oBituary.

TRIBLEY—On the 20th of February, A. D. 1864, in the 20th year of his age, at Olustee, Florida, in battle, while leading his command, Col. Charles W. Fribley, of the 8th U. S. Colored troops.

Born and educated in Pennsylvania, he entered the 84th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, as a Sergeant, speedily rose to a Lieutenancy, was made Adjutant to Col. Bowman, and subsequently his Assistant Adjutant General, when in command of the 2d Brigade of the 3d Division of the 3d Corps.

With great administrative capacity, he was no less consplctuous for his courage; and distinguished dimself at the second battle of Bull Run, at Fredericksburg and Charcellorville. Subsequently desiring to serve in the colored regiments, he received permission to appear before the Examining Board, where he displayed so much merit and proficiency that he was at once recommended for a Coloneicy, a grade far above his expectations, and was appointed to the command of the 8th Regiment U. S. colored troops, then forming in this State. In the organization, instruction and discipline of this regiment he exhibited the same rare qualities which had gained him such rapid promotion, and it may be, in truth, affirmed that few regiments, in any branch of our military service, have gore into the field more thoroughly trained and fitted for the duties of the soldier.

All accounts represent Col. Fribley and his brave soldiers as having exhibited the field morage and discounts represent Col. All accounts represent Col. Fribley and his brave soldiers as having exhibited high courage and discipline in the battle in which he and so many of them fell. them fell.

It is known that in seeking a command of colored troops, he was actuated by the desire of aiding in the emancipation of an oppressed race, and of fighting the battles of Freedom, as well as of Constitutional Government. His blood has been poured out, with that of his black compatriots, upon a rebellious soil. They rest together, in a common grave. And when, hereafter, a grateful Nation shall gather the commingled dust of these her brave defenders, no name shall be more honored than that of the gallant young soldier who believed that the cause of his country was the cause of Human Eights.

Resolved, That the foregoing Obituary of the late Colonel CHARLES W. FRIBLEY, be inscribed upon the minutes of the Supervisory Committee for colored enlistments, be published in such of the newspapers in this city and Lycoming county, Pa., as the Chairman shall designate; and be furnished to the Colonel Commanding at Camp William Penn, with a request that it be read to the colored regiments now in camp.

Resolved, That copies of these proseedings be transmitted to the wife and parents of the late Col.

Fribley, as an expression of the heartfelt sympathy of the members of this Committee with them, in their bereavement.

FROM GEN. GILLMORE'S DEPARTMENT. FROM GEN. GILLMORE'S DEPARTMENT.
HILTON HEAD, March 14.—Four contrabands, three men and one woman, arrived here from the vicinity of Charleston yesterday. They bring no news, except that none of our shells reach further than Broad street, and that many inhabitants are returning to the city, confident that "the Yankees" hever can take it.

A boat load of deserters, seven in number, reached our lines day before yesterday. They were the repairers of telegraph lines in Charleston harbor, and brought their implements and their boat's crew with them. They say that Admiral Farragut has already captured Fort Gaines, with a garrison of eleven hundred men, and that he is now banging away at the city. They have no particulars, and we do not yet receive their reports as "Gospel truth."

From Jacksonville there is no news of consequence. The Boston, which arrived from that point yesterday, reports everything quiet there and at Pllatka. The enemy is in strong force, and is still engaged in throwing up defensive works. Our troops have been reinforced.

The excitement about the threatened raid by Stuart has subsided. Notwithstanding the statements that the report was a canard, without foundation, it was nevertheless substantially true, and nothing but the prompt action of Gen. Pleasonton prevented Stuart from carrying out his intentions. A detachment of the enemy crossed the Rappahan-uock near Fredericksburg, Wednesday night, and the following day Col. Bryan, 18.4 Fean-yivania Ctvairy, captured iwenty of the party, including two well-known scores, McIlvaine and McReynolds, of young's brigade, one of the brigades stationed at Fredericksburg, who captured the 3d Invision Cavalry mail, last September. Vest-riay morning a detachment of the enemy crossed Mornon's Fort, and drove in the 7th Michigan pickets, but were subsequently repulsed and forced to recross the river.

FURTHER FROM THE GULF.

General Banks issued an order on the 4th inst., for an election to be held on the 25th of March, for delegates to a Constitutional Convention. The Convention is to meet in New Orleans of the 6th of April THE COUPONS DUE APRIL IST, 1861, AND WILLIAMSPORT RAILROAD COMPANY, will be point on and after that date, on presentation, at the Pennsylvania Railroad Building, Room No. 1, corner of THIRD street and WILLIAMS alley, by n. h21-m, w.f. tapit GEORGE TABER.

