THE DAILY EVENING BULLETIN: 66.

XXXIXth CONGRESS.-FIRST SESSION. CLOSE OF YESTERDAY'S PROCHEDINGS.

SENATE.--Mr. Wade (Ohio) presented the credentials of Mr. Sherman, Senator-elect from Ohio. Mr. Sumner presented a memorial from the officers of a convention of colored men of Florida, praying a remedy for the refusal of landholders to lease lands to them, and for a grant of homesteads and civils rights, including the right of suffrage. Mr. Lane presented several petitions for railroads connecting Kansas with Texas. Mr. Morgan presented a memorial pray-for the enactment of an international copyright law. Mr. Cowan presented a memorial for the reduction of the revenue duty on petroleum and for a change in the method of levying

Mr. Sherman presented a petition for a reduction of the tax on agricultural implements.

Mr. Trumbull presented a similar petition from manufacturers of agricultural implements in Illinois.

Mr. Stockton presented a petition from New Jersey, praying for an increase of the proportion of cavalry in the Senate army bill to one-third of the entire force. Mr. Clark reported back the bill to annex of Berkeley and Jefferson of the counties Virginia, with an amendment which sim-ply consents to and authorizes such annexation.

Mr. Nye reported a bill concerning the boundaries of the State of Nevada, which provides for an enlargement of the present area of the State.

Mr. Stewart introduced a bill concerning Mr. Stewart Introduced a bin concerning national banks in certain States. It provides in addition to the three hundred millions of banking capital now anthorized, $21,000,-000 more, to be distributed as follows:-To California, $10,000,000; Nevada, $4,000,000; Oregon, $3,000,000; Idaho, $2,000,000; Wash-ington, $1,000,000; Arizona, $1,000,000; Mr. Conness introduced a bill to grant the right of way through the public domains right of way through the public domains for the construction of highways, canals and ditches, for mining, agricultural and manu-facturing purposes, which was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. Wilson introduced a joint resolution to disband the military forces of the rebel-lious States, and to forbid their reorganiza-tion. In introducing it, he read as evidence of its necessity letters from Gens. Thomas, Swayn, Hartsuff, and others in charge of the edmen in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

General Thomas refers to the conduct of these militia organizations in Mississippi, and the difficulties under which he labored in consequence, and says that Governor Humphreys acknowledged to him that in certain counties the military threatened to kill all negroes who should refuse to work for their old masters, and to kill all Northern men. He says that the withdrawal of the troops would be followed by terrible outrages. Other officers make similar com-plaints, and say that wherever the United States troops have been withdrawn the school-houses of the freedmen have been burned. They are made to submit to freed. burned. They are made to submit to fraud-ulent contracts and their homes are exposed to lawless outrages. In Louisiana an in-creasing bitterness of feeling is reported, as shown in public and in social gatherings. A letter from Western Louisiana, from a friend, a former member of the Massa-chusetts Legislature says that not a day passes without the commission of murders and robberies of freedmen. Of these cases the writer saw three in one day; one with his throat cut, one with his brains beaten out, and a third otherwise mutilated. Another had his eyes blown out with gun-powder, because he would not renew a conpowder, because he would not renew a con-tract after his master had refused to fulfill his old one. Nobody spoke of love to the Union, but hatred of the freedmen and the Yankees was everywhere uttered. The negroes were exposed to extermination, and the most ignorant, corrupt and unprin-cipled of men held sway. With the troops withdrawn, the lives of the freedmen would not be safe. General Charles Howard, brother of the Chief of the Freedmen's Bu-desire for it. If four-fifths of the body should determine to consider the subject now it would be in the power of two or three to keep the Senate in session all night, to no purpose. He moved therefore to ad-

The motion was carried without a divi-sion, and the subject comes up for consideration to-morrow, at one o'clock. House.-Mr. Henderson offered resolutions declaring that the Government is intended to protect every individual in the free and untrammeled exercise of all his rights and privileges; that our safety and prosperity require that just and adequate penalties be visited on those who violate the laws, and upon all transgressors; not for the purpose of retaliation or revenge, but to secure subordination to the constituted authorities; and that the House will stand by and sustain the President in executing the laws by bringing to trial a sufficient number of the leading rebels against the national Government, in order to vindicate the national authority, sustain the confidence of the loyal people, and to rebuke con-spirators and traitors for all time to come. Debate arising, the resolution lies over. Mr. Lafin, from the Committee on Printing, reported a resolution, which was adopted, providing for the printing of twenty thousand extra copies of the address of Hon. George Bancroft and other proceedings attendant on the memorial services on the life and character of the late President Lincoln. Mr. Raymond presented petitions of the managers of theatres in New York, Boston, Philadelphia. Baltimore and Washington, for the amendment of the law imposing for the amendment of the law imposing taxes upon them, and asking relief from the tax upon their receipts when they do not equal their expenses. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. Also, the petition of the Assistant Assessors of the Thirty-third. District of the city of New York, for an increase of pay and allow-ances. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means Mr. Ketchum presented the remonstrance of Archibald Wilson and other manufac-turers, &c., of paper and envelopes, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., against the passage of the bill to sell stamped envelopes at the cost of the stamp only. Mr. Kasson presented the memorial of the American Free Trade League, with re-ference to the Reciprocity Treaty, which was referred to the Committee of Ways and

