CITY COUNCILS, A stated meeting, was held yesterday

SELECT BRANCH. The annexed communication was received from Mayor McMichael.

To the Members of Select and Common Council—GENTLEMEN—I have the pleasure to transmit herewith a communication from Prof. R. Dunglinson in reference to a bust of the late P. S. Duponceau, which his grand-daughter, Miss Garrachie, desires to present to the city.

As Mr. Duponceau served with distinction in the Revolutionary army, and was for many years one of the most eminent and esteemed citizens of Philadelphia, I am sure that the gift will be received and appreciated. Very respectfully,

MORTON MCMICHAEL,

Mayor of the City of Philadelphia. Mr. Spering made a motion that the bust be received and that the thanks of the Councils of the city be returned to the donor. This was passed unanimously. Mr. Hodgdon presented a petition, very numerously signed by prominent merchants, asking for the passage of an ordi-nance regulating the payment of city warrants upon some equitable and righteous basis. The petition suggests that all warrants not otherwise provided for shall be paid in the order of the date of their presentation for payment at the City Treasury, a record of such presentation being made there for the purpose. That the City Treasurer shall publish from time to time the numbers or other necessary descriptions of such warrants as he is prepared to pay, and that no warrants shall be paid without such

This, after some debate, was referred to the Committee on Finance. A communication was received from Jas. Elliott, asking a contract to clean the streets of the city for the sum of $95,000 per annum. Referred to the Committee on Street Clear

Mr. Charles Thompson Jones submitted a communication from the Philadelphia and Gray's Ferry Passenger Railroad Company, relative to the desired extension by that company of their road over Gray's Ferry bridge. Referred.

A communication from the Board of Inspectors of the County Prison was presented by Mr. Smith. It asked for an increase in the number of inspectors, and for several important alterations in the arrangements of the prison: Referred.

An ordinance was introduced by Mr. Spering, Chairman of the Committee on City Property, appropriating the sum of $711 to pay claims against the Commissioners of City Property.

Among the items in this deficiency bill is one for feeding the deer in the public

A long debate ensued, but the ordinance was ultimately passed by a vote of 12 to 8.

Mr. Bumm offered a resolution providing that as the deer in the parks are to the city a very considerable expense for damage done to citizens, as well as for cost of keeping, they should be sold to the best advantage by the Commissioners of City Property.

A motion to lay upon the table was lost by a vote of 16 to 6. The subject was then referred to the Committee on City Property.

Mr. Gray now presented the annual report of the Chief Engineer of the Water

Mr. Wagner, from the Committee on Law, to which was referred the ordinance repealing the ordinance appropriating ground at Fairmount Park, reported against the passage of the ordinance. The Committee state that after the ordinance of 1864, the city gave notice to the owners that no compensation for improvements upon the property would be allowed, and "the repeal of the ordinance at this time would not in the least affect the rights of the owners to comleast affect the rights of the owners to compensation for their land, or the liability of the city to pay therefor. And the fact that the city has not taken actual poisession does who were classed with cattle and animals, This principle is well established in numerous adjudicated cases, both in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and in the United States Courts.' The Committee further state that the land is absolutely re-Will it ever be less valuable than it was when the ordinance was passed? Will it not, on the other hand, be constantly growing in value? It is true, the awards, in the opinion of your Committee, have been in many instances excessive, but these will doubtless be set aside by the Court, and the city, will have justice done her by another jury. But it would be most unwise to repeal the ordinance, for that would undoubtedly release those whose lands are valued at a proper rate, and not release the city from her liability to pay those awards which are excessive. Another suggestion made by the Committee is, that the repeal of the ordinance might be a bar to the city ever taking the ground hereafter.

The bill was taken up by the chamber. A lengthy debate ensued between Messrs. King, Van Cleve, Gray, Freeman and Page. Mr. Hopkins called for the City Solicitor's

This was read. In it Mr. Brewster says: "The repeal of the ordinance referred to will not, in my opinion, render the city lia-ble to prosecution and damages. She may be liable by reason of the ordinance of June 28. 1864, and the action thereon for any damages which could be established against her, as occasioned by her past proceedings, but the repeal of the ordinance would not create loss to any property owner."

