COMMITTEE FOR A DAY'S LABOR.

Committee on "Labor, Incomes and Revenues,"
Office No. 118 S. SEVENTH Street.

JOHN W. CLAGHORN,

Treasurer.

This committee has a special work, to wit, to obtain a day's 'labor,' a day's 'income' and a day's 'revenue' from every citizen of the three States of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, for the benefit of our sick and wounded soldiers

The committee is now fully organized at the above address, and calls for the co-operation of all classes in the community. We want to show what the industrial classes can what the people can do in their separate trades!

What Pennsylvania can do!
What New Jersey can do!
What Delaware can do!
What peak can do!

What each county can do! What each city and town can do! What each profession can do! What each trade can do! What each manufactory can do!
What each manufactory can do!
What each bank, insurance company and railroad can do! What each mine can do!

What each mine can do!
What each workshop can do!
What each family can do!
What each family can do!
What each man can do!
What each boy and girl can do!
We want to show the world what American Freemen are ready to do for their soldiers.
What labor can do fôf humanis!
There is a great work and the time is short. The way to do is to ORGANIZE!!! Organize in your workshops-in your families. Let the men Organize. Let the women organize. Let the trades organize. Organize everywhere. Let the trades organize with their employers, the employers with their workmen.

It is easily done. If the workmen will authorize their employers to deduct one day from their week s or month's earnings, and the employers will add to it a day of their profits, the whole will be acknowledged together to the credit of the establishment. We say to all, go to work at once with us in this great work. Hurry forward your contributions. Every acknowledgment will stimulate others to follow your example.

Circulars, with full instructions, will be sent upon application, by mail or otherwise, to the undersigned To work! To work!

PERSONAL. PERSONAL.

Dr W. M Loroque, a well-known druggist of Baltimore, died on Saturday. He was up early and conversed as usual, and had partially been dressed. While sitting upon a lounge in his room, a change was suddenly observed in his appearance by those in attendance, and in a few brief moments he ceased to breathe. Dr. Loroque was one of the few who escaped from the massacre by the negroes of San Domingo, when they rose against the white inhabitants, near the close of the last century. His father, mother, brother and a sister, of all this

Mr. Frank Wood, a well-known member of the Mir. Frank Wood, a well-known member of the press of New-York city, died on Saturday night at Haverstraw. He was quite young, but had made his mark in literature, having been the editor of Vanity Fair for a considerable period, and afterward the dramatic criuc of Wilker's Spirit. He had also made some slight ventures in the dramatic line, having assisted in preparing "The Taming of a Butterfly," recently performed at Mrs. John Wood's theatre. He was a pleasant companion, perhaps to strangers a little cynical and cold, but when known thoroughly was kindly endeared to his acquaintances.

Dir. William H. Fe Courcy Wright, an old and highly-esteemed merchant of Faltumore, died on Friday. He was a native of Queen Anne's county, Md., and was the son of the late ex Governor Wright. For many years he was largely engaged in the coffee trade, and was a partner in the house of Maxwell & Co., in Rio de Janeiro.

General Finnegan, rebel commander at Lake City, Fiorida, in early life enlisted as a private in the United States regular army. After his discharge he removen to Fiorida, where he became employed as an engineer. By intelligence he prospered in his affairs, married, and became a leading citizen. Since the breaking out of the war he has risen in the rebel service to the rank of Brigadier-General.

Mr. Matthiss W. Gooderson died on Saturday morning, in New York, of typhoid fever, after a few days illness. He was born in Philadelphia in 1820, but, after arriving at his majority, removed to New York. He subsequently received an appoin ment in the Custom House and was afterwards made Commissioner of Repairs and Supplies, and quite recently held the office of Superintendent of Markets.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE CHESTNUT.—There was a rush to the interior of the Chestnut last evening as soon as the doors opened, and before the curtain rose standing room could scarcely be obtained, so great was the aggreess to see "The Octoroon," with the beautiful scenery of Smith and Strong, with Koppitz's charming music, and with the admirable cast Mr. Grover selected. We need not sketch the plot of this most effective and absorbing drama, but need only say that it would be difficult to choose out a company who would perform it better than that ompany who would perform it better than that t the Chestnut. Messrs. Lennox, Pearson, Ward, at the Cheschut. Mesers, Lennox, Pearson, Ward, Mordanut, Chapman and Donaldeon played with felicity and earnestness, while Miss Gimber and Miss Ward also acted with power and true discrimination. The scenery is really superb, and we doubt whether it has ever been surpassed in this city. "The Octoroon" will be repeated this evening, and all who wish to obtain eligible seats must be prompt.

