Christian Commission Annylersary. Washington, Feb. 11.—The fourth and last anniversary of the United States Christian Commission was held to-night in the hall of the House of Representatives. All the seats on the floor and in the galleries were filled at an early hour, and many persons were unable to obtain admittance. The Hon. Schuyler Colfax, in taking the chair to preside, said:

The fearful trial to which our republic was subjected for the preservation of its exis-tence is over. The loved and lost, who died that the nation might live, sleep in their bloody shrouds in village churchyards, on cannon-furrowed battle-fields, near prison camps, and in unmarked graves, but all are enshrined in millions of hearts with the sainted dead of the Revolution for evermore The yet vacant chair at many a lonely hearthstone tells the silent story of sacrifice such as the world has never rivalled before, but the gates of our temple of Janus are

From the battle line which swent over our country thousands of miles, from Gettys-burg to the boundary of the Mexican re-public, the bannered hosts have returned to their waiting homes—volunteers transformed by the shock of arms into veterans and hailed as the saviors of the Union. The sword is exchanged for the ploughshare, and the great rebellion, organized in broken oaths and culminating in the murder of the nation's Chief, with the great uprising which so patriotically confronted it, and the great victory which crushed it, have passed into history, which Cicero tells us is "the evidence of ages, the light of memory and the school of life."

It is under these auspicions circum-

that throne whence flow all good impulses which, like a handmaid of mercy, went forth with our armies to snecor and to save returns to-night to this Representative hall, to render a final account of its stewardship. Of its thousands of active and willing colaborers, and its millions of expenditures, you will hear from abler tongues than mine. From all quarters of the nation, from church altars and family circles, from merchants and manufacturers, from mechanics and miners, from the tillers of the earth to the sailors of the sea, from crowded cities and humble cabins, from the munificent donations of the wealthy to the widow's mite came the material aid which poured its mighty volume into the coffers of the Christian Commission; and its agents, thus endowed with the unstinted gifts of patriotic humanity and benevolence, and clad in the armor of a nation's sympathy, went forth to win the glorious victories they so gloriously achieved. Victories over suffering, victories over disease, victories over death itself, from whose icy grasp they rescued so many thousands by their more than Samaritan benefactions. To the battlefield they came to snatch our brave defenders from under the very guns of the enemy where they had fallen; to the hospital they came to minister in place of the beloved wife and mother so far away, and to pour oil, if possible, into the expiring lamp of life; to the death-bed of the departing hero they came, to smooth his pathway to the tomb, and to point him to that better land where he should live a life that shall never die. Resting from these labors of love now that the victorious ensign of the Republic waves over the entire land, and our Constitution has become the new testimonial of our freedom, they rejoice, with all who rejoice over a country saved for its brilliant destiny hereafter, in that noble sentiment, deeper and profounder in its significance today than when first uttered in this capitol "Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable."

The Bev. Dr. Boynton, Chaplain of Congress, delivered the opening prayer, and a palam was read by the Rev. W. J. R. Taylor, Mr. Stuart, the President of the Christian Commission, then gave an interesting statement of the work of the Commission, as follows:

The United States Christian Commission organized on November 15th, 1861, and whose active work closed with the first of tory of its work with satisfaction that it has been able to accomplish so much. It must he said that it is impossible to gather into tables the real results of all the work. The most that can be done is to present a report of receipts and distributions with other particulars: and from these, conclusions can be drawn. The progress of the work has been one of the most remarkable and gratifying features of the whole. This can be shown by the summaries of values for the four years of Commission's existence:

It will thus be seen that the total value of the donations and facilities of the Commis sion reached the vast sum of six millions two hundred and sixty-four thousand six hundred and seven dollars and sixty-eight cents ($6,264,607 58), of which there remains a cash balance in all the treasuries, of ninety-nine thousand two hundred and twentythree dollars and thirty-eight cents ($99,-223 38), which will be all dispensed by the several branches in strict accordance with the original purposes of the Commission:

Mr. Stuart read letters from Secretary Stanton, Generals Grant and Sherman, Admiral Farragut, and others of the army and navy, Surgeon General Barnes, and Chief Justice Chase, all of which were enthusiastically applauded.

