

SECOND EDITION.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Late News from Rebel Sources

Reports from Georgia, Mississippi, Virginia, &c.

CAPTURE OF A GUERRILLA LEADER NEAR ALEXANDRIA.

Arrival of Three Blockade Runners at Bermuda.

INTERESTING FROM WASHINGTON.

To-Day's Proceedings in Congress.

REPORTS FROM REBEL PAPERS.

Fortress Monroe, March 25.—Despatches contained in the Richmond papers to March 21st, give the following reports:

Demopolis, March 17.—A large number of Sherman's troops have gone up the river on furlough from Vicksburg. Gen. McPherson is in command at that place. Gen. Sherman and Hubert have gone down the river with a large part of the army, on forty-two boats. They are said to be going up the Red River to Shreveport.

Dalton, Ga., March 18.—All is quiet beyond Tunnel Hill. There is no appearance of an engagement at an early day.

Orange C. H., March 18.—The enemy still hold their old picket lines. The roads are good.

Milledgeville, Ga., March 19.—The House passed last night Mr. Stephens's resolution relative to the Habeas Corpus by 10 majority.

Richmond, March 19.—Six hundred Yankee prisoners will be sent this morning to America, Georgia.

There is no news from Charleston, and the Southern papers are very uninteresting.

CAPTURE OF A NOTED GUERRILLA.

Washington, March 25.—Col. Wells, Provost Marshal General at Alexandria, sent out a party of Company D, 1st Michigan Cavalry, dismounted, on Wednesday evening, under command of Lieut. Jackson, in search of guerrillas.

They went by steamer to Freestone Point, and from thence through the woods about ten miles, where they captured Capt. Hanagan, a well-known guerrilla chieftain, and three men, together with six shot guns, muskets and rifles, three revolvers and one horse. They returned safely this morning.

Hanagan is a dangerous man, and has often boasted that he would not be captured alive. Passes and permits from the rebel authorities were found upon him, permitting him to go where he pleased within the enemy's lines.

FROM ST. THOMAS AND BERMUDA.

Halifax, March 25.—The steamship Alpha arrived here to-day with dates from St. Thomas to the 14th and Bermuda to the 19th instant.

There are no tidings of the Italian frigate Re Galatunotto.

A letter from Bermuda, dated the 17th of March, says the blockade-runners City of Petersburg, Advance and Index, had arrived there only one-half hour previous to the U. S. steamer Shenandoah, which arrived on the 17th, and was to sail on the 29th, for Norfolk.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Despatches to the Bulletin. Washington, March 25.—In addition to the General Order re-arranging the corps of the Army of the Potomac, and relieving some of the general officers, as already published, we learn that General Pleasanton has been relieved from the command of the cavalry corps, and is to report to General Rosecrans; General Newton is to report to General Sherman; General French is to report at Philadelphia; General Meredith at Cairo; General Spicola to a Court-Martial; General Caldwell to be relieved to sit on a Court-Martial, and General Ricketts, Gibson and Wardworth to report to General Meade, for assignment to command.

The statement made in several papers that the National taxes will generally be raised one hundred per cent. by Congress is a great exaggeration. Grace Greenwood has been having a pleasant visit to the Army of the Potomac. She lectured to the soldiers once or twice and has returned to Washington.

The Committee of Ways and Means has not yet decided what tax to impose upon petroleum, either crude or refined, but it is probable that it will be about twenty cents on refined.

NEW JERSEY CAVALRY GOING SOUTH.

Trenton, N. J., March 25.—The 3d New Jersey Cavalry Regiment, numbering 1200 men and horses, have orders to leave on Monday for the seat of war. They will be reviewed to-morrow by the Governor, and will march to Washington instead of being transported by railroad.

XXXVIII CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

Washington, March 25. SENATE.—Mr. Washburn (Del.) resumed his speech of yesterday in reply to Mr. Howard and in favor of Mr. Powell's bill to prevent military interference in elections.

HOUSE.—Mr. Washburn (Ill.), from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill to punish the agents or owners of steamboats who change the names of such vessels in order to deceive the public, old hulks being repainted and sent on voyages to the danger of freight and passengers.

The offenders are placed under the pains and penalties of those who fail to comply with the existing law, requiring the names and ports to which they belong to be repainted on their sterns, including the forfeiture of the vessels. The bill was passed.

