OBITUARY.
KENNEDY—At Harrisburg, on Tuesday, March
Sth inst., Dr. Stewart Kennedy, of the U. S. Navy, in the 3ist year of his age.
Dr. Kennedy graduated with distinction at the Jefferson Medical College of this city, in 1854; commenced the practice of his profession at Eas ton, his native town, soon after, and in the following spring was, after a rigid examination, appointed as Assistant Surgeon in the Navy. While waiting to be assigned to duty he made a voyage as surgeon of a merchant vessel. When he returned the yellow fever was decimating the city of Norfolk and exaiting the sympathy of the whole Union for its afflicted citizens. Prompted alike by the laudable ambition to gain experience in his profession and the impulses of an unselfish and generous heart, he at once volunteered his services and hastened to the infected city on his mission of noble and disinterested humanity. He remained until the pestilence subsided and was only saved by a sound and vigoreus constitution from falling a victim to it himself. We call him a hero who, with firm step and equal pulse, storms the breach or heads the desperate charge; but not less, but much more, hero he who braves the terrors of the pestilence, that terrible, because unseen and resistless, foe. At the breaking out of the rebellion Dr. Kennedy was on duty on board the Preble at the time of Hollins's attack on the Federal blockeding ton, his native town, soon after, and in the followlence, that terrible, because unseen and resistiess, foe. At the breaking out of the rebellion Dr. Kennedy was on duty on board the Preble at the time of Hollins's attack on the Federal blockading sqadron. He was afterwards ordered to report for duty at New York, but was allowed to join Commodore Farragut. Embarking in an open boat he joined the flagship the day before the terrific conflict between the fleet and the Forts St. Philip and Jackson. Here, in a conflict almost unparalleled in naval history, with shell crashing around, and the ship twice on fire, he coolly, skilfully and undauntedly did his duty, and obtained the special commendation of the Admiral. In the summer of 1862 Dr. Kennedy had charge of the Naval Hospital in New York, a situation of great responsibility and showing the high estimate of his professional skill and efficiency entertained by his superiors. Fond of active service he applied for orders, and was ordered to the Ticonderoga. This vessel having returned to the port of Philadelphia from the pursuit of the Chesapeake, Dr. Kennedy was attacked by a very severe illness, which confined thim to his bed for several weeks. He left the city before he had entirely regained his strength, on a visit to beloved relatives in Chambersburg. In Harrisburg, on Monday, the 7th instant, he was seized with a congestive chill, from which medical skill and devoted friendship in vain strove to rally him. Thus he, whom the invisible, mysterious pestilence forbore to smite, who passed unscathed through the feu d'enfer at New Orleans, by His providence who "doeth all things well," come to die upon his native soil as upon a mother's lap. Thus lived and died, alas! too soon died, a cheerful, agreeable companion; a warm, unselfish friend; a devoted, affectionate brother; a skill and general weeks.

FIFTEEN H WARD BOUNTY FUND.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee, tooles, and settling the accounts of the "reasurer and Committees, it was announced by the Chairmen that the Ward Bounty had been paid to 666 recruits, which number together with the other credits assigned to the ward, brings our total number of creouts up to 990 men. This number by a fair and equitable calculation is 15 more than our quota under the call for 500,000 men. A balance in money sufficient to pay all debts is on hand, and we must now go cheerfully and vigorously again to work, to give the government every man necessary to bring the war to a speedy close.

The new call for 200,000 men will require of us about 300 more recruits, and to procure them the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars is sufficient, if raised immediately. There are 3,500 men in the Ward liable to draft. It is hoped that of this number at least 2,000 can be found who are able to contribute an average sum of five dollars each, and who have the spirit and manifers to do so, instead of waiting for a few to take the burden upon themselves. THE SALARIES OF OUR JUDGES.

To the Editor of the Evening Bulletin: It is gratifying to find that the Legislavure is turning its attention to some of the real wants of the State. Pennsylvania has for years been favored with as able a Judiciary as any other Commonwealth; but the compensation of the Judges of the Courts has always been inadequate. This is particularly true of the courts in this city. The judges of our courts are not only men of unimpeachable lategrity, but they are eminently learned in the law, and perform an almost incredible amount of labor. There are at least six thousand suits a year brought in the District Court alone, and these suits are to be disposed of, on motion or by trial, by these The Court of Common Pleas takes charge of all the Criphans' Court business, all the criminal business, a large share of the equity business, and tries by jury some five hundred civil causes a year. The labor performed by the judges of this court is certainly three times as great as it was sixteen or eighteen years since, when there were four instead of three judges on the bench.

