HOUSE OF LORDS, Blogday. March 14.—Lord Granville announced that the House would adjourn on Friday next for the Ensier recess.

Lord Derby select Lord Wodelnuse a question in reference to a speech made by M. Hall, the Danish Minister. Lord Wodelnuse explained that when he stated to M. Hall his belief that nothing the Panish Government could do would arrest theourse taken by the German Powers, he alfued to the execution in Holstein ordered by the Ire.

I ord Campbell asked as to the meaning of words imputed to Prince Gortschakoff as to a combination between Russia, Austria, Prussia, and England. Earl Granville said Prince Gortschakoff could only refer to the proposal for a Conference. England had entered into no combination that could be considered as displaying the slightest hostile iceims to x and France.

House of Commons, Monday, March 14.—Mr HOUSE OF COMMONS, Monday, March 14.—Mr Roebuck asked as the Solicitor-General had stated that "it was the intention of the Government to remonstrate with the Government of the Confederate States upon their eriployment of agents for illegal purposes," it also asked if the Government intended to remonstrate with the Federal Government for recogning in this country and in Ireland. Mr. Roebuck attacked the Federal Government, and declared that he should be glad if American shipping were swept from the seas. He said the character of England had not been upheld as it ought to be upheld, and that he had, therefore, a right to inquire whether the strict hentrality professed by the Government had been maintained. In this matter, he said, the honor of England was at stake.

House of Lorns—March 15.—The Earl of Ellenborough said he should call attention to the differences between Denmark and Germany, on Friday. He asked if the identical Note of Austria and Prussia which had been published was correctly reported. The Duke of Somerset said that the published note was substantially correct.

FRANCE.

The Memerial Diplomatique says:—The draught of a treaty was agreed upon at the Tuleries to be ratified as soon as the Emperor Maximilian shall have ascended the Alexican throne, and announced his accession to the Court of the Talieries. If we are rightly informed, the treaty definitely settles two important questions: firstly, the French occupation; and secondly, the claims of the French occupation; and secondly, the claims of the French I reasury on the M-xican Government. It is already known that the pay and maintrnance of the roops engaged in the expedition have, since January 1st. 1864, been borne by M-xico. This will continue ustil their recall, which will gradually be affected as the regimental lists of the Mexican army-are completed.

Three battalions of the foreign legion, each 2.00 strong and composed of enrolled volunteers will remain in the service of Mexico. The desire of French officers to entry this service is segreav that for some weeks past the number of aspirants has far exceeded the ranks to be filled up. The Mexican debt due to France comprises, besides the pecuniary claims of private persons, duly acknowledged, the cost of the expedition and the advances made by France to the Mexican treasury to defray the expenses of the army of occupation. The debt will be paid by fourteen alunal instalments, each probably amounting to $25,000,000, with the option of previous liquidation, should the condition of the Mexican prisoners of war in France have submitted in writing their achesion to the Archduke's governme don.

Despatches from Vera Cruz of February 14, state that the report of the abdication of Juarez, which had been circulated, is unfounded. The cruise of Admiral Fasse has been productive of very satisfactory results. It is asserted that the Federals have violated Mexican territory by going to Matamoras in order to seize cotton. oris in order to seize cotton.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN THE THIRTEENTH

Destructive Fire in the Thirdenth Ward.—About seven o' clock yesterday morning the upper part of the large building at the N. W. corner of Ninth and Wallace streets was destroyed by fire and the lower portion was pretty well flooded with water. The structure and fixed machinery, belonged to Wm. V. Petit, whose loss will probably reach $10,000 and is believed to be covered by insurance. The barement and first floor were occupied by Paniel Bohler, as a coffee and pice mill. He had a large stock of spice on hand. Loss estimated at $3,500; insurance $3,000. The second story was occupied by McVey & Costs, manufacturers of stocking yarn. This firm had a considerable quantity of valuable machinery, and also occupied be fourth story for storing wool, of which they had a street stock in bags. Loss estimated at $10.000. The third story was occupied by James Whittsker, who was engaged principally in the manufacture of wool for hosiery. Loss estimated at $0.000. Insured for $6,000. The fire originated in this establishment. The total loss by the fire will not be less than $30,-000, the greater part of which is covered by insurance in the Royal, Eva. Hartford, Spring Garden, and one or two New York companies. A general alarm from the State House belt took a large mumber of fremen to the scene and the flames were confined to the building in which they origined.

THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION. The following interesting piece of history respecting the first draft of the ever-memorable proclamation of emancipation, and the reception of it by Mr. Lincoln's Capinet, is given in a recent letter to the Oncinnati Gazette by its Washington correspondent:

When the final draft of the proclamation was when the final draft of the proclamation was presented by the President to the Cabinet, it closed with the paragraph stating that the slaves it liberated with the paragraph stating that the slaves it liberated would be received into the armed service of the United States. Mr. Chase objected to the appearance of a document of such momentous-importance without one word beyond the dry phrases necessary to convey its meaning; and finally proposed that there be added to the President's draft the following sentence:

"And upon this act, sincerely believed to be an act of justice, warranted by the Constitution, I invoke the considerate judgment of mankind and the gracious favor of Almighty God."

Mr. Lincoln adopted the sentence as Mr. Chase wrote it, only interlining after the word "Constitution," the words, "upon military necessity;" and in that form the Proclamation went to the world, and History.

The President originally resolved upon the policy of issuing this proclamation in the summer of 1862. As he has expressed it himself, everything was going wrong; we seemed to have put forth our utmost effort; and he really didn't know what more to do, unless he did this. Accordingly, he prepared the preliminary proclamation, nearly in the form in which it subsequently appeared, called the Cabiret together and read it to them.

Mr. Montgomery Blair was startled.

the Cabir et together and read it to them.

Mr. Montgomery Blair was startled. "If you issue that proclamation, Mr. President," he exclaimed, "you will lose every one of the fall elections."

Mr. Seward, on the other hand, said "I ap-Mr. Seward, on the other hand, said "I approve of it. Mr. President, just as it stands. I approve of it in principle, land I approve the policy of issuing it. I only object to the time. Send it out now, on the heels of our late disasters, and it will be construed as the convulsive swuggle of a drowning man. To give it proper weight, you should reserve it ill after some victory."

The President assented to Mr. Seward's view, and it was withheld till the Fall, when it was issued almost precisely as originally prepared. The one to which Mr. Chase supplied the concluding sentence was the final Proclamation, issued on the subsequent first of January.

THE GREAT CENTRAL FAIR. THE GREAT CENTRAL FAIR.

STATE OF DELLWARE, EXECUTIVE DEFARTMENT, DOVER, March, 1861.—To the Loyal Citizens of Delaware: It is proposed to hold a Great Fair in the city of Philadelphia, in the first week in June next, for the benefit of the Sanitary Commission.
The citizens of Literaches the city of Philadelphia, in the first week in June next, for the benefit of the Sanitary Commission. The citizens of Delaware have been cordially invited to co-operate with the citizens of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, in this patriotic and humane purpose. The regulations added bereto have been adopted with reference to this State, and will exhibit the details of the plan of management.

It is notnecessary for me to commend this great and good work to the loyal people of Delaware. You have already given with a liberality and labored with a fidelity worthy of all praise. You have already given with a liberality and labored with a fidelity worthy of all praise. You have been willing and active; and what you cast and will do. Let vevery clergyman announce the flow in the widest publicity and the most earnest enconragement; let every factory, workshop and mill contribute a specimen of the best thing they can turn out; let all loyal men and women exercise their taste and industry. In this way the result may be an honor to our State, a great comfort to our suffering heroes, and an offering well pleasing to the Almighty, whose blessing and assistance I humbly invoke upon this work of Christian charity.

By the Governer, WILLIAM CANNON.

CITY RAILROADS. CITY RAILROADS.

To the Editor of the Evening Bulletin.

I thank you for opposing the proposed "Union Railroad," for I have met with no resident of the lower end of the City who is in favor of such a road being built, and of course no one who is in favor of its being chartered for mere speculative purposes. I reside upon Broadstreet below Wharton street, and with the other citizens of this rapidly improving section of the City, feel the want of better Passenger Railway accommedation, but cannot see any prospect of it. accommodation, but cannot see any prospect of it, from this contemplated company. Let the Thirteenth and Fifteenth line be extended to Reed or Dickerson streets, the same as the Fifthand Sixth, and the Fourth and Eighth street lines, and if a new road is necessary to accommodate the people below South street, let one be chartered to run simply from River to River, and every useful nurpose will be attained. below South simply from River to A., purpose will be attained.
