XXXIXth CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION.

LOSE OF TESTEBDAY'S PROCEEDINGS

House.-On motion of Mr. Banks (Mass.) it was resolved that the Committee of Way and Means be instructed to inquire into the expediency of exempting from internal duty the manufacture of crutches and artificia limbs, which is now an onerous tax on disabled soldiers. Mr. Davis (N. Y.) offered a resolution that the House cherishes confidence in the President of the United States, and in his desire to restore the Union on the basis of permanent prosperity and peace, and the co-operation of this House is pledged to him in support of the general policy of recon-struction inaugurated by him in all modes, authorized by the Constitution and consist-ent with the security of republican institu-What had the citizens of the District of Columbia done to make them the victims of ent with the security of republican institusuch legislation? tions. A debate arising, the resolution lies over. On motion of Mr. Conkling (N. Y.), it was resolved that the President of the United States be requested, if not incompatible with the public interests, to communicate any report made by the Judge Advocate-General as to the grounds, facts and accusations on which Jefferson Davis, Clement C. Clay, Stephen R. Mallory and David S. Yates, or either of them, are held in confinement, Mr. Brandagee (Conn.) introduced a bill, thorizing the construction of a penitentiary, jail or house of correction in the District o Columbia, which was referred to the Com-mittee for the District.

On motion of Mr. Moniton(III.), a resolution was passed; requesting the President, if not incompatible, with the public in terests, to communicate to this House why Jefferson Davis, who is said to be confined at Fortress Monroe, has not been tried for treason against the Government; and, if any, what obstacles are in the way of speedy trial of this great criminal. On motion of Mr. Randall (Ky.), a resolution was adopted calling for information in relation to the Imperial Express Company, organized in New York under the authority of the so-called Emperor of Mexico. La carry on contraband or other trade, between Mexico and the United States. The House referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs the resolution heretofore offered by Mr. Van Horn, (Mo.), di-recting that Committee to inquire into and report what measures and means may he necessary, on the part of the United States, to restore to the Mexican people the free and unrestricted right to choose their own form of government, and of giving effect to the unanimous voice of the people of this nation that no foreign power shall impose despotic government upon any State or people on this continent. The House referred to the Committee on Reconstruction the resolution offered by Mr. Noell (Mo.), declaring that the House of Representatives will not exclude the members of Congress elected in any of the States recently in rebellion, because of the fact that the negroes, as a class, were ex-cluded from voting at the election of said members.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the resolution of Mr. Eldridge (Wis.), namely, that there is no warrant or authority in the Constitution of the United States for any State or States to secede, and or for that purpose, are absolutely null and woid, and that the war having defeated the attempt to thus divide and break up the Union, it is of vital importance to the re-public, and to all the States thereof, that the itates recently in revolt, and each and every one of them, should resume their appro priate and constitutional functions in the Union without delay, and to this end, and aside all party feeling and all perlaying laying aside all party leeing and all per-sonal and other animosity, waiving all minor differences, and seeking earnestly to maintain and preserve the Union of our fathers, we will cordially sustain and sup-

