CITY BULLETIN.

The High School Commencement. The semi-annual commencement exercise (fifty-fifth term) of the Central High Schoo were held this morning at the Academy of Music. The attendance was large, and the audience was composed principally of young ladies. The doors were besieged by an anxious throng long before the hour ap pointed for the opening, and the lower part of the house was therefore soon filled. Every seat in the parquette, parquette circle and balcony was occupied, and the upper tiers, were well-filled. The stage was appropriwere were infed. The stage was appropri-ately "set" for the occasion, and was occu-pied by the faculty of the school, the gradu-ates, members of the Board of Control, and invited guests. The Germania Orchestra was in attendance, and discoursed some fine music.

nne music. The exercises were opened by a prayer by the Rev. J. Vaughan Smith. John Davis Watson, Esq., then delivered the introductory address. He referred to lishment of the High School, and the infuence upon the system which the school has had since it has been in operation. The history of the school was then briefly traced, and the high positions occupied by manyof its graduates were alluded to in appropriate terms. The efforts now being made for the abolition of the school were averted to, and the movement was deprecated by the speaker, who considered that such a course would be greatly detrimental to the public school interests of the city. The address was highly interesting, was well delivered, and was frequently ap-The programme was continued in the fol-year were $330,889 96, an increase of $70,-385 93 over 1864. The operating expenses increased $44,030 46, leaving $26,354 57 as the increase of net earnings. The road is therefore in a prosperous condition. It is proposed during the present year to renew at least Crum Creek and Maryland Creek bridges, (the latter with an iron structure), leaving only to be replaced the bridges over cobbs and Ridley creeks, which the mana-gers think can be accomplished in the year 1867, at the farthest. It has been their view so far as they have gone, to do this work in such a manner that it will not require repetition within the next twenty or twenty five years, and they think that the new bridge over Darby creek will bear witness to this effort. This total expenditure for these renewals within the next two years will probably not fall short of $100,000. win providing not fall short of $100,000. The managers put two additional trains on the road, at the beginning of last sum-mer, running between Philadelphia and Pennelton, and since that time have been running one of the trains to and from West Chester as a through train, stopping at all of the stations west of the Baltimore Cen-tral Junction, and but one east of it. Both these changes have been attended with good results. The number of passengers carried during the year 555,556, being an increase of 112,214. The increase of tons of freight carried was 80,297 tons. No passengers were killed or injured in transportation over the road during the year. The report speaks in high terms of the excellent management of Mr. Henry Wood, the General Superintendent.

THE WALNUT .- A splendid audience filled the Walnut last evening, the main attraction being Clarke in "The Comedy of Errors" and "Nicholas Nickleby." The farce of "Nature and Philosophy" opened the performance, Miss Effie Germon and Mrs. Chester taking the principal parts. "The Comedy of Errors" was grandly cast and admirably played throughout, Clarke, of course, carrying off the lien's share of fun as Dromio of Syracuse. He was ably seconded by Mr. Fawcett as the Ephesian Dromio, and Messrs. Barron and Chester played the Antipholuses capitally. Miss Leoni Arlington, a new candidate for favor at this theatre, played the Abbess disat this theatre, played the Access us-criminatingly, and was cordially applauded. In "Nicholas Nickleby" Clarke gave his Newman Noggs with transcendant power, and he was handsomely supported by Walcot, Chester, Griffiths, Fawcett, Miss Gernon. Miss Marv Carr. & This evening

It is particularly desirable that an early answer should be returned to the circular from this office, No. 5, of the 10th inst., as J shall be compelled to withhold from the sev eral Assistant Treasurers the lists of dividends now being prepared, until such time as it can be ascertained what banks shall and which shall not be so entitled to receive such dividends, by reason of having or not having made satisfactory returns, and the payment of duty thereon to this office.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.--Mr. Jenckes' Bankrupt bill, which, until this afternoon, looked as though it would pass the House, got a staggering blow from Thad. Stevens in a few remarks, which only occupied three minutes, but which developed hostility upon the part of radical men, who charge that it will tend to protect disloyal men at the expense of loyal ones, and that there was no demand for its passage by the North.

Its fate now seems doubtful. Private Wm. P. Phelan, 62d Pennsylvanis, was tried by a military court, charged with desertion, and making and presenting fraudulent claims against the Government for payment, and forging the signatures of certain officers upon accounts, vouchers, and statements. The Court found him guilty, and sentenced him to be dishonora-bly discharged from the service, forfeiting all pay and allowances now due, or that may become due, and be confined at such place as the Secretary of War may direct, during the period of five years; to pay a fine to the United States of five thousand dollars, and to remain in confinement until the fine is fully naid. The Secretary of War remitted four years of the sentence, and directed the prisoner to be sent to Fort Delaware, for the execution of so much of the sentence as imposes confinement. The elegant ball of Senator and Mrs.