The Rev. E. P. Smithfield, Secretary of the Commission, followed with an abstract of the commission, followed with an abstract of the annual report.

The Hon. Charles Demond, of Boston stances that this organization, inspired from who wrote the resolutions adopted at the organization of the Commission, gave an interesting sketch of its history, with many thrilling incidents, and exhibited to the audience a five cent bill which a widow of eighty, who earned her living by her needle walked miles to give as her portion for the soldiers. A silver dollar, the dying gift of a mother, and the wedding ring of a widow who had given her only son to die for his country were exhibited.

Mr. Colfax then stated that at the last anniversary of the Commission, on the last Sunday in January, 1865, that striking ode "Your Mission" was sung, and Abraham Lincoln, with his tall form, his care-fur-rowed face, and his noble throbbing heart, was here and listened to it.

Subsequently he sent up the programme, which Mr. Colfax exhibited, and on which appears the following request in his familiar handwriting-written by that hand now ly ing cold in the grave: "Near the close let us have 'Your Mission' repeated by Mr. Phillips. Don't say I called for it. Lincoln. Eloquent addresses were delivered by son, of Pittsburgh, Senator Doolittle of Wisconsin, General Augur, and the Rev. B. W. Chidlaw; Mr. Phillips singing between the speeches: "We are Rising as a People," and "America."

Mr. Chidlaw's brief address evoked great

Rear Admiral Davis, Rev. Herrick John-applause.

Bishop Simpson delivered the parting address, summing up the work of the Com-mission and its efficient aid to the Government, with a glowing enlogy on woman, and closing with a brilliant encomium on General Grant and Mr. Stuart, whom he declared to be the lieutenant-general of the Commission. After Mr. Phillips had sung "Home of the Soul," and the Rev. Prof. Moss.of Pennsylvania, had delivered the closing prayer, the Hutchinsons sang several odes,

The Rev. Dr. Dyer, of New York, pronounced the benediction, and the great Chief Justice Chase, Secretary Welles, Lieutenant-General Grant, Admiral Farragut, and many other distinguished persons, were present.

Equalization of Bounties-Mass Meeting of the Soldiers.

On Saturday evening a large mass meeting of the soldiers and sailors, called for the January, 1866, cannot but recur to the his- purpose of aiding in the procurement of bounties for those who enlisted in the year 1861 and '62, was held in front of Independence Hall.

The meeting was organized by the appointment of the following named officers:
President—Hon, Wm. B. Thomas.
Vice Presidents—Colonels John K. Murphy, William McCandless, A. H. Tippin, Peter Lyle, John H. Taggart, Thomas J. Town, Charles C. Cresson, Gideon Clark, Charles J. Biddle, Francis Mahler, Samuel Spear, S. D. Strawbridge, Chapman Biddle, John F. Glenn, Edwin H. Bliss, Richard

P. Smith, Thomas F. B. Tapper, Charles Ross Smith, A. Bushback, De Witt C. Baxter, John Flynn, Wm. Davis, Adolph Mahler, Lewis W. Ralston, St. Clair A. Mulholland, Harmanus Neff. Secretaries—Capt. E. Forrest Kohler, Capt. Henry Robinson, Caleb C. Fisher, John

made a brief address, in which he thanked the meeting for the honor done him, and said that he felt no higher honor could be accorded him than in selecting him to preside over a meeting composed of those who had done so much to put down the slave-holders' rebellion. He thought that there was no doubt of the success of the object, for the furtherance of which the meeting had ceen called.

Letters were then read from distinguished soldiers and civilians, in which they regretted their inability to be present, and expressed the hope that justice would be done in the equalization of bounties. Among these were Gen. John W. Geary, Com. T. Turner, Gen. G. Meade, Com. Selfridge, Col. H. G. Sickles, Hons. S. J. Randall and Charles O'Neill, Gen. Irvin, and others. At this period of the proceedings Governor Curtin came upon the stage. Colonel Thomas then introduced the Governor to the meeting, and he received the most enthu-siastic reception. Three cheers were given, followed by three more. It was some minutes before order was restored. Col. Thomas then said: The Governor is here to night to show by his presence that he favors the object which has called you together. The state of his health will not permit him to address you, and he asks to be

