FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF. FROM 1HE DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF. (Correst ondence of the N. Y. Times.) HILTON HEAD, April'S.-General Hatch, as soon as the news of the disaster to the Maple Leaf reached blim, despatched three companies of the 7th Connecticut regiment up the river in boats to act as a patrol, and to seek other torpedoes, which descrivers reported wore in the stream. In twenty-four boars' time they sent back a torpedo, which they discovered about ten miles up the river; also, a number of descrivers from New York regiments; whom they captured some distance up on the left back. The descriters had erected a tent, and ob-taited provisions from 'armers. Other torp-does are in the river and will coubtiess be soon brought to light. They are of a peculive construction, hav-ing three percussion prongs, and will explode at the least tonch of a hammer. On Sturday last Col. Guy V. Henry, with his Light Brigace and two regiments of infantry, started from teen camp before Jacksonville, and pro-ceeded towara the enemy's lines on a recounces-sance. When four miles out they came across the enemy's pickets, whom our men drove back to Six Mile kun-a distance of two miles. Here s brief skirmish occurred, during which artillery was used on both sides Col. Henry dislowered that they had in line of battle before him 3,000 men. As his purpose was not to bring on a fight, be slowly returned toward his camp, but the enemy having shown a disposition to follow, Col. Henry formed his men in line of battle to receive him, which movement deterred the rebels from further advancing. Col. Henry captured one borse and twenty five head of cattle, and had four men wounded. The rebels lost thury in killed and wounded. The rebels our wound-ed are: Corp. H. W. Hand, Company B; S. V. Partridge, Company B; A Copeland, Company B, all of the Indeperdent Battalion Massachucetts ("avalry; and R. B. Walsh, Company E, of 40th Massachusetts Monnted Infantry. Last Sunday a rebel Captalin came into our lines at Jacksonville and reported that the enemy had a force of 15,000 men between there and Baldwin. At Camp Finnigan there are about 2,000 rebel cavalry. It is also said the enemy hat a considera-be force between Gainesville and Pilatka. On the 2d inst, Major A. H. Stevens, with a force of 15,000 men between there and Baldwin. At Camp Finnigan there are about 2,000 rebel cavalry, left Jacksonville with a view of advancing into the interior some distance and then successfully accomplished the movement. her will be got off, either in a sound or damaged condition. HILTON HEAD, April 8.—Our men, in cruising up the St. John's river. Fla., have discovered an-other torpedo, making ten of these machines picked up in that river within the past week. The rebels who assisted in placing them in the stream came into our lines as deserters, shortly after the occurrence of the Maple Leaf disaster, and accom-panied our men on their expedition, for the pur-pose of pointing out the precise locality at which the torpedoes were planted. By order of Captain Reynolds, of the Vermont, a number of vessels have been despatched to the assistance of the wrecked gunboat Kingfisher. Everything of value, excepting her gune, have been removed. Her armament, which consisted of two 12-pounder howitaers, ene 20-pounder Par-rott and four 5-inch rilles, will be got off in a short time.

the proceeds will be divided. Thus it appears itstaome of the blockade runners are coming to grief. But, per contra, it is also reported that some weeks since a large side wheel steamer, with a large and valuable cargo. (among other things, 4, CW stand of arms f.r the Confederate Govern-ment.) endeavored to run into Galveston, but, being driven off by the flest, made another essay to run unto Velasco, and, favored by a dense fog, succeeded, but got agr und on the bar, i where, when the fog lifted, she was discovered by the gui bcat, stationed there, which immediat-ly got nucet way and endeavored to capture or des'ro there. Saveral shois were fired at her, but the renel haveries on shore opened fire on the genboat, and having grues of longer range, were enabled to throw their shot and shell all around and over her (though fortmately none struck art), while her missiles were not able to reach the shore; she was therefore, compelled to withdraw, and when the bar day or two since, but, for son ereason, wen back again A number of other vessels (among thim the Harriet Lane) are also known to be pra-paring to run out, and we hope ere long to see them sent in as prizes to some of our cruisers FROM WASHINGTON

AREFST OF A SUPPOSED ESCAPED PRISONER. — Last Saturday afternoon Brig.-Gen. Tyler, in command at the Washington Junction, received information that there was a rebel soldier, who had escaped from Fort Delaware, concealed in a farm-house in Montgomery couldy, Md. He despatched a sergeant's guard to arrest the man. When they reached the house indicated, they as-certained that the soldier had secreted himself in the loft of the house. He had supplied himself with two revolvers and a rifle, and threatened to shoot any one who would attempt to ascend the ladder to arrest him. The officer in charge of the guard notified him several times to come down, and he as often refused. The officer then made the family in the house remove their furniture, and he then set fire to the house. In a short time the emske and heat reached the incorrigible Confede-rate, and he asked for quarters. The officer would not allow him to come down, however, until he threw away his rifle and two revolvers. After doing this. he was allowed to escape from the fiamets by jumping out of the garret window. He was then taken to Baltimore, and locked up in the military prison. He states his name to be M. McDonald, and that he is a member of a Texas regiment. e-Camp. Lieulenant Colonel F T. Dent, Aid-de-Camp. Lieulenant Colonel Horace Porter, Aid-de-Camp Lieulenant Colonel W. L. Dupp, Assistant In-