The Walnut.—Miss Laura Keene's Company, in combination with the company at the Walnut, appeared last evening in "Wives of Irelaud' and the burlesque of 'Mazeppa." The audience was an excellent one as to numbers, and every one appeared to enjoy the performances heartily. Miss Keene appeared in her famous part of Mrs. Blenkinsop; Mr. Peters acted with unctuous fan the part of Barnaby Blenkinsop, and "gave her her head" to the delight of all; Mr. Hemple was his able coadjutor, as Larry; Mr. Dyott scarcely did himself justice as Baradan; Mr. Levick was superb in his delineation of Shane Maginnis; Mr. G. Johnson made a capital old schoolmaster; Mrs. Tyrrell made a pretty picture of Milly; Miss Graham's Elly was the best part we have ever seen her act; and Miss Wood played a sorceress of the Mig Merilles style well. "Mazeppa" was as funny as ever, and was given with a real dash. The same bill will be repeated to night.

Grand Soire.—This evening a grand musical soiree will be given by Mr. Charles Schmitz at the Armoly of the Grey Reserves, northeast corner of Eighteenth and Chestnut streets, for the benefit of the Ladies' Branch of the United States Sanitary Commission. It should be largely patronized. A number of celebrated artists will assist.

THE ARCH.—This evening Barney Williams will appear in "Shandy Maguire;" Mrs. Williams will appear in "Shandy Maguire;" Mrs. Williams appears in "Yankee Courtship;" and the afterpiece is "A Regular Fix." This evening will be the last night but four of the unprecedented engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Williams. They have never played to larger houses, and their abilities were never more triumphantly displayed.

NATIONAL HALL.—There is a lively bill at the circus to night, including Senorita Lehman's feats THE MINSTRELS on Eleventh street will play, dance and sing in varied measures this evening, and to a large house.

CONCERT HALL.—The Bible Panorama at Concert Hall will soon close.

ITEMS FROM WASHINGTON.
The New York Times's Washington correspondence of the contract of the c nt writes: The number of National Banks authorized up to to day is three hundred and forty-seven, with capital of $15,500,000.

It is the impression of the Committee on Bank ruptcy that no Bankrupt bill will pass this session.

I here is considerable opposition to it on both sides

There is considerable opposition to it on both sides of the House.

The Committee on the Conduct of the War will, in their report, completely exonerate President Lincoln from all responsibility for the recent defeat in Florida. The evidence adduced clearly shows that he neither ordered, connseled, or was cognizant of the movement that so disastrously culminated at Olustee.

From information received through various reliable sources, it is now known that the exact place in which the body of Colonel Dahlgren was buried was a matter of public retority in Richmond. There is hardly a doubt but that when Ould made an excuse for not complying with Admiral Dahlgren's request, suggested on the ground that the place where the body was interred could not be false.

found, he deliberately stated what he knew to be false.

The Tribune's correspondent writes:

The Surgeon of the 2d N. Y. Cavalry, who accompanied Colonel Dablgren, and was taken prisoner, but now released, states that in the fight at Richmond, on Monday afternoon, Colonel Dahlgren's forces drove the rebels over two miles and inside the second line of fortifications. We lost five killed and a number wounded, and punnshed the rebels severely. The surgeon was left behind to care for the wounded, and in endeavoring to rejoin Colonel Dahlgren was captured by the 2d North Carolina, into whose lines he rode, supposing them to be our troops.

