STEEL BOILERS.—Some interesting experiments have been made in Prussia with steel steam boilers, an account of which has been published in Dingler's Polytechnic Journal. A steel boiler of bollers, an account of which has been published in Dingler's Polytechnic Journal. A steel boiler of the egg-end-shape, 4 feet in diameter and 30 feet in length, without flues, was tried. It had a steam drum 2 feet in diameter and 2 feet in height, and the plates were one-fourth of an inch in thickness. Beside it there was placed another boiler, similar in every respect, excepting that the plates were of iron 0,414 of an inch in thickness. The steam boiler was tested by hydraulic pressure up to 195 pounds on the inch, without leakage, and both the iron and steel boilers were worked under a pressure of 65 pounds on the inch for about one year and a half. During this period the steel boiler generated 25 per cent. more steam than the iron one, and when they were thoroughly examined after eighteen months' practical working, there was less scale in the steel than in the iron boiler. The former evaporates 11.66 cubic feet of water per hour; the iron boiler 9.37 cubic feet. The quantity of coal consumed was on an average 2.705 pounds for the steel one in twelve hours, and 2,972 pounds for the steel one in twelve hours, and 2,972 pounds for the iron boiler. The plates of the steel boiler ever the fire were found to be uninjured, while those of the iron one were about worn out. In Prussia several worn-out plates of iron boilers have lately been replaced with steel, which, it is stated, lasts four times as long. As steel is twice as strong as fron, thinner plates of the former may be employed for boilers, and more perfect riveting can be secured. A greater quantity of steam can also be generated in the steel boiler on account of its thin plates, and thus much fuel may be economized. Such steam boilers, and more perfect riveting can be secured. A greater quantity of steam can also be generated in the steel boiler on account of its thin plates, and manufacturing purpose.

NEWS FROM THE REBEL STATES.

[Corre pondence of the Cincinnati Gazette.]

[CHATANOOGA, March 13.—A recent number of the revel newspaper—the Mississippian—contains following remerkable passages:

'Have our neighbors read the Chicago Times, New York Express, Metropolitan Record, Cincinnati Enquirer and various other papers of the North which are exponents of the opposition to Lincoln? Have they read the speeches of Bright, Voorhees, Merrick and various others? Have they ever found in any of these papers or speeches a syllable that id not breathe the most orthodox States' rights doctrine, and uncompromising opposition to coercion? These are the men we wish to encourage, and these are the men whose success will bring peace.'

A letter from Dalton, of the 9th of March, published in the Atlanta Register of the 11th, admits that in the recent attack on Col. Harrison's Indiana Cavalry, the rebels had an entire brigade, commanded by Wheeler in person. He lost one man killed and one wounded. The letter says further that the Yankees still have a strong force at Ringgold and hold Cleveland with a division.

The following items of Southern news are derived from various sources:

Here is a despatch from Richmond, dated on the 10th of N'arch:

"An official despatch from General Ransom tonight, from Suffolk, says the enemy occupied Suffolk in force on Sunday. He attacked them on the 5th, drove hem out of town, killing a number, capturing one piece of artillery and a large quantity of commissary and quartermaster's stores. The enemy are flying to Portsmouth, burning bridges and everything behind them. They were pursed beyond Bernard's Mill. One gunboat and two transports appeared in York river to-day, near West Point. Their object is not known.

"Charleston, March 10.—The enemy have ceased firing on the city. A very hard blow prevalled at sea all day and last night. The new iron-clad gunboat Ashley was successfully launched this morning."

RICHMOND, March 11.—The Legislature of Virginia requires exemption from military duty for the rumerous judicial and executive departments of the State, Government and public institutions.

"MILLEDGEVILLE, March 10.—Hon, Linton Stevens introduced a resolution into the House of Representatives, declaring the power to suspend the habeas corjus yet limited by prohibition, and that no person shall be deprived of liberty without due process of law which must come from the Courts and not from the Executive, and that the act of Congress, attempting to sustain arrests under process of orders from the Executive, is void."

SUPPOSED LOSS OF AN ITALIAN FRIGATE.

[From the N. Y. Herald of this morning.]