THE NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

Trenton, N. J., March 25.—The resolutions declaring the views of the Legislature in reference to an attempt on the part of Congress to interfere with the laws of New Jersey, by annulling franchises granted to railroad companies in their State, were passed by a vote of 17 to 2 in the Senate, and by a unanimous vote in the House. Both houses have adjourned to Monday next.

WEATHER REPORT.

The following is the report of the weather at 9 A. M. to-day, at the places named, has been received:

Table with columns: Wind, Weather, Therm. Locations include Halifax, Portland, Boston, Springfield, Philadelphia, Washington.

MARKETS.

New York, March 25.—Cotton firm. Flour advanced 5 cents, 11,000 bushels sold. State, $6 55 a $6 75, Ohio $7 20 a $7 45. Lard buoyant; sales at $2 10. Whiskey unsettled, 2,000 bushels sold at $1 a $1 05.

Receipts—Flour, 10,200 bushels. Wheat, 2,300 bushels. Corn, 11,147 bushels. Sales of Gold at 165 1/2.

Baltimore, March 25.—Flour very dull; prices irregular. Wheat firm. Southern White $1 30 a $1 35, Southern Red $1 30 a $1 35. Corn steady, $1 15 a $1 18. Whiskey firm; Ohio $90 a $1 02.

CITY BULLETIN.

STATE OF THE THERMOMETER THIS DAY AT THE BULLETIN OFFICE.

9 A. M. 47. 12 M. 50. 3 P. M. 54. Minimum Temperature during last 24 hours, 52. Weather cloudy.—Wind S.W. with rain.

STREET CLEANING.—The work of cleaning the streets is now being prosecuted vigorously under the direction of Mr. Dickinson, the Inspector of Streets. Men have been placed in the wards except the rural sections of the city, and they are now scrubbing up the streets as fast as they can be removed. It is astonishing in some instances to see the immense piles of dirt which have been scrubbed up in some of the streets.

One pile in Fitzwater street made twenty-five cart loads, and the pile was fully equalled by two on Delaware avenue, in the Sixteenth Ward. At the present time Mr. Dickinson has 225 carts and about 200 men at work, and the number will be increased until the city has received a thorough cleaning, and then the work of keeping it in a proper condition will not be discontinued. Some people are at a loss to know why the dirt is not removed until the day after it is scooped up, but it should be remembered that the dirt, mud and gutters cannot be carried away in the carts until it dries.

THE TRADE SALE.—The sixty-second trade sale of books was continued this morning at the auction rooms of M. Thomas & Sons, No. 139 and 141 South Fourth street. The attendance was about usual, and the prices obtained were very fair. The bidding was quite spirited. The sale opened with the invoice of Little, Brown & Co. of Boston, which was quite extensive. The following contracts were also sold: Geo. W. Child, Philadelphia; Blanchard & Lee, Philadelphia; and Lindsay & Blackiston, of Philadelphia. The sale will be concluded to-morrow.

BOWER'S INFANT CORDIAL cures Colic, Pains and Spasms, yielding great relief to children suffering from Stomach, Sixth and Green.

BOWER'S GLYCERINE CREAM—For chapped and inflamed skin—25 cents. Depot, Sixth and Pine.

SUSPENSORIES.—New French patterns, got out to order expressly for O. H. Needles' Retail Sales, at West 10th and Race streets.

LORD LYNCHBURG'S COLLECTION OF PICTURES.

