OBITUARY. ONE MORE AGED SERVANT OF CHRIST GOVE HOME. ONE MORE AGED SERVANT OF CHRIST GONE HOME.

Died in Portland, Chantanque county, New York, April 18th, REV. DAVID HULBURT, at the age of 94 years. He was father of Chauncey Hulburt, a well known Merchant of this city.

Mr. Hulburt was born in 1770, at Middletown, Conn., and raised in the faith of his Puritan fathers. At the age of eighteen, the family removed to Rutland, Verment; soon after which he made a public profession of religion, covenanting with the idea that it was his duty to seek to prepare himself for preaching the gospel. The thought at first was at variance with his inclinations and supposed insufficiency for the work, and the struggle in his mind continued for some year or two. At length, he yielded, as he stated, appropriating to himself the language of Paul, "Wo is me, if I preach not the gospel." After pursaing a theological course, he accented in 1802 priating to imment the infigurage of Faul, "Wo is me, if I preach not the gospel." After pursaing a theological course, he accepted in 1802, an invi-ation to settle as Pastor of the Baptist Church of Christ in Rutland. There he successfully labored for about the years, when he accented a call to be cannot to seetle as Pastor of the Baptist Church of Christ in Rutland. There he successfully labored for about ten years, when he accepted a call to become pastor of the Baptist church at Fort Ann, Washington county, New York. His ministrations there were blest with special visitations of the Spirit, and the church received a large increase in is membership. Sometime after the war of 1812-15, with a number of his congregation, he removed to what was then known as the Genesee Country, N. Y., and settled in Warsaw. As the population increased, a flourishing church was gathered, and for some years he pleasantly ministered to them. At length, becoming somewhat advanced in years, he felt it prudent to retire, and he removed to Chautanque county and became for a time co-laborer with Rev. Charles La Hatt. Finally, nesettled down in Portland, travelling some in the interests of Foreign Missions and preaching occasionally until within a few months of his death. He had been heard to say, that he believed he had baptized over one thousand persons, In his advanced years, he seems to have enjoyed the consolations and hopes of religion; calmly and peacefully waiting for his change. Before he departed. he made the simple record. enjoyed the consolations and hopes of religion; calmly and peacefully waiting for his change. Before he departed, he made the simple request, that on the stone which should mark his restungting the most of the stone with the second stone with that on the some which the fought the good place might be written, "I have fought the good fight—I have finished my course.

Excepting one or two, Mr. Huldur is supposed to have been the oldest of all the living ministers in the country. "Our fathers, where are they? And the prophets, do they live for ever?" No. If some few of them live comparatively long, yet, at last, in the language of the Old Testament they "fall asleep," or of Paul, "they finish their course." The end cometh, and their reward is given them at the close of the day.

New Theatre in New York.—A private letter from New York says:—Another theatre is to be opened on Broadway. Mr. George Wood, whilom manager of Wood's Theatres in Cincinnati and Louisville, having disposed of those theatres, has assumed the management of Wallack's Old Theatre at the corner of Broome street, and it is now being placed in first-class condition. All the papier mache ornaments which have for so many years adorned the walls have been removed, and the dome and ceilings are being elaborately frescoed. The auditorium and the entrance from Broadway are being freshly painted. A new drop curtain, new scenery, new stage furniture, and properties are to be added, and the house newly carpeted throughout. The theatre will open on Monday, May second, with the renowned Escomateur Simmons, who recently appeared at Ooncert Hall, in your city, who will play a brief engagement, after which the regular dramatic season will commence. Mr. Wood has associated with him Mr. H. Ashley, who, until quite recently, held the position of 'Confidential Business Manager' at Niblo's Garden here, and the New Chestnut Street Theatre of your city. [Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.]

