XXXVIIITH CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION. CLOSE OF YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

SENATE.—Mr. Sherman presented the memorial of the Cincinnati Horticultural Society declaring that important and beneficial results from the establishment of a Department of Agriculture had already become apparent, taking away all apology for further timid legislation regarding it, and therefore praying Congress to sustain it with liberal appropriations from the public treasury. Referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

On motion of Mr. Powell, it was resolved that the Secretary of War be directed to transmit to the Senate all orders that have been resude from his the Secretary of War be directed to transmit to the Senate all orders that have been issued from his Department, or by Generals of the army of the United States, authorizing any person or persons to take possession of any church or churches, or house dedicated to the worship of God, or houses or property belonging to any denomination of Christians in the United States; and that he inform the Senate how many churches, and how much property, and what kind and description, has been taken possession of, in pursuance of said orderand where the same is situated, and to what denomination of Christians the property so taken belonged.

nemination of United and I was longed.

On motion of Mr. Powell, it was Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury be directed to transmit to the Senate the amount of money expended and the number of officers appointed, and salaries paid the same to carry out the act of Congress entitled "An act for collection within the act of Congress entitled "An act for collection of direct taxes in insurrectionary districts within the United States, and for other purposes," approved June 7th, 1862; and that he inform the Senate of the amount of money received into the Treasury from direct taxes in said insurrectionary districts under the provisions of said act, and the quantity of land sold for taxes in those districts. The House bill to provide a temporary Government for the Territory of Montana, was taken up ment for the Territory of Montana, was taken up on motion of Mr. Wade, the pending question being on the amendment of Mr. Wilkinson to strike out the word "white" in the fifth section, defining the qualifications of voters and eligibility to office within the territory.

NAYS—Messrs. Buckalew, Cowan, Carlile, Davis, Harding, Henderson, Johnson, Lane (Ind.), Nesmith, Fowell, Riddle, Saulsbury, Sherman, Ten Eyck, Trumbull, Van Winkle, Willey—17.

The question being then on the final passage of the bill, Mr. Powell inquired how many inhabitants were in the proposed new territory?

Mr. Wade repeated that there were twelve thousand inhabitants on this side of the mountains and twelve on the other, and that the population was being rapidly increased on account of the new discoveries of gold. coveries of gold.
Mr. Sumner would inquire what suggested the na ne of the new territory, Montana?

Mr. Wade could not answer this question.

Mr. Howard, by reference to his old Latin dictionary, found that the word referred to a mountainous country, such as this was described to be. [Laughter.]
Mr. Johnson said if the object of Mr. Wilkin-Mr. Johnson said it the object of thir. Whitingson's famendment was to declare that the African abould have equal political rights under this bill, he would suggest that he would modify it so as to express such a purpose.

Mr. Wilkinson desired that his amendment stand is the decrease with the bear advanted with the standard of the in the form in which it had been adopted, so that neither the word white or black should appear in Mr. Sumner considered that Congress was as competent to interpret the meaning of the word citizen as any other body.

Mr. Johnson had a high respect for the Senator from Massachusetts, but not withstanding his transcendent abilities he was of the opinion, and he had the support of many learned indust that the words. he support of many learned judges, that the ques-ion of the rights of persons of African descent to itizenship, was an open one, and made so by the Constitution. He referred to the decision in the Dred Scott case, and said if the opinion of the Senate was held in one hand and the decision of the nate was held in one hand and the decision of the courts in the other, it was barely possible that the weight of authority would be in the latter.

Mr. Hale said the decision of the Supreme Court was a disgrace to the land, and a libel to the law, but not a disgrace to the Supreme Court. [Laughter.] The bill was then passed by a vote of 29 to 8.

Mr. Saulsbury then addressed the Se_ate on the joint resolution to amend the Constitution to prohibit slavery.

Mr. Clark contended that, under the Constitution, there were some things we were prohibited

Government for their acts, because they were sur-counded by difficulties and did as well as they coulded by difficulties and did as well as they could. Washington besongth his countrymen to cherish and preserve the Union, but his own State was the first to be the theatre of war for those in arms seeking to overthrow it; and, sad to say, his own home cannot to-day be visited without the accompaniment of a picket guard. Slavery, after having abused its prerogative under the Constitution to such an alarming extent, now deserved to die.

