty to all; of equality to all; of toil truly, but of the sweet rewards of That voice pierces through every toil. wall; it rings along every frontier; it reaches the dweller by the bleak shores of Norway; it invites him who broods beneath the shadow of the Appenines; it thrills the soul of the peasant born on the Green Isle, and with mingled hope and reluctance he obeys the summons: in every valley of the German Empire the oppressed Saxon hears the all-powerful invocation, and turning his back on stately palaces and towers, he sets out for the Western wilds, there to rear cities more marvellous for growth and strength than any on the shores of the Rhine ! Millions have heard and obeyed the voice of the Genius of America, and there is room for millions more. The vast spaces at the foot of the Rocky Mountains;

the returning states of the South and West; and the shores of the Pacific all woo the feet of the emigrant; all invite him to establish his "vine and fig tree," under the shelter of institutions becoming purer and more Republi. can every day.

Nothing can impede the growth of this Republic; neither rebellion nor treason; neither the sacrifice of vast armies nor the accumulation of a huge national debt. The destiny of America must be fulfilled, and we shall outlive all the malignant prophecyings of our enemies. Perhaps on the return of peace our example may more powerfully aid in the elevation of the masses of the old world, and to our land may

THE WIFE'S SECREF. BY MRS. ANN S. STEPHENS .-- To the cultivated class of novel readers it is needless to say a word of commendation of the style or plot of any of the works of this authoress. "The Wife's Secret'' is superior to any of its predecessors from the same pen, by rea-son of the perfect familiarity with every condition of American life which it displays. Were it published anonymously, universal curiosity would be excited to ascertain its parentage, com-bining, as it does, in one absorbing lifedrama, the keen trenchant style of a man of the world with that of the tender and high souled woman, whose own heart is mirrored in her writings. A series of charming heart pictures runs through the book, relieved and brought out into strong light by a dark background of mystery and crime, such as we know exists in Paris, and with which we fear-our own large cities are becoming oo familiar. Not with that coarse and inelegant delineation of human weakness and vice in which flash literature abounds, but in the same graceful style of description which marks the portrayal of purer scenes and events free from gilded misery and wickeiness. It is not saying too much to call it a true American novel of as high an order of genius as any of Dickens's English fictions of heart and fireside.

Booksellers, News Agents, and all others, will please send on their orders at once for what they may want of either edition of "Tue Wife's Secret," or of any of the other Lew and uniform editions of the popular works of Mrs. Ann S. Stephens.

The Girard Life and Trust is one of the oldest and most substantial Companies in the United States. It has always been conducted upon the principle that the primary object of Life Insurance, is unques-tioned security to the Insured. With this view of Life Insurance, it commenced business nearly thirty years ago, upon the joint stock principle, with mutual privileges, and with an adequate cash capital. In 1844 the Company declared the first BONUS to its insured members for whole of Life, thus affording all the advantages of mutual insurance. Since that period all insurers for the whole of Life have participated in the profits, and which and constantly on the increase. Its premiums are as low as that of any other good company, and as is consistent with the proper security to the insured. These may be paid quarterly, semi-annually, or annually. All its privileges are liberal, and its payment of losses prompt. It has never contested a claim.

THE TEN-YEAR PLAN. This popular system of Life Insurance enjoys all the advantages of profits as other whole life policies. Those of our citizens who contemplate insuring their lives for the benefit and protection of their families, are earnestly invited to examine the principles upon which the Girard Lits Insurance Company is conducted before entering into engagements with those who hold out inducements of extravagant profits, which may result in a disappointment to those most dear to them, at a time when the benefits of Life Insurance are the most

EVENING BULLETIN SATURDAY, MARCH 12, 1864. PROGRESSIVE NEW YORK.

The New York people are progressive The means by which they attain that character are not always honorable, but that does not matter much in a community where "get money; still get money, boy; no matter by what means," is the principle they adopt in all pecuniary transactions. Renewed belief in this progression is caused by a bill which has been introduced into the Legislature at Albany, regulating the sale of milk, and establishing a Milk Exchange in New York city. Among other provisions are the following: Section twelve declares it unlawful for any one to sell milk from a milk wagon, or to drive a wagon Mohairs. Also, for cash, three cases Linens, by order of Underwriters. TUESDAY, March 15-About 1,100 packages Boots, Shoes, Brogans, Army Goode, &c., embracing a prime and fresh assortment, of city and Eastern manufacture. German and Swiss Dry Goods, in Cottons, Linens, Worsteds, Woolens and Siks An extensive assortment of scarce articles. on a milk-round in that city, without first getting a license from the Milk Exchange, and registering and numbering the wagon in the Exchange. Section thirteen forbids the railroads from carrying milk, unless they file with the Milk Exchange an accurate monthly account of the cans and quarts carried. Section fourteen authorizes the Milk Exchange to issue licenses to milk-cart drivers, and to charge two dollars for each license. Section seventeen authorizes and empowers the Milk Exchange to establish "such uniform rates, prices, commissions, rules and regulations for AUCTION NOTICE-LARGE SALE OF BOOTS AND SHOPS. We would call the attention of buyers to the large and desirable sale of 1,500 cases Boots, Shoes, Balmorals and Galiers, of every variety, to be sold by catalogue, for cash, on Monday morning, March 14tb. commencing at 10 o'clock precisely, by Philip Ford & Oo., Auctioneers, at their store, No. 525 Market and 522 Commerce streets. the purchase, sale, transportation and delivery of milk as shall be deemed expedient and proper ;" and it is further authorized " for that purpose'' to "furnish its own milk cans, marked with its corporate name," and undertake the transportation and delivery of milk. The vendors of swill milk, the discovery of whose villainous concoction caused such a great excitement in New York and Brooklyn, are doubtless interested in this novel project, and, to ensure its passage, have placed among its sorporators the names of 2 number of well known citizens; but whoever may be the parties and whatever the quality of the milk they intend to force upon the stomachs of the unfortunate men, women and children of Gotham, it is in consonance with the "get money, no matter by what means" doctrine of the people who are to be affected by the monopoly.
