The bill relates to the District of Columbia.

Mr. Fessenden reported from the Finance Committee the Army appropriation bill, with unimportant amendments. The only difference in the appropriations being specific enumeration of items in hospital supplies, the aggregate being $8,987,640 instead of $8,935,640.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the House appropriation bill for the legislative, executive and judicial expenses of the Government for the next fiscal year, as reported by Mr. Fessenden on Saturday, from the Senate Finance Committee. The amendment increasing the appropriation to pay cierks and employes of the War Department some $52,000, was agreed to in Committee of the Whole.

An amendment was adopted increasing the pay of Messengers and others to an amount not exceeding twenty per cent., and not over $100 per annum.

of Messengers and others to an amount not exceeding twenty per cent., and not over $100 per annum.

Mr. Johnson addressed the Senate a few moments on the propriety of the appropriation for legal assistance and other necessary expenditures in the disposal of private land claims.

Mr. McDougall said that the agents and counsel in California had arrayed the power of the Government against the poor and majortunate individuals in regard to private land claims. The claims of these people had been overthrown where really the Government had no interest. Mr. Hanton bimself had received sixty thousand dollars for brief services in some such cases, by employing the power of the money of the United States for brief services in some such cases, by employing the power of the money of the United States Covernment for that purpose. It was necessary that men should know something of Mexican and Spanish law in these cases.

The policy of the agents of the last Administration, in these cases, seemed to be, first to find out what lands were in dispute, and then, if the parties could not agree, further to agonize them. Forty thousand dollars of loss have been entailed apon private land claims, in California, by men who are as bold and persistent as they are ignorant.

The bill was not completed in Committee of the Whole, and on motion of Mr. Morgan the Senate went into executive session, and soon afterwards ourned.
iousz.-Mr. Fernando Wood offered the foiring: Vhereas, The Government of the United States, Wherear. The Government of the United States, in succeeding to the sovereignty of the regions of country in which the mines of Colorado and Arizona are situated, became invested with a complete proprietary title to such mines; and wherea, no act of Congress has been passed alienating or providing for the disposal of any part thereot, or pre-acribing measures for the use and working of them; and whereas, individuals and companies are assuming ownership and occupation, and attempting to work some of the mines, and are inducing the investment of capital in them by innocent parties; therefore.

Resolved, That the President of the United States Resolved. That the President of the United States be requested to take such measures as in his judgment may be necessary for the protection of the right and interest of the Government in the mineral lands and mines of Colorado and Arizona, until the proper legislation shall be provided by Conserge.

Mr. Wood said the resolution explained itself. Mr. Wood said the resolution explained itself. It was well known the Government possessed valuable interests in these mines which had not been paried with. It was the duty of the Government to make available every species of property it possessed, before it had recourse to the extraordinary methods it was now pursuing to procure funds. These mining companies which were now being organized in New York, which proposed te have an aggregate capital of over ninety millions, were in the main fluttions, so far as substantial value is concerned, and those of them that were of value were mostly bases on the assumed ownership of mines which were located on Government lands.

He believed that there were hundreds of millions of dollars of these lands belonging to the Government, and before it had recourse to this system of undue expansion, or extraordinary taxation, of abolition of State banks, and of the attempts now being made to monopolize the circulating medium of the whole country, it should reduce one-half the expenditures and convert these mines into resource the reprised to the country. the expenditures and convert these mines into resources by which to aid in the pay of these expenditures. The resolution he offered left it to the President to take such means as in his judgment should be necessary to preserve these interests until Congress provided the necessary legislation. Who could object to this? None but those interested in some pecuniary sense.

Mr. Kasson (Iowa) suggested that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, in order to include other public property. Very valuable coal mines have been discovered in Washington Territory, which are already squatted on, to the exclusion of the interests of the Government.

ment. Mr. Bennett (delegate from Colorado) opposed Mr. Bennett (delegate from Colorado) opposed the resolution, saying the mineral lands were always worked without interference from the Government. The working of them was of great public benefit, and the system should go on as it is. It now produced one-fourth of the present circulation of gold and silver. The companies formed in New York by citizens of Colorado were doing, but he knew that very many of the best men were engaged in New York in these mining transactions.