THE DESTRUCTION OF THE STEAMER

BIG FLOOD IN THE RIVERS.—The recent rains have had the effect of producing an extraordinary freshet in oar rivers, and they are pouring out an angry flood to day, with a prospect of their attain-ing a higher stage than has been reached here for years. The Allegheny wharf yesterday presented, for the Sabbath, an unusual spectacle. The water rose so rapidly that it threatened to carry off a large portion of the oil lying on the wharf, and a number of men and drays were employed during the day in removing it. Hundreds of barrels were removed in this way. Yet so rapidly did the water rise that at night the flood was within a few feet of the lower line of barrels, and destruction threatened a large amount of property unless it was immediately removed. The work of hauling away the barrels was consequently resumed and continued until the greater part of the oil in danger was removed. The jow ground in Allegheny is already under water, and those residing in that portion of the city subject to inundation are mak-ing acity e preparations for the advent of their un-welcome visitor.—Prittburgh Chronicles, 11th. STRANGE PLACE FOR A COW.—Yesterday morn-THE DESTRUCTION OF THE STEAMER CLIFTON. [Correspondence of the New York Tribune.] UNITED STATES STEAMER ARKANSAS, NEW ORLEANS, April 2, 1864.—This steamer, under the command of Uapt. David Cate, arrived at this city last evening from a cruised of the blockading squad-rons off the coast of Teras She brings the grati-fying intelligence of the total destruction of the rebei steamer Olifton on the night of Monday, March 21. While attempting to run the blockade at Sabine Pass, with over 700 bales cotton, she got aground on the bar. The rebeis made every possi-ble exertion to get her off, throwing overboard a large quantity of cotton to lighten her, but all their efforts were futile: she remained immov-able, and they were soliged to destroy her, or see her fail into the hands of the hated "Yantees." They, therefore, set her on fire, and she, with all her remaining cargo, was soon totally constimed. The cotton bales thrown overboard were seen floating around by several of the blockading fleet, who were prevented by the roughness of the sea from securing them. The Clifton was formerly the United States gunboat of that name, and, to-gether with the United States steamer Sachem, was captured by the rebels at Sabine, in September last. Her wieck now lies on the bar, is of the bar, in full view of the fleet, and has already been vis-ied by some of our adventurous officers and sall-ors. A large cotton-loaded schooner was also STRANGE PLACE FOR A COW. — Yesterday morn-ing a gentleman residing a short distance from the Balimore depot, and on the line of the sewer open-ing into the Capitol Branch, told the Fourth Ward police that for soveral days past the head of a cow had appeared at the grating of the sewer which opened into his back yard, whenever the slops from the kitchen were, as usual, thrown upon it, which she eagerly devoured. The animal was one of a number which used to go into Baldwin's old shep for shelter, and broke through the floor into the sewer Saturday a week since, and wandered up the sewer for find the mouth that it was deemed next to impossible to get to her. Several persons had mercifully attempted to drive her out, but failed. Yesterday morning the police took a boy, who had been fined for some light offence, and had no money to pay, and offered him his dis-missal on condition that he should drive the animal out. The boy undertook the job willingly, but failed, and the animal still remains to employ the inves tive genius of the police.—Washington Chronicle, 12th inst. STRANGE PLACE FOR A COW. --- Yesterday morain full view of the fleet, and has already been vis-ied by some of our adventurous officers and sall-crs. A large cotton-loaded schooner was also driven ashore some days since near Velasco (Bra-zos river) by ablockader, and was abandoned and fired by the rebels after they had thrown over a portion of her cargo in their efforts to get her off. The Arkansas fell in with and secured fourteen bales of her cotton, weighing about 7,500 pounds, worth about $5.000, which will be quite a wind-fall for her officers and crew, among whom

DAMAGE TO THE HARPER'S FERRY BRIDGE. DAMAGE TO THE HARFER'S FERRY BRIDGE. --The late severe storm did not pass away without leaving its effect upon some portion of the Balti-more and Ohio Railroad. In several places along the line of the road the track was washed out, but this has been already repaired. The span of trest-ling of the wooden portion of Harper's Ferry bridge was washed away, the Potomac, it is stated, rising higher than for some years past. A despatch to the officers of the road from Harper's Ferry states that the river was again failing, and the repairing of the injured part of the bridge will be commenced. In the mean time passengers and freight will be transferred at Harper's Ferry, so that the regular travel and business of the road will not be interfered with.