Manisonville, a small town on Lake Ponchartrain, opposite New Orleans, has been evaluated. The object search by occupying this town was to open communication with Maton Rouge. General G over's whole force has been ordered to concentrate at the latter place.

It is believed that there is some sort of an understanding between Generals Banks and Steele, by which Western Louisiana and Southern Arkansas are to be cleared of rebel troops.

[Correspondence of the N. Y. Herald.]

New Orleans, March 12, 1861.—Col. O. Carroll Tevis, in command of three squadrons of the 34 Maryland Cavalry, reached this city yesterday from Madisonville. With this command he left Madisonville on bronday last, at two o'clock A. M., and returned to the same place on he following day, at ten o'clock, P. M., having made a march of one hundred and forty miles in a direct route during his absence, besides scouring the whole country through which be passed.

The purpose of the expedition was to drive Greenley's gnerillas from that section of the country, and, in order to make sure work of it, Colonel Tevis not only cleared the roads of every armed enemy, but skirmished through the forests, dismounting his command wherever it was impracticable to ride through dense woods.

The enemy retired without firing a gun, before the Union forces as they advanced across the Chappapela river at Hennen's ford, from which our troops pursued a westerly direction to the Tangipahoa river, where there are no fords, and where the Drion forces as they advanced across the Chappapela river at Hennen's ford, from which our troops pursued a westerly direction to the Tangipahoa river, where there are no fords, our cavalry scoured nearly the whole country between the Tangipahoa on effort to cross that river. Our cavalry scoured nearly the whole country between the Tangipahoa on Pearl rivers.

The fords of the Chappapela river were held by the Ninth and Tenth battations of which the rebels had been hunting up their fleeing conscripts.

Colonel Tevis's command also recaptured from the rebels a body of thirty negroes, who had been originally captured by them from a plantation near Fort Pike.

The whole of the 9th and 10th battalions of Louisings capatry, who are down down. The whole of the 9th and 10th battalions of Louisiana cavalry, who came down upon the supposition that Madisonville was to be abandoned on Monday, retired to Greensburg, near the frontier line, and on Wednesday there was not an armed rebel within sixty miles of Madisonville, except possibly now and then a straggler.

Our cavalry brought in a number of soldiers who had been paroled at Vicksburg and Port Hudson, who were endeavoring to avoid conscription into the rebel ranks, who had been hunted after by bleodh unds, and who had been neeking to enter our lines for the purpose of taking the oath of allegiance, which has now been administered to them. In the region through which our cavalry traversed there were large quantities of cotton, which could not be removed by our forces for want of transportation; a considerable supply of corn and a surplus of sweet potatoes.

As soon as our cavalry was withdrawn from transportation; a considerable supply of corn and a surplus of sweet positoes.

As soon as our cavalry was withdrawn from Madisonville, and the 3d Maryland had embarked for New Orlsans, our infantry pickets were attacked by the rebels, who advanced in small numbers, but not with sufficient force to seriously haves our remaining troops.

Colonel Tevis, with the 3d Maryland cavalry, has been until recently operating in Virginia. The regiment is composed in part of four hundred rebel soluers from Fort Delaware, who took the oath of allegiance and enlisted in the Union service. There have been no desertions from it in the face of the enemy.

We have the following additional news from Texas, gleaned from the Houston and Galveston papers, of the 14th, 18th and 19th insts.

A correspondent advises the News that official information has been received that fifteen hundred Yankees, including three hundred Mexicans and two hundred negroes, have left Brownsville on January 18th, for some point in the interior of Texas, and fears that San Antonio will be attacked.

January 18th, for some point in the interior of Texas, and fears that San Antonio will be attacked.

He also says: Since the bombardment of our fort at the mouth of the Caney on the sixth, by one of the enemy's propellers, all has been quiet on the Peninsula. Of the three men wounded by a shell in the fort, two belonged to Mosely's battery and one to the 2d Texas.

From Lavasa accounts up to the 6th instant report that on the 5th instant the enemy, 2,000 to 3,000 strong, with some cavalry and six pieces of artillery and thirty wagons, came up from Powderhorn to Chocolate Bayon, about six miles from Lavaca. They camped at the bayon all night, and returned in the morning to Powderhorn, carrying with them some 50,000 feet of lumber from the farm of Mr. James M. Foster. They committed no other depredation.

