The sudden cold "snap" Musical Fund Hall. The sudden cold "snap" has it terfered materially with the expectations of the Committee of Arrangements. Many of those who are generally contributors to the exhibitions were airsid to send their flowers, and some of the flowers, upon their arrival at the hall, this morning, were found to have been killed by the frost. The display, though not as large as was anticipated, is very fine. There are three tables, two on each side of the hall, extending nearly the whole length of the room, and the third in the centre. These tables are pretty well filled. The side tables are occupied by collections of various kinds of plants, and there are also some exceedingly fine specimens of early vegetables. The centre table is devoted principally to cut flowers, bouquets and aquariums. Suspended from a frame work over this table are some very beautiful hanging baskets. The collection of cut flowers displayed at the lower end of the table is magnificent. There are also upon this table a number of large and beautifully arranged bouquets. The exhibition will continue open until eleven o'clock tonight. It is well worthy of a visit.

We sarrived there (the Suwance river) on the 25th of February, and discovered a steamer on fire inside the bar. It proved to be the blockade runnar Nawman, the same vessel that fired into the Sea Bird a few weeks ago. She made a veral attempts to get out, but did not succeed. She had on board some two hundred bales of cotton. The United States steamer Nita sent in her boats to capture her, upon which the cre wof the Nawman set her on fire and deserted her, after having thrown overboard filty-three tales of co ton to lighten her. These were picked up by the Nita.

On the Clyde coming to an anchor, Acting Ensign Jones and Master's Mate Dexten went up in a boat to reconnoitre the wreck. On nearing it a boat was sen putting off from her. Chase was given, and two men, named Ryder and taylor, were captured. From the men information was obtained that sixty-eight bales of cotton were up a creek branching off from Suwanee river, about the miles from the entrance.

no miles from the entrance. Next day Acting Volunteer Lieutenant Hooper, commanding this vessel, organized an expedition with the gig and cutter, in command of Acting Ensign Rankin and Acting Master's Mate Palmer, to proceed up the river and bring off the cotton.
After an tab-ence of twenty-four h urs they returned, bringing with them sixty-seven bales of cotton. I would also state that the Nawman had on board a six-pounder, thirty muskets and plenty of grape and canister. I have been informed that she intended to fight her way through the block ading squadron. We are bringing down some 24 refugees from Cedar Keys.

SUPREME COURT—Unief Justice Woodward, and Justices Thompson, Strong, Read and Agnew.

—An opinion was delivered by Justice Agnew, in the following ca-e:

Klopp and Stump, complainants, plaintiff in error, vs. The Lebsnon Valley Bank, George Hoffman, et al., defendant in error. So much of the decree of the Court below as relates to the stock of Myers and Shaw in the Lebanon Valley Bank and the costs is reversed, and it is ordered that the Lebanon Valley Bank transfer in due form upon the books of the said Bank, to the complainants named in the bill, the one hundred and fifty five sharts of tock, standing in the names of the said Myers and Shaw, and their assigns or any person claiming the said stock, shall be perpetually delarred and precluded from recovering the same or the value thereof, or any dividends thereof, from the said Lebanon Valley Bank.

NISI PRIUS—Justice Agnew.—Barnes vs. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Before reported. This morning the defence opened. It is alleged that when the Company came into possession of the State Works they found the can I, especially that portion between Hellidaysburg and huntington, in a very dilapidated condition, owing to the fact that the superior facilities offered by the railroads, had depreciated the value of the canal property as a mode of transportation That under the contract of sale the company was only required to keep up the canal, but not to enlarge to r deepen it. No withstanding this view of their obligation the company d d place the works in repair in accordance with the suggestions of a competent engineer, and as an evidence of the work done the Cayler referred to stinding this view of their obligation the company d d place the works in repair in accordance with the suggestions of a competent engineer, and as an evidence of the work done air. Gayler referred to the fact, from 1857 to 1853 the following mechanical structures were placed on the canal: On the lower Juniata Division 4, and on the Upper Juniata 36, and on the upper Juniata 38 lock gates; 60 bridges on the lower, and 56 bridges on the paper Juniata 78 lock gates; 60 bridges on the lower, and 56 bridges on the paper Juniata rebuilt, together with extensive repairs to dams and waste ways. Upon this line of canal thus rebuilt, the receipts and expenditures of the company during the seven years were as follows: Aggregate receipts from the Lower Juniata, $111, 236 lo; expenditures, $183,523 45. Aggregate receipts from the Upper Juniata, $15, 164 90; expenditures, $148,606 05. The defence further allege that plaintiff had not shown any damage to himself, insemuch as the testimony showed that he made the same number of round trips since 1857 as prior to that time. It was further alleged that the evidence for the defence would establish that the company had made the most ample preparations for repairs to the canal whenever there was a break. The repairs to the canal whenever there was a break. The repairs to the canal since the purchase from the State were made gradual in order to avoid the necessity for stopping all 'raffic; that the whole of the canal from Hollidsysburg to Huntingdon has been reconstructed, with the exception of dredging, to which the company is now about to address itself. On trial.

EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES. Branch Office, 425 Chestnut Street

AMOS B. KEITH. General Agent for Pennsylvania. $\mathbf{ASSETSOVER}\ $700.000.$

Equitable Life Assurance Society. Since the first of December, 1963, THE EQUITABLE LIFE ANSURANCE SOCIETY has ssued over NINE HUNDRED POLICIES, assuring an aggrega e of about THREE MILLION DOLLARS. The Society has outstanding risks to the amount of Eleven Million Dollars, and its income for the year 1864 will reach the handsome sum of five hundred thousand dollars. No Life Insurance Company ever organized in this country can show so proud a record of immediate success and prompt, progressive prosperity. To have secured an income of half a million dollars in the fitth year of its existence, is an achievement of which any organization may well afford to boast. In respect to the expenses of the Equitable S ciety, it is the fact that their ratio HAS BEEN LESS THAN THAT OF ANY LIFE COMPANY ORGANIZED WITHIN A DOZEN YEARS.

The Company's losses have, moreover, bee comparatively few, up to this time; having in their number fallen far short of the regularly received tables of expectation upon which the science of life insurance is based. The Equitable Society i purely mutual in its operations, every cent of profit over the actual cost of it suring being divided among the policy holders, who are thus made members, as it were, of a mutual benefit ass ciation. The officers and directors of the Company are well-known as among our foremost citizens, and a glance at the list of theirnames will furnish abundant explanations of the immense strides toward success made by the Company during the first five years of its history.
