CITY BULLETIN.

A SAD CASE—A CHANCE FOR THE BENE VOLENT.-Notwithstanding the abatement in the severity of the weather, there is still a vast amount of suffering among the poor. This destitution and misery is not contined to the localities of which we have made spacial mention in the BULLETIN on several occasions during the past week. A case in point was called to the attention of the superintendent of the "Home for Little Wanderers," 820 South street, on Friday. It was that of a soldier's widow, whose husband died about a year since in one of our city hospitals, of chronic dysentery, contracted while in the army. This poor woman is the mother of seven fine children. A visit to mother of seven fine children. A visit to her dwelling, in Seventh street, below Reed, yesterday, revealed the painful fact, that with this large family upon her hands, she was without a particle of food in the house—several of her children were barefoot—her supply of coal would last but a day or two, and her children whose little carnings.

and her eldest child, whose little earnings as an errand boy were her sole support, was confined to the house with a sore foot. Her house and children were patterns of neatness and cleanliness, and everything about her proclaimed a case eminently worthy of relief. Her immediate wants were supplied by Mr. Siegfried, and arrangements made to take several of the children to the Little Wanderers' Home, to day. Through the kindness of several gentlemen, coal will be sent her to-day. Who will send provisions to relieve this worthy and pressing case? Contributions of money, clothing or provisions will be received and promptly forwarded to her, if sent to Rev. Mr. Siegfried, 820 South street

MONTGOMERY MILLS.-These works are located on the southeast corner of the Germantown Railroad and Montgomery avenue, opposite the Builders' Iron Foundry. Sullivan & Paully, proprietors. The first and second stories are used by these gentlemen for manufacturing purposes—useing 34 looms at present, but will add a larger number in the spring. The third story is occupied by Mr. Joseph D. McKee, for the manufacture of woolen goods and hose. Looms are used for the former and machines for the latter. About forty hands are emfor the latter. About forty hands are employed by Sullivan & Paully, and about one hundred by McKee, in season, as his business contracts and orders expand at given periods of the year. The lot is 78 by 200 feet, the main building 42 by 109 feet, and three-stories high. An engine of 20-horse power is used, and three tons of coal per week consumed. There are necessary outbuildings on the premises, such as bleach house engine and holler house. &c. These house, engine and boiler house, &c, These works, although erected more than a year since, have but recently been placed in full operation, and the business will be materially extended the coming spring. The proprietors are industrious and give their personal superintendence to the business.

BUILDERS' IRON FOUNDRY .- This establishment, situate on the northeast corner lishment, situate on the northeast corner Ninth street and Montgomery avenue, has been recently completed by the proprietors, Royer & Brothers. It has been in partial operation for some time, while additions were being made, but was only completed a few months since. The lot is 150 by 250 feet, and the main building has a front of 65 feet on Montgomery, avenue, and 112 on teet, and the main building has a front of 65 feet on Montgomery avenue, and 112 on the Germantown railroad. An engine of 10-horse power is used, consuming 5 tons of coal per week. There are out-buildings of smaller dimensions, necessary to the business. The castings are for buildings principally, and the foundry has the capacity for the coal properties. turning out the most ponderous supporters of incalculable strength. The works, however, are adapted to all kinds of casting. The products are mostly used by builders in this city, although large quantities are consumed by contractors in the neighboring towns and villages. The Messrs. Boyer are industrious and enterprising men and unite a practical experience with praise-

NARROW ESCAPE.—The Odd Fellows' Hall, at Sixth and Haines streets, made a narrow escape from being destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The lower portion of the building, at the comer of Sixth and Haines, is occupied by Mr. Wm. Curtis, who keeps a regalfa store. The flue in a small office to the rear of this store had a stove pipe hole cut through it. The hole had been papered over. A spark from the flue had set fire to the paper, and the fiames communicated to a mantle on which were bundles of old newspapers and other com-bustible material. Smoke was seen by a bey and the flames were extinguished.

