EVENING BULLETIN

TUESDAY, APRIL 5, 1864.

THE UNION PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION. It is stated in certain quarters that a heavy pressure is being brought upon the Union National Committee to force them to postpone the assemblage of the National Convention, which has been ordered to be held at Baltimore on the 7th of June. It is pretended that loyal men should continue to discuss the question of who shall be the nominee for our next President, for two or three months yet, and certain factions journals declare that after discussing the matter more thoroughly the loyal men of the nation will unite upon some fit candidate and forget all personal preferences. We do not concede this. It is far more likely that bitter feelings would be fomented each day the convention should be postponed, and that men who are urging unpopular and impracticable favorites will become more "set in their notions" the more they wrangle about their idols. Permanent division in the Union ranks would thus be established, and the enemies of Freedom and the Union might be enabled to pass through the fatal breach our own hands had made. The overwhelming mass of loyal men of the Nation, from Maine to California, will yield a hearty support to the Presidential nominee of the Union convention if the body meets at the appointed time. There are now but few deep-seated prejudices in our ranks, and it would be madness to permit any more to germinate and take root. It is our firm conviction that three-fourths of those who stand by the old flag desire the re-nomination of Abraham Lincoln, and that whenever the Convention does meet, he will be selected by an overwhelming vote on the first ballot. But even if we are mistaken—as seems almost impossible to us -we still reprobate the idea of fostering dissention and strife by keeping the matter in suspense. Already the Copperhead organs chuckle over even feeble signs of difficulty among Union leaders; how they will rejoice if these small fissures in the Union body should become chasms! The Chicago Convention assembled on the 15th of May 1860; certainly we lost nothing by fixing that early date, and it is just as assuredly the true interest of all Unionists to finish the nominating work at an early period in 1864.

A LOYAL KENTUCKIAN ON COLORED TROOPS. Among the gallant Kentuckians who in the early days of the rebellion contended bravely against the traitors who were endeavoring to force his State out of the Union, was Green Clay Smith, then a member of the Legislature of that Commonwealth. Born and educated in Kentucky, he was well acquainted with its people, and during a life of usefulness, a portion of which was spent in the prosecution of duties incident to exalted and responsible civil and military positions, he faithfully represented the wishes of those who had imposed upon him his honors. As a Legislator, in 1861, he was decided in his ad. herence to the Government, and in the follow ing February was appointed Colonel of the Fourth Kentucky (loyal) Volunteers, a position he relinquished in the following June, to accept an appointment as Brigadier General. From that time until elected Congress, he faithfully and ably fulfilled his military obligations in the Western country, and since the opening of the present session of Congress his voice has been frequently heard in advocacy of the cause of freedom. The most forcible speech, however, that he has made since his retirement from the army, was delivered at Lexington, Kentucky, on the twenty-eighth of last month, and some of the passages of that discourse are so striking, emanating as they did from a native of "the dark and bloody ground," that we re-publish them, at the same time commending them to the attention of Copperheads and the lukewarm loyalists who object to the employment of negro soldiers in our military service. He said; But you say it is disgraceful for negroes to serve in our armies. Not according to that high au-thority with you, the rebel government. They used to build fortifications at Charleston and used to build fortifications at Charleston and Vicksburg, and have put arms in their hands too by thousands. We think the negroes are as good on our side as on theirs.

If Kentucky fills her quota with negroes, she will have white laborers at home, and the interests of industry will not suffer. But would any Union man take from our armies the 150,000 negroes now in the sirvice, 50,000 at least bearing arms? If so, he must draft from the laboring white population an equal number to fill their places.

white population an equal number to fill their places.

I love Kenticky as a proud and glorious common wealth, but love my whole country more. She stands as a bright star in the galaxy of nations and must not be plucked out. The time is coming, not only in Kentucky, but in every Southern State, when the dark clouds will pass away and all be under one administration, under one government, under one fiag, and you cannot prevent it. The hundreds of thousands who have lost their lives in the struggle have not lost them in vain.

