"I SEE THE LAMB!"*

BY RICHARD COE.

Our much-loved sister when she died,
By faith the Son of God descried;
And said, with fainting breath and calm,
To weeping friends—"I see the Lamb!"

Who would not walk the 'death-vale' through,
To catch so soul-inspiring view?
Who would not lie beneath the sod,
To rest so sweetly-calm on God?

O husband, chastened and subdued,
O children dear, a stricken brood;
Look up, by faith, into the skies,
And see her sainted form arise!

No more, with clay-encumbered feet,
She treads the dust-environed street;
But with angelic sandals shod,
She cleaves the purer air of God!

'Behold the Lamb!" is now the song
Of all of the bright celestial throng;
Her's was the prelude to that psalm,
The while she cried—"I see the Lamb!,'

O sister, spirit of the skies,
We gaze on Him with flesh-veiled eyes;
But thou, in heaven's unclouded light,
Canst gaze till glory dims thy sight!

'Erelong, our earth-life being done,
We, too, may see the spotless One;
And, with exultant spirits, trace
The Lamb of God in Jesus' face!

* Being the dying words of Mrs. J. C. Painter, of West Philadelphia.

CITY BULLETIN.

The Sunday Question—The Sanctity of the Sabbath Upheld.

Last evening, at the First Baptist Church, Broad and Arch streets, an adjourned meeting was held of delegates from the various Christian churches of Philadelphia, in regard to preserving the sanctity of the Sabbath.

The meeting was presided over by Hon. W. A. Porter, and Rev. H. P. P. Stevenson acted as Secretary. Rev. Mr. Cummins delivered an eloquent prayer, imploring that the Sabbath day should be preserved from all desecrations.

The following Committees were appointed.—

Committee to prepare an Address to the public on present interests, of the importance of the great subject of the sanctity of the Sabbath.—Rev. Albert Barnes, Rev. Bishop Simpson, Hon. William Strong, Charles Macalester, Thos. H. Powers.

Committee to call on his Honor the Mayor—George H. Stuart, Rev. Alfred Cookman, Rev. J. Wheaton Smith, D.D., Morris Patterson, Lemuel Coffin.

Committee of Nine in regard to Legislation.—Hon. James Pollock, Rev. George Junkin, D. D., Herman Cope, Wm. Welsh, Samuel G. Thompson, John Boardman, William Getty, Thomas Wattsen, Colson Hieskill.

If any vacancies should occur on the Committees, each committee shall have power to fill them and to appoint a Chairman in place of any unable to serve.

Hon. William A. Porter, Rev. Mr. Cookman, Rev. John Chambers, and Mr. Barratt severally addressed the meeting.

The following resolution was offered:

Resolved, That in the judgment of this meeting the running of passenger cars on the Sabbath is a violation of the sanctity of the day.

Rev. Dr. Junkin followed eloquently and learnedly, advocating the holiness of the Sabbath. The Lord, in the thunder of Mount Sinai, had given the fourth commandment, not to keep holy the seventh day, but to keep holy the Sabbath day. Works of necessity or mercy no Christian man ever desires to have discarded on that day; but this clamor about the poor is needless, when all the churches in this city especially care for them. He contended that the Sabbath was made for the good of man, by securing even the poorest and most dependent from oppression.

The question was carried with but one dissenting voice.

Rev. Dr. Brainerd moved that a committee of nine be appointed to whom the general interest of this subject should be intrusted. He did not like the aspect the subject had taken in regard to the opposition being concentrated on one individual. The question was a broad question of gospel truth and teachings. As this was a question in which the undying interests of unborn millions were involved, he would have the question of responsibility placed upon the laymen, the great merchants and manufacturers of our State. Let them fight for the Sabbath, not the clergy alone, against whom can be arrayed the vilest elements of degradation. Let the question be started on a broad basis, that the Christain laymen of Pennsylvania may sanctify the Sabbath, and make it unpopular for any public man of reputation to prostitute it.

A motion was made to increase the Committee to twenty-four, composed equally of laymen and clergy, to prepare for public meetings, to be presided over mainly by laymen, with power to form a permanent organization, and to be addressed on the question of the Sabbath by clergy, especially appointed.

It was accepted as an amendment by Dr. Brainerd.