In 1831 the salary of the Judges of the District Court and Court of Common Pleas was fixed at twenty-five hundred dollars; at the present time it is less than three thousand. Within the last few years the price of all the necessaries of life has advanced at least thirty per cent. Labor of every kind has rapidly advanced, in some instances by the generous offer of employers and in others by the imperative demand of employes. Professional service, but the Judges of our Courts, incapable of speaking for themselves on this subject, have been left to work on at actually less than a living compensation. There is a bill now before the Honse i he Court of Common Pleas takes charge of all speaking for themselves on this subject, have been left to work on at actually less than a living compensation. There is a bill now before the House of Representatives to increase the salary of the Judges to four thousand dollars, and there is not a citizen in the county whose opinion is worth regarding, who will not heartily rejoice to learn that this act of tardy justice is speedily consummated.

LATER FROM MEXICO.

[Correspondence of the New York Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, MARCh 21, 1861.—The Mexicans are exultant to night. Despatches received here from Saltillo up to Feb. 2, show that the reports circulated by the French about a war between Gov. Vidaurri of New-Leon and the Mexican Government are fabricated. Vidaurri, with two other Governors, merely suggested to the President that he had better resign. He refused to do so, They then withdrew their request, and loyally promised to support him with the forces of their respective States.

The French had made no advances in the last month. On the contrary, they had fallen into deep troubles with the clergy. Gen. Bazaine was at Guadalajara, but he will be obliged to return to the City of Mexico to settle this clerical difficulty, which it was thought, would require the exile of some of the Bishops. Uraga, Commander-in-Chief of the Mexican army, was about to attack Guadalajara, with 10,000 men. Gen. Diez was on the eve of attacking Orizaba with 8,000 men on the road from Vera Cruz to Mexico. The general tenor of the news is very encouraging to the Mexican here. The hostility of the people to French intervention is unabated. They will hunt Maximilian out of the country if he ever comes.

Hon. Ezekiel Mowrey, of Meshoppen, Wyoming county, Pa., met his death under the following circumstances: He was engaged in his plaster mill grinding core, and while working about the cracker, his coat caught by the buttonhole, on a screw that held the coupling of the shaft together, just above the cracker, and before he was aware of his situation had wound se closely up that he could not extricate himself. In this position he remained until his knit coat, a thick flannel and a cotton shirt, and his vest, were torn into shreds, and he was only liberated when his body had been forced through a space of ten inches between the turning shaft and a post. From his he fell into the hopper and then to the floor, where he lay about an hour before he was discovered. He died in a few minutes. He represented Wyoming county in the Legislature in 1819 and 1850.

This afternoon the remains of two well-known and highly esteemed citizens, Richard Hogan, Sr. and Rebert McElwee, will be consigned to their last resting place in Mount Kalma cemetery.

A FEMALE VAMFIRE.—There is a young married woman in the city, a native of the Canton of Berne, Switzerland, who is afflicted with a disease which she calls "a dancing of the heart," and which the physicians pronounce incurable. Her name is Elizabeth Mund, and she is twenty-three years of age, and has been the mether of three children, none of whom survive. She has made numerous applications at the jail to inquire when there would be an execution, and as there has been no case of capital punishment at that institution for several menths, her desire for human blood has not been gratified. She heard that John Abshire, sentenced by court-martial to be hung by the neck, was to be executed in the jail-yard on the 18th (yesterday) as it was stated in the papers. The execution of the sentence, however, was suspended, and on being informed that the man was not to be hung. Mrs. Mund appeared to be greatly disappointed and chagrined. Captain Bishop cheered her drooping spirits, however, by telling her that on the fifteenth of April a man would behung by the neck until he was "dead, dead, dead," and that she might then appear and obtain a dose of the blood of Valentine Hansen, the murderer, provided Governor Hall did not paidon or respite the criminal, and the physiciad would allow her to extract the curative fluid. With this pleasing assurance, Mrs. Mund took her departure, greatly consoled. This is a curious case of modern superstitution.—St. Louis Democrat, 19.

THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC. [Correspondence of the N. Y. Heraid.]

[Correspondence of the N. V. Heraid.]

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, March 21.—The stories printed in the norther, papers about a rebel-advance across the Rapidan are the purest bosh. Two regiments of retels have been doing picket duty on the north side of the Rappahannock all the winter, occasionally venturing as far porthward as Occoquan. A late visitation of these advanturers to the vicinity of Benson's National Hotel ducking ground has given rie to all the late stories of rebel raids. The rebels are as innocent of any such design as the stories are of truth.

The reorganization of the Army of the Potomac has not yet come enced. All the corps remain intact as yet, though it was generally understood list week that the 1st and 5th corps were to be merged into the 3d and 6th.

