THE WAR IN TEXAS AND LOUISI-

RUMORED EVACUATION OF TEXAS. PORT HUDSON THREATENED BY GENE-

The following are extracts from the correspondence of the New York World: ence of the New York World:

New Orleans, April 23.—It is now an admitted fact that Texas is being ovacuated; the "victory" on Red River is the assigned cause for it. But an excuse is hardly needed for it. It never paid in cotton or military results, and its glory has long since faded away. I announced some time ago that it would be done, not from information received at headquarters, but from the necessity of the case, which would compel so wasteful, and transparently useless an exhibition of purposeless and ineffective demonstration without action to be abandoned.

and ineffective demonstration without execute to shandoned.

A report has reached us here that Lieutenant-General Polk is; at Camp Moore, about ninety miles from this city, on the line of the Jackson Railroad, with from fifteen to twenty thousand men, and that he is to move at once on Port Hudson, or on Baton Rouge. I would suppose on Port Hudson. The policy which has dictated this movement, if it be a real one, is somewhat questionable, unless his forces are wholly such as he would raise from the classes before mentioned, and who could not be induced to go to the aid of Lee or Johnston.

As the confederates seem determined to make As the confederates seem determined to make the most serious diversions, both South and West, against the annihilation with which their favorite general is threatened in Virginia, I shall not be much surprised if this report turns out to be true; but while I think it highly probable that they may take Port Hudson and its negro garrison. I feel confident that General Cooke will hold Baton Rouge against all odds. He has a respectable force under him, and the woods have been cut down for five miles around the city, so that no one can approach with odds. He has a respectable force under him, and the woods have been cut down for five miles around the city, so that no one can approach without coming full in sight, and shell, and schrapnel, grape, and canister would have an open field before them, from behind intrenchments of the most elaborate construction. Whatever becomes of Port Hudson, Baton Rouge, unless military necessity removes its garrison, is safe.

All of our reports from Red river are not of so favorable a nature. For instance, we have a current report that fifteen thousand confederates, with Magruder at their head, are between Banks and Alexandria. As I happen to know from quite sufficient authority that Magruder is in Galveston, I am not badly "sold" by this statement; but that some force of confederates ought by this time to be taking advantage of Banks's lowering and lessening communications with New Orleans is altogether probable. They would be greater simpletons than we have any right to suppose them to be, if they do not.

DEATH OF COMMODORE W. D. PORTER.

the commode morning at Saint Luke's Hospital, to which place he was taken three weeks ago. Commoders Porter was born in Louisiana, was appointed from the State of Massachusetts, entering the service January 1, 1823, saw 15 years sea duty, over 5 years shore duty, and was 20 years unemployed. He was between 50 and 60 years of age at the time of his death. A complication of complaints—among which were the Mississippi fever and neuralgia of the heart, carried him off. He leaves a wife who was with him at the time of his death, one daughter, who is in Richmond, and two sons, who are in the Confederate service. The deceased had a broad reputation for courage, having fought had a broad reputation for courage, having fought his way from Cairo to New Orleans. The honor of destroying the rebel ram Arkansas belongs to him. He was the commender of the iron-clad gunboat Essex at Fort Henry—a boat which was built according to his own plan—and he became noted as the man who had mechanics working at noted as the man who had mechanics working at one end of his vessel while his guns were working at one end of his vessel while his guns were working at the other. In the attack on Fort Henry, while the brave tars on board the Essex scood gallantly at their guns, a ball from the port flew along the ship, through the bulkheads, and then crashed through the middle boiler. Capt. Porter (since promoted to the post of Commodore) was badly scalded on the face and hands, but he soon resumed active service, and has since taken part in most of the stirring events on the Mississippi River and its tributaries, participating in over 50 engagements. At the outset of the rebellion his loyalty was doubted, but he hastened to prove himself a worthy officer of the Republic. In his death the country has sustained the loss of a skillful sailor and a brave and patriotic citizen. His remains will probably be removed to Philadelphia for interment.

DANVILLS, Pa., June 2, 1862.

Dr. Wm. H. Gregg—Dear Sur: In February, 1861, I was afflicted with sugar diabetes, and for five months I passed more than two gallons of water in twenty-four hours. I was obliged to get up as often as ten or twelve times during the night, and in five months I lost about fifty pounds in weight. During the menth of July, 1861, I procured two bottles of Constitution Water, and in two days after using it I experienced relief, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured; soon after regaining my usual good health.

Yours truly, J. V. L. DEWITT.

Wm. H. Gregg & Co.—Gents—I freely give you liberty to make use of the following Certificate of the value of Constitution Water, which I can recommend in the highest manner:

My wife was attacked with pain in the shoulders, whole length of the back, and in her limbs, with Palpitation of the heart and Irritation of the Bladder. I called a physician, who attended her three months, when he left her worse than he had found her. I then employed one of the best physicians I could find, who attended her tor about nine months, and while she was under nis care she did not suffer quite as much pain. He finally gave her up and said, her care was incorable. "For," said he, "she aas such a combination of complaints, that medicine given for one operates against some other of her difficulties." About this time she commenced the use of the Constitution Wather, and, to our utter astonishment, almost the first dose seemed to have the desired effect, and she kept on improving rapidly under its treatment, and now superintensentially her domestic sfairs. She has not taken any of the Constitution Wather for about four weeks, and we are happy to say that it has produced a permanent cure. WM. M. VAN BENSCHOTEN.

WETHERSFILD, Conn., March 2, 1863.
Dr. W. H. Gregg—Dear Sir—Having seen your advertisement of "Constitution Water," recommended for inflammation of the Kidneys and Irritation of the Bladder, having suffered for the past three years, and tried the skill of a number of playsicians with only temporary relief, I was induced to try your medicine. I procured one bottle from your agents at Hartford, Messrs. Lee, Sisson as Co., and when I had used half of it, to my surprise I found a great change in my health. I have used two bottles of it, and am where I never expected to be in my life, well, and in good spirits. I cannot express my gratitude for it; I feel that it is all and more than you recommend it to be. May the blessing of God ever attend you in your labors of love. Yours, truly, when he are RIGELIOW. of love. Yours, truly, LEONARD S. BIGELOW.
