It provides for the appointment of two commissioners, one of whom shall be learned in law, to examine and report upon claims arising from damage to the persons or property of allens by the civil, military or naval authorities of the United States during the rebellinn, in cases which cannot be decided by existing tribunals. Claims are excluded from consideration if they are not presented to the Secretary of State within one year from the time they may have arisen or come to the knowledge of the claimant. To be valid the claimant must not have filed his intention to become a citizen of the voting, nor at any time exercised the right of voting, nor at any time exercised the right of rebellion.

Mr. Sumner introduced the following sixteens.

rebellion.

Mr. Sumner introduced the following joint resolution to facilitate postal and military communication aming the several States:

Whereas The Constitution of the United States

Whereas The Constitut ton of the United States Confers upon Congress in express terms the power to regulate commerce among the several states, to establish post roads and to raise and equip armies; therefore,

Reselved, That every railroad company in the United States, whose road is operated by steam, its successors and assigns be and is hereby authorized to carry upon and over its road, connections, boa's, bridges and ferries, all freight, property, mails, passengers, troops and Government supplies on their way irom any State to any other State, and to receive compensation therefor.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs

A letter from the Secretary of the Treasury was received stating that the proposed addition to the south wing, while remedying an architectural defect and giving additional room, would effect a saying of $13,308 by the use of granite for the north wing.

The subject of the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the bill to provide a territorial government for Montana came up as the order of the morning hour.

Mr Doolittle addressed the Senate, and referred to the fact that the bill had been first peptited by a member of the House devotedly attached to fredom, and had passed that body without any such provision, and was then reported from the committee here, at the head of which was Mr. Wade, in the same form in which it passed the House, and at the moment in which it was about to be passed the Senator from Minnesota introduced his amendments. He thought the gentleman had thus raised an issue unnecessary, which, if persisted in, will raise a contest that will come into the ensuing campaign and do mischief.

When it had been stated that there were no new to the subspace of the stated that there were no new contest that the subspace of the stated that there were no new to the fact that there were no new to the subspace of the stated that there were no new to the stated that there were no new the stated that there were no new the stated that the stated that suing campaign and do mischief.

When it had been stated that there were no negroes or persons of African descentia the territory, the Serator from Minnesota had mentioned one there who was worth $50,600. It happened that one person of African descent had gone there early, and had discovered a gold mine there; and that person I appened to be in the gallery when the Selator referred to the fact, so that there was now not one colored person in the territory. There are, however, Indians and persons of Indian descent there, and it is a question if they would not under the amendment be entitled to exercise the right of suffrage.

In this connection, When Desirts the selection is the selection of the suffrage.

In this c unection, Mr. Doolittle said designing politicans could use such persons for voters to carry their corrupt ends, using thus not only Indians who had adopted civilized life, but the wild Indians of the blankets. This had once occurred in Wisconsin, and why not in Mostana. By the use of plenty of whiskey and tobacco this had been done, stripping the wild Indians of his blanket and putting the coat and pantaloons on him for the moment.

and putting the coat and pantaloons on him for the moment.

At this moment, there being much excitement on account of the passage of a large body of troops thrugh the city, the Senate, on motion of Mr. Sumrer, took a recess of thirty minutes.

On reassembling, Mr. Doolittle said he deprecated the making of an issue of this kind now, as it was a mere abstraction, and it was an abstraction which had excited the religious word and created bloody wars. An abstraction of Mr. Calhoun had brought on our great troubles. He pointed also to the fact that the constitutions of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and other Western free States, prohibited negro suffrage, and the people of some of them had by overwhelming majorities decided to make no alteration on that subject. Since, in New York, where negroes had had the suffrage on a property qualification of $250 propositions had been made to the people to remove the restriction, but it was rejected by large majorities.

Heroul we'll understand how it was in the rejected by large majorities.

