A NEW LEASE OF LIFE.

A NEW LEASE OF LIFE.

Dr. Radway's Pills have granted me a new lease of life. For fifteen years I have suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Indigestion. I have taken a cart-load of pills of different makes, but the relief afforded by their operation was at the cost of severe suffering from Piles. If I stopped taking these pills one week, the old difficulty would trouble me. I at last struck a vein of gold, in Radway's Pills—the first dose acted so differently from all other pills, that I hoped for a cure—six boxes made a new man of me; I am completely cured. No straining, no piles, no weakness followed their use. I gained strength with their use. I have not taken any physic for over a year, and am as rugged, strong and hearty as a bear.

HIGGINS'S BRIGHT THOUGHT. BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL.
T. Higgins, I esteem, in truth,
To be a very worthy youth,
Steady, industrious and grave;
But yet, his turn of mind is such,

But yet, his turn of mind is such.
That he appears somewhat too much
Engrossed in trying how to save.
He, from the earnings of each day,
Had in his trunk, snug stowed away,
Of greenbacks quite a mighty roll;
And, though his dress so shabby grew,
That it raised mirth and pity, too,
Thoughts of his treasure cheered his soul.
But lately, when the journals told
Of the great rise in price of gold,
Higgins perused it with a start.
'My greenbacks—oh, what keen distress!
Each day in worth are growing less;
To hoard them is a foolish pirt.
'I must at once my cash invest.

"I must at once my cash invest
In that way which shall prove the best;
But, to begin, I'll lay out some
In genieel clothes at Tower Hall,
That kind of property won't fall
In worth, whate'er disaster come!" We have the largest and best assortment of Clothing in Philadelphia, of all styles, kinds and sizes, including a full assortment of Youths' and Boys' Clothing.

EVENING BULLETIN

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 1864.

THE SUMMER CAMPAIGN. There are but few strategic newspaper writers nowadays. The scores of campaigns planned in leading editorials, during the past three years, all failed to be carried out. Our generals had different ideas from our military editors, and refused to take their advice. Or, when they did, by chance, take -it, something turned up to bring defeat instead of victory. On the other hand, our great victories have generally been won in total violation of the plans of journalists and civilians. Farragut followed no such plans when he captured the forts near the mouth of the Mississippi and moved up to New Orleans. Grant at first tried the plans praised by newspaper writers for taking Vicksburg, and failed. He subsequently took it by pursuing a course which critics pronounced very unwise. So in the battles of Lookout Mountain and Mission Ridge, he violated all the directions given him by the newspaper men, and won a splendid victory. At this time, when the grandest campaign of the war is about to commence, we see no strategic editorials except in the columns of certain New York papers, which persevere in their work of moving armies and fighting battles with pens and types, with a persistence which does credit to their assurance. But yet, the actual military plans of Lieutenant-General Grant are as complete a mystery to our civilian strategists as they seem to be to the rebels in Richmond. He has been reported as sending a large army to North Carolina, to Hilton Head, to the James River, to the York River, to the Rappahannock, to the Shenandoah Valley and to various other points. But he has done no one of these things, and so well does he conceal what he is really doing, that nobody knows any thing of his plans. It is known, however, that he has a large army, and the appearance of certain corps, divisions and brigades in unexpected places shows that he is moving and intends doing something very

The disasters at Olustee, at Pleasant Hill at Fort Pillow and at Plymouth have been partly owing to bad luck, but chiefly to the bad policy of scattering our forces. In Virginia, at least, that policy seems to lave been abandoned, and the better one of concentration has been adopted. For this we have to thank Lieutenant-Gener al Grant, and we look upon it as the for erunner of a great victory. Until General, Lee's army is defeated, we can make no, progress in the suppression of the rebel'ion. Washington is continually threatened, and there is danger of new invasions of Maryland and Pennsylvania. An array sufficient to overwhelm Lee's is indispensable, and we hope and believe that Grant will have such an army. But nobody knows, and nobody need know, what are his plans for moving it. Enough that the people and the Government have confidence in his ability to lead it to a great and decisive victory, which shall more than compensate for the losses we have suffered this Spring.

