There are great many people who are in the habit of taking pills, who erroneously think that the pills or medicines taken which produce the most violent discharges from the bowels, and cause excessive pain, straining and tenesmus, are the best pills to take. This is a great mistake. The griping straining tangersyms is the result of the irrupture and instructions. , is the result of the impure and inert qualities of the medicine that are carried to the lower bowels, and there induce irritation, conges-tion and inflammationhence collows straining, piles, and frequent false cells to the water closet. THE BALD, and those who are troubled with dryness and falling off of the hair, should use Jayne's Hair Tonic. It excites the scalp to a new ann healthy action, and removes the dandruff, causes a free circulation of blood through the scalp, nourishes the existing hair, and causes new hair to grow on heads that have been bold for years. It is unsurpassed for giving a rich glossy arpearance to the heir. Prepared and sold by DR. D. JAYNE & SON, No. 242 Chestnut street.

HENRY CLAY AND WILLIAM LLOYD GARRISON. Mr. John G. Whittier writes as follows to the Boston Transcript in relation to the statement that Henry Clay secured the release of Mr. Garrison from prison in Baltimore, in 1830: "The facts in the case are simply these: During the imprisonment of my friend Garrison, I ventured to address a line to Henry Clay, asking him to use his influence with his politica and personal friends in Baltimore to procure his release. I neither asked nor expected him to pay himself the fine and costs. I had no definite idea upon what terms, if at all, his release could be effected, or whether, in the words of Dumbedikes to Jennie Deans, "Silver would do it." My appeal, wisely or otherwise, was made to a distinguished political man in behalf of one of his most ardent supporters. who must have been already known to him as the first editor in New England to nominate him for the Presidency in an able and vigorous article published in the Bennington Journal of the Times, of March 27, 1829, and which was widely copied and commended. It is proper to say that my letter was written without the knowledge of my friend Garrison. "In a letter which I received some time after from the Kentucky statesman, he informed me that he had written to a friend in Baltimore, in conformity with my wishes, but that he had just learned from his correspondent that he had been anticipated, and that the liberation bad been effected without the aid he would otherwise have given. The fine and costs were, in fact, paid by Arthur Tappan, Esq., of "The promptness of Henry Clay's response to my appeal was honorable in itself, and characteristic of one who was always true to his political and personal friends. The implied charge of ingratitude suggested by my old friend Prentice is perhaps hardly worth noticing. What Henry Clay proposed to do for Garrison was no more than he would have done, and should have done, for any one who had established a similar claim upon his favor.

"As to myself, I could scarcely be said to be an 'entire stranger' to him, for, young and ob-scure as I was, I had in the Boston Manufacfurer advocated his claims with such zeal and earnestness that I was selected as the successor of the editor of the journal himself, and in the Hartford (Conn.), N. E. Review, assisted, as he will doubtless remember, in writing 'The Life of Henry Clay,' and declined, on account of illness, an invitation from the National Republican Committee to fill a vacancy in the delegation of Connecticut to the Convention which nominated him in 1831. I mention this merely to show that my letter, under the circumstances, was not altogether boyish presumption.

"That in the progress of the great struggle between freedom and slavery, both Garrison and myself have since felt compelled to speak freely of the position and avowed sentiments of Henry Clay, is certainly true. But, for myself, I cen say that this was always done more in sorrow than in anger, and, accompanied with a profound regret that one in many respects so noble, and endowed with such wonderful gifts, should allow his great influence to be felt in support of a system which his reason and conscience condemned."

CENTRAL FAIR, FOR THE

Sanitary Commission.

Philadelphia, 1307 Chestnut Street February 20, 1864.

The undersigned, members of the Executive Committee of the GREAT CENTRAL FAIR for the Sanitary Commission, beg to invite the co-ope ration of all their fellow-citizens, especially of those resident in Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey, in this important enterprise. It is proposed to hold the Fair in Philadelphia, in the FIRST WEEK IN JUNE NEXT, and it is confidently expected that the contributions coming from a popula ion so benevolent and patriotic as that which inhabits the Central States, and representing the most important and varied branches of industry and art, will secure a result in aid of the funds of the Commission, and for the benefit of the Soldier, at least equal to that which has attended similar undertakings in other cities. It is not necessary to say a word to stimulate sympathy for the soldier. We feel for them all as brethren, and the popular heart seeks only the best mode of manifesting that sympathy in the most efficient and practical way. These fairs in other places have been productive of great results By this means Chicago has recently raised for this object $60,000, Boston $150,000, and Cincinnati more than $200,000. We appeal, then, with the greatest confidence to the inhabitants of the Central States, especially to those who constitute the great industrial classes, to send as contribution the productions of their skill and workmanship, We appeal to them in the interest of no party, radical or conservative, Republican or Democratic, Administration or anti-Administration. We know only this, that to send our national soldiers in the field supplies to supplement those Government un-dertakes to give them, but which they sometimes fail to receive, and thus to relieve the and in misery, is a work of Christian charity, and that it is a work of intelligent patriotism also, as economizing their life, health and efficiency, on which, under God, the nation depends in this its time of trouble.

We therefore ask every clergyman to announce this humane undertaking to his people, and to advise them to do what they can to further it. We ask the press to give it the widest publicity and the most earnest encouragement. We call on every workshop, factory and mill for a specimen of the best thing it can turn out; on every artist, great and small, for one of his creations; on all loyal women, for the exercise of their taste and industry; on farmers, for the products of their fields and dairies. The miner, the naturalist, the man of science, the traveler, can each send scmething that can at the very least be converted into a blanket that will warm, and may save from death. some one soldier whom government supplies have failed to reach. Every one who can produce any. thing that has money value is invited to give a sample of his best work as an offering to the cause of national unity. Every workingman, mechanic or farmer, who can make a pair of shoes or raise a barrel of apples, is called on to contribute some thing that can be turned into money, and again from money into the means of economizing the health and the life of our national soldiers. Committees have been appointed in each depart ment of industry and art, whose business it will be to solicit contributions for the Fair, each in its own special branch. These Committees will place themselves in communication with those persons who may wish to aid us. In the meantime it is recommended that local committees or associations should be formed in every portion of Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey, with a view of organizing the industry of their borhoods, so as to secure contributions for the Committees of Ladies have also been organized to co operate with those of the gentlemen in soliciting contributions.

A list of all these Committees will be shortly published and distributed. In the meantime those who are disposed to aid us, or who may desire any further information on the subject, are requested to address CHARLES J. STILLE, Corresponding Secretary of the Executive Committee of the Great Central Fair, 1307 CHESTNUT Street.