GRAND ECORE, April '15.—Twenty-five miles above Grand Ecore, from the left bank of Red River, the rebels opened on the transports Clara Bell and Rob Roy, firing twelve shots into them. A force of 1,000 monnted infantry—said to be the rebel Gen. Green's command—came down in front of the battery and poured volleys of muskery into the steamers, which were getting the worst of it, when a small gunboat opportunely came up and shelled and silenced the battery, and compelled the rebels to fall back. Gen. A. J Smith's corps (16th) subsequently arrived near the scene of action, having crossed over from Grand Ecore, marched up the right bank of the river, and again crossed to punish the enemy. They captured two guns and seventeen wounded prisoners, who say positively that the rebel General was killed by a shell from our boat.

that the reper General was allowed our boat.
Our boat.
This is another signal victory. The rebels left one hundred and sixty of their dead on the field, slaughtered by the terrific fire of our gunboats and transports in their hurried retreat.
Their slightly wounded were taken off.

FROM FORT HUDSON.

[Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.]

PORT HUDSON, La., April S, 1864.—The rebels yesterday made a dash within our picket lines, and a brisk skirmish ensued without importantresults to either side. A detachment of the 11sth 11-linois Mounted Infantry, and a section of Barnes's Battery. 21st New York, with one gan, had been out mending the line of telegraph to Baton Rouge, and on their return were attacked by a superior force of rebel cavalry and driven in. Simultaneously an attack was made on our pickets by an equally large force, and the detachment on the telegraph road was then cut off and flanked. The cavalry came in by wood roads, but the piece of artillery was spiked and left, and afterwards carried off by the enemy. In the several skirmishes we lost one killed, four wounded and six prisoners. The loss of the enemy in killed and wounded was much greater. We took two prisoners one of them an officer.

Gen. Ullmann's division marched some miles outside, but on the approach of our infanty the rebels left without hazarding a fight. The rebel force was probably Wirt Adams's cavalry from up the river, numbering nearly a thousand. They were well mounted and well equipped.

The attack yesterday was probably made to discourage the cotton-planting that had been formmenced to some extent on the plantations near us. Guerilla warfare is now an organized system on the Mississippi, from New Orleans to Memphis.

The guerillas say that they will destroy all the stock and materials on the plantations worked by Government lessees, and they will do so without doubt wherever there is not a respect the military force to oppose them. How large a portion of our effective military strength may be diverted to this purpose remains to be seen.

IMPORTANT FROM MEXICO. [From the New Orleans Era, April 13, 1864.] We have before us a private letter from a high Mexican official to a friend in this city, from which we are permitted to translate the subjoined important intelligence. The letter is dated Matamoras, April 7: portant intelligence. The letter is dated Matamoras, April 7:

Gen. Uraga is at Sayula, at the head of 12,000 men, menacing Guadalajara." Gen. Porfirio Diaz is in Tehuacan de las Granadas, at the head of 5.00 men. He routed a French force of 600 men at Juajuapan; only 50 escaped of this body. Gen. Gonzales Ortega is menacing the forces of Mejia, who withcrew from Matehuala, and retired on Sau Luis. Gen. Ortega's force consists of 2,500 men.

San Luis. Gen. Ortega's force consists of 2,300 men.

The French fleet, which was sounding the bar of the Rio Grande, has withdrawn, probably on receiving the news from Monterey.

The best feeling exists between the authorities of Matamoras and Brownsville, mutual civilities taking place. Ool. Certinas was received at Brownsville, with salutes and military honors and agrand ball: which was duly reciprocated by Cortinas to the United States anthorities.

[From the N. O Picayune, April 14.]

We have been permitted to use a copy of The Morning Star, of Monterey, Mexico, April 14.) which contains the following important intelligence: which contains the following important intelligence:
This time last week Governor Vidaurri was saugly ensconeed in the gubernatorial mansion in this city, with an army reported at some 2,000 or more men, in apparent security, with avowed hostility to President Juarez and the General Government, declaring his ability to defend the city from attack by any force that might be sent against it by the President. Our citizens not doubting the off-repeated assertions of the Governor, were somewhat taken by surpise, on Saturday morning last, to wake up and find that he had, under the cover of darkness, with all his forces, skedaddled for parts unknown.

Before leaving, however, he carried all the available artillery, some twenty-seven pieces, with him, tumbling over and otherwise disarranging the pieces which he was compelled to leave. Or this and the following day there was not heard the sound of bugle or other martial music in our midst, and our beautiful city presented the appearance of peace and happiness—not a vestige of ruthless war remained. The absconding Governor, it is supposed, made tracks for Texas. He was last seen at Moreles, the artillery covering his retreat.