Mr. Davis moved the following amendment as a substitute: That no negro, or person whose mother or grandmother is or was a negro, shall be a citizen of the United States, or be eligible to any civil or military office, or to any place of trust or profit under the United States, on which he called the yeas and nays. No quorum voted, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. Stevens (Pa.) offered a substitute for the chirtieth section, with a view to rectore the seven par centum interest on loans, discounts, &c.
The Committee having yesterday reduced it osix, also provided it shall not be greater than the rate established by law in States where such insti-Mr. Stevens said if the banks choose to charge below seven percentum they could do it, and there was nothing in the law which compelled men to deal with them. He would regard the yote on this amendment as a test question affecting the this amendment as a test question affecting the passage of the bill.

Mr. Blain (Mo.) in reply, said the banks could take less than the legal rates without authority of this bill. The success of this scheme depended on driving State banks out of existence. He proposed a compromise, providing the interest shall be at a the rate established by law in the State where the association is located, not to exceed seven per cent. He spoke for one section of country, and for twenty years the New England States have charged six per centum, and there had never been such a plethora of money as there was to-day seeking in et centum, and there had hever been such a lethora of money as there was to-day seeking in-estment. If seven per centum should be adopted, would add one-sixth more than was ever before at would add one-sixin more than was ever before paid, falling on merchants and men of enterprise.

Mr. Holman (Ind.) said the common judgment of the country was against a higher rate of interest than six per centum. Seven per centum was higher than was charged elsewhere on the face of the

Mr. Kasson (Iowa) adverted to Mr. Stevens's substitute, and said that the law now proposed should not be obstructed by State legislation. The action here proposed was designed to make the cur-sency uniform, and the regulation of interest was justified under the constitutional clause that have neer-State commerce shall be under the control of Congress.

Mr. Higby (Cal.) was in favor of an amendment Mr. Higby (Cal.) was in favor of an amendment hat the rate of interest shall not exceed the rate stablished by the law of the State in which the mank is established, and argued that the question of interest did not affect the uniformity of the curency. Mr. Alley's amendment, together with others, was rejected.

was rejected.

Mr. Stevens appealed to the committee to take the question on his substitute, and determine whether interest shall be uniform or not, and not attempt to mar the proportions of the bill, and change it from the purpose it was intended to accommission.

complish.

Mr. Stevens's substitute was agreed to, in effect restoring the original thirtieth section, which provides that every association may receive, charge or retain on any loan or discount made, or upon any note, bill of exchange or other evidence of debt, interest at the rate of seven per centum. The knowingly taking, receiving, reserving or charging a greater rate of interest is to be held and adjudged a forfeiture of the entire interest. Those paying it may recover back, in action of debt, wice the amount of interest thus paid.

Twice the amount of interest thus paid.

The section designating places of redemption was amended so as to include St. Louis, Louisville, Chicago, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, New York, San Francisco, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Albany, Cleveland, Milwaukle.

Mr. Blaine (Me.) moved to insert Portland, and Mr. Frank (N. Y.) moved Buffalo, both of which amendments were agreed to:

Mr. Wilson (Lowa) moved to make New York the only place of redemption.

Messrs. Hooper and Stevens opposed the motion.

Mr. Brooks regarded this as a business-like and

Mr. Brooks regarded this as a business-like and practicable proposition, New York being the only moretary centre and the only place where a uniform currency can be obtained.

Mr. Alley (Mass.) and Mr. Randall (Pa.) opposed the amendment, the latter viewing it as an attempt to strike down the financial interests of other cities, including Philadelphia. He hoped the House would give it a quietus.

Mr. Wilson defined his amendment, showing the financial advantages to the West.

Mr. Stevens moved to substitute for Mr. Wilson's amendment that the notes of each national association shall be received by every other national association at par. He was opposed to centralizing recemption in a single city.

Mr. Morrill (Me) said if Mr. Stevens's amendment was adopted here was an end of the system,

Mr. Stevens's amendment was rejected by a vote of 54 against 55. The amendment of Mr. Wilson, making New The amendment of Mr. Wilson, making New York 'he only place of redemption, was further ciscussed, Mr. Davis (N. Y.) speaking in favor, and Mr. Blow (Mo.) against it.

After further debate, Mr. Wilson's amendment was rejected, by 27 against 63.

No further action was taken on the bill.

in the market for the purpose for which it is recommended.

It has been proved by thorough exposure, and by comparison with other paints, to be the only reliable Paint to resist the action of salt water and salt atmosphere.

It is therefore especially recommended for ship bottoms, hulls, decks, boiler fronts, smoke stacks and steam pipes. For iron railings, fences, cars, railroad and other bridges, it is not excelled.

It is especially adapted for METAL ROOFS.

It is not affected by acids or gases, and is a perfect protector against rust on metals, and from dampness on brick walls.

It mixes and blends readily with other paints,
