Facts and Fancies. The conductors of the Concord, N. H. railroad have come to grief. A detective employed by the directors discovered that they did not account for all the money they received from passengers. That is the "fact." The "fancy" consists in any one thinking it worth while to mention such an eccurrence.

Letters are being received from some of the young ladies who went south to teach the freedmen, saying that they will return home as soon as their engagements will permit. Just what we supposed. Our charming young Northernesses are sure to be engaged before they have been long at the South.

At Hooksett, N. H., on the 12th inst., the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. Thomas N. Head and Miss Marietta Dennison, who are deaf mutes, was duly celebrated by a large company of their friends. It is positively asserted that during the long twenty-five years of wedded bliss neither has spoken an unkind word to the other. Their motto is, "Dum vivimus viva-

In the debate on the appropriation for refurnishing the President's house, Mr. Stevens said that after the death of Mr. Lincoln, nearly every valuable article had been stolen, including the gold spoons bought when Van Buren was President. There was not furniture enough even for the comfort of Mr. Johnson when he came in. We should imagine not. If everything was stolen, what was left could not have given Mr. Johnson much comfort.

At a recent anti-liquor meeting in Boston, Rev. Edward Everett Hale said he did not know of hardly a family of size that did not have, to use the familiar phrase, a "skele-ton in the house," in the shape of one or more of its members ruined through temptation, by the absolutely free exposure of liquor for sale. He might have added that the size of most families, at least the female portion of them, depends on the number and dimensions of their "skeletons."

We saw a school circular, the other day, in which the following fine gush of rhetoric, (italies included) occurs: "Cavillers may (italics included) occurs: "Cavillers may just as reasonably expect to satisfy a soar ing bird with the limits of a wingless one, as to induce me to follow any customs which check my honest aspirations." Somebody has been calling that party "an old apteryx"

"Oh, running stream! Oh, sparkling word! To be a soaring, human bird."

AMUSEMENTS. THE WALNUT.-Clarke begins his fifth week this evening, appearing in his unrivalled characters of Major de Boots, in "Everybody's Friend," and Newman Noggs, in "Nicholas Nickleby." A new rican play called "The Member from Pike," written for Mr. Clarke, will shortly be produced. It is said to be a very lively comedy and great pains and expense will

THE ARCH,—"Sam" will be the attraction this week, with Chanfrau, Parsloe, De Walden and Miss Logan in the main parts.
The lovers of comedy will have their fill with "Sam," as it is in five acts and com-prises the entire entertainment of the even-ing. Seats can be secured for any night

THE CHESTNUT.—The attraction at the Chestnut this week will be the "Ice Witch, or the Sea King's Bride," a grand spectacular drama which has not been played here for many years. As a spectacle, it is not inferior to the "Naiad Queen." The story goes back to the legendary lore of the Norse men, and involves their mythological characteristics. men, and involves their mythological characters. Mr. G. H. Clarke enacts the leading character of Harold, the Sea King; Miss Orton that of the heroine, Minna; Mr. Lennox sustains the comic part of Magnus Sweno; Mrs. Keach is the Ice Witch, Druda; and Miss Cooper appears as the Lady Ulla. The antagonistic immortals are Druda, the Ice Witch, and Freyr, the Sun God, and although most of the display scenes derive their beauty from the fantastic glitter of the line the firel scene is an Aracidicar and the control of the state of the state of the second of the state of the ice, the final scene is an Arcadian sunset and the aerial realms of the sun god. In this drama the effects are all novel and ingenious, and though the story is very wild and fanciful, it preserves the interest and attention of an addience throughout. introduces us to an imaginary world, and therefore, of course, there are magical transformations and strange doings. The meads of "Valhalla, the palace of the Ice Witch, temple of the war god, Odin, the frozen sea, cavern of Hecla, with her and her spirits descending on a revolving column of ice—these are some of the scenes of the drama. We cannot doubt that, with the cost that Manager Sinn has lavished on it, it will be remarkably successful.

THE AMERICAN.-Wallett's last week commences this evening. The attractions will be varied and popular this week. THE SWISS BELL RINGERS, we are glad to learn, will remain at Assembly Buildings during the present week. They will present new programmes. AN ATTRACTIVE COMBINATION.—On the 22d, Mr. S. K. Murdoch will give patriotic readings at Assembly Buildings, and the Peak Family will present one of their finest programmes, as will be seen by the adver-