Mr. Wood had no doubt some of these men were responsible, but by the delay of Congressional action those mines would be exhausted.

Mr. Washburne (Ill.) inquired whether the gentleman from New York proposed to drive off the miners, who work the mines under the laws of the States or territories. The President could take possession only by a military force, and civil war might ensue.

possession only by a military force, and civil war might ensue.

Mr. Wood referred the gentleman to the resolution which provided that the President shall proceed in any way his judgment may dictate in order to protect the interests of the Government in these mineral districts. mineral districts.

Mr. Bennett moved to lay the resolution on the table, but before final action was taken it went by moving to lay the bill on the table.

Mr. Swaat (Me.), in advocating the bill, said the fact that that company was incorporated by that State was a mere chance, and showed that the distance to the Pacific was much shorter than by the Central Railroad. The expense of building, too, was less, and greater public interests would be subserved by its construction. Instead of interfering with the Central Pacific Railroad, it would, as he has been informed, be an advantage to it. He referred to the report of the late General Stevens to show the practicability of the route, and that there would be no necessity for tunneling. The further consideration of the bill was postponed till to-morrow.

Mr. Stevens again offered a resolution as above to increase the present foreign duties 50 per centum, and tax articles now free 10 per centum.

The House refused to suspend the rules—yeas 72, nays 33—not two thirds, as required by the rules. The vote is as follows:

"Like the wand of an enchanter, the fascinating pages of this work throw a spell around the reader which is broken only when the last word of the last page is reached. It appeals, with irresistible force, to all who have intellects to be breahed up and hearts to be shaken. It is one of those books which make their mark upon the generation which receives them, and leave an impression which is favorably remembered. Never before have we perused a work which presented such earnest, eloquent and stirring appeals to our noble feelings; nor one which se charmed us by the freshness, vigor, purity and gracefulness of its tone, while it led us irresistibly captive by the touching beauty and melting eloquencs—so richly fraught with golden imagery—of its story. It bears upon its very face the unmistakable signs of true worth and beauty. As may be inferred from its title, it is one of those rare works which address themselves to the heart and the intellect."

New Books issued every week, comprising the most entertaining and absorbing works published, suitable for the Parlor, Library, and Sitting-Room, Railroad, Steamboat, or Soldiers' reading, by the best writers in the world.

PROPOSALS.

DROPOSALS FOR BITUMINOUS COALS.—
Sealed Proposals will be received at the Office of the Philadelphis Gas Works, No. 20 South SEVENTH Street, until noon of FRIDAY, 22d of April, 1864, for supplying the whole or any part of Eighty Thousand Tens of Bituminous Coals, suitable for the manufacture of illuminating Gas, to be delivered on the Railroad tracks of the Gas Works at the First Ward and the Ninth Ward Sations, in the following monthly quantities; eight thousand tons in each of the months of September, October, November, December, and six thousand tons in each of the months of June, July, August, 1864, and January, February, March, April and May. 1865.

each of the months of June, July, August, 1964, and January, February, March, April and May 1865.

The coals must be delivered fresh, dry, and of a quality approved by the Engineer of the Gas Works, as equal to the sample on which the contract is based.

The proposals must describe the particular variety of coals intended to be supplied and the location and name of the mine or pit from which they are to be raised. If they are of a kind not now or recently used at these Works, samples for trial of not less than fifty tons, must be delivered at the Works, on or before the 7th of April next.

The gross ton of 2240 pounds will be considered as the weight intended in the proposals, unless the contrary be expressly stated.

The Trustees reserve the right to accept any proposals in whole or in part, or to reject all, as they may deem best for the interests of the Trast, and in the event of failure on the part of any contractor to deliver the coals according to his agreement, both in quantity and quality, the Trustees reserve the right to buy elsewhere, whatever quantity may be required to meet the deficiency, and charge to the contractor any loss or damage arising from each failure.

Payments will be made monthly, in two equal