THE REBEL TREASURY. The Petersburg (Va.) Express of the 23d inst. says that instructions have been given to the First Auditor of the Rebel Treasury Department to remove his bureau from Richmond to Montgomery. The hegira was to take place next week, according to the same authority. If the rebels had decided to remove their stores, provisions or munitions to the safer shades of Montgomery, one would think it a wiser measure; but their Treasury! The idea of carting for hundreds of miles the tons of worthless notes and bonds which constitute the entire assets of that "bureau" is rather ridiculous. The cost of their transportation alone will nearly amount to their value, and a fresh and heavy issue will be required to foot the bill as soon as the First Auditor sits down in his new office.

The report of the removal comes from a rebel source and is probably entitled to credit. If so, it shows that the position of Richmond is growing very critical as General Grant's combinations for its capture assume form and coherence, and as the stir of the new campaign begins to ring more loudly in the ears of the rebel leaders on the banks of the James. The portents will soon gather far more thickly, and they will be ominous of far greater peril to the capital of the Confederacy than it has been in at any previous period of this gigantic war.

THE TAX BILL. The uncertainty which still exists concerning the action of Congress in respect to the proposed tax on sugar and molasses is deranging the trade in these two articles of commerce. While the retail market is almost bare, there are very large quantities of both commodities in first hands. There have been numerous heavy arrivals of late from Cuba, and they generally-remain at the wharves or in store awaiting the final action of Congress. The effect of such action will probably be to reduce the present high prices at retail; while the passage of the tax bill will have a corresponding effect upon the price of gold. Congress should not hesitate to tax heavily and to tax promptly. MUSICAL.

THE GRAND OPERA FOR THE FAIR:- The Philadelphia public is to be treated to a series of operatic and other musical performances, under the auspices of the Committee on Music of the Great Central Fair, the like of which has never been equalled in America and never surpassed anywhere. The rehearsals have been going on for some time, and the preparations of scenery, costumes, &c., are all on the grandest and most liberal scale. There will be a chorus of from sixty to one hundred, an orchestra nearly as large, and the principal artists are the best English opera singers to be found in the country. The first performance will be early in May, when a new grand opera by William H. Fry will be produced. It is called Notre Dame, and the story is from Victor Hugo's novel of that name. Those who have heard the rehearsals speak of the music as uncommonly fine. The dramatic situations are also admirable, and the mise en scene will surpass anything ever attempted in this country. The opera of Maritana, by Wallace, and The Bohemian Girl, by Balfe, will also be performed in the same style of splendor. In addition, there will be, during May, several oratorios, in which all our musical societies, native and German, will assist. Such musical entertainments will create a sensation and be worth traveling hundreds of miles to hear.

THE HANDEL AND HAYDN SOCIETY .- This favorite society will give their third and last Concert of the season this evening. The Grand Oratorio of Judas Maccabaeus will be performed as only the Handel and Haydn can do it. This society has done more this season than any Choral Society has ever done before in one season. They gave the Messiah on Christmas night for their first Concert, repeated it for the Christian Commission, and in one week got up the Creation, for the same laudable purpose. The two concerts realized over eight hundred dollars for the Commission. At their second concert they gave the beautiful oratorio of Mendelssohn, The Hymn of Praise, and now they give Judas Maccabaeus, making four Oratorios in one season. The members and managers of the society are all enlisted in the great performances that are shortly to be given for the benefit of the Sanitary Commission, so that even after this concert, they still are ready to assist in the good work for the soldiers. MR. CARL WOLFSOHN will give his next classical concert in the Foyer of the Academy of Music, on Saturday next at $12\frac{1}{2}$ o'clock. The programme is one of the best ever presented. SIGNOR BRIGNOLI will give a second and final congert in Concert Hall, on Saturday evening. He will be assisted by Miss Laura Harris, Signor Dragoni, the fine new barytone, and several other artists.

SIGNOR PERELLI'S CONCERT for the Sanitary Fair will take place at the Musical Fund Hall on Friday evening. Although the price of tickets is two dollars, yet the cause, and the general desire to hear the distinguished amateurs who are to sing, has led to a great demand, and there will be a large and fashionable audience.

MR. JAMES E. MURDOCH will give one of his Patriotic Readings at the Academy of Music, at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, for the benefit of the families of soldiers and seamen and the Volunteer Refreshment Saloons. We expect to see a crowded house,

THE

FIVE PER CENT

LOAN.

