New Publications.

"Literature in Letters" is the title of a large and elegant volume published by D. Appleton & Co., and for sale by Ashmead & Evans. The letters are those of eminent persons, and they are selected to illustrate manners, art, criticism, biography, history and morals. The editor is James P. Holcombe, LL. D., of New York. He has selected from a very extensive field, and his own notes are always judicious, instructive and entertaining. Of course that prince of letter-writers, Horace Walpole, figures largely. But there are, besides, selections from the correspondence of Mme. de Sevigne, Lady Mary Wortley Montagu, Pope, Chesterfield, Hannah More, Byron, Cowper, Scott, Johnson, Coleridge, Gray, Burns, Lamb, Sidney Smith, Landor, Campbell, Shelley, Dickens and scores of other foreign celebrities. Of Americans, we have letters of Washington, Franklin, John Adams, Mrs. Adams, Jefferson, Fisher Ames, Irving, Margaret Fuller and others. There is not a letter which is not an excellent specimen of its class, and the book is altogether a delightful one.

Messrs. Harper & Brothers have published a biographical sketch of the late James Louis Pettigru, of Charleston, by William J. Grayson, now also deceased. Mr. Pettigru was one of the best and most accomplished of Southern gentlemen, who opposed secession always, and who commanded the respect of all, even while the madness of revolution raged around him. He died in 1853, and it was while Charleston was exposed to the fire of the Union guns, that his friend, Mr. Grayson, wrote this excellent and most interesting sketch of his life and character.

Mrs. Oliphant is the best of the living female novelists of England, if we except, perhaps, "George Eliot." Her latest story, called "Agnes," has just been republished by Harper & Brothers. It is a simple, forcible, natural story of a blacksmith's daughter married to a proud nobleman's son. As an illustration of English society and of the dangers of a mesalliance in such an artificial organization, it is admirable. While it is wholly free from the sensational character, it is absorbingly interesting.

We have received from Mr. Carleton, of New York, "The Prince of Kashan, a West Indian Story," by the author of "In the Tropics," with an editorial introduction by Richard B. Kimball. "In the Tropics" we remember as a charming narrative of an American who settled in a wild part of Santo Domingo. The Spanish war drove him away for a time to Jamaica, where he found the journal of a Mahometan African, of a kindly family, who was carried off in boyhood, a slave, to Jamaica, but who obtained education and ultimate freedom. The story is well-told and extremely interesting. Mr. Kimball vouches for its verity, and certainly bears every mark of being entirely authentic.

The last London Quarterly Review (American reprint) has been sent us by Messrs. W. B. Zieber & Co. It has some excellent articles, particularly those relating to belles lettres. When it touches upon politics, especially American, it is bigoted and wrong-headed, though there is nothing especially offensive in this number.

"Hours at Home," for March is also out. It contains its usual pleasing varieties of secular and religious reading, including, amongst other interesting articles, valuable biographical sketches of Dr. Nott, General McPherson and Samuel Adams. For sale by T. B. Pugh.

Parts 101 and 102 of Chambers's Encyclopaedia have been issued by Messrs. J. B. Lippincott & Co. It has advanced now pretty well into the letter S, and the subjects are all treated carefully and brought down to the latest date.

GERMAN OPERA.—The performance of Kreutzer's Opera of "A Night in Grenada," last evening, was one of the best and most enjoyable of the season. Mme. Rotter first made the opera known to us, and her performance of the soprano part is one of the best things she does. Habeshmann, of course, was delightful, though he has not a great deal to do. The important part of the Prince was sustained by Mr. Wilhelm Formes, who sang and acted much better than any one we have had in it. His voice is not powerful or of extensive range. It is a light barytone, of pure, sympathetic quality, and he sings with grace, expression and intelligence. Mr. Formes has already made himself a favorite with the Philadelphia public. The opera was warmly received. The splendid aria in the last scene was encored, and the impressive and beautiful choruses of the second act were heartily applauded. This evening Fra Diavolo will be repeated, and to-morrow evening we are promised Meyerbeer's grandest opera, The Huguenots.

THE OPERA.—Just as we go to press we learn that Mr. Theodore Formes will not be able to sing the part of Raoul in "The Huguenots," at the German opera, to-morrow night. He is suffering from a severe catarrh. His part will be taken by Mr. Franz Himmeler, and it will be very satisfactorily given, as he has frequently sung it with the greatest acceptance in the opera houses of the European capitals.

LECTURE ON THE HINDOOS.—Dr. Thomas delivers the second lecture of his course, at the Hall of the University of Pennsylvania, this evening. The lecture will be mainly devoted to a discussion of the system of Brahma, as it is developed in the present social and literary condition of Hindostan, and in the hands of this able lecturer the subject is sure to be treated in an interesting and instructive style. This course of lectures, which includes the whole field of the religious and philosophic systems of China and India, is well worth the attention of our intelligent community.