Loud cries of "The Governor! the Governor! let him say a few words."
The Governor now said—Fellow-citizens, Col. Thomas justly said that the state of my bealth will not permit me to speak to-night. But I may say that I am fully with you in the object of the meeting, and I earnestly hope that it may be successful. [Loud cheers.] Colonel Biles was now introduced, and presented the following resolutions, which were enthusiastically received, and adopted

Whereas, to congregate in a cause like this which has compelled us to assemble this evening, is one of rare importance, from the fact that circumstances of a like character never before arose in this great republic—that of suppressing treason and traitors for the maintenance of the Government—and as thousands forfeited their lives, their limbs and their property, leaving their familes in very destitute circumstances in consequence thereof: and Whereas, the government has been restored through the patriotic sacrifices of the loyal soldiers, seamen and marines, who are ever disposed to maintain its integrity, whether from domestic insurrections or from foreign invasions; and believing that they should be entitled to a gratuity in the way of bounty from that government which they have so gloriously and nobly sustained; therefore, be it

Resolved. That we call upon the members of our National Legislature to use their efforts in advocating and voting for the passage of an act equalizing the bounties of those who tendered their services to the government in its darkest hours of danger, and who sacrificed the comforts of a home and the pleasant associations of their families to go forth to the field of strife in defence of their country's liberties.

Resolved, That we call upon our fellowsoldiers and seamen and marines, throughout our common country, to meet in mass meetings and urge upon their representa-tives in Congress to favor the passage of au act having for its object the purposes above mentioned, and we pledge our hearty co-operation with them in aiding and assisting in the passage of the said bill.

Resolved, That the soldiers, seamen and marines now in mass meeting assembled, utterly repudiate the idea that the Government cannot pay the bounty asked for by our friends and ourselves, and that we believe this money, distributed lieve this money, distributed properly among the war-worn veterans will be the means of giving an impetus to business and employment to our country's defenders. olved, That our thanks as honorably discharged soldiers, seamen and marines, are eminently due, and are hereby tendered to those whose voices and labor have been given in our behalf, and we shall ever hold in sacred remembrance those who, while unable to join us in the field and upon the sea, are anxious to place us on an equal sea, are anxious to place us on an equa-footing with our younger comrades. The meeting was addressed by Lieutenant Lemuel Reeves, Capt. Powers, Col. Mc-Candless, Col. Frismuth, Capt. Curry, and others. The New Orleans Market. A letter from New Orleans, dated January

24th, says: Cotton has been coming in more 'rapidly with the rise of the Red and Arkansas rivers; but the importation of provisions from above has been interrupted by the ice-gorge at St. Louis. The damage done to the shipping at that port will do doubt, affect the trade, because a good deal of freight which would have taken this route has been sent East by rail. The interruption of navigation has turned the attention of the merchant of St. Louis towards additional connections by rail with this port, or at least towards procuring better facili-ties of intercourse by way of the roads which already exist. It is thus that the competition between the river and crossroutes will tend to improve the intercourse between the interior West and the Eastern cities. The introduction here of the rapid transportation now employed will tend to develop a trade which is daily becoming of more importance. It is the direct trade between the Northwest and the West Indies. Already is the demand for the sugar of Cuba and the reciprocal market for Western flour stimulating the commerce between this port and Havana, and there are several steamboats in the regular trade, besides those which touch at that port going and returning to New York or Europe.

The sugar crop of Cuba, you will have observed, reaches this year more than one million of boxes, and the reduction of the product of that staple in Louisiana will help to promote it still more. It will then become very important for the United States to encourage as far as possible the exportation of provisions in exchange for an article which has now attained the dignity of a social necessity. The culture of sugar requires certain guaranties which have not, so far, been secured by the planters in this State, and it is to be feared that another year will pass away before the assurance of safe embankments and regular labor can be extended to them. It is very sad to see so important a staple in such danger of extinction, leaving the country wholly dependent upon foreign supply. It is now operating as a liberal bounty in favor of the slave-grown sugar of Cuba—a consequence, perhaps, not contemplated by those who assisted to destroy, or those who embarrass the re-organization of its culture.
