FROM FORTRESS MONROE. FORTRESS MONROE, March 30 .- The U.S.

steamer Commodore Barney, with 56 picked men from the Minnesota, all in charge of Capt. J. M. Williams, left this point yesterday afternoon and proceeded up the Chuckatuck creek. and with small boats landed at the head of the creek taking a guide to the headquarters of Lieutenant Roy, where they arrived at 4 o'clock this morning. Immediately surrounding the houses they captured two sergeants and 18 privates, with three small arms, without firing a shot. Master Pierson and Wilder had charge of the Minnesota's boats. It was a great achievement, as the prisoners captured were signal officers and no doubt rank higher than above stated, being all intelligent men.

The Confederate Commissioners for the exchange of prisoners, Robert Ould and Capt Hatch of Richmond, arrived this morning on the flag-of-truce boat A. Winans.

The steamer Adelaide, Capt. Cannon, left this morning at 10 o'clock for Baltimore, having been detained from last evening by the storm.

The schooner Lydia Ann, Capt. Overton, was lost at sea on the 23d inst.

The last one of the Russian fleet sailed hence for New York this morning.

The English frigate Buzzard arrived last evening and anchored in Hampton Roads. FURTHER PARTICULARS.

An immense excitement was created to-day by the arrival of Col. Robert Ould, the rebel Commissioner of Exchange, accompanied by Captain J. M. Hatch, his assistant, at this place. A few days ago, when Major John E. Mulford, Assistant Commissioner of Exchange, under Major General Butler, was at City Point, he made an arrangement with Colonel Ould for the latter to visit General Butler; and accordingly and escaped capture. Capt. Williams, on reaching the cutters with his prisoners, gave orders to get under way with the least possible delay, and succeeded in bringing every rebel to the Commodore Barney, and finally to this place, where they are to be turned over to General Butler as prisoners of war. My informant states that in the foregoing facts concerning the expedition too much praise cannot be awarded to the commanding officer, Captain Williams, as well as Captain

Pierson and Wilder, also Acting Master's Mate Auld, for their intrepid and heroic conduct. The rebel prisoners assert that only for the storm, during which they did not expect an attack, our men would have had a bloody fight, and certainly unffered a deteat, as their force consisted of nearly two hundred men. The prisoners will be transferred to the new mili taty prison lately erected at Camp Hamilton. Her Britannic Majesty's steam corvette Buzzard, Captain Martin, arrived here during the prevalence of a severe gale last evening from Bermuda, and relieves the gunboat Rosario, Captain Grant, which is ordered to trke the place of the Buzzard on the station she has just CAIRO, March 31 .- Captain J. H. Williams, Provost Marshal of the District of Cairo, was arrested last night, and taken to Memphis to answer before General Hurlbut for offences not yet made public. A brother of Williams, and Lieutenants Throop and Buell, were also arrested, and confined at Columbus, charged with being connected with Williams in the offences which caused his arrest.

The despatches published in the newspapers of the 29th, purporting to have been received at Washington, from Captain Pennock, Nava Commander here, concerning the rebel capture of Paducah, and his demanding its surrender were bogus, no such despatches having been sent from him.

The steamer Platte Valley, from Memphis, brought up 105 bales of cotton for St. Louis. The 8th Illinois Veteran Regiment have passed here on their way home on a furlough. Quiet prevails at Memphis.

The following changes have been made in the District of Cairo: Col. J. J. Renneaker, of the 122d Illinois Regiment is assigned to the command of the Port at Cairo. Capt. J. M. Tallmadge, 14th Iowa, relieved from duty as Provost Marshal of the port of Cairo, and takes the place of Capt. Williams, relieved as District Provost Marshal General. Captain Odlin, 2d Arkansas Cavalry, takes the place of Captain Tallmadge, as Provost Marshal of the port. Capt. James Hugg, 34th New Jersey, assigned for duty as Provost Marshal at Mound City, in. the place of H. Cutler, 122d Illinois, relieved. The naval station headquarters and district staff officer's remain at Cairo, as heretofore.

thing. Years of experience and a correspondence extending throughout all nationalities of the has bitable globe have turned theories into facts and esterday afternoon Admiral Lee sent word to this point that a rebel flag of truce was off Newport News Point, awaiting to hold communication with the Commanding General, who at once despatched Major Mulford on board of the steamboat Amanda Winants to receive the envoy.

The meeting between Major Mulford, Col. Ould and Capt. Hatch was, of course, as the rules in cases of flag of truce prescribe, cordial in the extreme. The weather being very rough at the time, the gunboat Roanoke, which brought Mr. Ould from Richmond to our lines, could not very well ride at anchor off Newport News, and consequently proceeded a few miles np the James river, and waited the coming of Major Mulford. The arrival at Fortress Mon roe of all the parties above mentioned occurred at ten o'clock this morning, the Union flag of truce boat steaming to the wharf with the emblem of peace at her fore. An ambulance belonging t the Hygea Hotel was placed at the disnosal of the visitors, and taken to headquarters, with an immense amount of papers and books

The appearance of Colonel Ould to a person who knew him prior to the breaking out of this wicked rebellion, is one of great change. In size the rebel Commissioner is about six feet. and rather rotund. His face is completely covered with a greyish grizzly beard, and altogether he looks like a man who has the burdens of "kingdom" to wear on his shoulders. Colonel Ould wore a civilian's suit-a brown overcoat, fashionable several years back, and a slouch hat. His companion, Captain Hatch, was attired in a gray uniform, full dress, sash and belt, but wore no sword ...

