A Splendid Improvement on Secon Street-Edwin Hall & Co's New Store.

Every reader of the BULLETIN is familiar

Every reader of the Bullettin is laminar with the name of the prominent dry goods firm of Edwin Hall & Co., of Second street, between Chestnut and Market street, and every resident of this city is familiar with the energy and enterprise which have marked their onward progress in the business world. At No. 26 South Second street they have been South Second street they have been in business some fourteen years, but the extent of their custom has been so great that they have been forced to enlarge their borders by purchasing the extensive property adjoining their store on the south, running through from Second to Strawberry street. With an unleard of celerity they have changed these premises into one of the most beautiful and commodious dry-goods stores in the country. It is, to all intents a new edifice, embracing every requisite for conducting the try. It is, to all intents a new edifice, embracing every requisite for conducting the silk and ory goods business, in both its wholesale and retail departments, with the greatest facility to themselves and comfort to their customers. As a business improvement on this busy thoroughfare it is worthy ment on this ousy thoroughare it is worthy of notice, as there are few, if any, more beautiful establishments in our city. Its magnificent crystal front, rendered doubly attractive by the elegant display of new spring dress goods which adorn it, forms a good index to the character of the house. good index to the character of the house. The arrangement of the counters, shelving, stairs, sky-lights and every other essential is, in some respects, an improvement on anything that we have seen in this city or elsewhere. The whole building is superbly lighted by means of two immense skylights, so graduated and arranged as to dis-tribute the light equally in all parts of the house, and produce a very striking effect. A view is had, on the visitor entering the Second street door, of the rearrooms on the second and third floors, and the sky-lights, second and third floors, and the sky-lights, being richly ornamented with carved work, give the whole a very pleasing and picturesque appearance. No less taste has been displayed in the painting and the paper, which will be regarded as in excellent harmony by the most fastidious eye. The ground floor of the establishment (where on each effer to morrow the taste (where, on and after to-morrow, the taste and fashion of our city will doubtless be attracted in the same bewildering crowds which have for years characterized the store of this popular firm) is devoted to the following classes of goods: hosiery, embroideries, white goods, French, English, and American prints, delaines, dress goods of all the newest fabrics that are brought out, both in Europe and America, and an almost endless line of silks. In the latter their stock is certainly not surpassed, if it is equalled, by any other in Philadelphia. We may notice in this connection two important points: First, that Messrs. Edwin Hall & Co., are large importers, which secures to their customers decided advantages in the matter of prices; and Secondly, that the superiority of taste in the selection of colors and styles displayed by Mr. Hall is pro-

In examining the various appointments in this de-partment of the house we discovered a novel contrivance, which the ladies have long felt the need of; we allude to the "Dark Room"—a room from which all daylight is excluded, where silks and other dress fabrics can be examined by gas, thus avoiding the risk of selecting colors and shades which deteriorate under the test of the

From the ground floor, we ascend by an easy flight of stairs to the second story, where we find a series of unseparated rooms, occupied as follows: The front is the Cloak-Room, their business in this department being very extensive; the middle room is used entirely for the sale of Shawls of every description, and ladies' skirts, which we description, and ladies skirts, which we may remark has become an immense item in trade; back of this, extending to Strawberry street, is the Wholesale Silk Room, where merchants will find a stock admirably adapted by its richness and variety to the wants of the fashionable in all parts of the country. The third floor of the edifice is occupied exclusively as their Wholesale Department, there being an entrance to it from Strawberry street. The basement of the building is used for exhibiting blankets, counterpanes, sheetings and shirtings by the piece, and a full line of what is com-prehended under the head of house-furnishing goods.

Ing goods.

It will not surprise any intelligent Philadelphian to learn that this active firm sold nearly three-quarters of a million of dollars worth of goods last year, being a rise of more than half a million dollars over their sales fourteen years ago. They employ about fifty persons, many of them being polite and affable ladies who attend the retail counters. We may mention in this connection that the most artistic builders, pointection that the most artistic builders, painters, glaziers, gas fitters, paper hangers, &c., were employed in the fitting up of the store; the distinguished firm of Cornelius & Baker supplying the gas fixtures, chandeliers, &c. The building was splendidly illuminated last evening and looked truly beautiful. To-morrow it will be thrown open to the public, and it is probable that the new store will then be inaugurated in the presence of a brilliant and admiring concourse of visitors. and admiring concourse of visitors.

