GARIFALDI IN ENGLAND.

SOUTHAMPTON, April 3, 1861.—Garibaidi has at length set foot on English soil, and received such 8 welcome from the people of Southampton.—who would congregate on the docks in thousands, notwithstanding the sacredness of the day—that the General can never forget. The Ripon passed round Calshot Castle soon after 2 o'clock, and the Duke of Sutherland, Mr. Seeley, M. P., and a host of gentlemen were in readiness to receive him. There was considerable discussion as to who should have the honor of the General's company, when it was decided that he should be the guest of the Mayor for the day.

Garibaidi was in his cabin, for which, of course, such a rush was made by all his eager welcomers that only a few could get in, while the remainder so effectually closed the entrance that the General himself could not get out. The Duke of Sutherland and Mr. Seely, however, managed to get into the little apartment, and, after a short and hurried welcome to its famous occupant, the General came out to receive the congrantations of his other

He was dressed in the plain uniform of the Italian Legion—a dress which became him well—and in which, through the portraits, we have hitherto been most familiar with his features. In stature he is below the middle height; but his well-set frame and rather broad shoulders give him an appearance of great natural robustness and activity, from which even his lameness could not much detract. His features, when not in conversation with friends, have rather a sad aspect; but nothing can exceed the animation of their expression when speaking (especially in Italian), and there is a winning appearance of good humor about his eyes which is not easy to be described, but which those who see it can never forget. For the rest, his portraits are like him in all but this expression, and in the fact that the photographs convey the idea of his being an older and much taller man than he really is. At once, when he came into the saloon, be welcomed his friends with the most hearty cordiality, yet with a dignity that was striking when the peculiar simplicity of his manner was remembered.

When the steamer was close on the docks, all the quays were lined with crowds.

Garibaldi at once went up on the paddlebox, and the instant he was seen he was halled with tremendous cheers, which were continued incessantly till the vessel came alongside.

The General then left the Ripon, and proceeded in an open carriage through the town to the Mayor's residence at East Park.

GARIBALDI'S SPECCH.

[Southampton (April 4) correspondence of London Times]

To-day Garibaldi was publicly received by the people and Corporation of this town, and presented with an address of affectionate congratulation on his arrival in this country, in the ancient Town Hall, which forms the upper story of the well-known bar-gate of Southampton. Everything passed off most satisfactorily and with the utimost entine issm; the reception accorded to the Italian patriot wherever he appeared being most hearty and thoroughly earnest.

The Mayor made a speech, and the Town Clerk read the corporate address to the General.

Gen. Garibaldi then bent forward and remained for some minutes bowing, in answer to the tunultuous applause with which he was greeted. He at last said:

It is not the first time that I bave received proof of the sympathy of the English nation, and I have received those proofs not only in words, but deeds. [Great cheering.] I have seen that sympathy shown to me in many circumstances of my life, and very particularly in 1860, when, without the help of the English nation, it would have been impossible to complete the deed we did in Southern Italy. [Great cheering.] The English people provided for us in men and in arms and in money—they help all the needs and wants of the humanfamily in their work for freedom. What they did provided for us in men and in arms and in money—they help all the needs and wants of the human-family in their work for freedom. What they did and what they talked of us is worthy the sternal gratitude of the Italian people. [Loud cheers.] To answer some of the words neble and generous, of the Mayor, I will say to you that I did not sacrifice any part of my life; but I think I did something, and a very few part it was of my duty, and (placing his hand on his heart) of the duty of every man. I finish by giving my thanks to you for your generous sympathy, and for your very kind and good welcome to me here to-day.

French.

FROM THE LOWER MISSISSIPPI. CAIRO, April 18 .- The steamer Lady Pike, from Memphis on the 16th, has passed this point with 800 bales of cotton, 160 of which are for Evansville and the remainder for Cincinnati.

On the 4th, Capt. Phelps, of the gunboat Eastport, captured a rebel mail carrier near Crocket's Bluff, Ark., with five hundred letters from Richmond and other points, and sixty thousand percussion caps intended for Price's army. The letters contained official communications for Shreveport and considerable Federal money. A squad of rebels recently captured representative Clark and the Sheriff of Kansas county, Arkansas, and carried themsoff. They also burned a lot of cotton, and after arresting seven cotton buyers and robbing them of several thousand dollars, they released them.

tion of Columa by 2,000 French troops is confirmed. Proposals have been made to Old Juan Alvarez to acknowledge the Empire. He declined to listen to them, and said the French were the enemies of his country, and that he would resist them to the last extremity. It is believed the French will find the monntaineers of Guerrero amongst their most unconquerable enemies in Mexico. The latest advices from Oajaca state that General Diaz held that city with 6,000 Mexicans, and was confident of his ability to defend that State against the present French force. In an emergency he could safely retreat to Chiapas or Guerrero. The natives of these States are hostile to the French.