The lataian Consul General, J. Anfora di Licignano, in company with B. W. Peycock, Eaq., and Signor Secchi de Cassali, edutor of the Echo il Ralia, visited the ship Star of the West, Captain Perry commanding, yesterday afternoon, in order to ascertain the fullest and most reliable particulars relative to the supposed loss of the Lajian man. of-war, which vessel had been spoken on March 7. Mr. Peycock proceeded to question Captain Perry as to his opinions relative to the supposed loss of the Italian man of-war, when the following facts were elicited:

When in latitude 40 40, longitude 64 20, at the hour of four P. M., on the afternoon of March 7, the lockout on the Star of the West saw a large man-of-war. She had her colors at the masthead and maintopmast gone. These facts proved that they wished to speak, and those on board the Star of the West made the necessary movement to comply with the request. At seven P. M. passed under her stern and spoke her. Captain Perry did not speak through a trumpet, as they had none on board the Star of the West. The question was then asked:

"We are an Italian man-of-war and in a sin k-ing condition. We wish you to lay near ne all night and accompany us to the nearest land."

"What do you want?"

"We are an Italian man-of-war in all night and accompany us to the nearest land."

"How many have you got on board?"

The Sar of the West then steered a short way from the sinking vessel and fired signals up to nine o'clock, which were all responded to. There was a rocket fired at ten o'clock, but no reply, and at eleven o'clock a rocket and blue light were sent up; but, as before, no response was received. Thus matters remained until 50 clock on the morning of the Sth, the Star of the West still holding fast about three miles from where the Italian vessel lay. It being daylight at this time, every eye was turned in the direction where the distressed vessel was last seen; but no trace of her could be discove SUPPOSED LOSS OF AN ITALIAN FRIGATE.

friends that the vessel in question is none other than the Italian frigate Re Galantuomo, which sailed from this port on March 3. They also feel sanguine of her safety. It is understood that a steamer will be at once sent to her succor, should she need any, and will sail in the direction of Bermuda Island. of Bermuda Island.

The Re Galantuomo was a large frigate, of much greater size than the Re d'Italia, which at first was supposed to be the vessel which had suffered a disaster. She was formerly a sailing vessel, and was constructed at the Royal Navy Yard, near Naples. A few years ago she was converted into a steam yessel.

SPOTTED FEVER.—The Montrose Democrat states that the spotted fever broke out in Herrick township, Susquehanna county, two weeks since, and at the last report pineteen of the residents had died. In one family six persons had fallen victims to the disease, and in another four. A correspondent of the same journal gives the following remedy: Hearing of the ravages that the black or spotted fever is making in your county and vicinity, prompts me to let the people of Susquehanna county know of a remedy that saved many lives in Vermont over fifty years ago. The same disease broke out there, and proved fatal, untit one case occurred in which no doctor could be had. They tried sweating the patient by bolling hembers, and giving him hemlock tea to drink, both hot and strong, which soon produced perspiration. All that followed this prescription got well, and tity of hemlock boughs that could be used in case of necessity. The old fire place and five pail kettles were in use there. But I expect Yankee inhousehold utensils to raise steam.

Colonel Dahlgren's Instructions.—It is stated by the Herold correspondent at Norfolk that General Kilpatrick positively affirms that the instructions found on the person of the late Colonel Dahlgren did not contemplate the "assassination" of Mr. Davis, or any member of his Cabinet, as stated in the Richmond papers; but only that he should kill, or cause to be killed, Mr. Davis, if, after capturing him, he should attempt to make his escape. It is further alleged that it was only public property which was to have been destroyed in Richmond.

THE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT.

A correspondent replying to our strictures on the Highway Department and the City Councils, cri-A correspondent replying to our strictures of the Highway Department and the City Councils, criticies the proposed new ordinance as follows:

The first section provices that the Chief Commissioner of Highways shall, in the first week in March and October, advertise in two daily newspapers having the largest circulation, for one week, for proposals let, For turnshing all gutter, than way and crossing stone, at so much a linear foot; bricks at so much a thousand, and gravel at so much a toad, as may be required for the use of the city for six months. Now, if the city the compelled, as it would be by this section, to contract for all it would require of the above mater als for six months, the great probability is that a heavy loss would be the result of such impolitic action. Let us take the article of bricks as a test. The kind of bricks are generally bought by the city, at six dollars per thousand for hard bricks, and from seven to eight dollars for gutter bricks, and from seven to eight dollars for gutter bricks. At the present time, hard bricks is at eworth twelve dollars and gutter bricks sixteen dollars per thousand. A contract for furnishing what the caty would require for six months, could certainly not be entered into with advantage at the present time. Nei her could it ever be done to the best advantage of the city at the time proposed by the section. Every practical man knows toat unsternals are higher at the opening of spring, when the supply has filied the market.