He was taken to Richmond, placed in a close cell with Col. Ceok, Col. Litchfield—who was wounded as stated—three other officers, and four negroes. From Col. Cook, who was at Col. Dahlgren's side, he learned that forty or fifty shots gren's side, he learned that forty or fitty shots were fired, and that Col. Dahlgren fell from his horse, dead. The rest tried to save themselves, but were nearly all captured. The most severe treatment was given to these officers. They were treatment was given to these officers. They were fed on corn bread and water, and subjected to insults.

The paroled prisoners at Annapolis were paid off to-day, and a large number of the officers left on twenty days' leave of absence for the North. Many sick arrived by the last boat, of whom eight or ten have died, and probably come lifty more will share their fate. Major Chamberlin, in charge of the paroled at Annapolis, has caused the arrest of several of the returned prisoners upon complaints made by the officers. Still further proofs of the placing of gunpowder under Libby, and of Col. Sanderson's perfidy, are furnished by the officers of this last arrival.

INTERESTING FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

NEWBERN, N.O., March 24.—The United States transport stesmer Daniel Webster, Capt. Dearing, arrived here this morning from Washington, D.O., with a load of mules. She leaves for New York, via Fortress Monroe, at five o'cloak this evening. Gen. Peck, at the request of prominent members of the Masonic fraternity of this city, has issued an order, turning over all their buildings and appurtenances to Messrs. A. A. Rice. J. B. Knox, and W. L. Crowell, Trustees, upon their giving receipt for the same to the Provost Marchal.

Gen. Peck has also issued an order to the troops to promote greater economy and care in the use of vegetables, and recommending their cultivation near each camp, for which purpose seeds will be furnished by the Government.

On Sunday afternoon, the 13th, Lieutenant York, of the 2d North Carolina Volunteers, stationed at Plymouth, was ordered to proceed to the mouth of the Cashie river and bring away any deserters that might wish to come. Taking eight men and embarking on the Dollie, he landed at Terrapin Point at about ten in the evening, but found no one wishing to come with him. Nothing dannted by the difficulties of the swamp through which it was necessary to pass, or the small force with bim, he proceeded injund with his eight men. The Newbern Times has the following:
Two steamers, the Alice and the Hansa, ran out

Judge Pearson, of this State, in a recent habeas corpus case, decided that the recent act of the rebel Congress to conscript persons who have fernished substitutes for the war, is unconstitutional.

We learn that Hon. H. S. Christian, rebel Congressman elect from the Seventh district, is dead. The Greensboro papers, of the 3d inst., say the distance of unfinished grading on the Pledisont road is six miles, with about eight miles of unlaid rails. LOUISIANA—FREE LABOR ON THE PLANTATIONS.

A correspondent of the New Yorks Times writes from New Orleans, March 8th, as follows:
Nearly all the desirable plantations on both sides the Mississip; as high up as Baton Rouge, are under cultivation: so are those on the Lafourche, and west as far as Brashear City. Probably more than half of all are in the hands of new men, many of them from the North, who have begun the cultivation this year. Three new firms in New Orleans, Brott & Davis, Graham, Hodges, & Co., and Weed. Witters & Co., are carrying on many, and are partners in many more. They furnish supplies, &c, and divide with the proprietors the profits in some way agreed upon. To show how tous income way agreed upon. To show how tous income way agreed upon. To show how tous income way agreed upon. To show how thous moss has revived here, a partner in one of the firms told me their weekly profits were now four thousand deliars.

There have been many delays and difficulties in getting to work, growing out of the scarcity of nules and negroes. Mules have advanced, so as to touch $250 cuch for good plantation animals and are scarce at that, while hast year they could be had for less than $100. As it requires from sixty to seventy-five mules to cultivate an estate of 1,000 acres, this change becomes important. My estimates are that it will cost this year to cultivate each lod acres, (including cost of mules,) about five thousand deliars—deducting the mules, &c., for each one hundred acres, about three thousand. Here after this estimate may be reduced to two thousand, depending upon prices of labor and supplies. LOUISIANA-FREE LABOR ON THE PLAN-

Still much cotton was formerly raised here, and especially in the Teche country, west of this, and especially in the Toche country, west of this, and I think nuch will be raised this year, but I would not put it higher than half a bale to the acre.