He coul. well understand how it was in the New England States, where there were a few colored persons, who from their association with the well-educated people there, were fit subjects for the right of suffrage. The State of West Virginian whose constitution has just been adopted, restricts the right of voting to white citizens; and in Wisconsin the people have twice voted against it, and yet that State is not behind any in its antislavery ideas.

in wisconsin the people have twice voted against it and yet that State is not behind any in its antislavery ideas.

The question was whither we shall now raise the issue amongst us. He believed in waiting till each State shall have passed upon the question for itself. The time may come when those States may properly enact laws that persons of African descent who have shown themselves to be good soldiers may have the right of suffrage.

Of all things the most unwise that we can enter upon is that Congress, composed mainly of members who come from States whose constitutions deny the right of negro suffrage, should ask us to extend the tright in the territories and the District of Columbia. We have issues enough in considering whether our Constitutional Government can be maintained, and whether the 'nion of these States shall, be preserved or broken. These issue are large enough, broad enough; and demaid all our thoughts and time, and our energies and all our money.

Mr. Wilkinson said his proposition to strike on.

thoughts and time, and our energies and all our money.

Mr. Wilkinson said his proposition to strike ou white male citizens," and insert "citizens of the Unital States," seemed to create the impression in the mind of the Senator that it would rend the Government in twain. He thought it agreat deal bet er to let the black soldiers who are now mark hing through our streets in defence of their country have a vote in Montans than to let traitors vote i ere. He did not believe this question would distract the public mind, unless the Senator and those who act with hims 'ir it up. Such speeches as the Senator had made to-day had that effect a thou-and times more. He believed this war had been proiracted three years in consequence of the fear of our leaders that they would distract to sentiment of the North. It was two years before we dared ask negroes to fight for us. He would take the stout arms and brave hearts of these black men.

The Senate then rejected the motion to eddere to men. The Senate then rejected the motion to adhere to its an endment, and agreed to the request for a Commit e of Conference. Some private bills were passed, and the Senate HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Internal Tax bill. the Internal Tax bill.

An amendment was adopted to tax all sales of gold and silver buillon, sterling exchange, government money, stocks, bonds, etc., one-nith of one per centum on the amount of such sales and contracts f. r such sales.

Section linety-seven, imposing a tax upon sales of bonds, stocks, &c., being under consideration. Mr. Frank, of New York, offered the following substitute for the rates proposed by the committee: Upon all sales of gold and salver buillon and coin, sterling generalized, promissory notes. stocks.

ing fexchange, promissory notes, stocks, is, or other securities, one-tenth of one per out the amount of sales, and of all contracts uch.

Mr krank (N. Y.) argued that the country had need of revenue; that many articles had been taxed heavily, while the tax upon stocks and bonds was comparatively light; that persons who deal in stocks could well afford the amount proposed, amounting to but one dollar on a thousand. If it was claimed that those who speculate in stocks experienced a hardship from the increase, he would only say the country suffered already by their operations, and his greatest fears of financial troubles arcse from the immense traffic of stock boards. Should illegitimate sales be cut off, the country in the end would be greatly the gainer. He is ped there would be no opposition to his amendment as, if adopted, the Government would Preceive several millions of revenue.

Mr. Morrill (Vt.) opposed the amendment, assume the several millions of revenue.

Mr. Morrill (Yt.) opposed the amendment, saying it was a new tax, and he thought the amendment reported by the Committee, doubling the lates as originally reported, was as much as the business would bear.

Mr. Kerpan W.

Mr. Kernan (N. Y.) said he was surprised his colleague. (Mr. Stebbins,) who had heretofore so elequently depicted the effects of speculation upon the spance's of the country, had proposed so low totally inadequate. He thought this business would bear a much higher rate of taxation. In the account of stock sales in New York for last of dollars, and that with the sales in other cities, colleague, of fifteen thought the proposed tax of his colleague, of fifteen thousand dollars per day to the propriet to the proposed tax of his the programment.

would yield a revenue, at the proposed tax of his colleague, of fifteen thousand dollars per day to Mr. Farnsworh (Ill.) said we were told that if we fix the tax too high the brokers would evade it, said cheat the Government out of any revenue to other taxes. He contended we should make the law to strong and so well gaarded, that they could not dodge it or cheat the Government. The argument was not a good ene. He agreed with the gealfeman from New York who offered the amendment, and was in favor of imposing the tax of one-tenth of one per cent. upon these operations. Mr. Kasson (Iowa), wished, in the absence of the member from New York (Mr. Stebbins), who originated this lay, to pless a two or three lasts to the committee. He regretted that imputations should be cast upon the motives of the gendeman. He was as patriotic and sincere as any member.