Mr. Longyear introduced a series of resolutions declaring the views of the House relative to the results, &c., of the rebellion. Mr. Finck moved to lay them upon the table, but the motion did not prevail. Mr. Raymond called for a division of the resolutions, and desired to ask a question. Mr. Le Blond said he should object, unless an opportunity were afforded to those who were opposed to the resolutions of expressing their reasons for voting against

Mr. Raymond asked that the vote be first taken on the first two resolutions. Mr. Wentworth demanded a on each vote and all. Mr. Smith inquired whether the resolutions did not go to the Committee on Reconstruction. The Speaker replied that the point of order came too late; otherwise the the reso-Intions would go to that committee. The House then voted on the first resolution, as follows: Resolved, That, in the language of the proclamation of the President of May 29, 1865, the rebellion which was waged by a 1865, the rebellion which was waged by a portion of the people of the United States against the properly constituted authorities of the Government thereof, in the most vio-lent and revolting form, but whose organ-ized and armed forces have now been al-most entirely overcome, has, in sits revolu-tionary progress, deprived the people of the States in which it was organized of all civil government. government:

This was agreed to, by yeas 102, nays 36. The next resolution was read, as follows: Resolved, That whenever the people of any State are thus deprived of all civil gov-ernment, it becomes the duty of Congress,

The joint resolution was passed. Mr. James M. Humphrey, from the C mittee on Commerce, reported a bill, w was passed, amending the bill to pre the spread of Toreign disease among c of the United States, so as to read that importation of neat cattle and hide importation of heat cattle and hide hereby prohibited; providing that the o ation of this act or any part thereof, s be suspended as to any foreign country part of a foreign country, whenever the cretary of the Treasury shall officially termine and give notice thereof that is importation will not tend to the intro tion and spread of infectious disease an cattle of the United States. It is made duty of the Secretary to make all the cessary rules and regulations to carry law into effect, and to send copies th to the proper officers of the United S and agents in foreign countries, as he deem necessary. The President may, w ever in his judgment the importation cattle will not be injurious, by procla mation, declare the provisions of this inoperative, and of no effect from and thirty days after the issuing of the pr mation. Persons offending against thi are, on conviction, subject to a fine of hundred dollars, or imprisonment for year, or both, at the discretion of court.

Mr. Dawes, from the Committee of tions, reported a resolution declaring Mr. Voorhees is not, but Mr. Washburr entitled to the seat now held by the for entitled to the seat now held by the form Mr. Schenck asked leave to offer a res-tion, calling upon the President to inf the House, at as early a day as practica if in his opinion not incompatible with public interests, whether there is any respondence or other information on fil the State Department having relation to steps taken by the Republican Governm of Marico, directing the negotiation of Mexico, directing the negotiation loan in the United States, for the purpo procuring means to enable the Repub maintain its independence. Mr. Howe submitted the following amendment to the pending House resolution :-"And the right, of voting for electors of President and Vice President of the United States, for members of the House of Reprepresentatives and members of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature, is hereby granted to the following classes of is hereby granted to the following classes of persons of African descent, citizens of the United States, viz:--All males of the age of twenty-one years who have, during the late war, been duly enrolled in the army or navy of the United States; all males of like age able to read and write the English, French or Spanish labguage: all males of like age in the possession and enjoyment of $250; all domiciled in the proper election district for at least six months next before an election at which they claim the right to vote; but no such person to be allowed to vote who is of unsound mind, a pauper, or under condemnation of infamous crime; and Congress shall, in default of State legislation, have full power to carry into effect this provision by legislation applicable to all the States.'

all the States." The Constitutional Amendment regu-lating the basis of representation was then taken up, and Mr. Yates (Ill.) debated it. The Vice-President submitted the message of the President vetoing the Freed-man's Bureau bill, which was read by the clerk amidst evidences of intense feeling on the part of Senators and gathered members of the House, as well as spectators in the galleries, but without any open manifesta-tion except at the close of the reading, when loud applause shook one section of the genthe emphatic blows of the Vice-President's hammer. That portion of the galleries was soon cleared. The Vice-President said the message would be entered upon the Journal -would the Senate now proceed to reconsider the bill. Mr. Lane (Kansas) moved that the message be printed, and the consideration of the bill be postponed till to-morrow at one o'clock

Mr. Grimes asked for a division of the motion.

