FROM JAMAICA.

No Further Trouble with the Negroes --- The Court Martial Still in Session---More Hanging---The Maroons in Favor with the Administration---Important Legislative Enactments, etc. .

Interesting Letter from Professor Goldwin Smith.

Advices to the 6th instant have been received from Kingston, Jamaica, by the steamer Montezuma, which arrived at New York on Saturday.

Order and tranquillity had been restored throughout the island, but the authorities were still busily employed in arresting and hanging a large number of negroes.

Authentic information in regard to the extent and ramifications of the late outextent and ramifications of the late out-break cannot be gleaned from the Jamaicr files at hand; neither do they give the cor-rect number of negroes hanged, or the names of political prisoners" expelled from the island. The Kingston journals all sup-port the policy of the administration, and speak in complimentary terms of Gavanage speak in complimentary terms of Governor Eyre, for the effective manner in which he had suppressed the late outbreak.
The Maroons who had assisted in killing

The Maroons who had assisted in kining a large number of negroes, at Morant Bay, met with a public reception on their return to Kingston. Their Colonel, A. G. Fyfe, in a lengthy address, called their attention to a similar outbreak which took place in India some years ago, and informed them that the who had blown the rebel from the mouths of cannons in India, penned them into their very forts and slaughtered them like sheep, were on hand in Jamaica ready to re-enact the same scenes if neces-

The following are the names of the officers constituting the court martial, in session at Morant Eay: Lieutenant Brands, Ensign Taylor, Ensign Code.

Taylor, Ensign Code.

The House of Assembly had authorized a loan of $50,000, to meet the expenses of suppressing the rebellion. A bill had been introduced for confiscating rebel property. Another bill provides against unauthorized drilling, and administering a maximum purishment of seven years' neal servitude. punishment of seven years' penal servitude to any one who shall drill himself or drill others in the use of arms without authority

The most important is a bill introduced by the government Suspending the present constitution, abolishing the House of Assembly and the regislative Council, and pr viding for the future government of the Island by a Legislative Chamber, to be composed solely of nominees of the crown. The Events in Jamaica.

To the Editors of the Boston Daily Advertiser, The second mail from Jamaica since the outbreak of the so-called insurrection has now fully delivered its contents, and the English public are in a position to form a tolerably accurate opinion as to the nature and significance of these horrible events. Nothing has occurred to prejudice, in the estimation of any impartial observer the character or the claims of the negro race; though many things have occurred to de-monstrate the impolicy and injustice of al-power over the ex-slave.

I speak as one fully sensible of the great perplexities of the negro question and fully aware how difficult it must be to introduce political equality without social fusion, or to bring about real social fusion between races severed from each other by color, by a physical antipathy, and by the fatal memory of the time when the men of one race were masters, and the men of the other race were their slaves.

lowing the ex-slaveowner to exercise any

As you know, we abolished at great cost slavery in our West India possessions. We found, after a patient, searching and judicial examination of the system, that if we did not abolish it, it would bring upon us the judgment of God.

At first we substituted a term of apprenticeship. But we found that apprenticeship was slavery under another name, if it was not worse. In two years, under the hypocritical forms of law, 60,000 apprentices received, in the aggregate, one quarter of a million of lashes, and 50,000 other punishments by the tread-wheel, the chain-gang, and other means of legal torture.

We then abolished apprenticeship. But we could not change the ex-slaveowner's heart, and in our somewhat exaggerated and indiscriminate devotion to parliamen-tary institutions, we have allowed his propensities too much scope. He has, by various machinations, excluded the great bulk of the negro population from the exercise of the franchise, made the Assembly ercise of the franchise, made the Assembly an organ of his own prejudices and inte-rests, and by caste legislation created among the negroes a deep and natural dissatisfaction which without any organized conspiracy, is no doubt always ready to break forth in local manifestations of dis-

The intentions of the home government, and its actions, so far as it has interposed, have been uniformly good and just. Its veto has probably prevented greater excesses of caste legislation, especially in the direction of vagrancy laws. But it has not kept power enough in its hands.

The spirit of the negroes had been embittered by distress, caused by a long drought.

A dispute arose as to the ownership of an estate from which a legal claimant wasseeking to eject the negro occupants who had settled upon it. In the course of the dispute, a collision took place between the negroes and the legal authorities. The negroes aurrounded a court house in a timultuous manner. The riot act was read to them. Perhaps they did not very clearly understand it or distinctly apprehend the consequences which the disregard of it involved. They refused to disperse. They were then fired upon by a party of volunteers, and some of them, it appears, were killed and wounded. They then rushed upon the party who had fired upon them and tore some of them to pieces with circumstances of great aurrounded a court house in a tumultuous them to pieces with circumstances of great atrocity. It was a most shocking and revolting scene; but not nearly so shocking as many that have occurred in French and Irish insurrections, where the mob had not been fired upon and had received no imme-

No doubt the feeling of the negroes against the dominant caste was unchained by this encounter. Yet the massacre scarcely extended beyond the scene of the original collision. Very few atrocities were committed, so far as at present appears otherwise than in hot blood. On the other hand, we learn even from the adverse hand, we learn, even from the adverse side, several remarkable instances of negro mercy.

As the case at present stands, there is nothing whatever to prove peculiar, much less indelible, ferocity in the negro race. Rather the reverse. But the whites of the island, the English officers who have been corrupted by the blandishments of that depressed society for its death. prayed society (for it is deeply deprayed), and, sad to say, the Governor himself, have committed such atrocities, that if the home government were to fail in its duty of yindicating the character of this country, it will be time for an Englishman who cares for the honor of his nation to look out for another

No evidence of a wide-spread conspiracy or of a conspiracy of any kind, has yet been produced by those who were most interested in producing it, since the proof that such a peril existed would, as they well knew, be the only possible excuse (justification there could be none) for their violations of humanity and law. All the evidence before us tends to show that the disturbance was local and accidental; though the discontent of the negroes may have been as general as, it is to be feared, it was just.

The result, it is to be hoped, will be a

The result, it is to be hoped, will be a searching inquiry into the state of the island, followed by the abolition or suspension of its mock popular institutions, and its reduc-tion to the condition of a crown colony go-verned with full powers by a representation of the Imperial Government, which, I repeat, sincerely desires, and always has sincerely desired, to do justice to the public.

No evidence has been brought to light by these transactions of the incorrigible, indo these transactions of the incorrigible, indo-lence of the free negro, any more than of his incorrigible ferocity. Of course in his desires, and consequently in his industry, he is, as yet, below the level of races which have enjoyed a long training in civi-lization. Naturally, this is a source to the planter of great dissatisfaction. This is all that has yet been proved against the negro freeholder of Jamaica; and the Governo himself complains that many of the disaf fected are not poor and ignorant; but persons of property and education, which, without industry and a capacity for knowledge, they could not have obtained. The London Times is of course justifying the Governor and the ex-slaveowners in their inhuman severities, and demanding that the negro, as an incorrigible barbarian, shall be put again under the lash. But I confess that if I were compelled to put anybody under the lash on the ground of bar-barianism, I should on the evidence before me, choose to put, not the ex-slave, but the ex-slaveowner and the managers of the

At all events, I trust that the negro race will not be allowed to suffer in the judgment of nations and statesmen for the alleged faults of the negroes in Jamaica, until judicial investigation shall have placed the whole case of the negroes in Jamaica and of their enemies fairly before the world. Yours, &c. Oxford, Dec. 2, 1865. GOLDWIN SMITH.