Mr. Kernan disavowed any intention of casting imputations upon his collèague. He only expressed his suy rice that he should favor so low a pressed his survive that he should favor so low a lay on these game.

Mr. Odell (N.Y.) defended his colleague, and said he thought the gendlemen d d his colleague injustice. He was in favor of the amendment of his colleague, Mr. Frank.

Mi. Fernando Wood was sure there was no class proposed to be affected by this bill who could better hear it than the brokers of Now York. Their operations had become more extensive and their prefits from this war greater than any other class of people. He cha ged that the financial difficulties had been caused more by the stock gamblers of New York than by anything else, except the impolicy of the Treasury.

of New York than by anything else, except the impolicy of the Treasury.

Mr. Randal! (Pa.) moyed to amend the amendment of the gentleman from New York, making the tax one-fifth of one per cent. They were able, and, gentlemen said, were willing to bear it.

Mr. Randall's amendment was agreed to, and Mr. Frank's amendment as amended was adopted. All premiums awanded as tokens of merit by any agricultural society, corporation or association for any purpose whatever, are exempted from tax. On motion of Mr. Stevens, the committee having rise in for that purpose, the House took a recass from half-pust one to half-past two, in order to enable members to witness the review of a body of trops.

On reassembling the Tax bill was resumed, and wis so amended as to read on all swine slaughtered for sale, ten cents per head. On all sheep and lumbs slaughtered for sale, five cents per head: Provided, all cattle, not exceeding five in number, and all calves, swine, sheep and tumbs, not exceeding twenty in number, staughtered by any person for his or her own consumption, shall be exempt from duty.

any person for his or her own consumption, shall be exempt from duty.

In urance compaties are to pay one and one-half per centum on the gross receipts of premiums on assessments for insurance.

The tax on lotteries was increased five per contum on the gross amount of receipts.

Mr. Pendicton offered a proviso to exempt from tax lotteries, raifles or gift enterprises by Sanitary fairs or religious associations for the relief of soldiers, or some other charitable use, a permit to be onlined from the coffector of the district.

Air. Price (Iowa) moved to increase the taxes on Air. Price (10wa) moved to increase the taxes on theatres, operats, circuses and nuseums, from one to five per centum on the gross receipts. Such places, he said, could better bear such tax than bridge and telegraph companies, which are taxed five per cent.

Mr. Grinnell moved the tax be increased from one to two on thearres and circuses, and this was agreed to.

The committee rose, when Mr. Davis, from the Committee on Elections, reported a resolution that Mr. Chanler is not entitled to a seat from the Scand Congressionol District of Virgina, the consideration of which was postponed, and the House, at haif-past four, took a recess till seven of clocks.

Whereas, A general order of the War Department, dated April 23,1864, assigned Major-General F. P. Blair to the command of the 17th Army Corps, therefore, resignation.

Ferrando Wood offered a resolution that the Secretary of War be requested to furnish the House, if not incompatible with the public interests, the report of General Dix concerning fraudulent transactions in the New York Custom Mr. Pomeroy objected to both resolutions. We do not, he said, require resolutions but action.

Mr. Morrill (Vt.) offered a joint resolution raising the duties on imports, to take place from and after its passage, and to continue until the first of July, 1864.

Its passage, and to continue until the first of July, 1864.

Mr. Kasson (Iowa) offered a proviso that printing paper, unsized, used for books and newspapers exclusively, shall be exempt from the operation of this resolution. He said his object was that additional burdens should not be imposed on the diffusion of intellectual light and knowledge.