Another part of the same section says: "The proposals for said work and materiass shall be opened by the obard of Commissioners of Highways in the presence of the committee of highways, and the chef of said by ard and chairman of said committee shall certify to the Mayor he names of the respective bids. With any reasons icises the proposed new ordinance as tollows:

You will perceive that the Act of the Legisla ture says distinctly that "no contract shall be awarded to any but the lowest bidder," while the ture says distinctly that "no contract shall be awarded to any but the lowest bidder," while the ordinance proposes to sot the act of the Legislature aside, and permit the Mayor to award the contracts, as the Chief Commissioner and Chairman of the Highway Committee may direct or require, provided he is satisfied with the reasons they may urge. Now is it not simply absurd to suppose that an ordinance of Conneids can override a positive law enacted by the Legislature.

Another absurdity is contained in the Second Section. Itsays—"no street shall be repaived nor laid with tramway stone, except by an thority of an ordinance, nor repaired except by a resolution of two-thirds of the Committee on Highways &c." The act of the Legislature Febuary 2d, 1831, says, "but no member or members of Conneil, whether as a Committee or otherwise, shall make any disbursement of corporate moneys, nor audit the accounts thereof, nor perform any other executive duty whatever." Thus you will perceive that no Committee has power to perform executive duty, and cannot direct work to be done. Many other impracticable and ridicalous items are in the bill, but enough has been shown to prove that its author in his effort at reform, has permitted his zeal to overcome his judgment, and but enough has been shown to prove that its author in his effort at reform, has permitted his zeal to overcome his judgment, and it is truly lamentable that a man of such undoubted ability in his profession should so far forget himself as to urge that his crude abortion should be forced upon the members of Common Council, and insist that they should pass it with all its 'imperfections on its head.'

It is to be hoped, for the future, that the zeal displayed by the newspaper fraternity will not lead them into the same errors that have been committed by the author of the bill. It is unjust to attribute to the present Chief Commissioner of Highways and his Assistants the evils that have crept into that Department. They have been elected by the Republican members of Councils as honest men. It is expected of them that they will perform their duty faithfully to the public; let us at least wait until they have done something to call for condemnation. So far the Department have, been unable to do anything, their appropriation hill being clogged by a proviso that prevents all work until authorized by an ordinance or resolution of Councils.

FLAG PRESENTATION.

[Correspondence of the Evening Bulletin.] HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC March 15, 1864.—The Committee from the Cooper Shop Volunteer Refreshment Saloon, of Philadelphia, consisting of Messie. Arrangements were made that the presentation should take place in presence of the 1st brigade of the Reserves, to which the 2d regiment has always been attached. On Monday, the 14th (pesterday), the Brigade, under command of Colonel Wm. Cooper Talley, was formed in three sides of a square, the 2d regiment, the recipients, being in line of battle, and forming, as it were, the base of the square. The final disposition of the troops having been made, Colonel Wm. McCandless, commanding the division, accompanied by his staff and the committee, rode in front of the 2d regiment, and, dismounting, the ceremony of presenting the flag began.

Air. Joseph Megary, formerly of the Select Council of Philadelphia, presented the colors in an eloquent speech, which was appropriately responded to by Colonel Wm. McCandless, on the sponded to by Colonel Wm. McCandless, on the part of the regiment.

At the conclusion of the speeches, cheers were given for the Cooper Shop Saloon.

The scene of the presentation was grand. The ground was dry and the day beautiful. After the ceremonies the columns were deployed into line, the ranks opened and the committee rode through. Then the regiment passed in review.

