Pennsylvania Legislature. HABRISBURG, March 12. SENATE.—The Senate was not in session

House.—The House met at 71 P. M., The Governor's message was received, vetoing the act allowing the Philadelphia and Eric Railroad to build branches. The Governor says that he approves the general principle of allowing the company to build branches, to develop the counties adjoining these on its main line, but objects to the fourth section of the bill, which might be construed so as to give the company the exclusive right to any route which it might designate by any map found in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth. For this reason, although approving of the general plan of the bill, the Governor withheld his signature.

Mr. Ruddiman moved the discharge of the Committe on Roads and Bridges from the consideration of the opening certain streets through the Kensington depot, and he stated that the Judiciary Committee already had a similar bill under considera-

The motion to discharge was not agreed to. Mr. Glass offered a resolution for a final adjournment on the 12th of April, which passed.

The following petitions were presented;
One by Mr. De Haven, from 180 citizens, favoring the incorporation of the Society of Progressive Spiritualists.

Mr. Watt presented five in favor of a free bridge at South street, Schuylkill.
The following bills were introduced.

One by Mr. Davis, incorporating the Crescent Library.

Mr. Hood, one appointing two additional

Mr. Marks, one allowing the Baptist Institute to sell real estate in the Twentyfourth Ward. Mr. J. T. Thomas presented a bill exempting the Lincoln Institute from taxation.
Mr. Ruddiman, a bill allowing the Sixth Street Railroad to lay a track on Minor

Mr. Houck, a bill for the relief of citizens of Adams county for damages sustained during the war.

Mr. Negley presented a bill incorporating the Farmers' Land Improvement Company.

Mr. Tyson, a bill authorizing the city of Chester to erect water works Mr. Guighan, a bill incorporating the City

Cottage Company. (See supplement to the Frankford and Holmesburg Railroad).

Also, for the relief of St. Vincent School

Society.

Mr. Baker, a bill paying bounties to veterans who re-enlisted.

Mr. Eldred, a bill allowing the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad to build branches. Mr. Satterthwait presented a supplement to the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society. Mr. Markley, a bill authorizing the School Directors of Frederick township, Montgomery county, to collect county tax.
Adjourned.