There is no doubt of the fact that Lee is daily receiving accessions to his army, and is preparing for an early opening of the approaching campaign. His cavalry is being reorganized, and although a smaller forganization than last summer, is equally form if able, its worn-down horses having been recruited and to a considerable degree replaced by fresh ones from the Homes of the men who have been granted for oughs for that proper in the late that the proper in the homes of the men who have been granted for oughs for that proper in the late that the proper in the homes of the men who have fresh ones from the Bomes of the men who have fresh ones from the Bomes of the men who have been granted for oughs for that purpose. Intantry are coming up from various quarters, and in a few weeks we shall doubtless have in our front an army not at all inferior to that which confronted us last season.

we'se we shall doubliess have in our front an army not as all inferior to that which confronted us last season.

The greatest confidence it Gen. Grant is manifested by our troops, however, who look forward to success with the most sanguine expectations.

The exodus of ladies from the front is at its flood, a vast number coming in daily. No passes are now granted to females to visit the army.

From rebel prisoners and deserters we learn that Mosby has been waring the laurels properly belonging to other officers, and that a great number of the depredations committed within our lines have been by squads of rebel cavalry with whom Mosby had no connection. It is known that two regiments of rebel cavalry were some time since denited for such duties, and that their officers represent themselves to Mosby upon all occasions when riding through the country in the vicinity of our lines.

The average of desertions from Lee's army to our own has, throughout the winter, exceeded four men per day.

GENERAL BUTLER'S DEPARTMENT.

[Correspondence of the N. Y. Herald.] [Correspondence of the N. Y. Heraid.]
FORTHESS MONROE, March 20th, 1861.—Postmaster-General Blair arrived this morning at this place by the Baltimore boat, and was received by hispor-General Butler in the most cordial manner, whise guest he is while remaining at this post. Mr. Blair, in company with some of the General's sides, visited Fort Wool, better known as the Rip Raps, and subsequently went to Norfolk. At one o'clock the distinguished visitor returned, and on his entering the fort the customary salute of fifteen guns was fired from the water battery. This afternion Gen. Butler, in company with Mr. Blair, reviewed the colored troops at Camp Hamilton.

The sale of newspapers in this department, as well as other articles yielding revenues, has been advertised to be sold to the highest bidder, and Mr. advertised to be sold to the highest bidder, and Mr. Casimir Bohn, the news agent at this place, was the successful bidder, and has received the sole the successful bidd-t, and has received the sole right to vend the daily and weekly journals and periodicals, as will be seen from the following order of Gen. Butler:

PROVOET MARSHAL'S OFFICE, HEADQUARTERS, DEPARTMENT OF VIRGINIA AND NORTE GAROLINA, FORTGES MONROE, VA., March 2, 1861.—The exclusive right to import into and sell within the limits of this department daily and weekly newspapers monthly magazines and periodicals has been this day awarded to Casimir Bohn, of Fortress Monroe, Va. Parties interested in this matter will govern themselves accordingly. Proper protection in this right will be given by the military authorities to Mr. Bohn.

This privilege to remain in force for such time only as the commanding general may deem proper.

By command of Major-General Butler.

LAYING OF A CORNER STONE. Yesterday

LAYING OF A CORNER STONE.—Yesterday afternoon the corner stone of the new Jewish Synagogne on Sixth street, above Brown, was laid. A large number of persons assembled on the ground to witness the proceedings. After singing, the Rev. Dr. Einhorn delivered a lengthy sermon appropriate to the occasion. The exercises closed shortly before five o'clock with singing. There were deposited in the corner stone, a roll of parchment containing the names of the congregation, the names of Governor Curtin and the Mayor, and several ancient and modern coins. This congregation was formed in March 1847, since which time it has been worshiping in New Market street, above Noble. Rev. Dr. Einhorn is Rabbi and t has been worshiping in New Market street, thove Noble. Rev. Dr. Einhorn is Rabbi and Julius Salinger Cantor. The new structure was commenced last fall.

The foundation has been laid and the first course of brown stone for the front is up. The work will be pushed to completion as rapidly as the weather will permit. The church will be of brick and brown stone, two stories high, and 22 feet wide by 124 feet long, and according to the contract, will be completed in the latter part of Septembernext. ALLEGED FALSE PRETENCE CASE.—Before Ald. White yesterday afternoon W. H. Camfield was charred with obtaining goods, to the amount of $1,167.20, under false pretence, from Messrs. Barcroft & Oo., merchants on Market street. It seems from the evidence adduced that on or about the first of the year 1602 the defendant and D. M. Alford entered into business at Youngston. State of Ohio. They traded under the name of Camfield & Alford. On the 27th of August, of the same year, Mr. Camfield, being the active business man abroad, obtained dry goods to the amount above stated. The firm dissolved in December, having failed in business to the amount of $20,000, the capital on which business was started being about $12,000.

