Pedication of the Brainerd Mission School Building.
Yesterday morning, between the hours of eight and ten o'clock, a printed circular, of which the following is a copy, was distri-buted in the southeastern part of the city. The circulars were pushed under the doors of dwelling kouses, pretty much in the same manner as was done with other Sun-"DEDICATION "Of the New Building of the tend, with your friends.

"Addresses will be made by Rev. Dr. Brainerd, Rev. John McLeod, Rev. Wolcott Calkins, and by other pastors of the Philadelphia churches. A report of the history and objects of the enterprise will be read by the Chairman of the Building Committee, Mr. R. Sailer. The singing will be by the children of the Sunday school."

The building is a neat. unpretending

The building is a neat, unpretending brick structure. In appearance it looks like the Bethany Mission Chapel, on South street near Twenty-first, and will accommodate about five hundred. The interior contains on the walls a variety of maxims o a sacred character, such as "God is Love,"
"Feed my Lambs," &c. At the appointed time of dedication the house was thronged to overflowing, the scholars of the Sunday school occupying a place in the body of the edifice. The singing exercises were rendered with considerable harmony. opening song is entitled "A cry from Macedonia;" the others "Glory to God in the st," and "The Children's Jubilee." Mr. Sailer, from the building committee read a report on the rise and progress of the school. The site of the building was appropriated by the will of Mr. George Pearson of old Southwark. He was a member of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, a carpenter by trade and an exemplary Christian. The mission a few years since established a Sunday school that assembled in the Shiffler Hose House. At first it was small, but now it has attained size and influence, and the laborers in the good cause feel re-

The present building is intended in future to be attached to a more beautiful and commanding temple of worship. It recesses some distance from the line of Greenwich atreet, thus affording plenty of room for the erection of a splendid church edifice. The present building as it stands cost $9,871 40, upon which the sum of $7,310 has been paid, leaving a balance of $2,561 40 to be paid. This sum will probably be raised in a short time. There are many children in this section of the city, and there are, doubtless, many men and women capable of teaching.

The remarks of the Rev. Mr. McLeod yesterday were directed mostly to the main point of want of teachers. The harvest is ripe but the reapers are few. The mission, it may be said, is in quite a flourishing ondition, and in its present location will be the means of doing a vast amount of good among the rising generation.

Pennsylvania Barns. In the report of the Commissioner of Agriculture, soon to be distributed through the country, there is condensed a great amount of information of high practical value. The report is mainly composed of treatises of persons who are familiar with the subjects of which they treat, and is therefore perfectly reliable as well as practical in its character—a book full of interest and value to every intelligent farmer.

Our commonwealth is represented in the present report (pr. 1864) by an article on barns. We have a good many natural resources that enrich the State and some improvements that add to its wealth and convenience. It may afford for equitably maintaining the rights and some additional support to our State safety of all classes of citizens in the States wealth and convenience. It may afford pride, to know that in the article of barns the Keystone Commonwealth stands pre-eminent and famous. The article which the report contains on this subject restricts its observations chiefly to some of the eastern counties. There are, however, in western Pennsylvania, many farm buildings which would not suffer, in comparison with those of the eastern counties.

A Pennsylvania barn, speaking of it as an "institution," is not merely a shelter with a roof to it, but an architectural building intended for and adapted to a great variety of purposes. It embraces stabling for horses and cattle, storage for hay, grain and straw, shelter for wagons and for agricultural implements, a capacious water cistern, and a cellar for the esculent roots that are to be fed to stock during the winter. To answer all these ends, with the least expense of building and with the greatest saving of labor in the use, it is most conveniently located on a declining piece of ground, so as to form what is sometimes denominated a bank-barn, affording in front of the cellar warm stabling room for stock, and in the front of this, yet still under roof, sheds comfortable through a southern exposure. As labor-saving is an object, the arrangement of hay-mows and stables, grain-mows and threshing floor, with reference to each other, will suggest itself to the judgment of every

We cannot go into all the details of the perfect barn-rather referring the reader to the report for them, where the description is illustrated by plates—but we are quite sure that the profit and pleasure of farming would be greatly by more attention than farmers usually give to the position and structure of these buildings. The points to be aimed at, whether the barns be larger or smaller, are economy of room, warmth and ventilation for stock during the winter, the preservation of forage in good and healthful condition, and the shelter of farming implements from the weather. And further, for the saving of personal labor, the arrangement for storing farm products, for loading and unloading; for feeding and watering stock, should be subjected to some pro-cess of thought and judgment, and adjusted accordingly, and, as essential to the thrift of the farm, the surrounding of the barn should be adapted to the making and preserving of the greatest quantity of manure. Without this the best farm will, in time, run down to unproductiveness, and leave the barn, how-ever beautiful and spacious it may be, comparatively empty, both of stock and products. It is worthy of remark that some portions of the counties in the Southeastern part of the State where the best barns are found were once so exhausted as to be next to worthless for cultivation. These are now the most productive and valuable farming lands in the State. The farms are like gar-dens, and the barns might be mistaken, and often are by the passing travel, for churches. The farmers would no more waste manure than they would waste corn or wheat. One more remark. A large proportion of these handsome barns belong to farms of from one hundred to one hundred and fifty acres.