Rev. J. Wheaton Smith, Rev. John Chambers, and D. Steinmetz followed. The latter advocated the union of members of every Church in the country on this point. He held in his hand a book about the Sabbath, written charmingly by an able writer, to destroy the holiness of the day. It declares that the Sabbath day made more crimes; that the increase of churches made an increase of criminals. In his pager John W. Forney has approvingly quoted from this work, and upon the very title page of the book his name occurs.

Rev. Dr. Musgrave had believed it to be his duty not only to give up his subscription to a Sunday paper, but to advise from his pulpit his congregation to do the same. He regretted the declaration of Mayor Henry that the laws were powerless to prevent Sabbath desecration; he was sorry that every rumseller had now an official declaration that the law is powerless against him.

The resolution to appoint a committee of twelve was unanimously adopted.

On motion of Dr. Brainerd, Rev. J. Wheaton Smith was requested to prepare a tract, to be printed and circulated throughout the city, treating of the sanctity of the Sabbath.

A motion to confer with the established Sabbath associations of the city was rejected.

A motion was offered that when the meetins adjourn it be to meet at this church on Thursday night week. Adopted.

On motion, the committee was authorized to report on the permanent organization at the next meeting.

The meeting then adjourned.

SALE OF HOSPITAL FURNITURE, ETC.—The furniture and equipments of the Mower Hospital at Chestnut Hill, have been disposed of at auction. This hospital was one of the largest and most complete in the country. There were fifty distinct wards for patients, each capable of accommodating from sixty to eighty beds, and numerous other spacious buildings for the storage of supplies and the quarters of officers and attendants. This immense establishment was erected under the personal supervision of Dr. Joseph Hopkinson, who remained at the hospital as Surgeon-in-charge until his decease. Every part of the hospital was arranged with a view to comfort and convenience, and every department was so organized as to work with the highest degree of efficiency. During the time the hospital was in operation upwards of twenty-two thousand patients were treated—the greatest number at any one time being about four thousand, which was after the hard fighting of Grant's campaign beyond the Rappahannock.

The sale was conducted by M. Thomas & Sons, Auctioneers. The attendance of purchasers was very fair, but everything went off at remarkably low prices. White bed blankets, somewhat soiled, sold by the hundred at $1 50 to $1 70 each; linen pillow-cases at about 22 cents; muslin sheets at 58 cents; woolen dressing-gowns at 11½ cents, and new cotton shirts at 13 cents each; delf bowls and mugs by the thousand at from 1 to 3 cts. each; 3,481 white dinner plates in one lot for two cents apiece; a large lot of clothes-line for $71; about 6,000 knives and forks at 9 cts. a pair; over 6,000 spoons at a cent a piece; 230 small mirrors at 8 cents each. The wooden pulpit was sold for $1 75; fifteen large tin milk receivers, worth not less than $15 to $20 each, sold together for about $1 50 a piece; medicine and dispensary bottles, many of them valuable, at a cent or two each by the thousand; a steam ice cream freezer for $90; a splendid new garrison flag, forty feet long for $40; a lot of printing materials for $125; Dr. Hopkinson's desk and chair for $18 and $6 50 respectively; numerous other desks for $4 to $12 each, by the lot; a flag staff, 110 feet high, for $12, and one eighty feet high for $4; and so on through the catalogue. Mower Hospital now wears a desolate appearance. It is still in charge of the military authorities, but the buildings will soon be sold at auction and removed, and the ground occupied restored to the possession of its owner.

CHESTNUT STREET IMPROVEMENTS.—The two large buildings No. 1301 and 1303 Chestnut street, corner of Thirteenth street, formerly the residence of Mr. F. Fotterall, deceased, are now being altered by George J. Henkels, the celebrated cabinet maker. Mr. H. intends to occupy both buildings for his business. The improvement will be a great addition to the vicinity. The store will be nearly 60 feet on Chestnut street, and 100 feet on Thirteenth street, to a small street. The store now occupied by Mr. Henkels, 809 and 811 Chestnut street, is to be altered for the National Deposit Bank. The Girard Trust are now altering one of the dwellings in Girard Row, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, and intend changing this whole handsome row of dwellings into stores. The store now being prepared for Mr. Henkels will be the largest and most complete establishment for furniture in this city. We wish him all success for his enterprise.

