House.-Leave of absence was granted to Mr. Thomas, of Philadelphia, who met with an accident in Baltimore, and is suffering from the effects of a broken ankle. The Committee appointed in 1865 to investigate the attempted bribery of the Legislature, made a report in substance as fol-

That thirty thousand dollars was sent to Harrisburg to secure the passage of a bill consolidating the indebtedness of certain railroads; that five thousand dollars of money was paid by Tatlow Jackson, the agent of James McHenry, of London, to George Northrop, and by him apportioned among William H. Witte and Albert R.

That no member of the Legislature received any portion of the funds; that Witte John Jackson and Albert R. Scofield eyaded the committee and could not be brought to testify. That the lobbies of the Legislature infested in 1865, by profession were infested in 1865, by professional borers of whom the most active and attentive was Albert R. Schofield, who was pretending to be an agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad: and that Tatlow Jackson was aided by the men above named in the belief that money was necessary to secure the passage of any bill, however just, at Harrisburg.

Fire in Troy, N. Y. Troy, Jan. 23.—A large fire broke out in a block of wooden buildings, on the corner of North Fourth and Jacob streets, at three o'clock this afternoon. The fire originated in a bakeshop, and probably caught from the oven. The shop was entirely consumed in a few moments, and from this the flames spread to a large barnfilled with hay, which was also in flames. The flames continued to spread until three dwelling houses were on fire, fronting on North Fourth sreet. Two of these were destroyed and another badly damaged. On the right of the shop two dwelling houses on Jacob street canght, and were soon entirely destroyed. Owing to a difficulty in getting up an alarm the flames had made much headway before the Fire Department arrived at the scene of the conflagration. The fire occurred right in the centre of a triangular block formed by the intersection of North Fourth street with the Troy and Boston railroad and Jacob street. The whole block was of wood, with the exception of one house. The houses destroyed were mostly old tenement houses, many of them occupied by three families. Probably $7,000 will cover the loss, which is only

CITY BULLETIN.

THE LATEJUDGE OSWALD THOMPSON Respect for his Memory-Meeting of the

The largest meeting of the members of the bar ever convened in this city was held at noon, in the Supreme Court Room. Every noon, in the Supreme Court Room. Every inch of space in the room was occupied, and the assemblage included all the oldest members of the bar.

On motion of Joseph A. Clay, 'Esq., Chief Justice Woodward was called to the chair, and John Clayton, Esq., and G. M. Conarroe, Esq. were appointed Secretaries. Chief Justice Woodward, in assuming the dytice of Chairman paid an eleguent tri-duties of Chairman, paid an eloquent tri-bute to the memory of the deceased, eulogizing him as a private citizen and as a judge. It seemed to him that Judge Thompon had fallen a victim to the judicial duties of his position, and he could not divest his mind of the impression that it was an unnecessary sacrifice.

If the public authorities of State and city had provided the local courts of this county with the proper conveniences, the health of Judge Thompson might not have been affected, and he might not have been called to his account. He had seen many court houses throughout the State, bu none compared with those of Philadelphia, in the lack of conveniences, and if it be true, as he feared, that Judge Thompson's death has been hastened by the hardships of his office, it is time for mem-bers of the bar to take immediate steps to Hon. Isaac Hazlehurst next addressed the the deceased, and closed by submitting the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the members of the Phila delphia bar feel with deep sorrow the loss which this community has sustained in the death of the Hon. Oswald Thompson, late President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of this County.

Resolved, That we hold in the highest estimation the learning, the integrity and ex-alted virtues of the late Judge Thompson, and most sincerely deplore the loss which the bench and the county has sustained by the death of one so eminently qualified for the high and honorable station which he filled Resolved, That in recording these sentiments and feelings we desire to add our testimony to the purity and uprightness of his life and the estimable qualities which elonged to him as a man.

Resolved, That we most truly sympathize with his bereaved family in that affliction under which they mourn the loss of an affectionate husband, a kind parent and a good citizen.

Resolved, That the members of this Bar will attend the funeral of the late Judge Thompson.

Resolved, That a committee of seven be appointed by the chair, to present a copy of these proceedings to the family of the deceased.

The chair appointed the following com-Hon. James Thompson, Hon. George Sharswood, Hon. Wm. M. Meredith, Jos. A. Clay, Charles Gilpin, Theo. Cuyler, J. B.

Townsend. Justice Strong seconded the resolutions in an eloquent speech, referring to the great debt of gratitude which the community owed to Judge Thompson, as a pure and upright judge.

Judge Allison followed and spoke of the many excellent qualities of the deceased, both as a citizen and judge.

Judge Ludlow gave an interesting sketch of the last few weeks of the life of the deceased. On the first Monday of December he was in the Common Pleas with a heavy list before him. There he sat patiently and with an indomitable iron will which sustained his enfeebled body, calmly and deliberately heard the argument of counsel, and then in the course of less than four weeks from the commencement of the term, he entered into conment of the term, he entered into con-sultation with a mind as clear as a bell, and he decided every case with the exception of a single one—he absolutely completing his work on last Friday, but twelve hours before his death, in that remaining case, he insisted upon entering into a consultation and did onsult, and left the speaker to decide it and on his way to the Courthouse to render that decision, death seized him and he passed away. Eli K. Price followed, and after eulogysing the worth of the deceased, referred to the immense burden of labor cast upon the judges of our Common Pleas, in obliging them to discharge duties which should pro-perly be confided to twice the present number of judges.

Peter McCall, Esq., Charles Gibbons, Esq., Hon. Josiah Randall, followed, in praise of the deceased.
On motion of Benjamin H. Brewster, Esq., it was resolved that the proceedings of the meeting be published in the papers.

on motion of George Junkin, Esq., the proceedings were directed to be prepared, together with the action of the Courts, yes terday in memorial form.

The resolutions were then adopted, and the meeting adjourned.
