An amendment was adopted requiring the commercial brokers to pay $25 for each license without regard to the amout of their transactions.

Mr. Morrill (Vt.) on behalf of the Committee on Ways and Means, moved an amendment on brown and muscovado sugar, not above No. 12, Dutch stundard in color, produced directly from the sugar cane and not from sorghum or imphee, other than those produced by the refiner, a duty of 2 cents per pound.

Mr. Randall (Pa) composed the amendment

the building.

Mr. Smith. of Philadelphia, said that it now appeared as if the whole question of the removal of the Capitol had been so changed and passed into such channels that it really had amounted to a rod held over the citizens of Harrisburg to induce them to pull out money to purchase a Governor's mansion. But they had not even had the generosity to tender a mansion but only to offer a page. rosity to tender a mansion but only to offer a por ition of its costs.

IMPORTANT LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

The following noble letter from President Lincoln appears in a correspondence published in the Frankfort (Kentucky) Commonwealth:

Frankfort (Kentucky) Commonwealth:

"Executive Mansion, Washington, Apri 4—A G. Hodges, Esq., Frankfort, Ky.—My thear Sir.—You ask me to put in writing the substance of what I verbally said, the other day, in your presence, to Governor Bramlette and Senacor Dixon. It was about as follows:

"I am naturally anti-slavery. If slavery is not wrong, nothing is wrong. I cannot remember when I did not so think and feel. And yet, I have never understood that the Presidency conferred upon me an unrestructed right to act officially upon this judgment and feeling. It was in the oath I took, that I would to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States. I could not take the office without taking the oath. Nor was it my view.

npon me an unrestructed right to act officially upon this judgment and feeling. It was in the oath I took, that I would to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the Coastitation of the United States. I could not take the office without taking the oath. Nor was it my view, that I might take an oath to get power, and break the oath, in using the power. I understood, too, that, in ordinary civil administration, this oath even forbade me, to practically indulgs my primary, abstract judgment on the moral question of slavery. I had publicly declared this many times, and in many ways. And I aver that, to this day, I have done no official act in mere seference to my abstract judgment and feeling on slavery.

'I did understand, however that my oath to preserve the Constitution to the best of my ability, imposed upon me the duty of presevering, by every indispensable means, that Government—that. Nation. of whi, h that Constitution was the org. nic law. Was it possibly to lose the Nation, and yet preserve the Constitution.

'By general law, life and limb must be protected; yet often a limb must be amputated to save a limb. I feel that measures, otherwise unconstitution, through the preservation of the Constitution, through the preservation of the Nation. Right or wrong, I assumed this ground, and now avow it. I could not feel that to the beat of my ability I had even tried to preserve the Constitution, it would permit the work of Government, Country and Constitution, all together. When early in the war General Fremont attempted military emancipation, I for bade it because I did not then think it an indispensable necessity. When a little later, General Generon, then Secretary of War, suggested the arming of the blacks, I objected, because I did not yet think it an indispensable necessity when, in March, and May, and July, 1862. I made carnest and successive appeals to the Borders States, to favor compensated emancipation, I believed the indispensable necessity to military emancipation, and I was, in my best men, and we could not have had them without the me:sure.

'And now, let any Union man, who complains of the measure, test himself, by writing down in one line, that he is for subduing the rebellion by force of arms, and in the next, that he is for taking these hundred and thirty thousand man from the Union side, and placing them where they would be, but for the measure he condemns. If he cannot face his cause so sla'ed, it is only because he cannot face the truth.

'I add a word which was not in the verbal conversation. In telling this tale I attempt no compliment to my own sagatity. I claim not to have controlled events, but coniess plainly that events have controlled me. Now, at the end of three years' struggle, the nation's condition is not what either party or any man devised or expected. God alone can claim it. Whither it is tending seems plain. If God now wills the removal of a great wrong, and wills also that we of the North, as well as you of the South, shall pay fairly for our complicity in that wrong, impartial history will find therein new cause to attest, and revere the justice and goodness of God.

'Yours truly, A. LINCOLN.'

The commanding General in making this announcement expresses the hope that regiments which may be discharged will cheerfully acquiesce in the decision of the Government with regard to their term of service, and that no organized bodies or individuals, after having borne an unsullied reputation during all the eventful scenes which have marked their connection with the Army of the Potomac will suffer the honorable fame they have won by their gallantry and good conduct to be tarnished in the closidg hours of their service, by acts of insubordination which, if ventured upon by any, will be promptly suppressed, and can only terminate in the speedy and certain punishment of the offending parties.

FIVE YEARS' COUGH ENTIRELY CURED BY DR.

SWAINE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY. I suffered five years with a bad Cough, Sore Throat, spit blood at times, very weak, was attended by one of our most eminent physicians, who prescribed various remedles, but I gradually grow worse. Hearing of the wonderful cures daily performed by your Wild Cherry Compound, I concluded to try it, and after using three bottles, a perfect cure was performed.

I suffered four moaths with a violent Cough, accompanied with painful tightness of the chest, great difficulty of breathing, sore throat, sleep disturbed from constant coughing; tried a number of remedies without benefit; I was advised to try Dr.
Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which gave quick relief, and after using two bottiles a perfect cure was the result. I give this certificate freely, as I want all the world to know of this truly valuable medicine.