The sugar crop of the State is not rated over 51,000 hogsheads in the last year (and there is no probability of its reaching so high a figure this), against, say 404,600 hogsheads in the best of days. Very little new cane was put in last year, but it he sed cane was saved for this year, and of the old stubble I think a great deal with have been destroyed by the severe tros's. Whatever sugars are produced, will, therefore, bring higher prices. As to the value of these sugar land's it is evident they must every year grow less, as the old cane wruns out," and no new cane is saved for renewals. I have no idea that they would now sell for more than one quarter their extremeprices. Whenever the settling day comes there must be a slaughtering of the innocents which wing spent their substance in rictions living are heavily mortgaged. The longer this settling is postponed the worse for the individual, the State, and the nation. Most of the properties must change hands, and the sconer the better.

The best cotton region is further north upon the Toche the Med River and the Most State, and Toche in Code. think n.uch will be raised this year, but I would the comer the better.

The best cotton region is further north upon the Teche, the Red River and the Mississippi. To-day I came upon a crowd of plantation negroes, who told me they had just been brought down on a gunboat from Waterproof (dove Natchez), and that are guerillas were burning and destroying about there. From the various reports I judge that cultivators in that part are not having a "good time," and that but little cotten can be had from them. I is to be hoped that by another Spring the prospect will be safer. The "chivalric" Gov. Allen (I am told and

The 'chivalric' Gov. Alien (I am told and believe) has given orders to burn right and left upon the advance of our forces, and it is difficult to see whence large amonus of cotton are to be derived it the coming year.

Labor here is not at all adequate even this year to the demand. Many of the best men have enlieted in the army; many have wandered away, and thousands have died; so that at the present time brokers are getting from five to fifteen dollars for each good hand. There is no great danger therefore that our Irish cuizens at the North Will be driven out by the negro. I regret the fact. will be driven out by the negro. FUNERAL OF THE HON, OWEN LOVEJOY. The funeral ceremonies over the remains of Hon. Owen Lovejoy were solemnized at Plymouth Church. Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon The nonlding was well filted, the greater portion being ladies. The collin was brought up about 2 o' clock by the pall-tearers, coasisting of Messrs. William Cullen Bryant, E. Tappan, J. H. Bryant, Mr. Davis, (colored, formerly a slave,) Messrs Ritter and Carpenter, Rev. Messrs. Jocelyn and Fairbanks.

and Carpenter, Rev. Messee. Boards.

When the remains were placed in front of the pulpit, the ceremony was commenced with an anthem by the choir. Rev. H. W. Beecher delivered a prayer, when Rev. Dr. G. B. Cheever read a chapter of Scripture, and addressed the congregation. regation. Rev. Mr. Beecher then read a hymn written fo ne occasion, which was sung by the choir.

Mr. Beecher then delivered a brief address, in thich he stated that the body was awaiting the arival of a Congressional delegation to convey it to he house of deceased in Illinois, where due honors will be paid to it; but, as he died here, a guest of the City, it was proper that he should not depart will be pand to it; but, as he diced here, a guest of the City, it was proper that he should not depart without appropriate funeral service. The deceased had occupied an honorable position among those engaged in the great work of Christianity, in which he had won the esteem and respect of all his co-laborers in that work. Owen Lovejoy was an evidence that a man might become heroic by the simple qualities of manliness and fidelity. It was a work that required more then conscience. To some it was a position of terment. Not so to him. He was built broad and square: strong and healthy, and resolute, fitted to fight this buttle. He was a frank, open-hearted, noble, generous manhating evil alone. The speaker referred to the early education of the deceased. He was trained for the ministry, and applied for license from the Episcopal Church, which was offered him on condition that he would not agitate the Slavery question. Refusing these terms, he joined the Congregational Church and Isbored zealously in the cause in which his heart was engaged. His work is not yet oone; but it will soon, and his spirit will labor

Rev. Dr. Stners then delivered a prayer, after which the choir sang the beautiful hymn, "The Shining Shore." The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Beecher, when, after viewing the body, the audience retired. The remains will be sent to Princeton, Ill., for interment, this morning.—N. F. Times, to-day.