If we pass this bill it will show that we will maintain our financial credit at all cost. We have under the present law, received forty or fifty millions more than last year. Even now the revenue from the internal tax, as well as that anticipated, is more important to the treasury than the revenue from imports, and both are equal to any ordinary expenditure in time of peace. If we pass this from imports, and both are equal to any ordinary expenditure in time of peace. If we pass this measure without curtailing the rates we shall furnish proof that we can not only pay the interest on the public debt and ordinary expenditures in time of war, but shall contribute handsomely to keep our expenditures within moderate limits. We shall show the people of the United States that we not only have the means to pay every dollar we owe, or ever will owe, but the principal and interest of the public debt in coin. He repeated that the public faith will be maintained at all hazards. The Government is now supplied with more gold than is sufficient for its purposes, and is actually begging its creditors supplied with more gold than is sufficient for its purposes, and is actually begging its creditors to receive payment in advance in order to be relieved from the plethora of gold which is blocking up the commerce of the country. Let it be known that if the war be closed in 1865, we will be able not only to support the Government but pay the national debt in little more than ten years. Let it also be known that the present large annual expenditures are not equal to our annual increased wealth. When the war commenced we had only a hundred vessels. Now we have over six hundred, constituting one of the finest navies of the world. We have added great quantities of the most approved appliances of war at a great expense. With proved appliances of war at a great expense. With the dash of the General who never fails, we must anticipate crushing results to the enemy. But let us set our house in order financially, and with military success we shall be victorious over all ills military success we shall be victorious over all ills. Let us show we are stripping for the fight.

He trusted that every member will consent to make large sacrifices for the good of the country, let us have taxes and loans, lesson the amount of legal tenders, and increase the pay of the soldier. It is hoped the internal and import taxes will enable the Secretary of the Treasury to obtain all the funds he wants, and reduce the legal tender issues. The freedmen will contribute much more to the national wealth than even their friends claim.

They are largely increasing the amount of production to which they were limited by unpaid and forced labor.

He examined the subject in an economical light, and did not present a mere theory. Our faith is pledged to give them shelter and protection. pledged to give them snetter and protection.

Mr. Morrill then examined at length the prominent features of the bill, stating that even without its machinery they might raise a larger sum than is now proposed. It will yield over two hundred and fifty millions when fairly in operation.

U. S. 10-40 BONDS.

These Bonds are issued under the Act of Congress of March 8th, 1864, which provides that in. lieu of so much of the loan authorized by the Act of March 3d, 1863, to which this is supplementary, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to borrow from time to time, on the credit of the United States, not exceeding TWO HUNDRED MIL-LION DOLLARS during the current fiscal year, and to prepare and issue therefor Coupon and Registered Bonds of the United States; and all Bonds ssued under this Act shall be EXEMPT FROM TAXATION by or under any State or municipal authority. Subscriptions to these Bonds are recerved in United States notes or notes of National Banks. They are TO BE REDEEMED IN COIN, at the pleasure of the Government, at any period not less than ten nor more than forty years from their date, and until their redemption FIVE PER CENT. INTEREST WILL BE PAID IN COIN, on Bonds of not over one hundred dollars annually, and on all other Bonds semi-annually. The interest is payable on the first days of Marc and September in each year. The semi-annual Coupons are payable at those dates, and the annual Coupons on the 50 and 100 dollar Bonds are payable on the first of March.

Subscribers will receive either Registered or Coupon Boxds, as they may prefer. Registered Bonds are recorded on the books of the U.S. Treasurer, and can be transferred only on the owner's order. Coupon Bonds are payable to bearer, and are more convenient for commercia

Registered Bonds will be issued of the denomianations of Fifty Dollars ($50), One Hundred Dollars ($100), Five Hundred Dollars ($500) One Thousand Dollars ($1,000), Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000), and Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000); and Coupon Bonds to the denominations of Fifty Dollars ($50), One Hundred Dollars ($100), Five Hundred Dollars ($500), and One Thousand Dollars ($1,000).

Subscribers to this loan will have the option of having their Bonds draw interest from March 1st by paying the accrued interest in coin-(or in United States notes, or the notes of Nationa Banks, adding fifty per cent. for premium,) or receive them drawing interest from the date of subscription and deposit.

As these Bonds are exempt from municipal or State taxation, their value is increased from one to three percent. per annum, according to the rate of tax levied in various parts of the country. At the present rate of premium on gold they pay over eight per cent. interest in currency, and are of equal convenience as a permanent or temporary investment. It is believed that no securities offer so great in. ducements to lenders as the various descriptions of U. S. Bonds. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or amuty of private parties or stock companies or separate communities only is pledged for payment, while for the debts of the United States the whole property of the country is holden to secure the payment of both principal and interest in coin. These Bonds may be subscribed for in sums from $50 up to any magnitude, on the same terms, and are thus made equally available to the smallest ler der and the largest capitalist They can be converted into money at any mement, and the holder vill bave the benefit of the intere The fact that all duties on imports are payable in specie furnishes a fund for like payment of interest on all Government Bonds largely in excess of the wants of the treasury for this purpose. Upon the receipt of subscriptions a certificate of deposit therefor, in duplicate, will be issued, the original of which will be forwarded by the subscriber to the Secretary of the Treasury, at Washington, with a letter stating the kind (registered or coupon) and the denominations of bonds required. Upon the receipt of the original certificates at the Treasury Department, the bonds subscribed for will be transmitted to the subscribers respectively.

Subscriptions will be received by the Treasurer of the United States at Washington, and the Assistant Treasurers at Philadelphia, New York, Boston. and by the First National Bank of Philadelphia, Ps.
