His services were immedi-ately sought after, and he obtained exalted ately sought after, and he obtained exaited positions. Thirty-two years ago, on the eleventh of the present month, having been selected to succeed the noble Montgomery, he was installed by Bishop White and As-sistant Bishop Onderdonk as rector of this church. His was a long pastorate in this day of change, of turmoil, and of restless-ness; and it was a noble thing for one who came in, in the very morning of his youth, to live to see an entire generation pass into the grave and another come up into their-place, for when he was called away he was ministering to the second generation. For ministering to the second generation. For many years he was a leading member of the Standing Committee of this Diocese, in which position his superior learning gave him great influence; in the conventions he was always prominent, and often, by his genial spirit, healed differences which had arisen; and in the Advancement Society he always took great interact always took great interest. The Bishop then referred to the Orphan Asylum connected with St. Stephen's, which was commenced by Dr. Ducachet, and prospered under his supervision; and also to the fact that only a few weeks ago the friend whose loss he now so deeply mourned had been the spokesman on an agreeable occasion when a number of the Episcopal clergy had gathered to express their affection for him (the Bishop). He referred to a portion of the morning's service, which he deemed peculiarly applica-ble to this day of mourning, and which seemed to shine out just as we sometimes see a single bright star when all the rest of the sky is overhung with clouds, and con-cluded by calling the attention of his bearers to the importance of preparing for that world wherein there is no sorrow and no tears, and by invoking them to let this death be a warning to all, that they should live in Christ so that they may die in the

The Austrian Empire.

The Austrian Empire is now passing through a crisis which will test to the ut-most the capacity of its statesmen and the patriotism of its people. The meeting of the Diets of the German Provinces of the monarchy has been marked by a movement. monarchy has been marked by a movement openly, hostile to the recent policy of the Emperor, and particularly to the attempt which the government is making to come to a direct understanding with Hungary. Those different Assemblies are acting not only with unanimity, but in concert, and with a decision and secrecy which, as a po-litical symptom, are most remarkable. Last Thursday the Provincial Diets of Upper Austria, Lower Austria, Styria, Carinthia, Voralberg and Salsburg met, and in all one and the same motion was submitted to the Deputies. The authors off this motion the Deputies. The authors of this motion take their stand on the imperial diploms of Oct. 20, 1860, which they observe was pro-mulgated as a fundamental law, beyond the power of the Emperor to charge without mulgated as a fundamental law, beyond the power of the Emperor to change without co-operation of the Provincial Diets or the Reichsrath. That fundamental law they maintain is still in force, no one having the right to suspend it, but it has been violated by the issue of the patent of Sept. 20, 1865, and thus the nation finds itself deprived of rights which it joyfully took possession of, and which it has exercised for five years. By this patent the rights of the Provincial Diets are imperiled, and the work of legisiets are imperiled, and the work of legis-Dicts are imperied, and the work of legis-lation is taken from the representatives of the people, and assumed by absolute power. the government of Francis Joseph at the moment when he is advancing totake Hun-gary by the hand, may be a patriotic and

Confession of a Suicide.

An old man, who committed suicide by strangulation in Paris; on the 27th ult., left the following document among his papers headed—"The Mysteries of my Life," with an introduction to this effect; I belong to a very good family; I was well brought up. Fatally for myself, I adopted as my device the Italian maxim, Chi va piano va sano. I know now that, on Chiva prano va sano. I know now that, on the contrary, no man should leave for to-morrow what he can do to-day. For my part, I believe that before doing anything it was nccessary to deliberate long and maturely, and the consequence was that all I took part in turned out unsuccessful. By this mania of nost ponement and this all 1 took part in turned out unsuccessful. By this mania of postponement and this dilatoriness of execution I injured my for-tune, I forfeited an important situation, and I missed ten marriages. I have broken with all my friends, because I never could return a visit in proper time; pay back an act of politeness, nor keep an appointment; I was always anhour too late. I had excel-lent servants, but I never was well served. because I was never ready to be served. lent servants, but I never was well served, because I was never ready to be served. I thought myself extremely prudent, and I always found myself in a false or a diffi-cult position. After long and profound reflection, I am now convinced that my constant habit of putting off everything was but a pretext; that my real character was one of selfishness and sloth; and that I sought to hide or to cover their double rise sought to hide, or to cover, that double vice with a fictitious virtue. I was deterred by the fear of fatigue, by my disgust to bodily and mental exertions, by the indulgence of continuous and lethargic repose. Such is the true cause of the vexations which I have the true cause of the vexations which I have constantly experienced. I believe the judg-ment I now pass upon myself to be correct. At my age I am on the brink of the grave. The thought of self-murder has come upon me, and as for once in my life I mean to take an energetic resolution, and not to postpone it, I hang myself.

From New Orleans. New ORLEANS, Dec. 12.—Gen. Winfield Scott arrived here to-day from New York, on the steamer McClellan. The steamer De Soto, hence for Pasca-goula, exploded her boiler, killing four men, scalding four, and wounding the pilot and second engineer.

In the Legislature a bill has been intro-duced providing $20,000 for disabled Federal and Confederate soldiers and citizens. The cotton crop in the parish of Nachito-ches amounts to four hundred bales, all told. In Terre Bonne parish the cotton and sugar yield is very small. A citizen of New Orleans who returned from Matamoras a few days since and who was intimate there with French affairs, was intimate there with French attairs, says they fully anticipated a war between France and the United States, to commence on the Rio Grande, and that they have already their plan of campaign mapped ont, which anticipates a sudden crossing of the United States forces over the Rio Grande on pontoons, to abandon Matamoras and the Rio Grande, and fall back on Monterey, which would be held as a strategic key. Their officers claimed to be thoroughly informed as to all the means the United States have at their disposal here and in Texas for an edware into Morice. advance into Mexico.

The Galveston cotion market gave way on advices of a decline here and in New York, and holders are unwilling to yield, and the stock offering is light. Middlings sell at 28