Col. Brown went to work with a hearty will to replace and put in fighting trim the pieces left behind by the Governor is his hurried exit.

On Monday, at noon, the belts of the various churches rang their welcome announcement of the arrival of a portion of the President's forces under Col. Ortega.

On Thessay, Gen. Negretic, Servetage of War or parts unknown.

Before leaving, however, he carried all the arrival of a portion of the President's forces under Col. Ortega.

On Thesasy, Gen. Negrete, Secretary of War, and Gen. Manuel Quesada, Manuel Doblado, and Gen. Antillen arrived in this city, the three latter accompanied by their divisions.
A large cavalry and infantry force left here on Wednesday evening, to go in pursuit of the fleeing Governor, and should they be successful in overhanding him, we will doubtless have to chronicle another change.

another change.
A report was current in town yesterday, that Coi. Quiroga, in command of Gen. Vidaurri's forces and the pursuing portion of the President's army had had an engagement but we did not learn the result of the contest.

THE EXECUTION OF TWO DESERTERS AT FORT WARREN. [From the Boston Herald of the 23d inst.]

[From the Boston Herald of the 23d inst.] The extreme penalty of the military law was inflicted on two young men yesterday afternoon at Fort Warren for the offence of desertion, they having been tried, convicted and sentenced to death, after a long and thorough trial by a General Court Martial, which has been for some time in session at the rendezvous for enlisted men, at Galloupe's Island.

Island.

The two men. Charles Carpetter and Matthew Riley, alias John Roach, had been placed in close confinement in the northwestern bastion of the fort, they having previous to that time been confined with the others who were in custody at the fort for a like offence, and their sentence was communicated to them. fined with the others who were in custody at the fort for a like offence, and their sentence was communicated to them.

In order to give the men all the time his orders allewed him and to enable a reprieve to reach the fort, should one be granted, both men having petitioned for a commutation of the sentence, Major Cabot deferred the execution until a quarter before two o'clock, and about one o'clock five companies at the fort, all in full dress, formed on their company parades. Soon aftersthe line was formed the che column marched through the sally-port and round to the terre-plain, on the north side of the fort, where they formed three sides of a square.

In marching in their position in front of the frozy the prisoners had to pass the graves which had been dug for the reception of their bodies, and while doing so each turned his head aside to view them, but beyond an unnatural palor in the faces of both any one not acquainted with the circumstances might have supposed they were merely going through with a parade.

The finding of the court martial and the order for the execution were read to them by Lieut. Ray, who asked them if they wished to say anything, but each replied "No." Father Moice them prayed with them, after which he kissed them both and finally left them. The Provost Marshal and the two sergeants of the firing party then went to them and took off the manacles, and then their hands were pinioned behind and their eyes bandaged with white cloth. Each was then requested to rest on one knee and this was also premptly done, neither party exhibiting the slightest nervousness. The Provost Marshal and his assistants immediately left them, and without a moment's delay the orders "Ready," "Aim," "Fire," were given by Lieut. Batchelder, and the two men fell at full length backwards dead, the body of Riley being pierced with seven bullets, all in the region of the heart, and that of Carpenter with six, all but one in the same locality.

Surgeon Severance at once went up to the bodies and pronounced them dead also in line, under guard, and it is hoped that the example they witnessed will have a good effect on them; indeed, most of them seemed to be far more nervous than the two men who paid the penalty of their crime with their lives.

The two men executed were what are known as 'bounty jumpers,' and it was shown before the Court Martial that each man had enlisted two or three times, receiving town bounties each time, and had then deserted.

CITY BULLETIM.

