HOW TO COMMENCE THE NEW YEAR. All the world (and his wife) are said to be in the pursuit of happiness. Men wish to be happy, and women too, and most of them be nappy, and women too, and most of them might be happier than they are by practis-ing a little more simple philosophy. On the first of every January, the time-honored congratulation between friends, and even mere acquaintances, is "Happy New Year to you!" It is in order to make this greet-ing metric and the two are about to ining more practical that we are about to in-dite this article for the benefit of old and young people of all sorts in general, and newly married couples in particular. First, It is impossible for people to be happy unless they are comfortable; and (inst new essentially) they connect be comhappy unless they are comfortable, and (just now especially) they cannot be com-fortable without proper facilities for keep-ing warm. Every right-minded man, who has a family, is interested in making his home, so far as practicable, the most com-fortable place in the world, and the first esfortable place in the world, and the first essential to comfort and health in every dwelling is an agreeable temperature. Young people setting out in married life cannot be too particular in attending to these primary too particular in attenuing to these primary physical comforts. This suggestion, we may remark incidentally, has a wide appli-eation, judging from the current list of marriage notices as published in our daily papers. The hymeneal altar has seldom been hon-ored with a more devoted throng than now; and what we wish to impress earnestly upon the minds and hearts of these candidates for domestic bliss (or at least those of them who expect to begin housekeeping) is the importance of supplying their homes first with one of Mr. James Spear's anti-dust cook stoyes, or one of his celebrated ranges, in order that the cooking may be well done, for where this goes wrong people might as well keep up "wash-day" all through the week. Nor can the parlor be warned most per-fectly without the aid of one of Mr. Spear's heaters, or one of his celebrated anti-dust parlor stoves. The "Anti-dust Cook" referred to sieves to this block, next spring, and in addition to all these, will build forty-four more on its own ashes, makes no dust in the kitchen, economizes fuel, is the best baker in the world, and has more conveniences than any other stove in use, and is well worth a visit Alden street as soon as the season opens. Mr. John Davy is building a row of large three story buildings on Fifteenth street, extending south from Oxford street, part of of inspection at the ware rooms of Mr. Spear, Nos. 1116 and 1118 Market street.

Nos. 1116 and 1118 Market street. We make the above suggestion to young housekeepers, and appeal to older folks whether it is not a good one. The merits of Mr. Spear's stoves are so well known that his capabilities for making them is the only limit to their sale. Know-ing this menu of our citizans who purpose them is the only limit to their sale. Know-ing this, many of our citizens who purpose commencing housekeeping in the spring-are already giving Mr. Spear their orders, which is really necessary in order to avoid delay in being supplied. The re-opening of our trade with all parts of the Union made such a draft upon these popular stoves and ranges that Mr. Spear, some weeks ago requested, as a favor, that we should cease requested, as a favor, that we should cease alluding to them in these columns, until he was better prepared to meet the demand; and our reason for taking this liberty now is to inform the people of the advantage of giving their orders to Mr. Spear as carly as possible, in order to save disappointment. We may also state that the present is We may also state that the present is a good time to purchase, as the indications all point to a further advance in prices. We cannot withhold our opinion that the stovedealers of this city are a most self-sacrificing set of men, in which they stand in enviable contrast with many others, of whom the market people afford a flagrant example. contrast with many ontons, or market people afford a flagrant example. Mr. Spear, for instance, is now paying forty-five cents per pound for his Russia iron, being a higher figure than the article com-manded when gold was 280. Compared with this advance in material, his advance in the selling price of his stoves over the ante-war rates is trifling. And he seems determined, with characteristic energy and business tact, to maintain these reasonable Prices. He has already, in view of a further rise in the cost of iron, on account of the very limited importation, purchased the entire stock of several of the largest importers of the air and Thompson streets; fifteen more in the cost of iron, on account of the very limited importation, purchased the entire

