Concerning Laughter. (From the Saturday Review There are times when the body craves for laughter as it does for food. This is the laughter which, on some occasion or other, has betrayed us all into a scanda-lous, unseasonable, remorseful gayety. After long abstinence from cheerful thought, there are few occasions so sad and solemn as to render this importune revolt impossible, unless where grief absorbs the whole soul, and lowers the system to a uniformity of sadness. In fact, as no solemnity can be safe from incongruities, such occasions are not seldom the especial scene of these exposures—of explosions of a wild, perverse hilarity taking the culprit at unawares and this even while he is aghast at his flagrant insensibility to the demand of the hour. This is the laughter so often ascribed to Satanic influence. nerves cannot forego the wonted stimulus, and are malignantly on the watch, as it were, to betray the higher faculties into this unseemly indulgence. Thus John and Charles Wesley, in the early days of their public career, set forth one particular day to sing hymns together in the fields; but, on uplifting the first stave, one of them was suddenly struck with a sense of something ludicrous in their errand, the other caught the infection, and both fell into convulsions of laughter, renewed on every attempt to carry out their first design, till they were fain to give up and own themselves for that time conquered by the devil. There is a story of Dr. Johnson much to the same purpose. Naturally melan-choly, he was yet a great laugher, and thus was an especial victim to the possession we speak of, for no one laughs in depression who has not learnt to laugh in mirth. He was dining with his friend Chambers in the Temple, and at first betrayed so much physical suffering and mental dejection that his companion could not help boring him with remedies. By degrees he rallied, and with the rally came the need of a general reaction. At this point Chambers hap pened to say that a common friend had been with him that morning making his will. Johnson-or rather his ner vous system-seized upon this as the required subject. He raised a ludicrous picture of the "testator" going about boasting of the fact of his will-making to anybody that would listen, down to the inn-keeper on the road.

Roaring with laughter, he trusted that Chambers had had the conscience not to describe the testator as of sound mind hoped there was a legacy to himself, and concluded with saying that he would have the will set to verse and a ballad made out of it. Mr. Chambers, not at all relishing this pleasantry, got rid of his guest as soon as he could. But not so did Johnson get rid of his merriment; he rolled in convulsions till he got out of Temple Gate, and then, supporting himself against a post, sent forth peals loud as, in the silence of the night, to be heard from Temple Bar to Fleet Ditch. We hear of stomach coughs: this was a stomach, or ganglionic, laugh. The mistimed laughter of children has often some such source as this, though the sprite that possesses them has rarely the gnome-like essence. A healthy boy after a certain length of constraint, i sometimes as little responsible for his laughter as the hypochondriac. Mrs. Beecher Stowe, in describing, and defending, a puritanical strictness of Sabbath observance, recalls the long family expositions and sermons which alternated in her youth with prolix meeting services, at all of which the younger members of the household are required to assist in profound stillness of attention. On one of these occasions, on a hot summer afternoon, a heedless grasshopper of enormous dimensions leapt on the sleeve of one of the boys. The tempting diversion was not to be resisted; he slily secured the animal, and imprisoned a hind leg between his firmly compressed lips.

One by one, the youthful congregation became alive to the awkward contortions and futile struggles of the long-legged captive; they knew that to laugh was to be flogged, but after so many sermons the need was imperative, and they laughed, and were flogged accordingly. Different from all these types is the grand frank laugh that finds its place in history and biography, and belongs to master minds. Political and party feeling may raise, in stirring times, any amount of animosity, even in good natured men; but bring about a laugh between them, and an answering chord is struck, a tie is established that is not easily broken. Something of the old rancor is gone forever. There is a story of Canning and Brougham, after hating and spiting one another through a ses sion, finding themselves suddenly face to face in some remote district, in Cumberland, with only a turnpike gate between them. The situation roused their magnanimity, simultaneously they broke into laughter, and passed each on his separate way, better friends from that time forth.

No honest laugher knows anything about his own laugh, which is fortunate, as it is apt to be the most grotesque part of a man, especially if he is anything of an original. Character, humor, oddity, all expatiate in it, and the features and voice have to accommodate themselves to the occasions as they can. There is Prince Hal's laugh, "till his face is like a wet cloak ill lad up;" there is the laugh we see in Dutch pictures, where every wrinkle of the old face seems to be in motion; there is the convulsive laugh, in which arms and legs join; there is the whinney, the ventral laugh, Dr. Johnson's laugh, like a rhinoceros; Dominie Sampson's laugh, lapsing without any intermediate stage into dead gravity, and the ideal social laugh—the delighted and delighting chuckle which ushers in a joke, and the cordial triumphant laugh which sounds its praises.

