HEADQUARTERS DISTRICT OF FLORIDA, DE-PARTMENT OF THE SOUTH, JACKSONVILLE, Florida, March 3d, 1864.—General Orders No. 10. The Brigadier-General commanding gratefully recalls to the recollection of the troops of this command the debt incurred by them during the recent movements, to the Sanitary nmission and its agent, Mr. A. Much suffering has been alleviated, and many inconveniences removed by the energy and promptness with which the supplies of the Commission have been placed at the control of our medical officers; and for those who have been so benefited, officers and men, the Brigadier General offers his own and their most

LETTER PROM THE MEDICAL DIRECTOR. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., February 24, 1864.— Mr. A. B. Day, Agent U. S. Sanitary Commission, Jacksonville, Fla., Sir. It affords me pleasure to testify to the invaluable aid received through you from the Sanitary Commission on the occasion of our late engagement.

To your prompt response to my requests for sanitary supplies, and the personal exertions of yourself and assistants in the care of and removing our wounded, is due the prevention of much suffering, which otherwise would have been inevitable.

That I found it necessary to draw so largely upon the stores of the Commission is explain the fact that at the time our wounded arrived I was entirely destitute of all supplies of government stores from the medical department, and there was no means of obtaining them from any other source than the noble in stitution which you so creditably represented. I am happy, also, to add that I received from the Commission a full supply of all articles called for by my requisitions upon them. I am sir, very respectfully, Your obedient servant,

LETTER FROM THE POST SURGEON. HEADQUARTERS UNITED STATES GENERAL HOSPITAL, JACKSONVILLE, FLA., February 24th, 1864.—This is to certify, that on the 21st day of February, I received a telegram from Dr. A. Mayor, Medical Director of the District of Florida, then at Sanderson Station, Florida Railroad, ordering me to forward to him at the earliest possible moment certain medical and sanitary supplies, and a special train of cars, as we had a large number of wounded there.

That, at the same time such telegram reached me, I had no stores nor supplies whatever, except such as belonged to five regiments there in the field, and they not embracing the articles required.

That, in this emergency, I called upon Mr. A. B. Day, agent in charge of the affairs of the United States Sanitary Commission in this District, and made requisitions upon him for the

That he at once supplied from the stores of the Commission all the articles specified in my requisitions, and proceeded himself with them to the front, where, I have since learned, he arrived safely, and, with his assistants, rendered valuable service in taking care of and removing

M. SHARP'S CELEBRATED DYSPEP-SIA PILL.—Dyspepsia has hitherto been an-incura le disease. Its treatment has heen yague, vexatione, and for the most part even injurious to the patient. We now offer to our fellow-citizen ar ABSOLUTE and SPEEDY cure—an assertion we Have now been before the public for nearly a year would not make without the most complete evidence of its truth. Without a correct theory no disease can, with tolerable certainty, be cured—except by the slew method of careful study and experiment; but when these are successful, theory may be perfected and established upon such success, and by reasoning on the effects of the remedy; in plain words, the means of cure ascertained by experiment, become the substantial basis of a true theory.

The theory we have been, in this way, led to adopt, applies, without exception, to all cases of Dy-pepsia, because the remedy cures all cases. It must therefore be simple: a complex theory is contructed to suit all cases and aspects of disease, but individually, it applies to none, and is visionary. On the centrary, a simple theory grows out of all the facts accompanying the cure, and is not constructed to suit these facts. When the healthy stomach receives the food, it first applies itself firmly and closely to its contents, in order that the gastric juice, which forms in drops on its inner surface, may penetrate and distolve the food. This effected, by additional contraction, this portion is removed, and another undigested portion brought in contact with the surface of the stomach and the gastricjuice to undergo the same changes and conversion. We sup pose that is Dyspepsia this simple and beautiful process is delayed and becomes painful, mainly, if not entirely, from an absence of the gastric juice, without which digestion cannot take place, or from diminished or altered secretion of this juice. The stomach, finding delay in this first and essential step of digestion, contracts more and more firmly on its hard contents, which, by this time, should have been dissolved. This protracted and unnatural effort, or contraction, we believe, is the true cause of that peculiar suffering at the pit of the stomach of which the dyspeptic so bitterly complains. This is our theory, and in this way is accounted tor the first and constant symptoms of Dyspepsia _...pain or an indescribable suffering at the pit of the stomach." We have said it was constructed on the effect of our remedy. If three or six little pills will (as these certainly will) remove, in most cases, an attack which has resisted cure for years, it must do it, we think, in the way described. For the secretory apparatus of the stomach is the only part of that organ which can be thus speedily influenced by remedies applied to it.

The imperfect digestion of food, or an attack of Dyspepsia is accompanied, in some persons, by ther most annoying symptoms, besides the universal one" of pain. Acidity afflicts some and latulence 13 very common, and are necessary results of a process more like fermentation than digestion. The secretions of the mouth and throat are altered; the tongue is often furred, the mouth slimy, and the effort to swallow often painful, The bowels, costive or irregular in action—or there may be constant diarrhoa. The external warmth of the body is diminished, the skin is dry and as painfully affected in many cases, by the applicaion of cold as the diseased stomach is by food. In this dry and morbid state, the skin is often affected by tetters and other eruptions. Anomalous affec ions of the nervous system, palpitation of the heart, tmpaired vision, and pains in the head are frequent; but depression of spirits, a constant languer and gloom, with stiffness and screness of the limbs, and indisposition to move, are the most constant and distressing symptoms of this class. Though rarely fatal of itself, indigestion quickly lays the foundation of other diseases, some of which are of the most fatal character; and from imperfect nourishment and sleep, the patient often fails into a condition which plainly shows a very serious decay of all the powers of life. Nansea and vomiting frequently accompany indigestion. In this way the stomach rids itself of food it cannot digest, and the patient is relieved; but the disease remains, and the emaciation of the system coon becomes very great. Dyspepsia is emphatically the disease that takes from us the bracing stimuli of bition and hope, emasculates us, and units us for the enterprise of life.

DIET. The dietofa Dyspeptic should be plainly cooked, and seasoned means, from animals that have arrived at their maturity. For example—good beef, and not veal-mutton, and not lamb, roasted, boiled or broiled. Eat nothing that is fried, and void all those dishes on which the skill of the cook has been exhausted. Eat slowly-chew well-and watch for the first hint the stomach gives that it has enough, and then quit. Drink water—avoid alco-hol in every form. Eat bread a day or two old. Do not eat little and often, but a fair allowance and always nearly at the same hour. Pursue this treatment, and you will soon say of all other plans _"Sat me lusisti, ludite nune alios."

I have found for the most disagreeable and dangerous disease which man is heir to—the "Dyspepsia." I have been troubled with this disease for years, lately almost abandoned my business on account of it. After using three of your Pills I have not been troubled since. I have used six in all since last February, when I took the first three. I am very respectfully your obedient servant, JAMES W. OULVER. Attorney-at Law.

Mr. T. M. SHARP-Sir: After suffering for about six months with Dyspepsia and pain in the bowels, but chiefly with wind, which I discharged from the stomach in large quantities. I was induced to try your Celebrated Remedy, and the result was a great and immediate amendment of symptoms. The raising of wind was of the greatest annoyance to me, often suspending the breathing, and impressing on my mind the conviction that I must e relieved or it would cause my death.