Mr. D. M. Alford, the remaining partner of the firm, was called to the witness stand. He testified that, at the time his partner negotiated the above transaction, the firm was bankrupt. The defendant was required to enter bail to answer at court. ALLEGED FALSE PRETENCE CASE .- Before

DEATH OF AN ARTIST.—Mr. John R. Smith, scenic artist, late of Grover's Chestmut Street Theatre, died last evening. As a scenic artist Mr. Smith was almost unequaled. His panorama of the Mississippi River, which was so popular some fitteen years ago, and which gained such world-renowned fame will be remembered by many of our readers. Of late years he has applied his brush and pencil to scenery in the various theatres throughout the country. The profession and the public, in the demise of Mr. Smith, lose a firm friend and an invaluable artist.

MORE REBEL PRISONERS.—About 500 rebal MORE REBEL PRISONERS.—About 500 rebel prisoners arrived in this city last evening from Camp Morton, Indianapolis. The rebels were guarded by one hundred and fifty men of the 5th Regiment Invalid Corps, under command of Major Gardner. On the way several of them attempted to escape by cutting a hole in the bottom of the car and dropping through. One of these was fired at by the guards and dangerously wounded, the ball entering the breast. The prisoners were removed to Fort Delaware soon after their arrival..

PASSENGER RAILWAY ACCIDENT .- A German named Wineburger, forty-two years of age, residing in Front street, had his arm broken last evening in consequence of one of the "dummy" engines having run into his cart at Harrowgate, Twenty-third Werd. The sufferer was conveyed to the Episcopal Hospital. The horse which he was driving was killed by the collision.

PASSAGE OF TROOPS .- The 25th Ohio Regiment, numbering 500 men, commanded by Major Houghton, and the 58th Mass. Regt., 830 men, passed through the city last evening, on the way to Washington. The men were provided with a good supper at the Volunteer Refreshment Saloon.

A CHANGE IN THE WEATHER.—Between Charge in the Weather.—Delivers four o'clock and surise this morning a very great change took place in the temperature of the atmosphere. A sharp northeast wild sprang up, and at six o'clock the mercury stood at 10 degrees below the freezing point. As the sun ascended in the heavens the weather moderated materially MURDOCH'S READING .- We call the attention of our readers to Mr. Murdoch's Reading this. Evening at the Academy of Music. Mysterious Movements.-We hear of MYSTERIOUS MOVEMENTS.—We hear of mysterious movements in the Southwest and upon the Rappahannock. General advances are talked about, raids are threatened, and the atmosphere is full of rumors of wars and warlike doings. We also have some grand local movements that are not without interest. Among these is a general movement among people of taste, who are concentrating upon the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wison, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, where they are getting themselves fitted out with elegant spring garments.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE CHESTRUT.—To-night, for the last time, "The Ticket of Leave Man" will be given at the Chestaut, with an unrivalled cast. This has been one of the most popular of Mr. Grover's dramatic successes, and it could have been kept on the stage for a long time. To-morrow night we have "The Octoroon," as we stated yesterday in this column.

THE WALNUT.—"The Dead Heart," with Edwin Adams as Robert Landry, is a suic card to win Adams as Robert Landry, is a sure card to fill the Walnut. It will be repeated this evening. "The Ticket of Leave Man" is in rehearsal. Mr. Adams will play Brierly, and the cast will be mainly the same which made that drama so great a source of pepularity and profit on its former production. The cast this evening is enriched by the addition of Miss Ada Plunkett, who performs the arduous part of Catharine Dayal. Miss Jefferson appears as Cerisette, Mr. Hemple enacts Anatole Toupet, and Mr. Wright plays the Abbe Latour.

THE ARCH.—An overflowing house at the Arch last evening was surprised at the announcement made by Mrs. Drew, that Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams had been suddenly called to New York by the dangerous illness of a relative. The andience were, however, content, when "Paul Pry," "Robert Macaire" and "The Good for Nothing" were performed by the capital stock company, including Hill, Robson, Grimths, Miss Price, Miss J. Henry, &c. To-night the company appear in "Doing for the Bet." "Sam's Arrival" and "The Idiot Witness." We learn this afternoon that a despatch from Mr. Williams announces that his relative is improving in health and that Mr. and Mrs. W. will appear to-morrow evening. This will be good news to the admirers of these talented artists. talented artists.

FROM JAPAN.—The Japan correspondent of the Tribune, writing from Kanagawa, January 14th,

FROM THAM.—It is shad to the protection of the most destructive fires history records. The burnt district is three miles in length by one-third of a mile wide; 30,000 houses and 250 warehouses were consumed, with a loss of life of 500 to 1,000 souls. The fire lasted for three days.

I sent you tidings, a few days since, of the detention of the Alsbama at Amoy. I regret to say this news proved false, but was regarded so trustworthy when the Rogers left, a week since, that it was so officially communicated to our Home Government by the Minister Resident, General Pruyn. Two weeks' later news from the China. Seas gives no later intelligence of either the Alabama or Wyoming since the destruction of the Contest, except a bare rumor that the Alabama was seen coaling at the month of the Salgon River.
