Hark! from the piano coming. Sounds that never came before! Now the busy bee is humming, Now the ocean's hoarsest roar: Now the music-box's tinkle Leaps upon the wondering ear; Now the gentle, showery sprinkle Shows the coming storm is near; Hear the rushing rain-drops falling, Heavy on the forest leaves; Hear the thunderstorm appalling; Hear the dashing from the eaves; Hear "John Brown," hear "Fisher's Hornpipe." "Hail Columbia," three in one; Each distinct, and yet all mingled, By Apollo's gifted son. Hear the whistling locomotive, Hear the rumbling of the train; Hear the pausing at the station. Hear the going on again : Hear the snow-bird on the ash-pan, Hear the oddities that throng Round the doleful hurdy-gurdy, And the beggar's screeching song. Hear all these, and more and richer. Where are all these wonders from? From the chords of the piano, And the fingers of Blind Tom.

Handsome Testimonial. The last soldier attached to the Corn Excharge Regiments having been mustered out of service, the Military Committee of that Association held their final meeting at 12 o'clock to-day, and concluded their labors by presenting to Samuel L. Ward. Esq., their Treasurer, a handsome gold watch, valued at $500. Seth J. Comly, Esq., the Objective of the Computer work, etc. the Chairman of the Committee, made a few eloquent remarks, in which he referred to what had been accomplished by the Government during the past four years, and what the members of the Corn Exchange Association had contributed towards the suppression of the rebellion. He was followed by A. G. Cattell, Esq., who said: The Regimental Committee of the Corn Exchange Association are now assembled probably for the last time, and the object of this meeting is to present to you a testimo-nial of their high approbation of the faith-ful manner in which you have performed the arduous duties of Treasurer for the Committee.

This committee was the offspring of the loyal heart of the Corn Exchange Associa-tion of Philadelphia. When the treason of the South culminated in open rebellion, and the story flog that mendoens for the story flog the starry flag that waved over Sumter was trailed in the dust, you will remember how, upon its first announcement, we laid aside our samples, ceased buying and selling, and gathering around the rostrum, resolved, with one voice, to throw the banner of our country to the breeze in front of the hall, and pledged ourselves to keep it floating there until the brave hearts and stout arms of our "boys in blue" should plant it again on the blackened walls of Fort Sumter. And we have been faithful to our pledge. Nor did the patriotism of this body expend itself in words. Men were needed for the defence of our country, to maintain the honor of our flag and to prevent the dis-memberment of our glorious Union.

This Association promptly determined to embody their patriotism in a practical shape, by raising under its auspices and placing in the field, at least one Regiment of Infantry.