We have arrived again near the period for electing another President. I do not know who will be the nominee of the Baltimore Convention, though I have a pretty good idea who it will be! I intend to go to the Baltimore Convention, and stand by its nominee. Whoever he may be, it is my hencet belief he will carry the State of Kentucky. We must crush the rebellion for our own safety. That done, harmony will soon unite us my hencest belief he will carry the State of Kentucky. We must crush the rebellion for our own safety. That done, harmony will soon unite us together. We see in the history of the war repeated instances of the speedy traternization which takes place on the battle-fleid between our menand the rebels immediately atter a victory. The same result will be seen when the rebellion is crushed. For the masses, I would grant an amnesty; for the leaders, none. When Grant, Meade, Sherman and Rosecrans have finished their work, then another famous Kentucky general will come then another famous Kentucky general will come in for a share of the work-General Hemp. The punusbment of these arch-traitors must be so ter-rible, that no leaders will ever dare to enter upon the work of rebellion again. EFFECT OF LENIENCY TO DETERMINED REBELS.

The announcement of the hanging of an Unionist, alleged to be a spy, at Demopolis, Mississippi, has caused some feeling in St. Louis, where the victim resided. His name was David McGibben. He was captured while apparently straggling from General Sherman's column, on the return from Vicksburg. Once in the hands of the rebels, he was the especial victim of the hate and malice of his former law partner Henry N. Hart, who was banished from St. Louis many months ago as a dangerous secessionist. Hart was at one time President of a rebel association known as the "Constitutional Guards," and was always known as malignant secessionist. He was once indicted for treason by the grand jury, and was twice in the military prison of that city. It was said he was sent off at last for being detected in sending information to the rebels. Certainly he deserved a worse fate than mere exile. The effect of the lenity displayed in his case is admirably histrated by the fate of poor McGibben. Excepting for the venom of Hart, McGibben might be living now.

CONNECTICUT. Eight thousand Union majority yesterday in Connecticut! Large Union gains in nearly every county! These facts tell a tale to gladden every patriotic heart, and shroud in gloom the treacherous countenances of enemies of their country. In spite of the frenzied exertions of the Copperheads, the example of New Hampshire was not lost on her sister State, and proudly she again enrols herselfon the side of freedom. The indications of a Union triumph over the whole country, next November, grow stronger with each day, and the baffled traitors already feel that their doom is defeat. As to Connecticut, we can now look towards her with affection, old yet new, and hink of Halleck's proud exclamation:

"Still her gray rocks tower above the sea, Which crouches at their feet, a conquered wave."

THE MONROE DOCTRINE. The National House of Representatives has unanimously passed resolutions reported from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, reaffirming the Monroe Doctrine. This action indicates that Congress feels strong enough, in the present aspect of things, to warn the powers of the old world not to interfere in the concerns of this continent by the strong hand. Of course the bearing of the resolutions is directly upon Mexico, and we look for a bolder spirit than ever to be manifested in that country towards foreign usurpers. The unanimous passage of the resolutions will also be carefully considered in European Cabinets, which will see in this indication of American sentiment a powerful intimation of the spirit with which they will be resisted should they take further advantage of the civil war now raging in this Republic.

MOLDED COLLARS Have now been before the public for nearly a year. They are universally pronounced the neatest and best fitting coliars extant. The upper edge presents a perfect curve, free from the angles not/ced in all other collars.

The cravat causes no puckers on the inside of the turn-down collar—they are AS SMOOTH IN-SIDE AS OUTSIDE-and therefore perfectly fre and easy to the neck. The Garotte Collar has a smooth and evenly fit ished edge on BOTH SIDES. These Collars are not simply flat pieces of paper cut in the form of a Collar, but are MOLDED AND HAPED TO FIT THE NECK

They are made in "Novelty" (or turn-down style); in every balf size from 12 to 17 inches and in . Enreka', (or Garotte,) from 13 to 17 inches; and packed in "solid sizes" in neatblue cartons, conaining 100 each; also in smaller ones of 10 eachthe latter a very handy package for Travelers,

Army and Navy Officers. EVERY COLLAR is stamped 'Gray's Patent Molded Collar." Sold by all Dealers in Men's Furnishing Goods

The Trace supplied by Van Deusen, Boehmer & Co.,
