LATE FROM NEW ORLEANS AND THE GULF. NEW OLEANS, March 5, 1861.—Rarely, if ever, in this country or any other, was such a splendid scene exhibited to the people of a city as that of yesterday at the inauguration of the Hon. Michael Hahn, Governor of Louisiana.

For several days past a large number of workmen had been employed in Lafayette Square in erecting an amphitt eatre in the shape of a crescent, for the purpose of seating all the white children and teachers of all the schools in this city. This was crowded, and it sestimated that no less than from nine to ten thousand children were prethan from nine to ten thousand children were pre-sent. Immediately in front of the children was a sent. Immediately in front of the children was a raised platform, on which were about three hundred musicians, and beyond this was the inaugural stand. Wreaths and flags covered the structure some ten or fifteen feet above the highest tier of seats. of seats. In the rear of the immense amphitheatre were

In the rear of the immense amphitheatre were stationed fitty pieces of artillery, under the superintendence of Brig. Grn. Arnold. The guns were connected with a finger board upon the music stand by means of the egraph wires, and were fired by electricity, the performer player upon the fifty cannon as it upon a plano for e, keeping the most exact time with the powerful band and grand chorus, producing the most inspiring effect.

The whole musical arrangement was the conception of P. S. Gilmore, Esq., of Boston, by whom the entire ten thousand combined harmonies were conducted.

When the ceremonies commenced there were up-when the ceremonies commenced there were upwards of thirty thousand persons present. At that hour the Governor elect ascended the grand stand. The procession accompanying the Governor elect was formed at the Governor's Room by Onief Marshal Colonel Thomas Ohickering and among the participants were Generals Banks, Shepley, Mc-Olernand, Sherman, Reynolds, T. W. Sherman, Stone, Bowen, Arnold, Lee, Ransom and Cameron, with their respective Staffs.

After the oath of office had been administered to Governor Hahn, he delivered his Inaugural Address. This address regards Slavery as the cause of the present unboly attempt to break up the Government, and its universal and immediate extinction as a public-and private blessing. "From every lightbiforeme," he said, "I am constrained to believe that the rebellion is in extremis, and it seems to me not extravagant to look upon this year as the final one of the most senseless, causel-ss and most mundrous rebellion that ever occurred in a civilized nation. The loyal men of Louisiana have suffered much and deeply, but, with the blessing suffered much and deeply, but, with the blessing of God upon our exertions, all will be soon right again, and peace, happiness and prosperity will smile upon our threshold as of old. A grand ball at night concluded the gayeties of the occasion.

NEW ORLEANS, March 6.—I have no war news to communicate as yet; though you may expect some important movement soon, as the army is preparing for the field in this department in larger force than at any time previous during the war.

Major-General Sherman, too, was not here on a mere pleasure excursion, as he was closeted several hours with Generals Banks, Stone and other generals of the department. His presence here has puzzled all, and many are the reasons given for his appearance among us. I would like to enlighten your readers on the subject, but the news is cortraband, and must not be published for the present.

raband, and must not be published to the present.

The large force of cavalry recently in this department has started overland for Brashear City. This looks like another movement up the Teche; and I merely give the expressed opinion of the majority residing here, when I state that it is believed that the entire army is going in the same direction—to the Red River, by way of Alexandria and Shrevenori. to the Red River, by way of Alexandria and Shreveport.
An occasional skirmish occurs between the pickets of the two armies near Baton Rouge.
A few days since the rebels made a raid upon West Baton Rouge, and entirely cleared Mr. Caldwell's plantation of all the horses, mules and cattle upon it. They also took seven fine horses from Mr. Philip Bauer, at the ferry landing, and ransacked the store of Mr. Samuet Ewell.
The 3d Division of the 13th Army Corps, Brig.-Gen. McGunnis, commanding, was reviewed on the 3d inst., at Algiers, by Major-General McClernand.

THE SHERMAN EXPEDITION.

[From the New Orleans Delta, March 2.]

From Adjutant A. G. Phillips, of the 32d O. V.

1., who arrived yesterday from Vicksburg, and who was with the Sherman Expedition, we have obtained some interesting details of that famous raid:

raid:
The Expedition consisted of the 16th and 17th The Expedition consisted of the 16th and 17th Army Corps, under General Hurlbut and Mo-Pherson. It contained 21,000 infantry, 1,200 cavalry and about 30 pieces of artillery, with a train of 800 wagons. The excedition left Vicksburg on the 3d of February with twenty days' rations. The men knew nothing of the object of the expedition. They skirmished with the enemy on the 4th on Champion Hill. On the 5th, the 2d brigade of the 3d division 17th Army Corps, under Col Potts, came up with Wirt Adams's cavalry at Bear Greek, six miles west of Clinton, and a fight began at sunrise.