THE SPANISH-CHILEAN WAR.

Reported Proposal of an Armistice by the Spanish Commodore—Summary Rejection of the Offer by the Chilean Government—Cuban Subscription to Aid Spain in the War Against Chile and Peru.

HAVANA, March 1.—The Fomento newspaper of Porto Rico copies a report from the Panama Star and Herald, to the following effect: That Commodore Nunez, commanding the Spanish squadron on the Pacific, had proposed an armistice, all questions at issue between Spain and Chile to stand as before the war; the Cavendish and the Spanish prisoners to be returned to him, and commissioners to be appointed on both sides to treat the question amicably, all of which the Chilean government refused in a very decided manner.

Nunez then proposed that the Chilean Minister of Foreign Affairs come on board his flagship and arrange the armistice, to which the reply was that Senor Mendez Nunez was at liberty to come to the capital to make any proposition he saw fit; but that the Minister of Foreign Affairs could not leave to treat on any subject with the enemy.

Some of our citizens having expressed their readiness to contribute towards the expense which the war with Chile and Peru may occasion to the government, the Captain General has signified his acceptance of the offer, and a committee has accordingly been organized to collect the subscriptions.

This South American crusade, however, is very unpopular in this country, even with the Spaniards, who profess no goodly commercial pursuits obstructed by it. The disastrous results experienced in St. Domingo are by no means forgotten.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The steamer Java has arrived with dates to the 24th ult. The steamer Etna arrived out on the 22d and the Virginia on the 23d. The new iron steamship City of Paris, arrived at Liverpool, and would sail on March 21st for New York. She averaged 15 knots on her trial trip from Greenock.

The American Banquet, in London, on the 22d, in honor of Washington's Birthday, was attended by about two hundred ladies and gentlemen. The Hon. Freeman Morse, Consul at London, presided. Among the guests were Minister Adams, the Secretaries of Legation, Hon. George Folsome, late U. S. Charge at the Hague, Professor Goldwin Smith, Cyrus W. Field, &c.

Letters of regret were read from John Bright and other distinguished men. The usual toasts and sentiments were drunk. Mr. Adams continued his speech to a brief expression of thanks and patriotic aspirations.

An extraordinary meeting of the Atlantic Telegraph Company will be held March 8th, to receive the explanations of arrangements made and agreements entered into with the contractors and others for laying the cable between the United States and Europe.

The House of Commons voted $50,000 a year and a dowry of $20,000 to the Princess Helena, 21,000 a year to Prince Alfred, and the erection of a monument to Lord Palmerston in Westminster Abbey.

On the 23d in the Commons, Mr. Gladstone said that no recent communications had taken place with the United States, and he believed that the interest of humanity required their revision, and cited cases of Confederate privateers as evidence.

After some debate the Attorney General admitted that the subject was of considerable importance, but he defended the course of the British Government, and trusted that the American people would see ultimately the wisdom of the course pursued by the British Government in maintaining peace, and in fact advised Mr. Adams of his willingness to consider the question with the American Government with the view of restoring the law as effective as possible.

Mr. Watkin asked if the government had made any representations to the American government relative to the Fenian proceedings in America.

Mr. Gladstone regretted that the subject had been brought up. The government had no knowledge of any proceedings to justify them in making representations to the American government. He believed public opinion in America condemned the movement.

It would be undignified to renege as long as no public act was committed, amounting to a breach of the neutrality laws.

The Irish police continue, actively, to arrest the Fenians, and troops continue to be sent to Ireland.

The latest weekly return shows 13,000 cases, the largest yet.

The army and navy estimates show a merely trivial reduction.

The Peruvian iron-clad Huascar remained at Brest under the surveillance of the authorities.

The Chilean cruiser Independence had also arrived there.

The Captain of an English vessel lying at Brest had been imprisoned for a week, it was supposed, for furnishing arms and ammunition to the Huascar.

The Banks of France, Prussia and Italy have all reduced their rates of discount.

The Prussian Government has suddenly closed its Chambers on the plea that the proceedings of the Deputies in opposition to the Government tended towards strife. The action was quite unexpected.

Foreign Commercial Intelligence.
LIVERPOOL, Feb. 24.—Cotton.—The demand has been a fair extent throughout the week, but freely met by holders, and under the influence of the advices from America of increased receipts and a fall in prices some doubts have been submitted for the reduction in the Bank rate tended to promote a steadier feeling at the close.

American continued in general demand, and in the early part of the week commanded extreme rates; but during the last two days it receded, and closed about 1/2 below the former quotations. Sea Island Cotton is quiet but unchanged. For other descriptions the decline ranges 1/4 to 1/2 per pound. The week's business amounts to 58,500 bales, including 3,440 to speculators and 55,060 to the trade. The following are the authorized quotations.

	Fair.	Middling.
New Orleans,	20 1/2	18 1/2