The object of his mission can only be guessed at, but relates to the future plan of exchanges. It is understood, and in fact was published in the Richmond papers, that if General Butler would come to the rebel capital to make the necessary arrangements to facilitate exchanges, he should receive ample protection. General Butler and Colonel Ould are on friendly terms, and up to the moment of my closing this, the two commissioners are engaged in their humane and laudable undertaking. The visit of Colonel Ould may last two or three days, judging from the immense pile of papers brought by him on his arrival.

The United States gunboat Commodore Barney, Acting Master James M. Williams commanding, left Newport News last evening on an expedition, notwithstanding a heavy gale prevailed at the time. Captain Williams proceeded to the mouth of the Nansemond where he left the boat, and manning four cutters, the first in charge of Acting Master Chas. R. Wlider, Executive officer of the Minnesota: the second under Acting Master Pierson, of the Minnisota; the third in command of Acting Master's Mate And, of the Barney, and the last in charge of an officer whose name I failed to obtain, and rowed twelve miles up the Nansemond river to Chuc atuck creek, and left the rowboats in charge of trustworthy men.

A tramp of three miles bronght the hardy sailors to Lieutenant Roy's rebel signal camp, the capture of which was the object of Captain Williams's hazardous expedition. The night was pitchy dark, and the rain poured down in torrents. The wind howled dismally through the woods, and at nearly every step the brave tars stumbled over the stumps abounding in in the forests through which their road lay. To have carried lanterns would have betrayed them, so they had to make slow progress, although the Captain and most of his men testify to their perilous enterprise by sore shins, re-ceived from the undergrowth of the woods. Arriving at the rebel camp near daybreak this morning, Captain Williams stationed a number of his men in the most important positions as sentries, and with the rest rushed in, and before any resistance could be offered captured twenty men of the rebel signal corps (among them is supposed to be Lieutenant Roy), and brought them safely to the boats. The remainder of from New Orleans, on the evening of the 24th ult., has arrived here. Franklin, La., has been evacuated, and the Government stores removed to Brashear city. The Era says-On the 21st Gen. Mower made a reconnoissance up Red River as far as Natchitoches, where a rebel force was out-flanked. Two hundred prisoners and four cannon were captured. Natchitoches is 60 miles above Alexandria, and refugees from there state that large quantities of cotton, etc., remain on the plantations in that vicinity. Another later account states that the affair took place at Bayou Rapids, 20 miles from Alexandria, and that besides the above captures arge numbers of horses and mules were taken. Col. H. B. Sargeant's was severely wounced in the leg. The rebel force was a portion of General Smith's infantry, and ours was a portion of Lee's cavalry. The weather on the Red River was cold, and the water in the river was rising rapidly, which will much facilitate gunboat movements. The troops are in fine spirits. The rebel guerillas at Provost Landing, on the Teche, fired into one of our gunboats, but fied after a well-directed discharge of grape. A party then landed and burned all the buildings in the place. Gen, Franklin's column passed through Opelousas. General Banks has issued an order establish. ing a bureau for the instruction of freedmen. Charles F. Roberts, mate of the brig Herald, of Boston was accidentally drowned on the 21st at New Orleans. He leaves a wife and family in Boston. The capture of Natchitoches had a depressing influence on the cotton market, as considerable receipts are expected from that region. Sales at 67a67^{1/2} for low middling—a decline. NEW YORK, April 1.- The Newbern Times of the 23d states, in reference to the denial made by the rebel newspapers of the recent hanging at Kingston:

He admitted that a rebel officer, who had been paroled to report at Fortress Monroe, for exchange, be cause be had saved the life of a Federal officer, had temporarily stopped at his house, and Major Hayner, acting provost marshal, having implicit confidence in the statement, released him, stating, however, that he would have the papers in the case made ont and submitted to Major General Wallace for his action. In the meantime a letter of inquiry has been sent to Fortress Monroe to ascernain if the officer has yet reported there to Gen. Builer. Col. Chess ut, grocer and commission mirchant, of Baltimore, was arrested on Wednesday, by request of Gen. Hutler, it is stated, on the charge of selling contraband goods to persons at Fortress Monroe and Norfolk. He was subsequently re-leased on parole to await further advicts from General Butler. Marshal Lamon previously had declined to hang them, assuming the ground that it was not his duty to do so, the recent act of Congress having deprived him of the custody of the jail, and placed that institution under the charge of a warden independent of his control feel at liberty to endorse their statements: ('New BEDFORD, Mass,', Nov. 24, 1863. Draß SIE- I have been afflicted many years with severe prostrating cramps in my limbs, cold feet and hands, and a general disordered system. Phy- sicians and medicines fulled to relieve me. While visiting some friends in New York who were using Plantation Bitters they prevailed upon me to try them. I commenced with a small wine glassful atter dinner. Feeing better by degrees, in a few days I was astonished to find the coldness and- cramps had entirely left me, and I could sleep the night through, which I have not done for years I feel like another being. My appetite and strength have also greatly improved by the use of the Plan-tation Bitters. Respectfully. JUDITH RUSSEL.''

Home School for the Children of Volunteers: "HAVEMENTER MANSION, Ffty-seventh, stree, NEW YORE, August 2, 1863. DE. DRARE YOUT wonderful Plantation Hit-ters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak inngs with most happy effect. One little kirl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhansted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly in-creased, and she is now well. Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."
