Too much praise, in this connection, cannot, be awarded the Provisional Governor, William Marvin, whose course for the past few months has been eminently satisfactory to the people of this State, and, I doubt not, acceptable to the General Government. The course of the State, on the whole, will elicit the admira-tion of the President and the great mass of his friends and supporters, who will view her conduct as praiseworthy and commendable, while her sister States, who have been less hearty in their reciprocations for the President's magnanimity, will embrace her with none the less ardor on account of their own excess of grief and mortification In conclusion, let me say that Florida, spcially and politically, has been put upon a basis that will insure the completest freedom to all. The convention has shown a front in the restoration of its legitimate existence as a State within the States which indicates a disposition to dignify labor, edusate the masses, and make color no test of complete citizenship, with the exception of the guard which it is deemed judicious, at least for the present, to throw around the exercise of the right of suffrage. In other words, Florida has stepped forward nobly and bravely, and accepted the issues of the war, with all their sweeping characteristics.

The State is now under civil law again, as will be seen by the following, fac similes of which have been issued in all the cities of Florida:

HEADQUARTERS, POST OF JACKSONVILLE, FLA., DISTRICT OF EAST FLORIDA, JACKsonville, Nov. 25, 1865.—Circular.—By authority of His Excellency Gov. Marvin, Provisional Governor of the State of Flo-rida, and under instructions from Major Gen. J. G. Foster, commanding the Depart-ment of Florida, civil law has been restored in the State of Florida, and all civil officers in the State who were discharging the duties of their respective offices previous to or during the month of May, 1865, have been called upon to resume the functions of their offices, with the following exceptions, which are to be under the control of the military authorities, viz : Rape, murder, manslaugh ter, arson, burning of cotton, gin or other outhouses, assault and battery with intent to kill or commit rape, unlawful and riotous assemblages requiring a military force to suppresent the publication of the suppress them, robbery, burglary, and of-fences committed by the military forces.

Under the foregoing authority, as cited, I do hereby declare and make known, that the city of Jacksonville, Fla., is placed un-der the control, and under the operation of civil law, and the civil officers of the city who were discharging the duties of their respective offices previous to, or during the month of May, 1805, are invited to resume their duties, and to pass and execute such laws and regulations as may be deemed necessary for the good government of the city, having at all times a due regard to the exceptions enumerated. As commander of the post of Jacksonville, and of the District of East Florida, a cordial support will be given to the civil law by the military au-thorities, and all citizens are earnestly invited to render their hearty co-operation prise, prosperity and security. JOHN T. SPRAGUE, and District East Florida. It will be seen by the above that Gov.

Florida, and that not only the emancipated slave, but all persons of color should be allowed the right to give testimony in courts, and should also be protected in all their rights and claims of person and property. The consequence was that the convention met and incorporated all this in the new constitution of the State of Florida, thus preventing all future legislatures from meddling with the matter in the least. to the present time no seceded State has made such provisions for its colored inhab-itants even in its legislatures, although all the conventions made it the duty of their Legislatures to make such provisions for the freedmen (not all persons of color) "as shall guard the State against the evils of his (the slave's) too sudden emancipation." The question might, with propriety, be asked, "To guard against evils, will not the legislatures pass laws which, in effect, may re-enslave the negro?" This thing is settled forever in Florida, for the following appears in the Constitution of the State.

ARTICLE XVI.—GENERAL PROVISIONS. "Whereas slavery has been destroyed in this State; therefore, neither slavery nor in-voluntary servitude shall exist in this State, except as a punishment for crimes, whereof the party shall have been convicted by the courts of the State, and all the inhabitants of the State, without distinction of color, are free, and shall enjoy the rights of persons and property without distinction of color. "In all criminal proceedings founded upon injury to a colored person, and all cases affecting the rights and remedies of colored persons, no person shall be incompetent to testify as a witness on account of color; in all other casss the testimony of colored persons shall be excluded, unless made com-petent by future legislation."

This last clause found a little opposition, but it speedily gave way before the able argument in its lavor.

Yesterday I had a long conversation with Gov. Marvin, to whom I had a letter of in-troduction from the President, and he informed me that all of the proceedings of the convention were characterized with harmony throughout, and that no pressure from Wasington, in the shape of despatches from President Johnson or Secretary leward, was used to influence the action of delegates in the least. He informed me that there was some opposition of strength, at first, to his doctrine of admitting negro testimony in the courts, and that some of the members came pledged not to call upon him, and also came pledged to vote against the doctrine. The most prominent of these bilious gentlement was Mr. Niblack, of the Jacksonville and Lake City Railroad, but, after finding himself in an inglorious minority, he thought better of the matter and "took in his horns," and so did many others, thus vanquishing the opposition done certainly as much as was expected of her, and will come fully up to all the requirements of the government. Conse-quently, he says, considering that the State is abundantly prepared to perform all her functions as a State, he will inaugurate the newly elected Governor on the 15th inst, and will retire from the Provisional Gov-