A vote was then taken on the bill, repealing the original ordinance, and it was lost by the following vote: YEAS—Messrs, Bumm, Campbell, Hodg-

don, Hopkins, Jones, King, Marcus, Omerly, Shallcross and Shermer—10. NAYS—Messrs. Barlow, Cattel,, Freeman, Gray, Kamerly, Manuel, Page, Ritchie, Shern, Smith, Spering, Van Cleve, Wagner

The resolution dispensing with the meeting of Thursday next was concurred in. Adjourned.

COMMON BRANCH. A communication was received from the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company to the effect that . Thomas B. Beck, one of the city directors of the Company recently ed, owns no stock on the road.

Mr. Marcer offered a resolution that the usual meeting of Councils next week be postponed until Friday, to allow the members to properly observe Washington's birthday. Agreed to.

Mr. Marcer called up the ordinance to appropriate $103,903 28 to the Department

f City Property for 1866. The bill was debated for two hours and amended in several items. Two new item were added, an appropriation of $850 to the were added, an appropriation of $550 to the Tobacco Warehouse, and $1,000 for removing ice and snow. The repairs to the parade ground were decided to warrant only an appropriation of $500 instead of $1,000, as reported. The item for salaries at public squares was increased to $8,000, and that for manuring and sodding from $1,000 to $1,200. The bill as passed added up $109,-

The railroad tax bill of Mr. Nickels was then called up. A motion to lay it on the table was lost. A diffusive debate

The question was indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Harper moved that the Chamber consider the bill making the appropriation to the Street Cleaning Department. Agreed to. Mr. Billington moved that the subject be indefinitely posponed.

Mr. Harper dissented. He said that the appropriation must be made. The streets are filled with garbage. They have not been cleaned for six weeks, and the time has come when the streets must be carefully cleaned and the garbage removed, or the approach ing spring will spread disease far and wide through the city. The Street Cleaning De partment. had never been fully tested.

Mr. Franciscus advocated the postponement. He said the bill was presented by the Finance Committee, with the distinct understanding that the appropriation would not be pressed. The condition that the bill would not be pressed until Councils know what the Street Cleaning Department is to be, alone induced the Committee to sign and report the appropriation.

Mr. Miller moved to postpone the consideraation of the appropriation, and to take up the report of the Special Committee on Cleaning. Agreed to.

Mr. Marcer moved to suspend the rule re quiring the Chamber to adjourn at 7 o'clock.

The report of the Committee was then read. It provided for the contract with Henry Bickley to cleanse the streets for $95,000, payable monthly after the work is performed; he to give ample security, and one half of the money to be retained by the Committee of Street Cleaning, to be applied to streets neglected by the contractor The terms of the contract require the principal streets to be cleaned twice a week, at night the lesser streets, alleys, lanes, &c., once a week, and ashes to be removed. The power o annul the contract lies with the Mayor who is to make the contract, which is for five years, and the whole work is to be superintended by the Committee of Street

He hoped the members would vote down the motion, and pass the bill the people of the city desire to see passed. Mr. Evans said he was in favor of the bill but he would not vote to appropriate $95,000 of the city's money without an oportunity to consider it. Mr. Martin moved to adjourn. Agreed to. Adjourned.

Mr. Garrison on "Liberty Victorious." Concert Hall was well filled last evening many of whom were colored, assembled to hear the great anti-slavery champion, Wm. Lloyd Garrison, delivered a lecture before the Social, Civil and Statistical Association of colored persons. His subject for the occasion was "Liberty Victorious." The exercises were opened by the singing of an air by Miss E. T. Greenfield (Black Swan). Upon being introduced, the speaker was greeted with great applause. He said that all things in reference to the subject of his lecture, "Liberty Victorious," were now clear to his mind; the great light that was throwing its shadow upon it rendered it so. He was no enthusiast, but, nevertheless, he not affect her liability to pay for the land. are now recognized as our fellow citizens.

s not this progression? He advised those who were finding fault to be patient; that the time is fast coming when our land shall be the land of liberty, as our forefathers intended it to be. What is to be accomplished in refusing to be comforted by what has been gained? Nothing whatever. Where now is slave-holdin Goliah? Nowhere! "Sic Semper Tyrannis! Where now is slave-holding He thought there was a class in the South who were doing their utmost to make the freedmen uncomfortable and unhappy, but they cannot much longer carry on their doings of wrong. It is merely a dislike they have in giving up a power which they have exercised so long.