A MASONIC LODGE OF SORROW .- A "Lodge of Sorrow," upon the death of wm. H. Adams, late Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter of the Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter of Free Masons, of the State of Pennsylvania, was held in the Grand Lodge Room, yesterday afternoon, and the ceremony was conducted by Wm. J. Kelly, Worshipful Master of Washington Lodge. Hundreds of Masons were present, among them many of our most eminent and influential citizens. The instrumental music, consisting of an orchestra of forty pieces, was under the direc-tion of Professors Cunnington and Rutter, and the vocal music under direction of Prof. Aaron Taylor. After opening the Lodge in due form, Wm. B. Reed, Past Master of Washington Lodge, offered a series of reso-lutions commemorative of the virtues of William H. Adams, and expressing deep corrow at his loss. They were seconded by Henry J. White, of Jerusalem Royal Archi-Chapter, and were adopted. The Master of the Lodge then began the ceremonies by requesting the Chaplain, Rev. Robert A. Pattison, to offer up a prayer. After the prayer there was music, and then selections of Scriptures were read. For fully half an hour the Masonic ceremonies continued, solution music interspersing the arbest tions. solemn music interspersing the exhortations of the officers. The members present then formed in procession to pay the last Masonic honors at the tomb of the deceased. This tomb revised in the Ledge research. konors at the tomb of the deceased. This tomb, reared in the Lodge room, was beautifully decorated with natural flowers. The scene, as the hundreds present performed the last sad honors—the lights darkened—the orchestra playing a solemn dirge, was impressively grand. An interesting eulogy upon the deceased was then pronounced by Samuel C. Perkins, Esq., the Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of Pennsylvania, after which the large assambless

A LARGE FUNERAL, — The funeral of Isaac L. Lowe, Esq., late Surrogate of Camden county, was, yesterday afternoon, attended by a vast concourse of people, and the services in the Broadway M. E. Church, on the occasion, were solemn and empropri on the occasion, were solemn and appropriate. During the last year or two the de-ceased had lost several members of his family. He was a man of unyielding patriotism, and gave several sons to the country's cause, who fell in defending the na-tional flag. The remains of the deceased were followed to the grave by members of the Winslow Lodge, No. 40, of Winslow; the Wildey Lodge, No. 19, I. O. O. F., of Cam-dem, and a very large concourse of relatives and friends.

STREET BEGGING.—Street begging has become quite a business in Camden. In South Ward individuals employ numbers of small and large children, and send them out from house to house to beg, and by this many receives accepted by profit. means receive considerable profit. Often when the persons applied to for assistance offer to pay the applicants if they will do a little job of work, they turn up their noses indignantly and reply that they can make more by begging. Sach persons should be compelled to go to work or to the House of Refuge.

Lodgers.—The station house is crowded every night and part of the day with homeless and indigent individuals, some of whom are robust and healthy, sufficiently able to perform the most necessary kinds of work for a livelihood. Yet they saunter about during working hours, going from door to door begging, and often for the purpose of surveying premises with a view to rob. This thing has become an absolute nuisance, and calls for an effective remedy.

calls for an effective remedy. SEVERELY SCALDED .- On Monday afternoon two men employed in the box manufactory of Mr. Leonard Repshur, in Middle Ward, were pretty severely scalded, in consequence of the drum-head to the boiler giving out, and throwing the boiling water over them.

HARD ICE.—The river yesterday was full of floating ice, much of which was large boulders from the fresh water streams, blue and exceedingly hard. Whenever the ferry boats struck them, they broke the buckets out of the wheels, consequently the boats had to move cautiously and slowly. had to move cautiously and slowly.

ENGLOSED.—The new Catholic Church on Seventh and Market streets has been enclosed, and the interior arrangements are now being finished in a very substantial and tasteful style. NEW CHURCH AT BORDENTOWN.—A new and handsome Methodist Episcopal Church is soon to be commenced at Bordentown. It will be a great ornament to the city.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

In the year 1845, the writer embarked in the Drug Business in the city of Philadelphia, and while thus engaged, made several experiments in regard to the most desirable mode of preparing Fluid Extracts. My efforts being successful—the articles being approved and used by the Medical faculty—I was desirous of placing them before the paolic, but hesitated for some time, before concluding to resort to newspaper advertising, knowing of the prejudices that existed in the minds of many against using advertised Medicines, but through the advice of friends and those who had used my preparations, this objection was overcome.