THE BATTLE FLAG OF THE 69TH REGIMENT, P. V.—Major Wm. Davis, commanding the 69th Regiment, P. V., has forwarded to Mayor Henry, the flag which has been carried through the numerous battles in which that gallant regiment has participated. The following letter accompanied the flag: has participated. The following letter accompanied the flag:
"Philadelphia, April 18, 1861.—Hon Alexander Heary, Mayor of Philadelphia.—I have the honor to forward to you the regimental flag of the 69th Kegiment Pennsylvania Volunteers U.S. army, and would ask that it be placed in Independence Hall. This flag has been at the head of the regiment in every battle and contest from the battle of Ball's Bluft, where our brave Baker fell, to the present time. It has been with us in our triumphs and has been with us when defeated; but it never has been stained with shame or dishonor. As the medium of the brave men whom I have the honor to command, I place it in your hands, representing as you do, the city of our residence; and I trust that at some future day when peace shall have from the memory of the present reneration erased the terrors of a civil war, it may be as a monitor to guard well against strifes which may lead to war and trouble.

"I am, very, respectfully your obedient servant, "Commanding 69th Pa. Vet. Volunteers."

Another Robberry by a Hack Driver.

ANOTHER ROBBERY BY A HACK DRIVER-ANOTHER ROBBERY BY A HACK DRIVER—
MORE SPREDY JUSTICE—This moraing, before Alderman Beitler, Thomas Walls, a hack driver, had a hearing upon the charge of robbery. From the evidence, it appears that Nicholas Boyman, from Baltimore, arrived in the city on Friday, and got into a cab driven by Walls. He was taken from place to place, and finally to the house of Walls. There Mr. Boyman says that he fell asleep from exhaustion, and was robbed of $65 in money, a ring, a watch and a pocket handkerchief. The money was taken from his boot where he placed it previous to getting into the cab. Walls was arrested yesterday morning in bed at his house, by officer Lenoir, of the First District. After the hearing, this morning, he was committed to answer. The case was immediately taken before the Grand Jury, a true bill was found, and the defendant was taken to Court for trial.

CITY MORTALITY.—The number of interments CITY MORTALITY.—The number of interments in the city during the past week was 297, a decrease of 61 from the previous week, and an increase of 30 over the same period last year. TROOPS PASSING THROUGH .- During Satur-TROOPS PASSING THROUGH.—During Saturday night and yesterday a large number of troops passed through this city, and were entertained at the Volunteer Refreshment Saloons. The following passed through yesterday morning: Sth Regiment U. S. Infantry, Captain Wilson Corgswell commanding: 4th Regiment U. S. Infantry, Captain Chas. H. Brightley commanding: 14th New York Artillery, Col. E. I. Marshall, and a portion of the 2d battalion Veteran Reserve Corps. The New York Artillery Regiment is composed of 1.500 men, and for four or five months has been statuned in the forts in New York harbor.

Man Shot in A Tavern.—John Ward, and MAN SHOT IN A TAVERN .- John Ward, aged MAN SHOT IN A TAVEEN.—John Ward, aged is years, was shot in the abdomes on Saturday night, about 12 o'clock, in adance house, in Frent street, below Walnut. He was taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital. The wound is not considered dangerous. Ward, it seems, had a dispute with another man about a woman, previous to being shot. George Hyte and Wm. Gilkey were arrested upon suspicion of having fired the pistol. They were taken before Alderman White and were committed to answer at court.

FIRES.—Vesterday morning an alarm of fire

FIRES.—Yesterday morning an alarm of fire was caused by the burning of an old untenanted house back of Broad and South streets, which was the work of an incendiary. QUARTER Sessions—Juage Thompson.—This morning William H. Martin was put on trial charged with forgery. The bill of indicament avers that the defendant "unlawfully did utter and publish as true a certain false, forged and counterfeited certificate of consent in case of a minor to volunteer as a soldier in the Army of the United States," which said false, fyrged and counterfeited certificate of consent is as follows, that is to say: "Consent in case of Minor—I, Martin-Mohler, do certify that I am the father of John Mohler; that the said John Mohler is 18 years of age, and I do hereby freely give my consent to his volunteering its a soldier in the army of the United States for the period of three years.

There were five such papers.

The witnesses against the defendant were a number of boys of 14 to 16 years of age, who had been enlisted through the defendant, who it is alleged signed as witness to the signature of the names of the parents to the above form of consent.

One of the boys testified that when the boys concluded to enlist they agreed to give their age as 18 years, and when they gave that age to Oaptain Yardley, at Frankferd, the Oaptain smiled. The boys then got $23 of the $25 Ward bounty, through Mr. Martin.