The South victorious! If such be the case, all our toils, trials and aspirations have been in vain. Right, then, has no chance with wrong. Slavery has triumphed and liberty has been defeated. No. such was not the case; and a statement so depressing, o at variance with the truth, should never have been made. There was a time when the South was victorious; it was from the ime of the formation of the Constitution until the commencement of the Nebraska onflict. Her shouts of triumph have repeatedly gone up from the Houses of Congress, from the press and the pulpit; but only to give rise to threats to every progressive Abolitionist. That day has passed; such shouts and threats would never be olerated again.

The total extinction of her pet, slavery, plainly shows that she was not triumpha is one would have believed. But to admit that she really did accomplish something, let us examine and see what it was. She succeeded in conflagrating Pennsylvania Hall; the murder of Hon. Owen Lovejoy; in the beating of the Hon Chas Sumner in the Senate Chamber of the United States; in killing martyred John Brown upon a gal-lows, in sight of the chivalry of Virginia.

These are samples of her multitude of successes. And what have they ultimately led to? History tells the tale. The theory of our martyred President has been carried out. No words more truthful than his were ever spoken when he said this country can not exist half slave and half free. The South, unable to protect herself against the gradual encroachment of public sentiment against her principles, at last determined to try her fate upon the field of battle.

The speaker here quoted sentiments of the leading men of the South, together with extracts from some of their leading journals before and during the war showing nals, before and during the war, showing the immense amount of bombast used by them until the final close of the rebellion. How have they succeeded? Has the Southern army its headquarters on the Hudson claimed it would? Has the Govern ment of the Union been crushed? No! but the South has been vanquished in argu-ment, on the field of battle, and upon the sea, and to-day is left as weak as a new-born babe, and the North has come out of the contest reinvigorated and strong as Hercules, with a record clear and pure.

The resolutions adopted by Congress allowing the people, regardless of color, the right of franchise; the right of riding in the rallway cars; providing for the education of white and colored children alike in the District of Columbia, certainly showed that liberty had been victorious.

The time for the discussion of the antislavery question is now at an end. The work now to be done is for the benefit of the freedman, and the speaker said it would be his aim in the future to confine himself to this object alone.

A SUGGESTION ABOUT WALL PAPER. In view of the prevalence of typhoid fever in many of the large cities, and the dreaded in many of the large cines, and the dreaded approach of cholera, the Rochester Union suggests that bad air is engendered by leaving old paper on the walls of dwellings, and advises all to overhaul their papered walls.

