In the meantime the Eastport had reached the obstruction, and, with the versels that kept pace with her folder, and, with the versels that kept pace with her had commenced the work of demoishing the formidable barricade on which the rebels had been employed for five months. They supposed it to be impregnable, but our energetic sailors, with hard work, opened a passage in a very few hours.

The Eastport and Neosho then proceeded to the fort, which at that moment was being surrounded by the troops under Gen. Smith, who had marched from Simmsport. A brisk musketry fire was going on between the rebels and our own troops, and they were so close together that it was difficult to distinguish the combatants. The Eastport opened her batter, es, but fearing to injure our own men ceased firing, when our troops proceeded to the assault and carried the place.

The main body of the enemy, five thousand strong, under the rebel General Walker, made their escape.

Admiral Porter says: "The whole affair has been well managed. The troops made a splendid march and attack, and the officers in command of the gunboats and transports have shown great seal and industry in getting up the river and through the obstructions, which the rebels deemed impassable."

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 28, 861.—The Navy Department is in receipt of a letter from Commander Preble, commanding the sloop-of-war St. Louis, dated March 1st, in Funchal Roads, Maderia. He says the Florida has succeeded in getting to sea, and that he shall follow her at once, though hopeless of catching her out of the port. Had the St. Louis been a steamer he would have anchored alongside of her, and, unrestricted by the twenty-four hour rule, his old foe would not have escaped him. He says the Florida's crew is described as made up of Spaniards. Frenchmen and Portugueses, with a few Englishmen, and only one American. "My men," he adds. "have been wild to fight, and I drew the shot from my guns the day she came in, fearing in their excuement they should fire into her without orders, and thus break the neutrality of the port."

The Secretary of the Treasury has transmitted to the Senate, in response to a resolution passed by that body, a list of the special agents of the Treasury, their field of operations, pay and emoluments from which it appears that under the act of March, 1863, themty-seven supervisors and special agents have been appointed, some with $5 and others with $65 aday and ten cents amile for travel, in no case to exceed $5,000 in full. Under the act of July 1st, 1862, to turther provide for the collection of the Revenue, en special agents, some with salaries as above, one at $1,200, J. R. FIELD MEMORIAL.

AN APPEAL

TO LOYAL PENNSYLVANIANS. The "GETTYSBURG BATTLE-FIELD ME-MORIAL ASSOCIATION" was instituted for the purpose of securing, forever, the principal points upon the great bat le-field of the war, in the exact condition in which they were left in July, 1863 when the rebel hordes of the invader LEB were driven back from the free soil of Pennsylvania and when the gallant soldiers of GENERAL MEADS remained in possession of the field which they had wor by their valor. The Association haveniready secured the purchase of CEMETERY HILL, CULP HILL GRANITE SPUR and ROUND TOP, with the entrenchments thrown up just upon the eve of the great conflict which was the turning point in the career of the rebellion. The field, with its redoubts, wonderful stone defences, its timber breast-works. issforest beights, with the trees torn by shells and countless builets, and its long lines of earthwork defences, have all been preserved intact, and to se continue to preserve them, as to be a monument forever of the greatest of American Battle-fields, is the object of the formation of the Association. To enable a large number of persons to join in this patriotic work, the projectors of the plan placed the subscriptions at ten dollars each. The payment of this sum MAKES EACH SUBSCRIBER A MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATION, AND PART OWNER OF THE

HLOR OUS FIELD OF GETTYSBURG. What Loyal and Patriotic Citizen of Pennsylva nia would not gladly embrace the privilege of recording his name upon this to lof honor, and of linking himself directly with the field where the lofty heroism of his countrymen vindicated the integrity of the Union and the principles of Free dom? And who would not desire to hand down as a precious heir-loom to his children the evidence of his part in the good work, bearing, as the certificate will, a view of the field which will rank it history with THERMOPYLE, MARATHON and WA-

There are no salaried officers in this Association, no. are there any objects in view in its creation other than those aiready stated. The grounds were purchased from their original owners at the exact price to be paid for them by the Association, and the points selected, and the prices to be paid for them, met the unqualified approval of a committee of the Historical acciety of Pennsylvania, appoint d for the purpose of visiting the field.