The amendment was agreed to

Mr. Stevers (Pa) offered a substitute for the resolution proposing for sixty days after the passage of the resolution to add 50 per cent, to the tariff now imposed on goods, wares and merchincise.

The House proceeded first to perfect Mr. Mor-Mr. Fernando Wood offered an amendment providing that nothing in the resolution should be constitued to include goods, wares and merchandise in bended warehouse or from the place of importation. He said that this was most extraor inary legislation. Heretofore bills of this character were prepared with great caution and deliberated with care, but here was a resolution proposing, in one general sweeping provision, an enormous increase on the whole tarif. If it be said that the condition of the public finances require this increase, he would caution the government against adopting a policy that might become prohibitory; but if they are determined to adopt this resolution he demanded that the go ds in bond or in the course of importation should be exempt from its operations. He submitted that the inhabitants and importers could not stand this vind of legislation.

manded that the go ds in bond or in the course of importation should be exempt from its operations. He submitted that the inhabitants and importers could not stand this kind of legislation.

Mr. Eldridge (Wis.) said the gentleman had changed his views since the whiskey question was before the House. On that occasion the gentleman remarked that everybody should be prepared for the taxes. Although he always gave consideration and respect to what the gentleman advanced, he was unable to understand how he can now explain his position. He knew the gentleman discriminated lawgely against the West and looked to his own countrymen. It seemed to him the importers should be as well prepared to pay duties as the manufacturers of whiskey or anything else, for the public market

Mr. Wood said there was a marked distinction between the two cases. A merchant sends forth an order for a cargo from Europe. The goods are received under the same law and regulations as when the order was given. This did not apply to whiskey.

Mr. Eldridge said when the farmer planted his when the order was given. This did not apply to whiskey.

Mr. Eldridge said when the farmer planted his corn and sent it to market he did so on the faith of the government. He granted that they might sometimes be mistaken in relation to the present administration, which did make some pledges at the beginning, but has not fulfilled them.

Mr. James C. Allen ('ll.) could not support the resolation. It violated a sound principle of legislation. If we adopt the principle of changing the tariff every year, or six or three menths, it would unsettle the whole trade of the country.

Mr. Kalbfleisch (N. Y.) said he could not see the difference between the whiskey dealer and the importer. The distillers had notice of a tax, and they worked night and day to meet the requirements. With what degree of consistency could the House impose duties on imported goods which may not arrive here for two or three months! He thought goods in transitu should be exempt as long as liquors on hand were not taxed.

Mr. Wood's amendment was rejected.

Mr. Cox (Ohio) offered an amendment increasing the tax on wool costing the deals a nound 7 per Inter wool would bear an increase over the present rates.

A debate followed on the subject of wool, in which Messrs. Dawes and Rice (Mass.), Morrill (Vt.), Moorhead (Pa.) and others participated Mr. Morrill thought the discussion had already proceeded to a considerable length, and he desired the question should be taken.

Mr. Fernando Wood said they had met this resolution in the most liberal spirit, and discussion skould be allowed as long as gentlemen speak directly to the question.

Mr. Morrill replied that he would soon endeavor to reach a yote.

The House adopted an amendment assessing a duty of S and 11 cents on wool under and over 40 cents per pound.

Mr. Holman (Ind.) offered an amendment, which was agreed to, that instead of from 10 to 15 cents a gallon on all descriptions of wines, according to value, there shall be 50 per cent. imposed on all wines, ale and porter in addition to the tariff now authorized by law.

Mr. Stevens (Pa.) explained his substitute. The object was to put 50 per cent. on the present rates of duty on everything, so as to keep out importations. The resolution was designed to operate until a tariff bill could be deliberately frame 1. If this resolution had been in operation last week we

Mr. Fernando Wood said if the gentlemen expect by this measure to depress the price of gold, it would fail or its effect.

Mr. Stevens replied that this was not the object of the bill, but might be the consequence. He did not believe in legislation to depress the price of gold. gold.