The Annesty.—Major-General Bana, commanding the Yankee forces in Texas, has issued General Orders 14, dated Pass Cavallo, January 30th, 1844, ordering the printing of a sufficient number of copies of Lincoln's Amnesty Proclamation, to supply whatever demand there may be for them, and requesting all officers and men to use every opportunity that may present itself, to distribute them in the interior of the State. Also, ordering all persons within the lines to take the cath that they may enjey the full benefits of the proclamation.

A number of wagons passed through this place this week, laded with ball and lead, from San Antonia to Washington, on the Brazos, to which place army stores are being removed for safety, in case of invasion from the Southwest.—Langrange True Issue, Feb. 6th.

The rebel General Magruder has issued an order in which this passage occurs:

'The commanding general again urges upon the officers and men the imperative necessity of taking care of their bayonets, however inconvenient it may be to do so, and upon the officers the duty of preparing bayonet scabbards out of rawhides, as previously ordered.

'The commanding general avails himself of this opportunity to notice the fact that Terrell's regiment lost not a man by desertion when ordered to be dismounted, not withstanding the example set them by some others. He holds the officers responsible for the conduct of their men, and hereby calls upon them to use their weapons at all hazards against those who attempt to desert under any circumstances, or who may be guilty of mutiny, or of aiding, abetting, joining in or exciting the same, and in all cases where efficient steps are not taken by the commanding officers to prevent and punish such crime, they will be arrested and brought before a general court-martial for trial, conviction and punishment.

He also issued the following:

AESON CASE.—Before Alderman Beitler, on AESON CASE.—Before Alderman Beitler, on Saturday afternoon, Evelina Short, colored, was charged with arson. The accused was formerly a slave in Delaware, but purchased her freedom and came to Phinadelphia. One day she called at the residence of Mrs. B. McPherson, in Barclay street, and asked for lodgings, promising to attend to the children while Mrs. McPherson was at work. She occupied a room adjoining that of Mrs. McPherson, but the communicating door was natled up. It is alleged that on Monday last curing the absence of Mrs. McPherson, the defendant removed the nails from the door, stole a quantity of clothing from a trunk, locked the children in the room and fired the house. With some difficulty the children were rescued. The stolen goods were found at a pawnbreker's establishment. Evelina was committed to answer.

This is the season, too, when we begin to think of flowers, and we have no doubt that the Musical Fund Hall will be crowded with visitors, enjoying the perfumes and the bright colors. The exhibition lasts only one day, commencing at eleven in the morning and continuing during the entire day and throughout the evening.

The latter read a letter from a prominent Major-General in the army, speaking in high terms of the Work of the Commission. A Jealous Wife at a Ball.—Some little excitement was created at a ball, at the National Guards' Hall, on Saturday night, by a scene which was not on the programme. It seems that a German, who went to the ball, left his wife at home, and took with bim a young womar. While he was enjoying himself his wife suddenly controlled him, and there was quite a war of words. Finally the wife put her hand in one of the pockets of her husband's coat, and drew therefrom a pistol. She then insisted that her allege lords should be arrested for carrying concealed deadly weapons. The Teuton was thereupon seized upon by a policeman, and after a hearing at the Sixth Ward Station-house was held to bail to answer.

These two dramas have established the reputation of Mr. Grover's theatre, and have afforded pleasure and instruction to tens of thousands of citizens and strangers. The Arch.—On Saturday evening probably the The Arch.—On Saturday evening probably the largest house of the season attended the performance of three characteristic plays by Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams at the Arch, and a more enjoyable entertainment has seldom been given in this city. Mr. Williams as Con O'Carolan and as Barney, the Baron, was exquisitely funny, and his humor kept everybody either laughing or eagerly looking out for whits.' Mrs. Williams enacted Moleshee, and also gave half a dozen personations in the farce of "Law for Ladles." Her opickness and versatility are traits warrellevant. constions in the larce of "Law for Ladles." Her quickness and versatility are truly maryellous and excited the unbounded admiration of the entire audience, which occupied not only every seat, but also all the standing room, even to the aisles. To-night's bill comprises "All Hallow E'en" and "Latest from New York," in both of which Mr. and Mrs. W. appear. The closing piece is "The Good for Nothing."

THE WALUUT.—We announce for this evening at the Waluut "The Dead Heart," with Edwin Adams as Robert Landry. He will be fairly supported by the company.