law. which was not done until the adjournment of the Convention, it will be seen that Governor Marvin very discreetly gives all great offenders into the hands of the military authorities. The following is the proclamation: In pursuance of an authority conferred upon me by an ordinance passed by the the convention at its late session, and in compliance with a request therein contained, and in accordance with an arrangement made with the commander of the military forces of the United States in this State, I do hereby authorize the civil officers of their respective offices prior to or during the month of May, A. D. 1865, to resume the function of their respective offices, reserving, however, for the present, and until further notice, to the military authorities of the United States in this State, exclusive the United States in this State, exclusive jurisdiction and authority over offences committed by their own troops, and in the trial of all cases of rape, murder, man-slaughter, arson, burning of cotton, gin-houses or other outhouses, assaults and battery with an intent to kill or to commit any barbary burglow and mala fill and rape, robbery, burglary, and unlawful and riotous assemblages requiring a military force to suppress them; and reserving also to the Assistant Commissioner and the agent of the Freedmen's Bureau, the author-ity conferred upon them by an act of Con-gress and by General Orders issued by the War Department. And I do enjoin upon all judges, justices of the peace, sheriffs and constables to be vigilant in the discharge of their respective duties, and to harmonize and co-operate with the military authorities in the preservation of peace and good order. Given under my hand, at the Capitol, in the City of Tallahasse, this 10th day of No-vember, A. D. 1865. W1. MARVIN, Provisional Governor. The Department of Florida, which is in Gen. Sheridan's Military Division, and com-manded by Major General T. G. Foster, is divided into two districts—the Eastern Dis-trict Col. trict, Col. Sprague, and the Western Dis-trict, General Newton. At present there are but three regiments in the State—the 7th Infantry, and the 34th and 99th Colored. The 3d Colored has been mustered out during the past week, and so have the 1st and 2nd Loyal Florida Cavalry Regiments. I learn that there are hardly enough troops in the State, as there is really more territory here than in Georgia, where there are at least 10,000 soldiers. The colored soldiers have been acting very badly in this State of late, and it seems to be the opinion of officers and citizens to be the opinion of lored soldiers can be mustered out of the service and their places filled by white troops the better it will be for all concerned. There were several mutinies and emeutes of late in the 3d and 24th Colored Regiments. of late in the 3d and 24th Colored Regiments. In the former a few days ago a mutiny took place and the Colonel of the regiment was shot. The would-be, murderers, however, six in all, have been tried by military com-mission, found guilty and executed. There have been several other disturbances, and as a general thing the colored soldiers are inciting the freedmen to acts of lawlessness and Insbehavior, which, if not checked, will go far toward undoing the great good which has been done in this State by the Military Governor and the officers in charge of the Freedmen's Bureau. The two Florida regiments were mostly The two Florida regiments were mostly composed of deserters from the rebel army and refugees of Florida and the frontiers and refugees of Florida and the frontiers of neighboring States. One of the regi-ments had been two years in the service. The six colored soldiers who I stated were executed were Pennsylvanians. They were hung at Fernandina last Friday. One of them had seventeen bullets put into him before he was dead. He was finally dis-patched with a revolver in the hands of one of the officers of the 3d Colored Portmant formed them that, although, in the opinion of the President and the great majority of the people at the North, the State had not been out of the Union, yet if had placed itself in a rebellious attitude, had been con-quered by the armics of the United States, and was liable to all the penalties of treason, such as military law, confiscation, &c., &c. He explained to the people the policy of the President, and what was expected of them, and advised them to look well into and understand fully the situation. At the same time he gave the military full power, did away with all manner of civil law and held a stiff rein in the State premises gen-erally. ernorship immediately afterward. In authorizing the resumption of civil

Marvin very judiciously leaves the authors of all great crimes to the mercy of the military.

I find more real bona fids loyalty and earnestness in this State than in any which I have yet visited. The calm, dignified and intelligent manner in which the stern logic intelligent manner in which the stern logic of events has been accepted and acted upon by the convention, has been infused into the thinking and intelligent portion of the people, and is perfectly electrifying in its effects. On the general results of the issue I find but few murmurers; not that the people are stupefied into apathy or stoical indifference, but because they are deter-mined the advant themselves to direct memory. minerence, but because they are deter-mined to adapt themselves to circumstances --to be up and doing, "with a heart for any fate"—resolutely to set to work and carve out a high and bright destiny for themselves and their country, "with heart within and God o'er head," thus exempli-fring themselves as they claim to be a fying themselves, as they claim to be, a noble people—noble in all the best and grandest attributes of nobility, Loyalty means adherence and obedience to a government, with no hostile intention or purpose against the same. There are not ten men in Florida, who entertain the least symptoms of hostility against the government. But, as a general thing, the people are more than loyal. Some are patriotic in many particulars, and are doing their utmost to bring about complete harmony and chill bad temper, and to give all the privileges to the freedmen with which they have been provided by the con-stitution stitution.

There are two very good reasons—in fact, three—why Florida appears so well. One reason is, all of the officers appointed by the President are Union men, and never held office under, or countenanced in the least, the authority of the so-called Con-federate States. Besides this, all of the appointments made by Governor Marvin were judicious and praiseworthy. With the ex-ception of Judges of Probate Courts, &c., most of his appointmenis were new men, and men of strong loyal antecedents and fatter prominence for State prominence. Another reason for Florida's good conduct is the administration of affairs, as carried out by Governor Marvin; and the third reason is the patriotic course of the newspapers all over the State.

In the first place, William Marvin, a prominent Judge of the Court of the Southern District of Florida, was appointed Pro-vision Governor. He ardently opposed se-cession in all its nefarious and attractive shapes, and was to be stretched up in consamples, and was to be stretched up in con-sequence. Samuel T. Day was appointed by the President as receiver of public moneys; M. A. Williams was appointed register of public lands for the United States, for Florida. All the Collectors of Customs were men of character and influence. Paran Moody is the Collector of Customs at St. John's, and Lemuel Wilson is the Assessor of Internal Revenue for the State of Florida. Every one of these gentlemen not only opposed secession with great ve-hemence, and at the risk of personal injury. but they remained true to the last, and consistently defended the policy of our go-vernment in its attempts to crush treason and conduct peace. and conquer peace.

In the second place, we cannot too fully appreciate the course of Governor Morton in his administration of State affairs. In his first proclamation to the people he in-formed them that, although, in the opinion