This collection, which included many of the important works of his lordship's father, has just been disposed of by Messrs. Christie, Weir & Co. of the more remarkable examples, with the prices, and some names of purchasers. Pictures by Copley, R. A.: Portrait of Admiral Viscount Duncan, whole length; exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1788; it was adjudged to be the most valuable picture of the day. Portrait of a lady, signed by the artist, and dated Boston, United States, 1772—54 guineas. "The Princess Mary, Princess Sophia, and Princess Amelia, the children of George III.," a highly-finished and beautiful sketch for the well-known picture at Buckingham Palace, exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1785—245 guineas. Portrait of Lord Mansfield; this splendid work was secured by Mr. Copley in his celebrated picture of "Charles I.," for the National Gallery at 280 guineas. "The Boy with a Squirrel," painted in 1780; the celebrated original picture, exhibited anonymously at the Royal Academy, and which was the cause of Mr. Copley's coming to England in 1794; he went to Rome the same year—230 guineas. "The Grand Major Pierson," the celebrated chef d'œuvre of the artist, engraved by Heath; painted originally for Alderman Boydell, and afterwards acquired by Mr. Copley. This grand gallery picture was the great attraction of the room; the first offer was three hundred guineas; the biddings then rapidly advanced till they reached sixteen hundred pounds, at which sum it was adjudged to Sir Peter Lely, for the National Gallery, at the applause of the meeting. The well-known family picture: portraits of John Singleton Copley, R. A., with his wife caressing the infant (the figure Lord Lynchburg), and his other infant children, in a beautiful landscape. This picture also attracted great notice. It was put up at 200 guineas; the next offer was 500; the biddings then rapidly advanced till they reached 1,000 guineas, at which sum Mr. Copley became the purchaser. Pictures by old masters—(Sir Peter Lely). Portrait of Geoffrey Palmer, speaker of the House of Commons, temp. Charles I., seated in an arm-chair, holding a letter. This portrait is introduced by Mr. Copley in his celebrated picture of "Charles I.," and is one of the most valuable pictures in the gallery at Boston, United States—120 guineas. (Vandyck.) Portrait of Archbishop Land in his robes; and portrait of Lady Middleton in a black dress lined with pink satin, necklace and earrings, holding flowers in her hands. The first admirable portrait was secured by Mr. Schir for the National Portrait Gallery, at the price of 72 gu.; the second was purchased by the Earl of Devon for 40 gu. of Sir Isaac Newton, seated at a table, holding a pen in his hand; admirably painted by an unknown artist; and a portrait of Mme. Geoffrin, seated at a table, taking chocolate; by Harding; the engraved picture, £100 lgs. (Canalotti), "The Grand Canal, Venice," with the church of St. Maria della Salute, and the Dogana Palace in front, looking towards Santa Mark's Quay, with view of St. Mark's Place, with numerous gondolas and figures; and the companion picture, "View of St. Mark's Place," with numerous figures. These fine works were bequeathed to Lord Lynchburg by the Baron Bolland, one of the barons of the court of exchequer, 125 gu.

The whole of the pictures realized $5,147 3/8 cents, built and furnished at Philadelphia, Md., the previous sales of plate and ornamental objects, already noticed, brought £2,380; the household furniture and the library produced $1,472. Total, $9,979 3/8. —Eng. Paper.

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS.

FRIDAY, March 25.—Cloverseed comes forward slowly and prime it is in good demand at $7 12 1/2 @ 7 40 @ $4 25. Timothy is unsettled and about 1000 bushels sold at $2 00, but holders refuse to sell the latter figure, and 500 bushels prime at $3 25. Small sales of Flaxseed at $3 25.

In Querciton Bark no further sales have been reported. There is rather more firmness in the Flour market and decidedly more inquiry for the better grades for exportation. Sales of 200 barrels superfine at $2 25, 300 barrels extra at $2 75, 1000 barrels Penasco at $2 00 to $2 10, but holders are in a lottery of fancy at $3, and 2000 barrels Redstone on terms kept secret. Small sales to the trade from $6 00 up to $8 50 for common and fancy, according to quality. Rye Flour is quiet at $4. In Corn Meal nothing doing.

The offerings of Wheat are small and it is held with increased firmness. Sales of good and prime Red at $1 63 1/2 @ 65 1/2 bushel, a choice lot at $1 70

A CALUMNY REPEATED.—The Hilton Head Correspondent of the South writes as follows: "Two other

Some anonymous misstatement in this department has attacked by the creation of rumors, the Director of the Hilton Head. It is a well-known fact that the contractors at Beaufort and on the islands here the changes a side are to give and shame to the report. The ladies who have been engaged to perform the task of educating the negroes of the department are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of from five-and-twenty to thirty, with single blessedness hanging to their skirts like a millstone, and that when they came to this department they might have a woman's ideas of marriage with some poor high military officers or wealthy civilians mixed up with their philanthropy to the negro, the report would be, in fact, a lie. We have had four or five marriages in Beaufort, where these ladies, who are not to be deceived by the false and unprofitable ends, but they are refined, virtuous women, who evince the enthusiasm and fidelity of their race in the discharge of the work. To state anything implying immoral conduct between them and negroes, is to utter a base, unmanly and foul slander on their characters. I have known some of them, and I can thus speak by the card." If a report was circulated that the ladies teachers are out of their "sews," that some of them are approaching the serious ages of