The rebels had 1,200 cavalry and four pieces of The rebels had 1,200 cavalry and four pieces of artillery. The enemy was driven twenty-three miles. The brigade lost thirty killed and wounded. The rebels reported that the enemy lost 150 killed and wounded. After driving the enemy 23 miles, our forces marched 10 miles in line of battle, and occupied Jackson, Miss., on the night of the 5th. The enemy was driven across Pearl river and their pontoons secured. After that fight there was nothing but cavalry skirmishing during the rest of the route.

pontoons secured. After that fight there was nothing but cavalry skirmishing during the rest of the route.

On the march from Jackson to Meridian the railroad was destroyed to such an extent that months will be required to rebuild it. The and rails were piled up together, and as the ties burned, the rails, being heated, would bend so as to be rendered worthless.

The entire country through which the expedition passed was desolated, scarcely a vestige of a house, barn or fence being left behind. Brigade commanders were instructed to burn all unoccupied houses, but the soldiers were not very particular whether the houses were occupied or not.

At Morion, about thirty-six miles from Jackson, Loring's and French's Divisions of Pelk's Corps were in line of battle for two days, but on the approach of our advance they retreated. They claimed that they were ordered to Mobile to defend that city from an anticipated attack. One hundred and fifty rebel soldiers were captured at Morton.

At Decatur the supply train of the 16 h Army

Morton.
At Decatur the supply train of the 16 h Army Corps was attacked by some of Adams's Cavalry, and 26 mules shot. Two rebels were killed.
The report that the expedition was opposed at Chunky River is untrue. Our forces reached Meridian (which is 150 miles from Vicksburg and 135 miles from Mobile) on the 16th of February. Polk evacuated the place half an hour before our advance arrived.

vance arrived.

Meridian is the junction of the Mobile and Ohio and the Jackson and Charleston railroads. It is a place of only 300 or 400 innabitants. Sherman remained there five days.

mained there five days.

All the supplies necessary for the army were obtained except bread. Mills were put in running order and corn ground for the troops. In this manner three days' mea rations, were obtained. For four days the troops lived on parched corn, as a bread ration. The best kind of ham and shoulders were obtained there in large quantities. At Meridian the 16th Army Corps were ordered to desiroy the railroad north and east, and the 17th Army Corps west and south, which they did most effectually. effectually.

General Sherman issued a congratulatory order to the troops before leaving Meridian, in which he said the object of the expedition (the destruction of the railroads) was most effectually accomplished.

stid the object of the expedition (the destruction of the railroads) was most effectually accomplished.

In returning, the troops came back as far as Hillsborough, fifty-six miles, on the route they went down on, and then struck off to the right in the direction of Can.on. They crossed the Pearl River at Radcliff's Ferry, twelve miles east of Canton. At Canton the troops waited four days to hear from Smith's cavalry expedition, which expected to join Sherman at Meridian, but failed to do so. It was reported at Canton that Smith had lost 2,000 men and all his artillery. There was much alxiety felt with regard to him. Gen. Sherman left the lorces at Canton to the 27th for Vicksburg, where he errived on the 28th, and sailed the same evening for New Orleans. The expedition was then in command of Gen. Hurlbut.

After remaining at Canton four days the troops left for Vicksburg. The rear guard was attacked at Canton by the rebels, whe were driven off by cavalry. The rear was harassed until it crossed the Bockets creek, 23 miles from Black river. March, without the loss of a wagon or other Government property, except the 20 mules shot by whom will take the oath and come North; 6,000 blacks, of whom 900 will be added to the force at Vicksburg; 500 captured horses and mules; two pieces of artillery, and 500 white refugees.

The people whom the troops saw on the route all expressed themselves tired of the war, and expressed themselves that it was over. They made no expression of preference for the Union or the Confederacy.

The expedition from Vicksburg up the Red Riverto Alexandria has been abandoned for the present.

THE SEVENTY-NINTH PENNSYLVANIA

INFANTRY.

[From the Louisvile Journal of March 11th.]

This noble regiment arrived in our city last night, from the front, on the way to the homes or its members in the proud old Keystone State. We take pleasure in discharging a debt of gratitude by farnishing a brief history of its first arrival in our State and its subsequent glorious career. The 79th was first introduced to our notice as forming a part of the brigade commanded by General Negley, which came to the rescue of the old Commonwealth, when two-thirds of the State were inpossession of the rebel armies, and the other portion threatened by their advance. The regiment first entered active field service on Kentucky soil. At Green fiver, the men were in supporting distance of Willich and his battation. After an ardnows winter spent at the latter point, the regiment left Kentucky, following close upon the rear of the rebel retreating army. The 79th was with Genera: Brell in his campaign of 1823, and was identified with many engagements.