The parents denied signing the "consent," and one of the boys testified that some of the boys signed their father's name, and Mr. Martin signed as witness. When one of the boys aid he was going to sign the "consent" himself, Martin said it was all right.

wimess. When one of the boys said he was going to sign the "consent" himself, Martin said it was all right.

According to the testimony of the boys, some who were apparently not more than 12 and 14 years of age, had no difficulty in passing the surgeon's examination at Frankford.

The defence alleged that the defendant was employed by the Committee of the Twenty-third Ward to secure recruits in order to avoid a draft in the Ward. The boys presented themselves and passed the surgeon's examination, and then took the blanks to secure the signatures of their parents. The boys brought the papers back signed, as they alleged, by their fathers, but there was no witness, and Mr. Martin believing all was right and, that the witness had been omitted by mistake, placed her own name, not intending any fraud. The character of the defendant was represented to be very good; he is a member of church and in good standing. On trial.

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

[Correspondence of the N. Y. Herath.]

ALENANDRIA, Va., April 21, 1:61.—A-small force of rebel cavalry, supposed to be a portion of the 15th Virginia, have for some days been marauding in the vicinity of the Occaquan, a few miles from this city. They had become so bold in their demonstrations that Gen. Slough determined to hunt them. Col. Wells, Provost Marshal General, who was entrusted with the details of the matter, last night despatched a squadron of 30 men of the 1st Michigan cavalry. under Lieut. Jackson, with instructions to eradicate the intruders from the neighborhood. Lieut. Jackson proceeded as far as Accolink, where he dismounted his men and left his horses under guard. He then took to the thick pine woods, and proceeded tobels attacked the guard who had charge of the horses, but were repulsed, losing one man killed and three severely wounded. The defeated rebels left in the direction taken by Lieut. Jackson.

This afternoon sharp firing has been heard in that vicinity, and it is reported that our force have succeeded in capturing nearly the entir rebel force.

Two men of the 1st Michigan have arrived here severely wounded, one of them mortally. The rebel Lieutenant W. L. Hunter, of Mosby' commend, was captured yesterday near Aldie while in command of Company A. 43d Virginia cavalry, by a getachment of the 2d Massachusett: eavalry.

cavalry, by a detachment of the 2d massachusetterally.

Major Bragg, of the rebel army, was captured yesterday also, near Warrenton, by a squad of Gen. Gregg's cavalry. Bragg was formerly Mayor of Warrenton, and is an important personage in of Warrenton, and is an important personage in the confederacy.

Rebel prisoners are again coming over quite freely. Fitteen arrived at Mitchell Station during three days of last week.

All civilians were to-day turned back at Alexandria, by order of the Commander-in Chief, and refused transit to the Army of the Potomac.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN PITTSBURGH.

[From the Pittsburgh Despatch.]

On Fricay morning a fire broke out in the warehouse of D. Wallace, situated at the corner of Penn and Wayne streets, resulting in the total destruction of the bridding and involving a loss of upwards of $66,600. The warehouse was leased by Mr.
Wallace, and was filled with valuable goods, a portion owned by other parties.

Mr. P. C. Rainers, marble entire and sculptor, occupied a portion of the building fronting on Penn street. He had a large stock on hand, thether with a quantity of finished work. His loss will amount to $3,600, on which he had an insurance of $2,600.

Mr. R. A. Colville, marble dealer, occupied a building adjoining, fronting on Wayne street, and stock and finished work, to the amount of four thousand dollars was destroyed. He has no in-

The empty barrels were owned by the Ardesco Oil Company, and were valued at $5,000. They were insured for $6,000, divided equally between the Hartford and North American Companies. This amount, with the sum which will accrue from the sale of the hoops will fully cover the loss:

J. W. Taylor, Tobacconist on Penn street, owned twenty hogsheads of the tobacco destroyed, and was insured to the amount of $3,000. Of the balance Mr. McGinnis owned three and Mr. Johnson five hogsheads, on which there was no insurance.

balance Mr. McGinnis owned three and Mr. Johnson five hogsheads, on which there was no insurance.