Hon. W. L. DENNIS, of this city, delivered a lecture at Newport, R. I., last week, which is spoken of thus flatteringly by the Newport

News:

"The lecture delivered on Thursday evening, in Believue Hall, by Wm. L. Dennis, Esq., was one of sterling worth. It was especially refreshing to the spirit of every loyal man to hear such carnest words in behalf of our country. We can assure those of our readers who may have been so unfortunate as not to have heard the lecture, that they missed a rare treat. Let them not suppose that the lecture was a mere political harsning, or that it was only a hash of the incidents of the war. Upon the contrary, it was a studious, terse, calm, and comprehensive review of the developments of the rebellion.

and comprehensive review of the developments of the rebellion.

"We will not attempt to enter into any synopsis of Mr. Dennis's lecture. "We may say, however, that it was truly a scholarly and philosophical production. With a chaste and graphic style Mr. D. described the successive growths of the great results of the war. Some of his descriptions possessed great force and beauty, and elicited hearty applause. His keen wit did not spare those craven souls who are traitors to their government, nor those at home who sympathize with Southern rebels. The whole address was replete with valuable information, sound argument, and was delivered with true grace and eloquence."

CITY BULLETIE.

Weather cloudy—Wind Northeast.

Recruiting.—During the past few days there has been a considerable falling off in the number of enlistments in the city. Yesterday the Mayor issued warrants for $23,750 to pay the city bounty to 115 men, and to-day the amount reached $9,750, representing 119 men. But a short time remains before the draft is ordered to take place, and our citizens should increase their exertions to have the quota of the city filled by voluntary enlistments. It should be remembered that all the Government bounties cease after the 1st proximo, and those who desire to avail themselves of the large premiums offered for volunteers and also avoid the draft, should enroli themselves at once. Philadelphia has been lavish with both men and money to assist the Federa. Government in rushing the rebellion, and the patriotism of her citizens has not been exceeded by any other city, town or village in the Union. Let it not be said, at this late day, that the conscription act had to be enforced to get a few men from the city. The quota has almost been filled, and with renewed exertions the number of men yet required can be readily observed. the number of men yet required can be readily ob-

CLEANING THE STREETS.—Inspector Dickinson seems determined that Philadelphia shall regain her reputation for the cleanliness of her streets. Streets, alleys and by-ways which have not been visited by scavengers for months, and possibly years, have already had touches of the broom and scraper. Men and carts are at work daily in all parts of the city, and the plan of having the matier superintended by the police force appears to work very well. Mr. Dickinson also gives his personal attention to the operations of the men, and is about in various spots during the course of a day. An immense amount of dirt has already been removed. In the Second Police District, composed of the Third and Fourth Wardis, tetween seven and eight hundred loads were taken away during the five working days of last week. This is but one district, and when it is considered that the work was carried on with as much energy in about twelve other districts, some idea of the dirty condition of the city may be formed. At the rate the work is now prosecuted we may shortly expect to be able to see the cobble stones in all the thoroughfares of the city.

