STEINWAY & SON'S GOLD MEDAL GRAND, SQUARE, UPRIGHT PLANOS are now considered the best in Europe, as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.

The principal reason why the Steinway Planes are superior to all others is, that the firm is composed of five practical pianoforte makers (father and four sons), who invent all their own improve-ments, and under whose personal supervision overy part of the instrument is manufactured. For sale only at BLASIUS BROS., 1006 Chestnut streat.

By a clause in our election laws as it has existed for many years, it is provided that "the Judges of Election may administer an oath in any inquiry they may deem necessary to be made touching the right of any person to vote; and if any person shall swear falsely in rela-tion thereto, he shall upon conviction thereof suffer the pains and penalties of perjury." The effect of this provision was to authorize the administration of an eath by the judges in any inquiry touching the right of a person offering to vote; but whilst the oath was thereby legal. ized, and a party swearing falsely was subected to the penalties of perjury, there was nothing in the law which required the judge to administer such oath. This omission so far at least as the election of the 6th of April next is concerned has been supplied by the act of the General Assembly under which that election is to be held. By the terms of that act it is no longer a discretionary authority with the Judge to ad-minister an oath or not, but it is made his duty to do so, and especially in the language of that act "to every person offering to vote whose vote shall be challenged on the ground that such person has served in the rebel army, or has either directly or indirectly given aid, comfort or encouragement to those in armed rebellion against the Government of the United States.

The fact to be ascertained, is whether the voter has served in the rebel armies, or di-rectly or indirectly aided, comforted or encouaged those engaged in the present rebellion. and whilst the Judge is required wherever a voter is challenged on such ground to administer an oath to him, he should not content himself with the mere denial, in genera terms, by the one so challenged, that he has ever aided, comforted or encouraged the rebels, but would be authorized, and I think required, to test the recollection of the party swearing by propounding to him particular in terrogations, suggestive of different modes by which this aid, comfort or encouragement may have been given-precisely as when a voter is challenged on the ground of a want of residence, the mere general affirmation upon oath of the party challenged would not be considered sufficient proof of his residence, but he would be required to state time, place and circumstance upon which a proper judgment as to the question of residence might be formed.

Neither is the Judge in case of a challenge on any account concluded by the answers of the party challenged, but he is fully authorized to administer an oath to any other who may be present and cognizant of facts having a relation to the question. It will, of course, occur to you, from the acts which I have quoted, that the giving at any time since the commencement of the existing rebellion, either directly or indirectly, of aid, comfort or encouragement thereto, is, so far as the coming election is concerned, the disqualification of a voter; for the General Assembly would not have imposed upon the Judge of Election the duty of inquiring into these facts if, when their existence was established, the voter could still exercise the right of suffrage. I know that it may be said that the General Assembly possessed no power to prescribe the qualifications of a voter, and that these are established by the Constitution; but without entering into any discussion upon this point, or as to the extent of the Judge's power to inquire into and determine the question of citizenship-one of the constitutional qualifications to be possessed by the voter-it is sufficient to know that the General Assembly has declared that certain acts shall disqualify the voter at this election. Such is the law of the State authorizing and regulating said election, and no one can lawfully question the constitutionality of that law

OFFICE OF THE GREAT CENTRAL FAIR FOR THE SANITARY COMMISSION, PHILADELPHIA, 1307 OHESTNUT STREET, MARCH, 1864.

The Committee on Finance and Donations of the Great Central Fair, appeal for contributions in money, to those of their fellow-citizens who do not propose sending to the Fair the products of their skill and industry. By far the larger portion of the money received on the occasion of the Fairs held for the benefit of the Sanitary Commission in Cincinnati, Boston, and Brooklyn, was derived from direct donations in cash, and not from the proceeds of the sale of articles exposed. What the Sanitary Commission needs to afford relief to the sick and wounded soldiers is money, in large amounts and from all sources. We call, then, upon all bankers, corporations, capitalists, persons living upon incomes, professional or otherwise; in short, upon all who will not be represented in he Fair by their productions, to imitate the example of those who will, and to contribute liberally in MONEY for this great object. In New York, although their Fair is not to be held for two weeks, contributions of more than $200,000 in cash have been ilready received, a single department of trade, that of dry goods, having made up more than half that sum. Brooklyn and Oincinnati have each contributed as much in money, and certainly the wealth. liberality and patriotism of Philadelphia can hardly be considered as less conspicuous than that of these communities. Contributions will be thankfully received by any of the members of the Committee

THE POLITICAL BIGHTS OF REBELS AND TRAITORS.

The following important correspondence has taken place between General Wallace and Governor Bradford, of Maryland:

LETTER OF GENERAL WALLACE.

HEADQUARTERS, MIDDLE DEPARTMENT, EIGHTH ARMY CORPS, BALTIMORE, MD., March 30, 1864.—His Excellency, Gov. A. W. Bradford: DEAE SIE: Herewith please find official copies of papers, a glance at which will doubtless sa. tisfy you that persons disloyal to the Government of the United States are candidates for the Constitutional Convention, the election for which takes place on the 6th of April next. It is hardly necessary for me to say that I am deeply interested in the prevention of the scheme disclosed, and as my offer of co-operation in all matters calculated to promote the welfare of the people of Maryland was very kindly received by you, I am encouraged to ask a question touching a subject about which your Excellency's official opinion is entitled to the most distinguished consideration.