Commencing in a small way, after 18 years' exertions, the popularity of my articles has extended to all parts of the United States, and widely throughout foreign countries—and this in the face of much opposition. Every means has been resorted to by unprincipled dealers since their merit and success have been known—such as advertising larger bottles at less price, censuring all other preparations, and even copying my advertisements—but I am happy to state that out of the many who have resorted to this, none have been successful.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric column.

advertisements—but I am happy to state that out of the many who have resorted to this, none have been successful.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric column, should stand simple, pure and majestic, having fact for its basis, induction for its pillar, and truth alone for its capital.

I contend there is no business requiring these qualifications more, as medicines are brought in contact with Druggists everywhere. I am also well aware that persons reason in this manner: that which may benefit one may be of no advantage to another! How mistaken the idea!

A Blood Purifier for one is a Blood Purifier for all, A Diny tie for one, a Dinyetic for all.

A Narcotic for one, a Narcotic for all.

A Narcotic for one, a Rarcotic for all.

A Purgative for one, a Purgative for all.

Just as much soas wholesome food for one is wholesome food for all, with no more difference than that some constitutions require more than others, and that persons in disease are given to despondency—expecting in a few days or weeks, and perhaps with a single bettle of medicine, to be restored to health, if not to youth and beauty. These persons rarely recover, lacking patience. They give nothing a fair trial, considering a new dollars expended for the benefit of their health a waste of money. The same individuals may have been years in breaking down their constitutions, and have probably expended thousands of dollars in dress and dissipation, and thought nothing of it. Such forget that GOOD HEALTH IS TRUE WEALTH. With upwards of 30,000 recommendatory letters and unsolicited certificates, I have never resorted to their publication. I do not do this, from the fact that they are "Standard Preparations" (not Patent Medicines), but open to the inspection of all. The ingredients are not kept secret, and are recommended only for those diseases and accompanying symptoms for which their ingredients are everywhere recognised as Standard Specifics.

The Kidneys.

The kidneys are two in number, situated at the up-per part of the loin, surrounded by fat and consisting of three parts, viz.: The Anterior, the Interior and the of three parts, viz.: The Anterior, the Interior and the Exterior.

The anterior absorbs. Interior consists of tissues or velts, which serve as a deposit for the urine and convelts, which serve as a deposit for the urine and convey it to the exterior. The exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tube and called the Ureter. The ureters are connected with the oladder.

The bladder is composed of various coverings or ussues, divided into parts, viz.: The Upper, the Lower, the Nervous, and the Mincous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability, others urinate without the ability to retain. This frequently occurs in children.

To cure these affections we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions, If they are neglected, Gravel or Dropsy mayensoe. ensue.

The reader must also be made aware, that however sight may be the attack, it is sure to affect his bodily health and mental powers; as our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

Gout or Rheumatism.

Pain occurring in the loins is indicative of the above listages. They occur in persons disposed to acid tomach and chalky concretions.

The Gravel.

The Gravel ensues from neglect or mproper treat ment of the kidneys. These organs being weak, the water is not expelled from the bladder, but allowed to remain; it becomes feverish and sediment forms. It is from this deposit that the stone is formed and grave ensues.

Dropsy

Is a collection of water in some parts of the body, and bears different names, according to the parts affected, viz:, when generally diffused over the body, it is called Anasarca; when of the abdomen, Ascites; when of the chest, Hydrothorax.

TREATMENT.

Helmbold's highly concentrated compound Extract Buchu is decidedly one of the best remedies for diseases of the bladder, kidneys. gravel, dropsical swelings; rheumatism and gouty affections. Under this head we have arranged Lysuria, or difficulty and psin in passing water, scanty secretion or small and frequent discharges of water, Strangury or stopping of water, Hematuria or bloody urine, Gout and Rheumatism of the kidneys, without any change in quantity, but increase of color or dark water. It was always nighly recommended by the late Dr. Physic, in these affections. affections.

"The matinée on Saturday was crowded to excess. The German Company is highly esteemed here, and with good reason too. for their performances evolve such quantities of good humor that it is impossible to resist their ascination. Individuality is rarely apparent or at least objectionably so. We cite their presentation of "Martha" as an illustration. How sparking and enliven ing was the overture played by the German orchestra and directed by the skillfu Nenendorff. This is du agreeably into the play. Following it, from beginning to end, the charming mbsic of Flutuwes united with the hearty co-operative action of the sit gers, keeping the senses in a constant spell of delight. All of the principal songs were encored, while the concerted pleces were much applanded."