GERMAN SOCIETY OF PHILADELPHIA.—This society held its one hundred and first annual meeting yesterday afternoon. The agent's report shows that during the year employment had been procured for 166 persons; relief to adults, 486; relief to adults with children, 657; into the hospital 20 grown persons were placed, and 31 persons received gratuitous medical aid. Entire number of applicants for relief, 1,360. The library connected with the association numbers over 12,000 books, in the German and English languages. The society is in a prosperous condition.

HOLIDAY SALE OF PAINTINGS.—The sale of the fine collection of Oil Paintings, suitable for holiday presents, will commence this evening at 7½ o'clock, at Scott's Gallery, 1020 Chestnut street, and comprises the finest assortment that have yet been offered for sale in this city, and embraces about 300 choice subjects by C. A. Sommers, North, T. Veed, Robert, Paul Ritter, and others. They are all from the American Art Gallery, New York, and richly mounted in fine gold leaf frames. All desirous of obtaining a good painting should attend this sale.

BEDFORD STREET MISSION.—At the Bedford Street Mission, Christmas was pleasantly celebrated. The children, to the number of nearly three hundred, were assembled in the rooms of the mission, all looking clean and neat. The rooms were decorated with evergreens, etc. During the morning several addresses were made, and hymns sung by the children. The entertainment concluded by a grand banquet for the children.

NEVADA SILVER-MINING.—A full prospectus of the "Macedon Silver-Mining Company of Nevada" has just been issued, copies of which may be obtained at the principal office, 809 Chestnut street. In addition to a full description of the mines belonging to the Company, it contains a large amount of reliable and interesting information relating to the silver-mining interests of Nevada in general.

HEAVY ROBBERY.—Yesterday it was discovered that $39,000 in bonds deposited in the First National Bank, last November, by Mr. Serrill, a broker, had been called for and removed by a person who sometimes acted for Mr. S. This individual is not to be found. The matter is the hands of the police.

SAMUEL S. FETHERSTON & CO.,
270 South Second street, above Spruce.

ELEGANT FURS FOR PRESENTS.—Messrs. A. K. & F. K. Womrath, No. 415 Arch street, have a splendid stock of Russia Sable, Mink Sable, Chinchilla and Royal Ermine Furs, in set at comparatively reasonable prices. A number of their magnificent sets, ranging in some instances as high as two thousand dollars, have been sold to their customers for presents during the past week, and "the cry is, still they come." The extent and character of this expensive class of furs offered by the Messrs. Womrath may be inferred from the fact that, in addition to their own enormous trade here, they have been obliged to supply the principal Furriers of New York from their own importations.

TRY AGAIN.—Most persons, once imposed on, are suspicious. Caution is needed in these times to escape humbug, and the certainty of being victimized. Jules Hauel's Eau Lustrale Hair Restorative is an infallible remedy for baldness. All those who have either lost their Hair, or are becoming bald, should try this delectable preparation, whose effects are miraculous. Sold by all Druggists, and at the Laboratory of Eugene Bize & Fricke, successors to Jules Hauel & Co., Perfumers and Importers, 930 Arch street, Philadelphia.

THE FRENCH are rarely willing to admit that Parisian skill can be surpassed in the manufacture of articles of taste and luxury, and yet Phalon's "Night-Blooming Cereus" has been adopted by the leading French families here as superior to any of the floral extracts put up in Paris. Sold everywhere.

CLOTHING FOR HOLIDAY PRESENTS.—Messrs. C. Somers & Son, No. 635 Chestnut street, under Jayne's Hall, have reduced the prices of their elegant stock of ready-made clothing, so as to place them within reach of all. If the benevolent will bear this in mind and take those to whom a new suit of clothing would be a blessing to this popular old establishment, and have them suited in a garment, they will be doing good to others, and find a real pleasure in the act of giving.

THE NEW SKATING HAT of Wood & Carey, 725 Chestnut street, is pretty, stylish, tasteful—just the idea for the Park, and sold at moderate price. W. & C. are closing out their stock of Winter Hats and Bonnets at and below cost.

NO ACCOUNTING FOR TASTES.—Voltaire's old dressing gown sold in Paris recently for 990 francs. If a Frenchman chooses to pay 990 francs for an old dressing gown we presume that it is nobody's business but his own. For our part, we would prefer to invest a considerably less sum and procure for it an elegant full suit from the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth.