BITUMINOUS COAL IN PENNSYLVANIA. Says the Pittsburgh Despatch: The State of Pennsylvania is by far the largest producer of both anthracite and bituminous coals in the United States. The coal mining establishments of Pennsylvania, in 1860 establishments of Pennsylvania, in 1860, numbered 310, employing a capital of $17,602,030 and producing $14,746,153. The number of hands employed was 29,777 and their annual labor cost $1,213,496. Allegheny county returned 54 mining establishments, with a capital of $1,800,000, employing 3,000 hands, and returned nearly two millions of dollars as an annual product. The extent of the coal field surrounding Pittsburgh has been estimated at 15,000 square miles or 8,000,000 acres. The upper seam burgh has been estimated at 15,000 square miles or 8,000,000 acres. The upper seam alone of this area is estimated to contain 1,498,464,000,000 bushels, or 53,516,480,000 tons of coal. Exclusive of a large amount of coal which goes to market by way of the Monongahela river, the Pittsburgh and Connelsville Railroad alone carried principally to the home market in 1864, 3,664,892 bushels, or 130,089 tons. The whole number of collieries tributary to the furnaces, forges, foundries, rolling mills, machine shops, glass works, cotton mills, flouring mills, &c, and to the commerce of Pittsburgh, number at the present time one hundred and three, employing 6 424 hord. number at the present time one hundred and three, employing 6,424 hands, and requiring for transportation 21,258 cars, because the present time one hundred and three present time one hundred and three presents the present time one hundred transportation 21,258 cars, because the present time one hundred transportation and the present time one hundred transportation and the present time one hundred transportation and the present time one hundred and three present time of the pre quiring for transportation 21,238 cars, besides boats, barges, &c. Averaging the price of coal consumed at Pittsburgh at twelve cents a bushel, and of that exported at twenty cents, the value of the coal trade of this city for 1864, would amount to about 9,000,000, a value exceeding the total product of bituminous coal returned in 1860 for the whole Union. RAPIDS STOPPED.—The Rochester Union says: The rapids in the Niagara river, directly opposite the Cataract House, are hardly covered by water at the present time, in consequence of an ice jam having formed above, causing the water to run close to the Canada shore. The like was never known, it is said, in that locality it is said, in that locality.

The members of the National Union party will assemble in their respective Wards tomorrow evening, to select delegates to Sena-torial and Representative Conventions. The Conventions will meet on Wednesday for the purpose of choosing delegates to the State Convention to nominate candidates for Governor and other State officers.

THE LINCOLN INSTITUTE,—The following letter has been received, by one of the managers, from the Chairman of the Christian Commission, showing his sympathy in this undertaking:
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16, 1866.—My Dea

Friend: I am rejoiced to see that the spirit of thankfulness for the happy results of our four years of war and suffering is about to be shown in a substantial and permanent way, in this city, by the establishment of a home for the Orphans of the Soldiers and Sailors who perished during that great struggle. I think the Ladies deserve much credit for their promptness, in endeavoring. at once, to meet this urgent demand, and eel sure that all who can will rejoice in having the opportunity of assisting in this most laudable and patriotic work, and I hope the "Lincoln Institute, or Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan Boys' Home," will soon be fully established as a permanent monument of gratitude of our citizens for the mercies we have rece ived, and as a tes-timony of honor to the brave fathers of these

FREEDMEN'S AID MEETING.-A union meeting of the friends of the religious education of the freedmen, under the auspices of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, was held last evening in the West Arch Street Presbyterian Church, southwest corner of Eighteenth and Arch streets. Notwithstanding the unpleasant weather a goodly number of both ladies and gentlemen were present. The meeting was pre-sided over by Rev. Dr. Edwards. After singing and prayer, the audience was addressed at length by Rev. S. C. Logan, of Pittsburgh, Secretary of the Committee. There are now upon lists of the Committee the names of fifty-seven Africans, who are commissioned to teach their freed brethren, but cannot be sent out for the want of the necessary funds. The Committee has been at an outlay of three thousand dollars per month, and they want sixty thousand dollars. lars the present year to carry out their great work of educating those people. The great mass of the contributions thus far have come from the cities and towns west of the Allegheny mountains. The Presbyterian churches of Philadelphia have given but three hundred dollars. SUNDAY CAR TTAVEL.—A meeting was held last evening at the North Broad Street Presbyterian Church, for the purpose of awakening a more decided feeling in favor of preserving the quiet of the Sabbath. The speakers announced were the Hon. Judge Stroud, of the Supreme Court, Rev. Dr. Adams, George Junkin, Esq., and others. It was stated that numerous petitions had been sent to the Legislature in favor of regioning the present quiet of the day. They taining the present quiet of the day. THE DISPENSARY .- The citizens of Camden have for a number of years past felt the great disadvantage arising from the want of a dispensary, and have urged upon Council and capitalists the necessity of building one. At last this want is to be supplied. Messrs. McKeen and Garrison supplied. Messrs, McKeen and Garrison have purchased the house and lot of ground formerly occupied by the Perseverance Hose Company, and will commence at once the work of establishing the proposed dispensary. The building will be enlarged and improved, and everything will be added which is wanting to make it complete. These gentlemen have in their possession some $5.000 which they were instructed by some $5,000 which they were instructed by the contributors to appropriate to this purpose, and which will serve as a basis to work upon. The citizens will also exhibit their usual liberality in works of philanthropy, by extending to this humane enterprise their encouragement. rise their encouragement and support. Hundreds of cases occur every year demanding such an institution, and in case the cholera happens to reach us, its conveniences will be recognized. The physicians com-posing the medical faculty of Camden, have volunteered to give their services on alternate weeks, and thus encourage the formation of this dispensary. Messrs, McKeen and Garrison have entered into this movement with a zeal and energy which cannot fail to make it a complete success.