The Army Hospitals in this Department, 369 soldiers; returned to duty, 293; died, 25; remaining, 3, 36. Confused Nomenglature.—A correspondent and subscriber, residing in New Washington, Clearfield county, Pa., complains that he does not receive more than one-half of the papers sent him from this city. We can offer no other explanation of this annoying failure of the mails than can be attributed to the daily increasing confusion of our post-effice nomenclature. Thus we find from the Register of 1859 that there were no less than twenty-eight Washington post-offices, and three New Washington in the list. The prefix "New" has been added to four hundred and thirty-five post-offices—Bedfords, Bostons, Gardens, Lancasters, Hopes, etc. Even Pittsburgh has three names as "New Pittsburgh," and Philadelphia escapes with three, while the lattr has five duplicates and Pittsburgh eight. Oregon has Washington and Washington Centre; Illinois, Washington and Washington Centre; Illinois, Washington and Washington Mills, and Washington Heights. In fact, throughout the entire list, there is scarcely a single name that is not duplicated from one to forty or fifty times, and confusions worse confounded by adding the prefixes "East," "West," "North," "South," "New," "Old,;" and "Fair," The evil might be remedied, to some extent, by the Post-office Department, but the blame lies upon the people who will insist in adopting hackneyed rames, with the entire world, ancient and modern, before them for a choice of semething comparatively rare. To attempt to avoid confusion by remedying local nomenclature has proved ineffectual, and we find that residents of Manchester. Birmingham and Lawrenceville address their letters by those names, instead of the postal titles of West Manchester, Buchanan and address their letters by those names, instead of the postal titles of West Manchester, Buchanan and Arsenal. The entire nomenclature of the country must be changed before the post office confusion can be avoided.—Pittsburgh Despatch.

ADDRESS OF GEN. FRENCH.—Before leaving the Army of the Potomac, Gen. French issued the following farewell address:

HEADQUARTEES THIED ARMY CORPS BRANDY STATION, March 24, 1564.—General Orders, No. 26.—Having been detached from the Army of the Potomac on second of its representation, into 26.—Having been detached from the Army of the Potomac, on account of its reorganization into three corps, I desire to express the personal feelings of regret with which the order is received.

The consolidation of the corps gives this army greater strength. The Generals to command them are conspicuous for their gallantry and ability.

Only known in the department 'where bullets whistle, there is a strong probablity that I may soon meet in the field the se brave soldiers with whom I have been so long associated with pride and distinction.

SERIOUS RAIROAD ACCIDENT.—A very serious accident occurred near Zanesville, on the Central Ohio Railroad, on Thursday, in consequence of the breaking of a rail. The engine and baggage car passed over safely, but the next car was precipitated down an embankment into Leatherwood creek and in about three feet of mud and water. A man by the name of Henry Mills, a resident of New York, was taken out of the creek dead, having been drowned by the water as it rushed into the car. A drummer of an Ohio regiment, who was in the car before the accident occurred, could not car. A drummer of an Unio regiment, who was in the car before the accident occurred, could not be found, and is supposed to have been buried beneath the wreck. A soldier by the name of Johnson became entangled in the wreck, and is so badly injured that he cannot recover. Some half dozen other persons, principally soldiers, whose names are not given, were more or less injured.

names are not given, were more or less injured.

Breaking Open Cars:—For some, time past there has been much annoyance and positive loss at the President street depot of the Philadelphia railroad, by the theft of various articles, not only exposed, but, as it was thought, secured. Yesterday morning cars arrived from the West, locked and sealed, and destitued to go through to Philadelphia. Henry Nall, the watchmain at the depot, saw four boys coming out of the car, which was found to have been broken open, and they were directly afterwards arrested. They had about three dozen eggs, which had been taken from a barrel, the head of which was knocked out. They were each about twelve years of age. The justice held the parties for their appearance at court.—

SAYS A HUNTSVILLE, ALA., letter: I listened, a day or two since, to a butternut-clad individual, who had succeeded in making good his escape, expatiating eloquently on the rigidness with which the conscription was enforced south of the Tennessee River. His response to a question propounded by a citizen ran somewhat in this wise: "Do they conscript close over the river? Well, stranger, I should think they did! They take every man who hasn't been dead more than two days!" If this is correct, the Confederacy has at least a ghost of a chance left.

RAISED GREENBACKS.—It is said that raised greenbacks are circulated here. The work is neatly done by pasting ones to pass as tens. Of course none but careless people, or those not used to handling money, would be deceived. It is to protect such that we call attention, to the altered notes. The art of pasting and altering notes has been brought to great perfection, and those who been brought to great perfection, and those who look only to the figures on a note may be easily misled as to its character.—Rochester American.