THE TIME TO BUY MUSLINS, AND WHERE THE FENIANS CLASP HANDS!—The Grand Centrifugal Resolutions among the Centres is now at an end, O'Mabouy is Head Centre (sa sary $2,00). Mr. Roberts, late President, with his Senate, is "left out in the cold," and very cold it was, and all Congresses, Presidents, Senators and Representatives, and the peraphernalia of a Provisional Government are abo-lish d, and the Fenians return again to the beginning of the work. A most remarkable hing about the new organization is the smallness of the salarles. The Sec-retary of the Treasury who is to handle mildons, and give security to the amount of $500,000, is to receive a salary of $1,500, others $1,000, and some $500. Surely, if this Connell wants to make a decent show among the veople, they must, one and all, buy their clothing at Churles Stokes & Co.'s one-price, under the Continen-tal, in this city. THE TIME TO BUY MUSLINS, AND WHERE TO BUY THEM.—We need not inform expe-rienced housekeepers that the month of January is a good time to buy Muslins, in order to anticipate, as much as possible, the necessary Spring Sewing. There is, how-ever, this reason, a double reason, for. ob-serving this rule, the probability being that in a short time prices will be higher than rapidly increasing the number of dweilings in the northern part of the city. On Tenth street, above Columbia avenue, he is erect-ing five three-story houses. On Ninth street, above Montgomery avenue, fifteen are going up—ten two-story and five three-story. He has recently finished nine two-story. He has recently finished nine twoin a short time prices will be higher than now by a considerable percentage. The well-known old Dry Goods house of Messrs. Cooper & Conard, Ninth and Market streets, as usual, leads the van in this importan story. He has recently finished nine two-atory houses, fronting the Germantown Railroad, running south from Burk street, and two larger buildings on Ninth street, corner Burk. We are informed that this gentleman designs putting up a number of additional dwellings in the spring. Indeed, we were unable to obtain the spring. Indeed, we sent building operations which are said to department of staples, having purchased heavily when muslins were at their lowest figures, and being determined to give their customers the advantage of this fact until their present supply is exhausted. time in the attempt to keep the ice broken, would provide safe and expeditious transit for their goods over the Cape May and West Jersey Railroads. Efforts are now in progress by influential gentlemen, to secure a sate landing, with all necessary wharfage, on the Bay side of Cape Island, at or near the present steamboat landing, where vessels can discharge their cargoes. From these wharves a railroad track will likewise be laid, connecting with the Cape May road, thus affording ample facilities for immediate transportation of said goods to their owners in Philadelphia. This enterprise is important in every respect. and the amount of capital necessary to complete it is of little account when compared with the great advantages it will con-ier. It is one which certainly deserves serious consideration, and which cannot fail to advance both the interests of South Jersey and Philadelphia business men, alike. The railroad company design at an early day to xtend their track to that point, and it would * well for merchants to aid in building the ht cessary wharves and safe harbor for their vessels to land their cargoes at. CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL.-The annual meeting of the contributors to this institution was held yesterday afternoon. During 1865, 4,535 cases were treated at the dispen-sary; 69 children were admitted into the hospital, 30 being the largest number at one time, owing to a want of sufficient means to accominodations. The expenditures were $4,354, and a balance of $1,034 remains in the Treasurer's hands for 1866, thus leaving part of the current expenses of the coming year to be supplied by the liberality of the public. In the spring the association will build a more commodious hospital on the east side of Twenty-second street, above the east side of Twenty-Second street, above Locust, having a lot 76½ feet frontage by 188 feet in depth. The building will be a plain, substantial brick structure, two-storied, with basement, 64 feet front by 50 deep, faced with brown stone, with a capacity for 30 beds, and so constructed as to allow the so beens, and so constructed as to allow the addition of wings, should proper encourage-ment be extended. The amount to the credit of the building fund is $19,000, and it is particularly desirable that further contributions should be received.

Mr. Joseph Singerly is constructing a very large mansion at the corner of Jeffer-son and Broad streets. This will be one among the most attractive buildings on that handsome theoroughere as well for the handsome thoroughfare, as well for the extent of its dimensions, as for the beauty of its finish. We do not believe that, in the whole history of Philadelphia, the same evidences of the rapid growth of the city were ever so manifest. Especially is this the case in the north and west end. It would be impossible to compute the amount of capital in-vested, or the number of hands employed, in the work now going on in midwinter, and without cessation during the extreme cold weather we have just experienced. In every direction cellars are being excavated, lumber, brick and stone are piled up; and every indication is afforded, that the most extensive building operations will be car-ried on as soon as the season opens.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY.—A woman, named Annie Wolf, living at No. 223 Spruce street, had a hearing before Alderman Beitler, yesterday afternoon, charged with the larceny of $785, in money, and a gold watch and chain, valued at $825, the property of Mr. James Jerome, residing in Delaware county, near Media. Mr. Jerome testified that he gave the money to Miss Wolf, on Wednesday evening, for safe keep-ing. When he asked for the money she denied receiving it. The watch and chain were stolen from a table in his room. The accused was committed to answer.

DEDICATION.—The dedication of the new building of the Brainerd Mission School, Greenwich street, east of Moyamensing avenue, will be held to-morrow, January 14th, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Addresses will be made by Rev. Dr. Brainerd, Rev. John McLeod, Rev. Wolcott Calkins, and by the other pastors of the Philadelphia churches. A report of the history and objects of the enterprise will be read by the Chairman of the Building Committee, Mr. R. Sailer. The singing will be by the Children of the Sunday school. ROBBING HIS EMPLOYER .- Nathan Jones had a hearing before Alderman Beitler yes-terday, charged with robbing Mr. David H. Hutchinson, with whom he resided in Essex county, Delaware, of a trunk containing clothing and one hundred and fifty dollars in money. The robbery was perpetrated on the 14th of December last, and the trunk was removed from the house about four was removed noise about four hundred yards and burned. He was com-mitted in default of $1,200 bail, for a further hearing on the 23d instant. THE LITTLE WANDERER'S HOME .-- We have received the following additional con-$10 00