We say nothing of all the laughs—and how many there are!—which have no mirth in them; nor of the "ha, ha!" of melodrama, and the ringing laugh of the novel, as being each unfamiliar to our waking ears. Whatever the laugh, if it be genuine and comes from decent people, it is as attractive as the Piper of Hamelin. It is impossible not to want to know what a hearty laugh is about. Some of the sparkle of life is near, and we long to share it. The gift of laughter is one of the compensating powers of the world. A nation that laughs is so far prosperous. It may not have material wealth; but it has the poetry of prosperity. When Lady Duff Gordon laments that she never hears a hearty laugh in Egypt, and when Mr. Palgrave, on the contrary, makes the Arabs proper a laughing people, we place Arabia, for this reason, higher among the countries than its old neighbor. And it is the same with homes. Wherever there is pleasant laughter, there inestimable street.

memories are being stored up, and such free play given to nerve and brain that whatever thought and power the family circle is capable of will have a fair chance of due expansion.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 16.—The finding and sentence of the court-martial in the case of the murderers of William Hofferman has been approved, and General Thomas has directed that the sentence be carried into effect by their being publicly hanged by the neck, at or near this city, on Friday, January 26, under direction of Colonel W R. Shafter, commanding the post.

The names of the murderers are James Lycought, Wm. Dean, alias McCluskey, George Craft, alias George Reed, and Thomas Perry, all Government employes. They are all now confined in the military prison, and up to the present time have been confident of their ultimate acquittal. A fire broke out this morning in the store of Thomas Gorman, in College Street. damaging his stock to the amount of $6,000 He was fully insured.

Nashville, Jan: 17. The announcement of the speedy execution of the Hoffer-man's murderers affords general satisfaction to the community, and the fact of their ex-ecution being a public one is considered a wise order. The prisoners received the an-nouncement of their execution with apparent unconcern.

Important Decision of the Maryland House of Delegates—A Union Triumph, BALTIMORE, Jan. 17.-We learn to-day from reliable private sources, that the Ma yland Legislature, by recent resolutions of the House of Delegates, sustained the pre-sent registration law of the State by a vote of 48 yeas to 21 nays. This action shows conclusively that the Hon. Thomas A. Spence, late Judge of the Twelfth Judicial Circuit, and contestant for the same position now against R. Franklin, who is alteged to have been fraudulently elected, will be declared the Judge for the next fifteen years. This is regarded as a great Union triump Baltimore, Jan. 17.—The House of Delegates of the Maryland Legislature, to day, passed a series of resolutions indorsing Gen. NORTH CAROLINA.

The Land of this Company consists of 120 ACRES in Mecklenberg county; North Caroline, 8% miles from the town of Charlotte, on a branch of Sugar Creek, which stream furnishes gook water power for grinding the ores. This Mine was first opened in 1838 by a mai damed Carson, who worked it successfully for a num-ber of years. He died in the town of Charlotte, in 346, worth over half a million dollars.

Two shafts have been sunk on this property, one of them 80 feet, the other 60 feet, on different veint averaging from two to three feet in thickness, which yelns still continue on down increasing in width and richness. These shafts are in good order, and of e can be readily taken out at any time. Other veins have been discovered on this property, and tested and proved to be very rich in gold. The ores of this mine are known be very right gold. The ores of this time are known as the brown ore, and very right, yielding readily $10 per bushel. This is believed to be one of the best and most certain mines in the State, on account of the abnudance and quality of the ore, and ease in which is obtained and reduced. This, properly has been worked by Major Z. A. Grier from 1850 to the breaking out of the war. This Company have purchased this property; and intend to creet machinery, and, put the mines in immediate operation. The many advantages of this mine over the mines of Colorado and Nevada can hardly be estimated. It is more readily reached and has abundance of fuel, with cheap labor. /It ca he worked all the year, and not, as in the case of Col rado and Nevada, be compelled to lie idle for three consumer months in consequence of the severity of the

This mine having been worked for a long time proved to be a rich paying one. We do not, therefore ave to incur the risk there is in an undeveloped pro erty, but can count on large and immediate return n the investments. Having an ore that readily yield on the investments. Having an ore that readily yields the per bushel, some estimate can be made of the value of this property. With the present imperfect system of mining in this locality, and absence of proper machinery, ten tons of this ore can be taken out daily from every shaft opened. Fatimating, say 15 bushels to the ton, the daily yield will be $1,500 from one shaft, allowing $200 perday for expenses. The net product will be $1,200 per day; counting 300 working days to the year, the yearly proceeds will be $55,000, which yield can be largely increased by extending the works. This is considered a very low estimate of the expacity of this mine by experienced miners of that iocality. The Assayer of the United States Mint at Charlotte, in speaking of this property, says it has few equals in productiveness in that country, and with proper management and machinery the above pro-duct can be doubled.