As the oath which the law providing for a Convention requires you to administer to delegates elect, before taking their seats, was evidently intended to exclude disloyal persons from participation in the deliberation of that body, I have thought it possible that it was also the legislative intention to provide a method for the rejection, at the polls, of the votes of disloyal men, and that the power, amounting to judicial authority (according to my interpretation of the act), with which the judges of elec-tion are clothed, was really the mode adopted by the law-makers for the accomplishment of that purpose.

Your Excellency would oblige me very much. therefore, by giving me your views as to the extent of authority possessed by the judges of Election, and especially as to whether they have power to reject a vote on account of the disloyalty of the person offering it?

I will avail myself of the first opportunity to disclose to your Excellency the circumstances which, in my judgment, make it my duty to advise with you touching the subject. Meantime I have the honor to remain, most respectfully, your friend and very obedient (Signed) Lew WALLACE, Maj.-Gen. Com'dg Middle Department.

REPLY OF GOVERNOR BRADFORD. STATE OF MARYLAND, EXECUTIVE DEPART-MENT, ANNAPOLIS, March 31, 1864.—Major-General Lew. Wallace Commanding Middle Depariment:—DEAB SIR—I received your letter of 30th instant in which, premising that persons disloyal to the Government of the persons distoyar to the Government of the United States are candidates for the Constitu-tional Convention, the election for which takes place in this State on the 6th of April next, and referring to the oath, which by the law providing for that Convention its members are required to take before they are entitled to seats therein, you suggest that it was probably also the legislative intention to provide for the rejection of the votes of disloyal persons at that election, and that the Judges of Election are vested with an authority to that effect. You, therefore, request me to give you my views as to the extent of the authority possessed by the Judges on that subject. It gives me pleasure to comply with this request, and to state as explicitly and as briefly as I can my views of the power possessed by our Judges of Election in the premises, is not necessary to say a word to stimulate sym-pathy for the soldier. We feel for them all fas ne court of competent authority has declared it unconstitutional. This is a prerogative belonging to our courts alone, and, even as a judicial function, is the exercise of a power of a grave and delicate character, and only warranted in a clear case.

I think, therefore, sir, that from this very hasty and imperfect review of our laws upon the subject, you will agree with me in believing that they are entirely sufficient, if faith-fully excouted, as I have every reason to hope they will be, to exclude disloyal voters from the polls.

The duty of our Judges of Elections is, it The duly of our Judges of Elections 18, 11 seems to me, in this respect, clearly defined and adequately enforced. By the 7th section of the Convention act it is provided that any Judge of Election who shall refuse or neglect to perform any of the duties required of him by that act "shall be liable to indictment for such offence, and upon conviction thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and be sentenced to a fine of not less than $500 and to imprisonment in the jail of the city or county where such offence may have been committed, for a term of not less than six months."

In conclusion, permit me to say, I shall be at all times pleased to confer with you in all matters connected with your command touching the interests of the people of this State. I have the honor to be, with great respect, your obedient servant, A. W. BRADPOIR

pathy for the soluter. We see for them all ras brethren, and the popular heart seeks only the best mode of manifesting that sympathy in the most efficient and practical way. These fairs in other places have been productive of great results. By this means Chicago has recently raised for this object $60,000, Boston $150,000, and Cincinnati more than $200,000. We appeal, then, with the greatest confidence to the inhabitants of the Oentral States, especially to those who constitute the great industrial classes, to send as contribution the productions of their skill and workmanship. We appeal to them in the interest of no party, radical or conservative, Republican or Democratic, Administration or anti-Administration. We know only this, that to send our national soldiers in the field supplies to supplement those Government un-dertakes to give them, but which they sometimes fail to receive, and thus to relieve them when sick and in misery, is a work of Christian charity, and that it is a work of intelligent patriotism also, as economizing their life, health and efficiency, on which, under God, the nation depends in this its time of trouble. We therefore ask every clergyman to announce this humane undertaking to his people, and to ad-vise them to do what they can to further it. We ask the press to give it the widest publicity and the most earnest encouragement. We call on every workshop, factory and mill for a specimen of the best thing it can turn out; on every artist, great and small, for one of his creations; on all loyal women, for the exercise of their taste and industry; on farmers, for the products of their fields and dairies. The miner, the naturalist, the man of science, the traveler, can each fend scmething that can at the very least be converted into a blanket that will warm, and may save from death, some one soldier whom government supplies have failed to reach. Every one who can produce anything that has money value is invited to give a imple of his best work as an offering to the cause national unity. Every workingman, mechani r farmer, who can make a pair of shoes or raise a arrel of apples, is called on to contribute someing that can be turned into money, and again om money into the means of economizing the alth and the life of our national soldiers. Committees have been appointed in each departent of industry and art, whose business it will to solicit contributions for the Fair, each in its on special branch.