Mr. Lane (Kansas), said this was a mes-sage of the President, and was entitled to deliberate consideration. He would preserve the unity of the party, and he hoped a postponement would be voted. Mr. McDougall said the President had, with great care and courtesy, asked the re-newed consideration of this body to the questions involved in this bill. and he hoped the subject would be postponed. The motion to print was agreed to.

Upon the question of postponement the yeas and nays were taken resulting, yeas 17 nays 28, as follows:

House that the condition of the rebel States fully justifies the President in maintaining the suspension of the writ of habeas corpu in those States.

This was agreed to-yeas, 117, nays, 29. The fourth and last resolution was read as follows : Resolved, That it is the deliberate sense of this House that the condition of the rebel States fully justifies the President in maintaining military possession and con-trol therein; and that the President is entitled to the thanks of the nation for employing the war power for the protection of the Union citizens and the freedmen in those States. This resolution was adopted, yeas 134, nays 5-the latter being as follows: Messrs. Grider, Harding (Ky.), McCullough, Nicholson, Ritter, Rogers, Shanklin, and Trimble.

Mr. Banks, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported a joint resolution authorizing and requiring the Secretary of the Navy to detail one steam vessel from the Pacific squadron to make a survey and soundings both of the American and Russian coasts, where it is proposed to establish communication between the Western and Eastern Continents, and for the transporta-tion of materials, and generally afford such assistance as may be best calculated to secure the success of the enterprise, and to carry out the purposes of the act of July, 1864

Mr. Washburne (Ill.) opposed the resolu-tion, as he was not willing to place the navy at the disposal of a foreign Government or private parties.

Mr. Stevens objected that last year, when Congress permitted the Company to lay a telegraph by way of Russia, they authorized the Secretary of the Navy to send one or two ships to aid them, but some clerk in the that Department said the vessels should not be sent, as the act read "authorized," and not "required." Russia had ordered two vessels for the service. He hoped the inten-tion of the law would be carried out, and that the vessels might not be withheld merely at the whim of a clerk. M. Banks-I said this was one of the grandest enterprises of the age. proposed to be furnished would carry the flag of the country. It was desirable to connect the lines at Behring's Straits. The author of the enterprise, Mr. Collins, was a native of New York, but a citizen of Cali-fornia. Col. Bulkley, as well as Mr. Col-lins, was well known to him. He was one of the most able, patriotic and firm men he of the most able, particult and nrm men ne ever knew. The telegraphic connection will be completed in 1867. By its establishment the Secretary of the Navy would be able to communicate with our vessels in any part of the earth. Not only Russia had sent out vessels, but the English Government had also given everything required, and the American Government had given everything except this vessel. Mr. Washburne (Ill.) said this was a corporation to build a telegraph line. It was a private enterprise. This was a bill in effect asking the people to pay the expense which the company itself incurred. Mr. Brooks said this was not a corporation. The enterprise was a great act of civilization, stretching out the American continent to the Old World. It was the only means of reaching the people favorable to the United States. It was indispensably necessary, situated as we are with France and England, to unite ourselves with our

Ship Hamlet, from Calcuts, ashore on Nanset, is heing discharged as fast as possible by a working party of 55 men, under the direction of the underwriters' agent. Capt Moses B Tower returned to Boston 17th inst. from the wreck, and reports that up to Friday uight 250 bales gunny bags and 50 bags linsee' had been discharged into lighters, the former being all wet, but not much damaged, while the late ris in very bad condition. At high tide the ship is under water to her upper deck, and the work of discharging has to be sus-pended until the tide falls. Her mizzen mast was cut taway to ease her, but the fore and matumasus are still standing The hull has worked down into the sand the ship altogether is in a very bad condition. It is ifeared that the first easterly storm will break her up. NOTICE TO MARINEES

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

NOTICE TO MARINERS, The can buoy on the south end of Goat Island, in Newport harbor, has shifted some two bundred yards more or less, to the southward, and now lies near the Lime Rocks. Vessels can now pass to the northward of it, close to it. It will be moved back to the old po-sition in a few days.

The wreck of the schr Mary Stewart, of Newport, which was cut through by the loe and sunk, as before reported, is in a very dangerous position ro vessels bound up or down Narragansett Bay, It lies in mid-channel, about 300 feet south of Great Red Buoy, be-tween Ponhom Beacon and Sabin's Point. Vessels giving the buoy a good berth to southward will clear the wreck.