PASSENGER RAILWAYS CENSURED BY A CORONER'S JURY.—In the case of Joseph Mesney who was run over and killed by a passenger railway car on Eighth street, near Fitzwater, on the 29th ult., Coroner Taylor concluded the inquest yesterday afternoon, and the verdict of the jury was—"That the said Joseph Mesney came to his death by being run over by a red-light car preceding car No 24. MAN Shor.—Emil Wuigart was shot last MAN Shor.—Emil Wuigart was shot last evening at a house on Market street, near Eighth. The ball entered the neck and lodged in the shoulcer, causing a severe wound. It seems that Wuigart, who is about 20 years of age, enlisted in Cincinnati. Finneis Krause, a Government detective, heard that he had deserted, and went last evening to the house on Market street to arrest him. Wuigart was invited to the door, when Krause told him that if he put his hands in his pocket he would shoot. Wuigart states that he did put his hands in his pocket or the purpose of showing that he was unarmed. At this time Krause fired. The wounded man was taken to his home on Seventh street, above Vine. He is not dangerously injured. His father states that Wuigart was discharged from the service in consequence of having entered under 18 years of age. Krause was arrested and locked up at the Central Station for a hearing this alternoon before Alderman Butler.

SELECT COUNCIL.—At the last meeting of this body an ordinance nacreasing the city bounty to volunteers to fifty dollars, was passed, but no action was taken by the Common Branch. The effect of the delay has been to almost entirely stop recruiting. Select Council, therefore, held a special meeting yesterday afternoon, and passed a resolution requesting Common Council to return the bill. It is said that a majority of the members of the Common Chamber are opposed to any increase of bounty.

THE "GROVER & BAKER" SEWING MACHINE THE "GROVER & BAKER" SEWING MACHINE AGAINST THE WORLD—It is a perfectly safe projection, on the part of the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, to challenge comparison with all other Sewing Machines. There are several thousand of these admirable instruments in use in this city alone and among the entire number there could not be found one owner who would willingly exchange his machine for any of its half price. This machine, it will be borne in mind, is the only one ever invented which performs that Embroidery. We may state in this connection also that the Stitching Rooms at the splendid office of the Grover & Baker Company, No. 730 Chestnut street, are now attracting much attention. Sewing of all kinds is executed here at the shortest notice, and an elegant line of made-up articles is constantly kept on hand.

Two Hundred Thousand More!—The President has ordered a draft for two hundred thousand more men. He has determined to endeavor to put a finishing stroke to the rebellion and to make the coming campaign the last. We urge all who can to enlist in the service of the country, and those who cannot go should aid in furnishing means for the willing onles, and take care of the families in their absence. In the meantime Rockhill & Wilson, Nos: 603 and 605 Chestnut street above Sixth, continue to make elegant and comfortable garment for adults and youths, besides splendid uniforms for soldiers.

tiff's claim against the company, the following are some of the items in the bill presented to the company:

Damages for not repairing in time what is called the Crooked Dam. eight or nine miles below Holdidaysburg, shortly before the State sold the caual to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in 1857. This dam was in a very dilapidated condition and was partly carried away by a freshet and had been repaired temporarily with boards, logs and mud. Damages for the deteation of the boat R.S. Reed caused by the breaking of the dam.

Damages for the detention of the boat "Commerce" at first dam below Williamsburg, caused by the logs or capping having been washed away from the top of the dam, and itsidiapidated condition by which the water escaped through it

Expenses of repairing this dam so as to pass through it. Damages for the detention of the boat commerce at first dam above Huntingdon, caused by the water escaping through it, and also for expenses of repairing this dam so as to pass through it.

Concert Hall.—To-night Williams's Biblical Panorama will be exhibited as usual at Concert Hall.

THE CHESTNUZ.—This evening "Pure Gold" will be repeated, and we have no doubt but that it will be given with finer effect than on former occasions. The cast includes the names of Harry Pearson, W. A. Chapman, F. Mordaunt, W. A. Donaldson, G. H. Andrews, J. T. Ward, Eyers, Miss Effie Germen, Miss Sophy Gimber, and Miss Cooper.

Cooper.

THE ARCH.—This evening Mr. and Mrs. Williams appear at the Arch in "Ireland as it Was." Mrs. Williams appears in "In and Out of Place," taking no less than six characters. The closing plece is "Turn Him Out." The house will be full as soon as the doors are open, and crammed before the curtain rises.

COAL DEPOT.—The statement that it is in contemplation to erect workshops on St. Inigo's Creek, in St. Mary's county, Md., for the repair of the boats of the Potomac flotilla, is not correct. The coal depot, which has been heretofore at Piney Point, will be removed to that place as soon as the wharf there is completed. The repairs and filting out of the vessels of the flotilla will be done at the Washington Navy Yard, as formerly.