The bill was intended to inaugurate the first act in the political drama to culminate in perfect equality of the races. Constitutional amendments with this view have already Two shafts have been sunk on this property, one o them 80 feet, the other 60 feet, on different veins averaging from two to three feet in thickness, which averaging from two to intrespect in infections, which veins still continue on down increasing in width and richness. These shafts are in good order, and ore can be readily taken out at any time. Other veins have been discovered on this property, and tested and proved to be very rich in gold. The area of this mine are known as the brown ore, and very rich, yielding readily $10 per bushel. This is believed to be one of the best and meet certain mines further State. on account of the been introduced. The objects of the leade of the Republican party were no longer con cealed, and if there was anything to admire it was the ability and candor with which they pressed their schemes. Mr. Hale offered an amendment to recommost certain mines in the State, on account of the abundance and quality of the ore, and ease in which it is obtained and reduced. This property has been mit the bill to the Committee on the Judiciary, with instruction so to extend the worked by Major Z. A. Grier from 1840 to the breakin right of suffrage as to confer it upon all who out of the war. This Company have purchased this property, and intend to erect machinery and put the mines in immediate operation. The many advantages can read the Constitution of the United States, those assessed for taxes on real or personal property within the District of Co-lumbia, those who served in and were of this mine over the mines of Colorado and Nevad can hardly be estimated. It is more readily reached lumbia, those who served in and were honorably discharged from the military or and has abundance of fuel, with cheap labor. in any and all constitu bolieving that thereby the political, com-mercial, financial and general prosperity of the whole country will be most substan-ticily and permeantly approach tially and permanently subserved. The Speaker decided that the resolution must be referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. Eldridge, who wanted a direct vote on his resolution, appealed from the deci-sion of the Chair; but a motion was made and carried to lay the appeal on the table.

Yeas, 119; nays, 28. The resolution was referred.

On motion of Mr. Smith (Ky.) Mr. Fuller (Pa.) contesting the seat of Mr. Dawson, was allowed the privilege of the floor pending the subject. The House proceeded to the consideration of the bill heretofore introduced by Mr. Wilson (Iowa), extending the right of suf-frage in the District of Columbia, by striking out from all laws and municipal statutes the word ' 'lite.'

Mr. Wilson (Iowa) moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on the Judiciary. He said the exclusive jurisdiction of Con-gress over this District was unquestioned, and it was their right to exercise it. The language of the Constitution was a broad and comprehensive grant of power to pass this bill. He expressed the hope that the example now to be set will induce the States of the Union to so legislate as to develop a perfect republic. The Constitution of the United States seemed to invite the passage of this bill, and that instrument disregards distinctions entirely. Therefore let us breathe the breath of life into at least the laws of this District. Why should the color of a man's skin deprive him of the right of defence? The natural law made no dis tinction, and why should the civil? Were not man's rights as sacred in the civil Go-vernment as in the absence of it? Hence to exclude negroes from civil rights finds no warrant in reason or justice. Was there, he asked, a worse governed city in the country than Washington? Where were the Union's defenders here at the breaking out of the rebellion? Fidelity to the Government was then at low ebb. and sympathy was expressed with the rebellion. Freedom was no more hated elsewhere than here, and emancipation opposed. The social element in this District fostered a band of traitors. A few days ago a special election was held in Washington to test the sense of the people on the subject of negro suffrage. The friends of equal suffrage did suffrage. The friends of equal suffrage did not vote. Between six and seven thousand votes were given against the extension of suffrage. How many of them were fraudu-lent he could not tell. He had no doubt a large majority of those loved slavery and baked freedom. They loved to vota them. haved freedom. They loved to vote them-selves, but were not willing to extend the privilege to others. Some of the citizens were willing to surrender the charter and were willing to surrender the charter and give up suffrage, but the remedy was not to disfranchise, but to extend the privi-lege of suffrage to those who will use it. He would not be vindictive, but would be just. There should be no class legislation and privileges. Let the laws be just and uniform. No traitor breathed here in this capital with a black skin. All the traitors, from Wirz to Davis, had white faces. Three thousand five hun-dred and forty-nine black men marched from this District in defence of our country. They were true to the Government, and why should we not be true to them? In the course of his remarks, Mr. Wilson said that, according to the census of 1860, there were fourteen thousand three hundred and sixwhich time the number has been increased. They own one million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars' worth of real estate. Their church property is valued at one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars. The twenty one churches are supported at a cost him. In reply to his colleague (Mr. Boyer), he said when the war was inaugurated scarcely a good man belonging to the District of Columbia covid be found to volunteer in defence of the capitol, but men were entrapped from other States. On the subject of suffrage, he asked if the returning rebels were given their right to vote, why should not suffrage be conferred on the colored patriots who fought for us? The President had publicly said that if he were in Ten-nessee he would favor the extension of