Mr. Wallace's loss will probably reach $35,000, on which he has an insurance of $20,000, civided between the following companies: "Peoples," of Pittsburgh, $5,000; "Arctio," of New York, $5,000; "Continental," of Phitsburgh, $5,000. Two valuable horses, belonging to Mr. Wallace, were in a stable in the rear of the room occupied by Mr. Cotville, and it being impossible to extricate them, they perished in the flames.

The buildings fronting on Penn street were for a time in imminent danger, but through the active exertions of the firemen the flames were confined to the buildings in which the fire originated. Considerable damage, however, was done by water. Messrs. Bender & Co., druggists, at the corner of Wayne and Liberty streets, were damaged to the extent of $1,000 Messrs. Klopfer & Co., furniture dealers, on the opposite side of Wayne street, also sustained considerable damage, but are fully covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary, as there had been no fire during the day in the locality in which it was first discovered.

mond, but who has been recently released has been appointed Major of the 116th Pennsylvania Regiment.

Mr. John Rothloff, the well-known Brewer of Hamburg, died very suddenly a few days since, of apoplexy. He had visited Reading, the day before, and after his return home in the evening complained of headache, which was the only premonitory symptom he had of the stroke that deprived him almost instantly of life. He was a rember of the Hamburg Town Council, and an enterprising and popular citizen.

The Paterson (N. J.) Guardian says: Some few years ago, Judge Crane of Morris, New Jersey, visited Paterson, and stopping at the house of J. P. Huntoon, retired to bed as usual. In the morning early, Mr. Huntoon was alarmed by a great noise, as if a drunken man was tumbling about. Jumping up, he found the judge in the hall, sadly convulsed, trying to come too and struggling and tumbling about. The strong smell of street gas in the house divulged the secret of the condition of the eld gendleman, who had on retiring to bed, left his gas jet leaking, and when awarening in the morning he had just reason and strength enough left to tumble out into the hall, where when found by Mr. Huntoon, he was more than half dead. During the morning, however, he recovered and left, one would have supposed, sufficiently warned of the danger of carelessness in the future, in reference to this matter. Two weeks ago. Judge Crane started for the West. Yesterday intelligence arrived to the effect that he was dead—had been killed by an accident precisely like that which so nearly terminated his career years ago, at Mr. Huntoon's. It appears from the letters received that he went to his room and locked the door, as is usual at the hotels. In the morning a strong smell of gas was discovered coming from his lodging place, and upon breaking open the death of two well-known citizens. namely. Richard Regern discovered to be dead—strangled by the gas as he lay.

The Pittsburgh papers record the death of two well-known citizens, namely, Richard Beeson, Esq., and R. E. McGowin, both of whom passed from this life last week.

Rev. D. G. Mallery, formerly chaplain of the 51st Regiment, P. V., but having some months ago resigned, has just been re-elected to the same position, and is now on duty with the 51st.

A hospital steward, named Nelson, was recently shot dead at Wheeling, West Virginia, by an enraged husband, whom he had injured.

Intelligence has been received of the death of Captain Thomas Stodd at Alexandria, Louisiana. His death was caused by his skull being fractured by being thrown from a horse. Oaptain Stodd was a grandson of Thomas Stodd, Esq., of Schuylkill Co., in this State, and was an energetic and much-beloved officer.

A REMARKABLE MILITARY COMPANY.—Company D, of the 47th Pennsylvania Regiment, shows a mest remarkable record, as regards the relationships of a portion of the men. There are four brothers and a cousin, all named Powell. There are five brothers of the name of Brady, three brothers named Baltzer, three brothers named Brosler, and three brothers named Harper, who are also bfothers-in-law of the captain. There are two brothers and a cousin named Shaffer, and a father and two sons named Tag. Perhaps the most singular circumstance is the presence of six PAIRS of brothers, named Clay, Charles, Reynolds, Vance, Anthony and Vertig: also, two step-brothers, named Baldwin and Taylor. These men all hail from Perry county, Pa. They are mainly of the old Holland stock, and lived within a circuit of fifteen miles. They are all re-enlisted men but two or three.