This accounts for the wealth of the owners of the celebrated Pennsylvania

The Beorganization of the Regular Army An elaborate plan for the reorganizat of the regular army, drafted by Brig. Gen. John S. Brisbin, has been placed in the hands of members of Congress. It is for an army of 160,000 men; makes the regiments ten companies strong, drops two majors in cavalry, and gives two second lieutenants to a company. It increases the grades in the army, and provides for the appointment of one general in-chief, three generals, sixteen major generals, and thirty-two dier generals; also, a field staff and department staff. One-half of the promotions to be according to seniority, and the other half according to merit, to be determined by a board of examiners. It requires an officer to serve two years in the line before entering the staff of the army, and makes West Point a staff school. Any one who can pass the necessary exmination can enter the army as a second lieutenant. The plan exempts officers' salaies from taxation, and allows officers to be relieved after twenty-five years' service, and gives them the right to hold civil offices while in retirement. It incorporates the old regular army as a part of the new army, and fixes the uniform leaves of absence, furloughs and courts-martial. A bill of twenty-two sections has been prepared, covering the proposed plan, and an elaborate argument in pamphlet form accompa-

AN ORIGINAL DUEL.-Old Col. Stubbins was an old genius, a queer compound of comic seriousness. Replete with jokes, both original and selected, he was not slow in hatching them up and dealing them out in small doses on different occasions. One evening at a party, a young gentleman upon whom the Colonel had told some cutting okes, feeling himself insulted, challenged the Colonel to mortal combat. The challenge was accepted. Having the choice of weapous and the appointment of the place of meeting, the Colonel told the young man to repair, the following morning at six o'clock, to a certain spot, and added "that he would see that the weapons were there." The following morning, at the appointed time, the young man repaired to the indicated spot, young man repaired to the many "Well, near which was a stone quarry. "Well, youngster," said the Colonel, sticking his rockets "are you ready?" Rehands in his pockets, "are you ready?" ceiving an affirmative answer, he continued "Here's where we are to fight," pointing to the quarry, "and there are our weapons, pointing to a heap of boulders at the bottom of the quarry. "You're to go down there and throw those stones up, and I'm to stay up here and throw them down." It is needess to add that the challenge was withdrawn.

THE EYES AND EARS.-It has been dis covered by experiments that the human ears—however it may be with other animals -do not possess an equal power of hearing. From numerous trials on different individ aals, it appears that the highest tones are heard best with the right ear; and no instance has yet been met with in which the hearing was exactly alike on the two sides of the head. This, however, is but a refined demonstration of a peculiarity which has long been popularly known; for who has not heard persons speak of their "best ear?" Still, a practical knowledge of the subject may help in the education of pupils whose ear for music is said to be bad. Perhaps but few persons are aware that there is also a general difference in the sight of the right and the left eye. Some fancy themselves near-sighted, when the only defect is that the two eyes do not focus alike, a defect that may be remedied by artificial means.

GENERAL GRANT ON THE CONDITION OF THE SOUTH .-- It may be stated with regard to the recent despatches to the Mobile Advertiser touching the withdrawal of troops from Alabama and Georgia, that in acting upon the application of Governor Parsons to withdraw them from the former State and to arm the local militia, Lieut.-General Grant has made the following reply: "For the present, and until there is full security lately in rebellion. I would not recommend the withdrawal of the United States troops from them. The number of interior garrisons might be reduced, but a movable force sufficient to insure tranquillity should be retained. While such a force is retained in the South I doubt the propriety of putting arms in the hands of the militia.

THE thieves have discovered a new use for chloroform in stealing pigs. The porkers near Adrian, Mich., disappeared in a most unaccountable manner, and what was regarded as strangest, they were carried off without making any disturbance. A gentleman, however, discovered the depredators operating one night when going to the pig pen he found two fat hogs, lying helpless and unconscious, having been drugged with chloroform. with chloroform.

Two shafts have been sunk on this property, one o them 80 feet, the other 60 feet, on different veins averaging from two to three feet in thickness, which veins still continue on down increasing in richness. These shafts are in good order, and ore car he readily taken out at any time. Other veins have been discovered on this property, and tested and proved to be very rich in gold. The ores of this mine are known as the brown ore, and very rich, yielding readily $10 per bushel. This is believed to be one of the best and abandance and quality of the ore, and ease in which t is obtained and reduced. This property has been worked by Major Z. A. Grier from 1840 to the breaking out of the war. This Company have purchased this property, and intend to erect machinery, and put the mines in immediate operation. The many advantages of this mine over the mines of Colorado and Nevada an hardly be estimated. It is more readily reached and has abundance of fuel, with cheap labor, the worked all the year, and not as in the case of Cole rado and Nevada, be compelled to lie idle for three or our months in consequence of the severity of the

This mine baving been worked for a long time proved to be a rich paying one. We do not, therefore have to incur the risk there is in an undeveloped property, but can count on large and immedi on the investments. Having an ore that readily yields $10 per bushel, some estimate can be made of the value of this property. With the present imperfect system of mining in this locality, and absence of proper machinery, ten tons of this ore can be taken out laily from every shaft opened. Estimating, say 15 bushels to the ton, the daily yield will be $1,500 from one shaft, allowing $300 perday for expenses. The net product will be $1,200 per day; counting 300 tays to the year, the yearly proceeds will be $350,000 which yield can be largely increased by extending the works. This is considered a very low estimate of the capacity of this mine by experienced miners of that ocality. The Assayer of the United States Mint at Charlotte, in speaking of this property, says it has few equals in productiveness in that country, and with proper management and machinery the above product can be doubled.

State and County RIGHTS FOR SALE.

It is one of the most useful inventions for demestic use ever offered to the public. The flour is sifted in one-quarter the time (and much better than by any other process) by putting the flour in the top of the Sifter, then, by turning the crank, the filour passes through the sleve with great rapidity. Clean, very the and light. This Sifter has no India rubber rollers to grind up the dirt, such as bugs, worms, flies, dec. but slits all articles and leaves the dirt remaining in the sleve; the Sifter is made of tin, is very neat and easy to keep clean. It is the only Sifter now in use that gives SATISFACTION. Every Sifter is warranted. Be sure and ask for Spencer's Patent Tin Sifter.