FINE HOLIDAY CONFECTIONS.—The present holiday season is marked with the finest achievments of the confectioner's art. Mr. August Tillmes, the popular dealer, at No. 936 South Ninth street, presents a gorgeous array of articles in his line, which for beauty of design, and excellence of material, cannot be surpassed. His assortment of bon-bons comprise over forty different kinds, and in connection with a brilliant and endless variety of Cream almonds, French Nougat, Cream Chocolates, Roasted Jordan Almonds, Sugar Plums, Plain and French Secrets, Candied Fruits, etc., renders this establishment a most attractive resort for all in quest of fine confectionery. We might state in addition that Mr Tillmes uses only the best qualities of sugar in the manufacture of the above articles.

SHOCKING BAD WEATHER.—The holidays have been decidedly dampened by the opening of the windows of heaven, and umbrellas, wet feet and damp clothes are the order of the day. To cure these evils that flesh and wardrobes are heir to, have good coal fires, made of the anthracite or bituminous article so do so very cheap by W. W. Alter, No. 957 North Ninth street.

BUY ME ONE.—Coming out of the Circus the other night we heard a gentleman exclaim, "what beautiful Meerschaums," and on turning to see what was so much admired, we found it was Wiley & Brothers' elegant display at Eighth and Walnut streets. To finish the story we recognized in the couple who were of like opinion with ourselves, a newly wedded pair—"Buy me one, dear," was the husband's endearing request—"I will, George," was the reply. Now that was a sensible loving woman, she would make a home a paradise. We envy the man that possesses such a wife. Ladies patronize Wiley's and make loving husbands and beaus.

GLOVES! GLOVES!! GLOVES!!!—Of fur, buck cloth, kid, silk, cotton, lined and without lining, all sizes and qualities. Largest stock in the city, and selling at reduced rates to suit holiday buyers. Call and examine them, at Henry Atkinson's, No. 620 Chestnut street.

HOUSEKEEPERS will find at Farson & Co.'s, 222 Dock street, below Walnut, ironing tables, tubs, buckets, tinware, cutlery, tea trays, etc., at moderate prices.

WRIST COMFORTS, mufflers, gauntlets, driving-gloves, and other goods suitable for skating sleighing, etc., in great variety, and at low prices, at Henry Atkinson's Gents' Furnishing Bazaar, No. 620 Chestnut street, below Seventh, south side.

HOSIERY! HOSIERY!! HOSIERY!!!—Heavy undershirts and drawers, of lambs' wool, shaker-knit merino, cotton, etc., all sizes and qualities, at Henry Atkinson's, 620 Chestnut street.

CHRISTMAS, 1865.

A merry, merry Christmas;
To crown the closing year;
Peace and good will to mortals,
And words of holy cheer.

What though the dreary landscape
Be roued in drifting snow,
If on the social hearthstone
The Christmas fire may glow?

What, though the winds, at evening,
B ow hare o'er land and sea,
If eager hands pull joyful
Light up the Christmas tree?

With Peace serene and beautiful
The waning year shall shine,
And Christmas crown this twelvemonth
With light and joy divine.

SCARLET SPIRIT.
WOOD MINSTRELS ETC., ETC.
Each performance will also be enriched by one or more of Mr. ROBERT HELLER'S great
PIANO FORTE SOLOS,
Executed upon the celebrated grand Piano Forte manufactured by Steinway & Sons, New York, and sent expressly by that firm for Mr. Heller's entertainments. Notwithstanding the enormous expense attendant upon the engagement, the management has resolved upon limiting the prices of admission to the same figure charged by Mr. Heller at the Salle Diabolique, New York, viz:
GENERAL ADMISSION, 50 cents. Reserved seats, commanding near view of the stage, and particularly of the keys of the piano forte, 75 cents.
The sale of seats will be commenced TO-MORROW (Thursday), December 28, at the Music Store of Mr. CHARLES W. A. TRUMPLER, southeast corner of Seventh and Chestnut streets.
Seats may be secured three days in advance.
Office open from 9 A. M. till 5 o'clock P. M. daily.
Further particulars will be duly announced. 1t§