Hetzell, Kater, Marcer, Nickels, Ray, Raleigh, North Carolina-The Deaf and Dumb Asylum, &c. A letter from North Carolina to the Bos ton Post says: We reached Raleigh at 8 P. M., and out of the line of snow. This town, the capital of the State, contains about five thousand inhabitants. It is well laid out, well orna mented with trees, streets of good width, and some very neat and attractive private residences and churches. In the centre of the town stands the Capitol; at the opposite end of the main street is the Governor's residence. In front of the State House is a splendid bronze statue of Washington, and the grounds about it are quite ornamental well shaded with trees, and an iron fence surrounds the enclosure. A liberal invest ment in white paint or even whitewash, or many of the buildings and fences, as well as good sanitary laws enforced, would add materially to the beauty of the place. Located here is the State Lunatic Asylum, on a rise of ground overlooking the town, and a few squares from the Capitol is the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Asylum. The very cordial attentions shown nie by the Superintendent of both these institutions demand a notice, and I regret an abler pen is not favored with the duty. Dr. Willie J. Palmer is the Principa Asylum for the Deaf. Dumb and Blind The building is in architectural beauty and convenience one of the best in the country and neat and appropriately furnished. The present year there are eighty-four pupils who all appear to be perfectly happy and making great progress in their studies. We were favored with an exhibition of the abilities of several. Miss Narcissa J. Dupree, a charming young lady of nineteen, who lost her sight from sickness when but four years old, is one of the most superb pianist with vocal powers that would do credit in any opera. She is now one of the teachers in the Institute. Jasper A. Jamison, is a deaf mute, and his faculty for telling anecdotes in pantomime is trail remarkable, it is wonderful to note with what rapidity information can be communicated in the sign language; and while sympathy for the unfortunate naturally finds utterance, yet it is a source of gratification to know they have a reliable means of intercourse. The penmanship of the mutes, which we examined, was excellent, while the reading by the blind was almost marvelous. From here we drove over with Dr. Palmer to the Insane Asylum, where we were met by Dr. Ed. C. Tislin, who es corted us through the entire building. This is one of the largest buildings of the kind in the United States—with all the modern improvements of heating and ventilation by team and lighted with gas. The vaious wards are admirably arranged and kept perfectly neat in every respect. There ere numerous sad features here to contem late, and the history given us by the Doctor f some of the patients was heart-rending. In the female department was one lady who ost two children during the war, and not hearing from her husband for some time, her mind was shattered. She played on the piano for us with great precision. She was uite a belle at one time, and dresses now with great taste. My limited space will not permit me to go further in detail. On the grounds and in the vicinity, General Sher man's army of 120,000 encamped, and from appearances, I fancy they made liberal use fences, etc., for firewood; otherwise they are spoken of in most favorable terms. Arago and the Herdsman.

"Spiridion's" last Paris letter has the fol A few nights since Mons. Arago, the bril liant play writer and nephew of the cele brated scientific man, was returning from the theatre when he heard frightful moanng. Although he had only an umbrella it his hand, he went in the direction whence he sounds came. The next minute he found himself in the presence of a man with a broken cart and a dozen calves stalking and moaning all around him. The herdsman said to him in an imploring one, "The axle of my cart has broken, calves have al uobody seems to be about the streets at this hour. Will you be so good as to aid me to collect my calves?" Mons. Arago replied: "Willingly." After calves chase for an hour the were all collected together in a sort of per formed on one side by a coach door way and on the other by Mons. Arago holding in one hand his umbrella and in the other the herdsman's whip. The herdsman then suid: "My kind-hearted gentleman, will you be so good as to keep the calves while I go for a rope to mend my cart? I shall not be gone more than ten minutes." Mons. Arago looked at his watch. It was now two Pictock at night. He sighed, and replied:
"Yes, but be quick about it." The clock of St. Roch's church struck four of the mornng-still the herdsman had not made his appearance! The calves began to believe incessantly. The neighboring windows began to open, and more than one ill-aimed oitcher of water fell short of him. He was hilled through. He nevertheless waited nalf hour longer, and then giving a vigorous pull at the door bell within reach he pushed the calves in the open door, closed it and re-reated to bed. Can't you picture the con-usion and amazement of the porter and wife wakened at this untimely hour of vinter's night, and seeing his court-yard

Bold Robbery of a Bank. KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15.—The bank at laberty, Clay county, Mo., was robbed on luesday afternoon, of $72,000, under the ollowing circumstances:-Twelve men en ered the town about two o'clock, three o whom guarded the suburbs of the place whom guarded the shourds of the place. Nine went to the Clay County Savings' Association, seven of whom guarded the building, while the other two entered, and with cocked revolvers at the head of Mr. Baird, cashier, and his son, forced them into the vault and compelled them to deliver up all the money in the bank.

As the robbers were leaving, Mr. Baird thrust his head out of the window and gave the alarm. A boy named Wyman repeated the alarm and was shot five times and in-stantly killed. The robbers mounted their horses and escaped. A body of thirty citizens started in pursuit, and fifty more followed yesterday, but at the last account no captures had been made. The robber no captures and been made. The robbers divided the money at Mount Gilead Church, ten miles from Liberty, to enable them to scatter, if necessary. Three of the robbers were recognized as notorious bushwhackers during the war.