Harris, given last night, partly closes the gay season. The weekly public receptions of the President and his ladies, and Speaker Colfax, and the receptions of Secretaries Harlan and McCulloch will be continued, but all others cease with the approach of Lent. The Honse passed finally a bill granting forty clerks to the Post Office Departmen they being actually necessary to conduct the affairs of the office, the Department having that number now employed temporarily. In the investigation into the circumstances of freedmen dependent on the Go-vernment for support, Gen. Howard finds that a considerable number of them are en-titled to pension, back pay and arrearages of bounty due to the male relatives killed in the service. He has organized a Sub-bureau, under Major William W. Fowler, Assistant Adjutant-General, for the ex-amination and settlement of those claims. The indications are that the House will lefeat the bill to allow a discount on Post Office Stamps sold on commission in the South

A United States Assessor Arrested for De

frauding the Government. ALBANY, Feb. 14.—George T. Hanford, ALBANY, Feb. 12.—George 1. Hanlord, United States Assessor for the Eighteenth District, was arrested at Scheneotady, on Tuesday evening, and was brought before the United States Commissioner in this city, to-day, on a charge of defrauding the Government. The complainant is Cornelius B. Swart, of Schenectady, bookbinder. He swears that in 1863 he sold blank books and other articles to the accused to the value of $32 64. He presented his bill, and the accused said he would send it to Washington for credit. On Feb. 23, 1864, Swart says he called on Hanford, who told him the Commissioner of Internal Revenue had only allowed $9 75, which sum he paid. Swart expressed regret at the reduction made, when, as he swears, the accused told him to make out another bill for $20 worth of stationery or blank books. Swart at first objected, but finally made out a bill as requested. Some time after, Swart ascertained that the first bill had been paid, although, as he swears, the accused had frequently told him it had not been. Swart subsequently communicated with the Commissioner of Internal Reve-nue, which led to the arrest. At the con-clusion of Swart's examination, Hanford gave bail in $3,000 for a further hearing. of Internal Revenue had only allowed $9 75 gave bail in $3,000 for a further hearing.

The New York Banks and the Treasury

Department. The Treasurer of the United States heretofore addressed a circular to the National Banks of New York, asking whether, in making up their semi-annual returns for for the six months preceding January 1st, 1866, they estimated the average of deposits from the balances at the close of the day, or from balances after the exchanges at the Clearing House. General Spinner considers the resolutions of the meeting of officers of the New York City Banks to consider the circular, as a fine chy Bangs to consider the circular, as a nine specimen of special pleading, but as a reply it is disingenuous and is no answer to the direct questions propounded. He says:—As it is not my wish to prejudice or in any way incommode or delay the payment of the in-terest on the public stocks about to become due, to the many banks that have made

November 15th, 1865, writes that every Power has adopted, whether spontaneously or in order to satisfy the urgent desire of public opinion, the arrangements which have seemed to it of the most efficacy for guarding the territory against the invasion of this disease; but experience has proved how much these preventive measures, adopted in insulation and varying with localities, are difficult of harmonizing with the habitudes and wants of our epoch, im patient of every hindrance that impedes the reedom of commercial transactions. He says he is instructed by M. Drouyn de l'Huys to propose a Conference at Constan-tinople of men of science from the various countries interested, having for its object to seek out the primordial causes of cholera, to determine the principal points of departure, to study its character and progress, and to propose practical means for circumventing and extinguishing it in its origin.

The Secretary of State in reply promises to give the subject attentive consideration, and on Nov. 21st asks the opinion and sug gestions of Surgeon-General Barnes.

To this the Surgeon-General replies sugesting that he be empowered to designate two officers of the medical staff of the United tates army as members of such a commission. On December 20th the Sublime Porte ssures Mr. Morris, our representative at Constantinople, of its co-operation; and sug-gests that the meeting be held in January or February, and that the execution of the neasures agreed upon be left to the several governments represented, and that Lalyh Effendi, Chief Physician of the Imperial Court, and Dr. Bartholette, now the Cour-sel of Health, be the Turkish envoys, and a cordial welcome promised by the court. On December 23d, Mr. 'Morris writes that no date had then been fixed definitely for the assembling of the Commission,

From Treuton. TRENTON, Feb, 14.—To-day Mr. Scovell offered, in the Senate, a preamble and resolutions, hailing with joy any Congressional action or enactment which will give the right to vote to every soldier of the Republic who has served in the armies of the Union since April 14th, 1861, without regard to the place of birth or the color of his complex-ion; and secondly, that so long as the elec-tive franchise shall be denied or abridged in any State on account of race or color, none therein of such race or color should be included in the basis of representation of such State in the Congress of the United states. That we approve of the efforts of the Senators and Representatives in Congress to secure such an amendment to the Consti-ution as would effect this result. These resolutions were made the order of the day for next Tuesday week.

Gov. Ward sent in the name of H. Newton Conger, for Secretary of State, for the se-cond time, and it was confirmed by a vote of fourteen to six, three Democrats voting for it.

The contract between the Morris and Essex and Atlantic and Great Western Railroads was discussed and ordered to third reading.