This loan is limited to two hundred millions, and is being rapidly subscribed for by the people. A modera'e portion of this amount has been taken for Europe, and any reasonable portion of the remaining amount that the Secretary of the Treasury might be willing to designate, could be placed on the other side, with or without making the interest payable in London instead of New York, on highly advantageous terms, thus giving the command of a large amount of sterling exchange (10 per cent. better than gold, as rates are calculated here, through the Summer months. He has never yet entertained such propositions for his popular loans. His preference is that our own should have the entire advantage of the sold interest which they bear, or else the premium on their Bonds, such as can now be had on the 5 20's when bought for Europe. The present object, therefore, is p. pular distribution at home, at par, on five per cent. gold interest, equal to 7% or 8 per cent. in currency with gold at 150a 60 per cent. The act of Congress specially provides that the principal of these Bonds shall be paid in gold. It paid off after ten years with the economical view of re-borrowing at three or four per cent. interest -for, after the war of 1812, this Government borrowed money in Europe at three per cent.—the payment will be made in gold.

On this and all other fuzded stocks of the United States, there is a specific pledge of the Customs Revenue in gold, for the continued payment of the

The customs and duties, thus pledged for the payment of the interest and gradual extinction of the principal-through annual purchases for the sinking fund-of he funded public debt of the United States, constitute a system of indirect taxation, to which the people are and always have been accustomed. It falls upon the people only in proportion to their ability or inclination to consume foreign wares and merchandise, upon which these duties are levied. As they elect to forego the use of foreign luxuries, so they lighten their own burden of the public debt, even while investing their means in it at rates and on a security superior to any other stock, for uniform and assured income (free of local laxes), in the whole country.

The last fiscal year, to June 30, 1863, this source of revenue amounted to 269,059,642. The gold in-terest on the public debt then amounted to only $24,729,846, and the principal of the eld loan of 1842, $3,250,000, was paid off in gold, in addition. The present fiscal year, ending on the 30th June, 1864, will show at least 40 per cent increase in gold customs, say $96,6:3,398, on a gross importation of less than 20 per cent. increase over last year The gold interest on the present funded and fundable debt, for the current fiscal year, will not exceed $47,735,650, learing a surplus of nearly fifty millions in gold from customs over the specific charge for interest on them; part of which surpluthe Secretary has readily disposed of at 165 per cent for green-backs, the principal as well as premium of which will go to the benefit of the Sinking Fund, and to the reduction of the currency interest on the unfunded or temporary debt, such as one year certificates of indebtedness, certificates of deposit. &c. That this statement may not seem overdrawn, we annex a schedule of the funded debt and 7-30 per cent. treasury notes, soon to pass into funded debt by voluntary conversion, on which gold interest is now being paid:

INCORPORATED BY THE STATE OF PENN-SYLVANIA, 1864.

Capital, $1,000,000.

100,000 Shales---$10 per Shale.

Subscription $5 per Share to Original Subscribers.

The Books for Subscription to the Stock of this Company are now open at the office of the undersigned, and an apportunity is offered to the public to subscribe for a limited number of Shares.

The property is in the richest developed part of the Gold Regions of Colorado, and consists of right in fee on the following Developed Lodgs: FISK GUNNELL, BUCHER, OALHOUN, GREGORY and Simmons. These Lodes are known to be rich in Gold Quartz, and are row ready for machinery, which will be placed at the earliest possible date - and of the most improved kind-under the charge of a competent Superintendent, aided by the services of JOHN ARMOR, Esq, whose interest is identified with the Company, and who is well known in New York Philadelphia, and throughout the West, as a man of high character and ability, and a resident of Colorado.

ALSO, claims on the following Undeveloped Lodes: Portland, Novembago, Gilead, Vermont, Boosier, Romattic, Keystone, Kettle-Drum and Warsaw; these are all valuable locations. Reference is made to Seports, that can be found in our Office, of General Fitz John Porter, and Professor E. N. Kent, New York Assay Office, who were sent to Colorado to examine and report upon this property, and also letters from Dr Judd, of the firm of Lee, Judd & Lee, and others,

The Comrany have also a valuable Mill Site, with an abundance of water. They reserve the sum of $147,000 for Working Capital, which is an ample fund for the most approved machinary, and the test character of superinter dence and labor. The prospects of profit in Gold, based upon the calculation of intelligent citizens of Colorado, is set forth in the prospectus at our Office, where the Public are invited to call and examine the evider ces of its value.