THE PROPOSED RAILROAD CONNECTION WITH THE WEST.—A meeting of the Corn Exchange Association was held this morning, Mr. George Cookman in the chair. George L. Buzby, Esq., made a few remarks in reference to the importance of increased facilities for railroad communications. cation with the West, and submitted the following resolutions, which were adopted: Resolved, That we have read with great satisfaction the contract lately entered into between the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company and the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company, by which the advantages of the construction of this great line to the West are to be secured to the City of Philadelphia.

2. That we consider the contract as one of the most important ever made for the in-terests of Philadelphia. That the shorter distance and that provision in the contract which secures at all times as low a rate per ton per mile to and from Philadelphia as to and from New York, with the right to the Reading railroad Company to fix even lower rates on westward bound freight from Philadelphia are advantages which, if properly appreciated and used, cannot fail at last to secure to our city the commercial position to which she is entitled and for which she to which she is entitled and for which she has so long struggled.

3. That the establishment of a line of steamers between the city of Philadelphia and England, controled by the companies owning the railroads connecting the city of Philadelphia with the West, by a route nearly sixty miles shorter than that to the city of New York, is the best security the city of Philadelphia can have that she will receive her share of the foreign commerce of receive her share of the foreign commerce of the country, and that it is the duty of the citizens of Philadelphia, and Pennsylvania, at once to take measures to raise the one-half of the sum necessary to build and equip such line of steamers, so as to secure the benefit of that provision of the contract by which the Atlantic and Great Western Rail way Company and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company are to provide the other half.

4. That the thanks of this Association are hereby tendered to the Managers of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Com-pany for the broad and comprehensive policy adopted by them in securing to Philadelphia and Pennsylvania the advantages resulting from the expenditure of the great capital of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company in the development of the vast agricultural and mineral resources of this State.

5. That we recommend the hearty co peration of the merchants of this city in aid of this great enterprise.

6. That a committee of three be appointed on behalf of this Association to confer with he Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company and the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company upon all mat-ters concerning the interests of the city of Philadelphia. 7. That these resolutions be published in all the daily newspapers of the city of Philadelphia, and a copy thereof furnished the Presidents of the Philadelphia and Reading and the Atlantic and Great Western Companies.

New Jersey Matters. DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.-Another of those destructive fires which cause so much suffering and misery in midwinter, occurred in Gloucester city early on Sunday morning, and resulted in the total destruction of six dwelling houses and a bakery. The fire originated in the bakehouse near to the Star Hotel, and, as there is no appropriate apparatus there to extinguish fires, the fiames rapidly spread, and before they could be checked communicated with the buildings adjoining it, and they too were soon enveloped in one general conflagration. The flames were not arrested till the whole row of the buildings, six in number, was laid in ruins, the immates escaping barely in time to saye their own lives and some of their furniture, and ives and some of their furniture, and, had it not been for the kindness, and generosity of the neighbors, they would have suffered intensely from the inclumency of the weather. Their loss is clemency of the weather. Their loss is heavy; for, being poor and hard-working people, they are thus rendered almost desti-tute. This was the most severe and desturc-tive fire that has occurred in Gloucester for several years, and is a powerful argument in urging the citizens and authoritles of that place to provide themselves with fire engines and the necessary apparatus for extinguishing fires. In the present in-stance a hundred buildings might have been destroyed had they been adjoining those burned, for the flames were only arrested when they had no more combustible material to seize upon. During the progress of

It fills every room and apartment where it is used with a sick-ening and nauseous smell of a highly deleterious character, rendering it at times use-less. The evil should be at once remedied, and the company would advance their own as well as the public interests by attending to it.

The enthusiasm of the people of Sweden, says the Nord, in relation to the adoption of the projects of reform, manifests itself in daily ovations towards the king. Some days ago, when he was leaving the theatre, the crowd wished to detach the horses and draw the royal carriage themselves. The king refused, and exclaimed: "So long as I am king my people shall wear no bridles."
