THE NEW BANKING-HOUSE OF MESSES. JAY COOKE & Co.—The opening of the new, splendid and spacious banking-house of Messrs. Jay Cooke & Co., No. 112 South Third street, is an event in that portion of the city. The firm took possession of their handsome quarters in the early part of the present week and they have the finest banking room in the city. A feature of the concern that is an evidence of the liberality and sound judgment of the members of the firm is the kitchen department in the base-ment. There is a handsome dining room where all connected with the establishment ment. There is a handsome dining room where all connected with the establishment take their dinners daily and where gentlemen doing business with the honse can be hospitably entertained. There is also a kitchen with a corps of cooks and assistant cooks connected with the dining department, and judging from the indica-cations of good cheer, we saw there on the occasion of a recent visit, Messrs. Jay Cooke & Co, would be as competent to keep Cooke & Co. would be as competent to keep a hotel as they have shown themselves ex-The architectural revolution that has been effected in the old quarters of the BULLETIN is so complete that it is difficult to realize that it is the old spot. The entire interior of the lower portion of the structure has been remodeled, and the metamorphosis has been effected under the supervision of Mr. Thomas Henderson, the builder, in a style that does credit to his mechanical skill and his watchful eare skill and his watchful care. THE SKATING PARKS .- Yesterday was glorious for the skaters. Crowds of men, women and children poured through every avenue to the different parks. The Phila-delphia Park, at Thirty-first and Walnut streets, was deservedly favored, for the ice was like a sea of glass, without the least roughness. The preparation for skating at this park has been reduced to a perfect sys-tem. Sixteen men, with horses and new in-ventions for smoothing ice, are employed day and night. Those who desire good in-structors or models in the art of skating, find grace and boldness combined in the brothers Edward and William Van Hook, and they are easily found, for, wherever glorious for the skaters. Crowds of men, brothers Edward and William Van Hook, and they are easily found, for, wherever they are, assisting others or gyrating for their own anusement, a circle is formed of admiring friends and scholars. Large well-heated dressing-rooms, refreshments of all descriptions, a fine band of music and polite attendants make the Philadelphia Park re-markable attractive and the mart thread markably attractive, and the most timid and delicate soon learn to strike out with the whirl of gayety and excitement on the ice. SAD CASE OF DROWNING .- Miss Mary Byram residing on Sellers street, Frank-ford, went into the cellar yesterday afterlonger than was necessary and a search was made. In the cellar there is a well about eight feet in depth and in this the body of Miss Byram was found. The body body of Miss Byram was found. The body was still warm but all efforts to resuscitate the unfortunate young lady were unavail-ing. Miss Byram has been laboring under temporary derangement for some time. A week or two since she was missed from her home, and was then found in the word between two barrels almost form to yard between two barrels, almost frozen to death. BANK DIRECTORS .- The following addisince actual nostilities ceased. Secretary of War. ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S OFFICH, Jan, 4, 1866.—To the President—SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt from you of a copy of the resolution of the Senate of the United States, of date the 21st of Decem-ber, 1865. In that resolution the Senate respectfully request to be informed upon what charges and for what reasons Jefferson Davis is still held in confinement, and why he has not been put upon his trial. When the war was at its crisis, Jefferson Davis, the Commander-in-Chief of the army of the insurgents, was taken prisoner, with other prominent rebels, by the military forces of the United States. It was the duty of the military so to take them. They have been heretofore and are yet held as prisoners of war. Though active hostilities have ceased, a state of war still exists of the territory in rebellion. Until peace shall come in fact and in law, they can rightfully be held as prisoners of war. I have ever thought that trials for treason cannot be held before a military tribunal. The civil Courts have alone jurisdiction of that crime. The question then rises, where and when must the trials thereof be held? In that clause of the Constitution mentioned in the resolution of the Seneta it is noising in the resolution of the Senate, it is plainly written that they must be held in the State and District wherein the crime shall have been committed. I know that many per-sons of learning and ability entertain the opinion that the Commander-in-Chief of the rebel armies should be regarded as constructionally present with all the insur-gents who prosecuted hostilities and made raids upon the Northern and Southern borders of the loyal States.

This doctrine of constructive presence, carried out to its logical consequence, would make all who had been connected with the rebel armies liable to trial in any State and district into which any portion of these armies had made the slightest incursion. Not being persuaded of the correctness of the content in the correctness of that opinion, but regarding the doctrine mentioned as if doubtful, constitutionally, I have thought it not proper to advise you to cause criminal proceedings to be insti-tuted against Jefferson Davis, or any other insurgent in the States or districts in which they were not actually present during the prosecution of hostilities. Some prominent rebels were personally

Some prominent rebels were personally present at the invasion of Maryland and Pennsylvania, but all or nearly all of them received military paroles upon the surrender of the rebel armies. Whilst I think that those paroles are not an ultimate protection for prosecutions for high treason, I have thought that it would be a violation of the paroles to prosecute those persons for crimes before the political power of the Government has proclaimed that the rebel-lion has been suppressed.

Bovernment has proclamed that the reper-lion has been suppressed. It follows, from what I have said, that I am of the opinion that Jefferson Davis and others of the insurgents ought to be tried in some one of the States or Districts in which some one of the States of Districts in which they may be charged. Though active hostilities and flagrant war have not for some time existed between the United States and the insurgents, peaceful relations between the Government and the people in the States and districts in rebellion have not wat hear fully restored. None of the Los yet been fully restored. None of the Jus-tices of the Supreme Court have held Cir-cuit Courts in those States and districts when the courts are open and all laws can
