NEW PUBLICATIONS.

"Woman and Her Era" is the title of one of the boldest "woman's rights" works ever written. It is by Eliza W. Farnham, and is published in two volumes, by A. J. Davis & Co., of New York, and for sale by J. B. Lippincas & Co. For over twenty years the author has had her defence of the greatness, goodness and natural superiority of her sex s nouldering in her breast, and she now "utters all herself into the air," literally "on her own hook," for she admits that she "has never been able to cooperate with any party on the Woman Question," In the first volume the discusses, rather vaguely, objective and subjective Truth. with a view of proving THE truth that woman is superior to man in her physical, moral and mental structure, and that she is "the natural sovereign of this globe!" Some of her arguments on the subject of procreation and maternity are the most extraordinary for their daring which we have ever read, for indeed, according to Mrs. F., man is of small importance in continuing the species. Her religious, asthetic and historic arguments, and her arguments "drawn from popular sentiment and common observation," are almos: subline in their imperturbably bold assumptions of the superiority of the female sex, and they are advanced with considerable tact, grace and fluency. In the second volume Mrs. F. rises, if possible, to a higher pitch of boldness. She claims that in their "affectional" qualities, such as love, self-sacrifice, virtue, self-respect courage, heroism, endurance, constancy, faith and humility, women are immeasurably superio. to men; that in ambition, avarice, sensualism. justice and jealously, we trace nothing but masculine characteristics. Man degrades love, ac cording to her notion, and "the social evil," (which she discusses with all the openness of a medical professor) is entirely owing to the low instincts of the male sex. She claims for woman a degree of freedom which the law of man has never yet accorded her, and while her ideas are expressed in an elevated and eloquent style we fear that she means that as woman's impulses and attributes are naturally high and holy, therefore she should be under the dominion of no law but that of those impulses and attributes. It may be a masculine inability to appreciate her arguments, which leads us to deduce this from Mrs. F's work, but we certainly do understand her to maintain this ground. The work is able, however, and will attract attention from many who can only partially sympathize with her theories.

From Ticknor & Fields, through T. B. Peterson & Brothers, we receive "Iron Workers and Tool-Makers," by the favorite industrial biographer, Samuel Smiles. It contains a series of most attractive accounts of workers in iron and steel, in Great Britain, from the earliest period. We have read the book with deep interest, and it cannot fail to be eagerly perused in a manufacturing community like ours. Young mechanics, engineers and inventors will receive great benefit from a knowledge of the trials, struggles and successes of those who built up the vast iron and steel manufacturing business in Great Britain.

"The Manual of Scientific Discovery" for 1864, has just appeared from the press of Gould & Lincoln, Boston, and is for sale by Smith, English & Co. It is adorned with a handsome portrait of General Q. A. Gillmore. We need not say to those who have been familiar with the volumes in former years, that it exhibits all the most important discoveries, inventions and improvements in all branches of Stevens Gray, P. P. Gustine, science and art, and that no one who wishes to keep in the current of scientific progress can afford to be without it as a work of reference.

We have received from O. D. Case & Co., publishers, Hartford, some specimen papers of Horace Greeley's new and great work on "The American Conflict," recounting the moral and political history of our country, from 1776 to 1864. Agents are now canvassing for it in this city, and we anticipate a large subscription list - here. It is certainly a very able work in the interest of true freedom and progress, and cannot fail to raise its author's reputation and to do great good.

Messrs. T. B. Peterson & Brothers publish this day a most capital romance of English life. entitled "Family Pride." It is by the author of that admirable novel called "Pique," which has recently made a sensation, and it will increase the popularity of the writer, from the ability displayed in its sketches of character and scenery, and from the interest developed by

"Hints to Riflemen," is the title of a popular treatise, by H. W. S. Cleveland, published by D. Appleton & Co., New York, and for sale by Ashmead & Evans. It presents the general facts in the history of the improvement of rifles, in a very readable style, and contains many suggestions worthy of consideration by soldiers and others interested in fire-arms.

CABINET DEPARTMENT OF THE GREAT CENTRAL FAIR FOR THE SANITARY COMMISSION, to be held in Philadelphia, first week in June, 1861.

The undersigned have been appointed a committee to solicit, receive and arrange for sale, Cabinet Ware, of any and every description, which the liberality of manufacturers and venders may incline them to present in aid of the Fair. Anything, however simple, or of but little mou-ty value, will be acceptable, whilst, at the same time, the undersigned would most respectfully urge upon all to make as valuable contributions as it may be it their power to offer. The great, indeed, sole aim of the Fair, is to do good to the sick and wounded of our gallant army, and though the feeling which will prompt all who contribute is that of gratitude to our soldiers, the occasion may be used, incidentally, to bring before the public eye, the varied manufactures of our country, and we, who are engaged in the department of Cabinet
Ware, should make an effort to be properly represented.

The Christian Commission offers to the people a perfectly reliable and wonderfully economical channel to reach the entire army in all its various fields. Let the people give the Money and Stores, and the work will be done.

The large corps of Delegates now in the field will serve as a grand corps of relief when the armies shall move and battles be fought, and the greater their number the more prompt and effective will be the relief they shall render.

Let not the present work languish. Wait not for the cry of the wounded and dying before providing relief.

Electrical Testination, established about five years ago by Professor Lolles. Read the following:
A class of maladies prevails to a fearful extent in communities, dooming 101, 101 youths, of both sexes, annually to an early grave. These diseases are very imperfectly understood. Their external manifestations or symptoms are nervous deal ity, relexanor, and great exhaustion, mersamus, or wasting and consumption of the tissues of the whole body, shortness of breathing, or too harried breathing on ascending a bill orgalight of stairs, palpitation of the heart, fixthma, bonchitis, and a dey, sore throat, trembling and shaking of whole body, shortness of breathing, or too hurried breathing on scending a bill or flight of stairs, palpitation of the heart, isthma, 5 onchitis, and a d.y. sore throat, trembling and shaking of the arms and lower limbs, aversion to society, business, and to study: sometimes d.mness of the eyesight. loss of memore dizziness of the head, neuralgia, pain in various parts of the body, pains in the back and lower limbs, lumbago, dyspepsia, consupation of the bowles, deranged secretiors of the kidneys, and many other glards of the body, tronducing virulent diseases in both males and females, likewise epilepsy, bysteria, and different forms of nervous spasms. Now, then, ninety-nine cases out of every hundred of all the above named diseases, and a host of others not named, as consumption of the lungs or of the spinal nerves, have their origin in the pelvic viscera, hence the wan: of success by any of the old medical systems of practice.

All the above named maladies are treated and cured by Profesor Kolles, at 1221 Walnut street.

Diseases Utif, Leucorrhea, Amenorrhea, Dysmenorrhea, All the above diveases and other the vital power of the body, brought on by injuries, excesses, sedentary habits, personal abuses, abortions, and the use of powerful medicines. Some of the peculiar symptoms are dragging pains inhough the hips and back, weakness of the limb, and extreme languor and debility throughout the entire system. The effects produced from these troublesome maladies are almost multitudinons. Consumption, Dyspepsia, Neuralgia, Paralysis, bearness, Blindness, Fits, Insanity and even ledicoy are not uncommon.

No effectual or reliable remedy has ever been found for these alarming complaints till our late discovery in the use of Electricity in strict accordance with the positive and negative polar action of the Uterine Urgans. We never failed in curing all of the above diseases, except in case of organic derangements, or severe injuries of the parts.
