THE DAILY EVENING BULLETIN: PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1866.

Be-organization of the Regular Army. The bill providing for the re-organization of the Regular Army was yesterday reported from the Military Committee, with some amendments. The committee, were unani-mous in favor of the bill as it now stands; SECTION 1. Provides that the army shall hereafter consist of five regiments of artil-lery, 9,000 men; twelve regiments of cavalry, 12,000 men, and fifty-five regiments of in fantry, 35,000 men. The men to be known as the Army of the United States.

SEC. 2. The artillery is to have the same organization as the present five regiments. SEC. 3. Adds six regiments of cavalry to SEC. 3. Adds six regiments of cavalry to to the six now in service, with the same organization, and authorizes the first and second, and two thirds of all officers above the grade of First and Second Lieutenant, to be taken from volunteer cavalry officers of two years' service. It provides that four of these regiments may be armed and drilled as infantry, at the discretion of the Presi-dent.

SEc. 4. The fifty-five infantry regiments to consist of the ten regiments of ten companies each, now in service, the remaining nine regiments made into twenty-seven, by adding two companies to each battalion, with the same provision respecting officers as for the cavalry regiments, except that they are to be taken from the infantry or artillery, ten regiments of colored men and ight of disabled men, or men discharged for disability; the officers to be taken from for disability; the officers to be taken itom the officers of colored troops, the Veteran Reserve: Corps and other officers of volun-teers disabled in service. Promotions in colored and veteran regiments to be confined to their regiments. The volunteer officers appointed under this act are to be apportioned among the States in proportion to the number of troops furnished to the army during the war. SEC. 5. Prescribes the organization of the infantry to be the same as the first ten re-giments, but the companies are to have only forty-eight privates, making about thirty-five thousand men, and may be increased to fifty-five thousand, if necessary. SEC. 7. Gives each regiment a band as formerly. SEC. 8: Enlistments are hereafter to be made for five years, and no officers are to appointed until the minimum number of men is enlisted, and the command organized. 9. Provides for one Lieutenant-SEC. General, five Major-Generals and ten Brigadiers, with the same staff as formerly. SEC. 10. The Adjutant-General's office remains as now prescribed by law. SEC. 11. The Inspector-Generals retain the same rank as at present, but the rank of Assistant Inspector-General is raised to Lieutenant-Colonel.

SEC. 12. Retains the Bureau of Military Justice as now established.

SEC. 13. In the Quartermaster-General's Department, one Brigadier-General, six As-sistant Colonels, and twelve Deputy Lieu-tenant Colonels, twelve Deputy Lieutenant-Colonels, twenty Majors and fortyeight Captains. The vacancies among the Captains are filled from Volunteer Quartermasters. SEC. 14. Provides for as many military storekeepers as may be required, not exceeding sixteen.

SEC. 15. Provides that the act of July 4th. repealing the Quartermaster's Department, shall remain in force so long as it does not become unnecessary upon the disbandment of the volunteer forces. SEC. 16. The Subsistence Department remains as at present constituted. SEC. 17. Line officers detailed as Quartermasters or Commissaries are to have $10 per month extra pay while responsible for public property. SEC. 18. Provides for the medical department one Surgeon-General, a Brigadier; one ment one Surgeon-General, a Brigadier; one Assistant Surgeon-General, a Colonel; seventy-five Surgeon-Majors and one hun-dred Assistant Surgeons, to be Lieutenants for the first three years' service and Cap-tains after three years' service. There are to be five medical store-keepers. The places of surgeons are to be filled by selections from the volunteers. Assistant Surgeons from the volunteers. Assistant Surgeons

How THEY SERVE "WITCHES" IN

NEW ZEALAND.—The following from the New Zealand Herald describes a summary mode of dealing with witches in that country!

From Kawhia we hear of wars and rumors of wars, instigated probably by the desire of the semi-friendly natives there to be put on rations and receive pay Hone Westere (John Wesley), late na tive magistrate there, who was deposed from his office four years ago, for the ab duction of a native woman, the wife of a sawyer named Wright, has been adding to the interest of native proceedings at the present time, by the commission of a most brutal murder. It seems that this late learned interpreter of the law had, with a zeal worthy of Mathew Hopkins, condemned an old Maori woman of 'makutu" or witheraft, and punished her by his own hands, cutting off her head on the spot. This may appear to Auckland philo-Maories as something startling, and perhaps out of the way, but to us here it is no extraordinary event. It is only a few years since two natives in our own district murdered a man and woman for thesame reason, and cooked a copper Maori over their grave Much about the same time, at Kawhia a native and his wife pulled the hear out of their living child, under the impression that the poor infant was be vitched