Returning to Kentucky when General Bragg with his legions had again invaded the State, the men were baptized in the fire of Perryville, leaving two-thirds of their numbers among the Chaptain tills. The regiment participated in the sanguirary battles of Stone River, and made a successful defence of the gap at Bell Buckle, Tenn. On the bloody field of Chickamauga the regiment was conspicuous, I using nearly half of its remaining number of men. During the siege of Chattanora and at the storming of Missionary Ridge and Lookout Mountain, the gallant 79th won many new laurels. Colonel H. A. Hambright commands the regiment, and of its history he can feel only proud. In the late movement on Dalton, Georgia, the 79th rendered efficient service. Two hundred and fifty of the men have re-enlisted fifty declining to re-enter the service. These three hundred men are all that remain of the one thousand that left the old Keystone State at the commencement of the war. Our kindest wishes will follow the regiment in all its future movements.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT AND FIRE.
The Toledo Express on the Cleveland and Toledo Railroad, which left Cleveland at 7.55 Wednesday evening, was running into Bellevue about leven o'clock at night. A short distance east of Bellevue is a side track running around to a wheat warehouse belonging to private individuals, and the switch leading to it is placed in a curve. As the train was passing around the curve at its regular running rate of speed, Engineer John Allen saw that the points were wrong. He immediately sprung the Cramer brake and reversed the engine, but the headway was so great and the dis ance so short that the train ian in on the side track and dashed into some empty cars standing there, completely wrecking them. The locomotive and tender passed through the wreck with comparatively little injury, and the engineer and fireman, who stuck to the engine, crouching down to avoid the flying pieces, escaped without injury. Two Express cars, the baggage-car, a second-class car, and one first-class car were smashed by the collision, and in a few minutes they took fire. One little girl in the second-class car was killed by the collision, but the other passengers were got out in safety. William Allen, the baggage-man, and his brother, a brakesman on the train, were in the baggage-car at the moment of the collision. On hearing the Cramer brakes sprung, brakesman Allen ran between the piles of baggage to reach the platform and put down the regular car orakes, when he was buried among the falling baggage, crushed to death, and it is supposed, burned up, as his body has not been found.

Baggageman Allen was also caught in the wreck and jammed down by the legs so that he cound not extricate himself. As soon as possible Conductor Ames and some help endeavored to get him out, but he was wedged in so tightly that their efforts were unavailing. Meanwhile the fire was spreading rapidly, and corrching those working to relieve the unfortunate man. Conductor Ames had his hands and face badly burned, but still continued to work FATAL RAILBOAD ACCIDENT AND FIRE.

about three-quarters of an hour. He was injured internally.

The warehouse took fire from the burning cars, and was destroyed, together with about fifteen thousand bushels of wheat contained in it. No elue to the cause of the accident has yet been obtained, other than that it was occasioned by the switch being turned wrong. It is reported that a number of the boxes and packages in Express cars were found in the morning rifled of their contents, and it is therefore supposed that the act was that of a gang of villains whose object was plunder.

DANVILLE, Pa., June 2, 1862.

Dr. Wm. H. Gregg—Dear Sir: In February, 1861, I was afflicted with sugar diabetes, and for five months I passed more than two gallons of water in twenty-four hours. I was obliged to get up as often as ten or twelve times during the night, and in five months I lost about fifty pounds in weight. During the menth of July, 1861, I procured two bottles of Constitution Water, and in two days after using it I experienced relief, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured; soon after regaining my usual good health.

Yours truly, J. V. L. DEWITT.

BOSTON CORNERS, N. Y., Dec. 27, 1861.
Wm. H. Gregg & Co.—Gents—I freely give you liberty to make use of the following Certificate of the value of Constitution Water, which I can reliberty to make use of the following Certificate of the value of Constitution Water, which I can recommend in the highest manner:

My wife was attacked with pain in the shoulders, whole length of the back, and in her limbs, with Palpitation of the heart and Irritation of the Bladder. I called a physician, who attended her three months, when he left her worse than he had found her. I then employed one of the best physicians I could find, who attended her for about nine months, and while she was under nis care she did not suffer quite as much pain. He flually gave her up and said, her case was incurable. 'For,' said he, 'she has such a combination of complaints; that medicine given for one operates against some oher of her difficulties.' About this time she commenced the ase of the Constitution Water, and, to our uter astonishment, almost the first dose seemed to have the desired effect, and she kept on improving rapidly ander its treatment, and now superintends entirely her domestic affairs. She has not taken any of the Constitution Water for about four weeks, and we are happy to say that it has produced a permanent cure. WM.M. VAN BENSCHOTEN.

WETHERSFIELD, Conn., March 2, 1863.

Dr. W. H. Gregg—Dear Sir—Having seen your advertisement of "Constitution Water," recommended for inflammation of the Kidneys and Irritation of the Bladder, having suffered for the past three years, and tried the skill of a number of physicians with only temporary relief, I was induced to try your medicine. I procured one bottle from your agents at Hartford, Messrs. Lee, Sisson & Co., and when I had used half of it, to my surprise I found a great change in my health. I have used two bottles of it, and am where I never expected to be in my life, well, and in good spirits. I cannot express my gratitude for it, I feel that it is all and more than you recommend it to be. May the blessing of God ever attend you in your labors of love. Yours, truly.

THESE ARE FACTS ENOUGH.

We present the Constitution Water to the public with the conviction that it has no equal in relieving the class of diseases for which it has been found so eminently successful in curing; and we trust that we shall be rewarded for our efforts in placing so valuable a remedy in a form to meet the requirements of patients and physicians.
