thought, with the Secretary of the Navy, that the alteration of national vessels, and the employment of them for this purpose, would cost $300,000.

Mr. Rice (Mass.) replied that to the best of his judgment no such sum would be required. He cordially approved of the vessels being furnished; thought that the Presdent had authority to furnish them; hoped that Congress would request the President to furnish them, that he would comply with that request, and that such a contribution of American skill and industry would be sent to Paris as would be a credit to the American nation, and as would excite the admiration of mankind.

The committee rose to close general de-bate, and the House having ordered it to close in one minute, the committee resumed its session. Mr. Blaine asked whether the appropriation of $100,000 made in the joint resolution was to be paid in currency or in gold?

Mr. Banks replied that it was to be paid in the currency of the country.

Mr. Conkling moved an amendment, providing that the period of service of the principal agent of the exhibition in the United States—salary $2,000 should not exceed one year.

Mr. Banks—I have no objection to that.

Mr. Harding (Ill.) moved to amend the amendment by making it three months, He estimated as high as any one the high position the country should maintain in the estimation of the world, but when he heard the gentleman's (Mr. Banks') brilliant flattery of yesterday, he thought of Ortega, who had been fighting for his country thirty years and who had been executed at the behest o "the great man at the head of the French nation," as the gentleman had described him. When he thought of Ortega executed as a prisoner of war, in cold blood, and o the twenty thousand other Mexican patriots executed in the same manner, by this executed in the same manner, "great man," this model Emperor, he agreed with his colleague (Mr. Washburne). He would send no baggage wagons nor soldiers uniforms on sticks, to be laughed at by the representatives of the royal families of Europe. He would much prefer to see our soldiers in line of battle in and around Mexico.

Mexico.

Mr. Banks opposed the amendment. He said that, before he took any part in the consideration of this question, he applied to to the leading friends of the Republic of Mexico, in this city and New York, for their opinion as to its effect on the Republic of Mexico and received in gray instance. of Mexico, and received, in every instance, an unqualified answer that it was for their interest as it was for ours, that the go-vernment should be represented in the ful-

Mr. Washburne (Ill.) inquired whether Mr. Banks had inquired of the gentle-man representing the Mexican Republic in this city.

Mr. Banks replied that he had not; but had consulted the leading friends of the Mexican republic. He added that when the question as to France and Mexico should come before the House from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, neither the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. Washburne) nor any other member would be left in doubt as to the dis-position of the committee to maintain the rights of this country.

The amendment offered by Mr. Harding (Ill.) was rejected, and that offered by Mr. Conkling was agreed to.

The committee then rose, and the House took a recess till 7,30 P. M.

Evening Session.—The House met at 7.10

P. M., with a pretty fair attendance of members, and the galleries were well filled.

The Speaker presented a message from the President, transmitting two communications from Minister Bigelow, in relation to the proposed exhibition of fishery and water culture to be held at Arachon, near Bor-deaux, in July next. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Taber (N. Y.) offered a resolution, which was adopted, directing the Secretary of War to communicate to the House what effect in his opinion, will be produced on the navigable waters of New York harbor the erection of a quarantine station on the shoal known as the West Bank in said harbor, and whether such location, owing to its exposed situation, will not render it impracticable to erect the docks and wharves at which vessels may be safely moored.

Mr. Darling (N. Y.) offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee of Ways and Means to inquire into the expediency of providing for the repayment of taxes paid in error by cartmen and hackmen, under an erroneous construction of the internal revenue law.

Mr. Trimble (Ky.) presented the resolutions of the General Assembly of Kentucky, remonstrating against the proposed tax on leaf tobacco. Referred to the Committee of leaf tobacco. Referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. Washburne (Ill.) presented the testimony of Major General Custer relating to Louisiana and Texas, which was ordered to be printed.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, Mr. Wilson (Iowa) in the chair, and renewed the consideration of the joint resolution to provide for the expenses attending the exposition of the products of the industry of the United States at Paris in 1867. Severai amendments wre proposed and debated.

The Committee rose and reported the bill, when the amendments were all agreed to.

Mr. Washburne (Iil.) called for the yeas and nays on the passage of the joint resolu-tion. The vote was taken by yeas and nays, and resulted: Yeas, 69; nays, 50; so the joint resolution was passed.

On motion of Mr. Stevens, the evening session to-morrow was ordered to be omitted. At 9.40 P. M. the House adjourned.

Will of the Late Dr. Jayne. The will of the late Dr. David Jayne has been filed in the effice of the Register of Wills. It is a very voluminous document, covering thirty-two pages of foolscap closely written, and was drawn by Edward M Paxson, Esq., of the Philadelphia bar, who has been for many years the counsel of Dr. Jayne. The will is dated July 19th, A. D. 1864. We give below a correct summary of its principal provisons. The following com-prise the special pecuniary legacies: To his niece, Mary Jane Basted, five hundred dollars. To his sisters-in-law, Margaret and Emily Walker, the sum of two hundred dollars each.

To his wife's nieces, Ann Fort, Mary Smith, and Mary Elizabeth Cunningham, the sum of two hundred dollars each.

Catherina Ireland, Mary To his nieces, Catharine Ireland, Mary Jane Evans, Cornelia Davis, Julia Walker, and to his sister-in-law, Mary Cunningham, the sum of one hundred dollars per annum

each during their respective lives.

To his brother, William Jayne, the sum of three hundred dollars per year during his

For the erection of a new Baptist church in the western part of the city, fifteen thou-Sand dollars.
All the residue of his estate, real, personal, and mixed, is devised to his executors and the survivors of them in trust, for and dur-ing the full end and term of the natural ing the full end and term of the natural lives of his seven children and four grand-children, now living, and the life of the survivors of them. The clear annual income is to be distributed equally between his children and the issue of any such as may die, the latter taking their deceased parent's share, until the death of the survivor of his children and grandchildren (now living), when the whole estate is to be divided.

The executors are directed to finish the house at Nineteenth and Chestnut streets house at Nineteenth and Chestnut streets according to the plans of John McArthur, Jr., architect, and also to build a stable for the accommodation of the horses and carther the accommodation of the riages. They are also to furnish the said house in a style to correspond therewith, under the direction of his wife and daughters, and to keep up the said house as a tee of Naval Affairs, asken him whether he home for his family at the expense of the estate. The furniture, horses, carriages, &c., to be renewed when necessary. The house in which he resided at the time of his death, in Third street below Walnut, with its furniture, to be sold.

The executors are also directed to build up the property at Vine street wharf with a hotel or stores, in their discretion. They are also instructed to set apart the sum of four hundred thousand dollars out of the income, as a fund to rebuild in case any of his property is destroyed or other accident, and also as a fund to provide a suitable settlement for such of his children as shall hereafter marry.

The widow receives three thousand dollars per annum, under the terms of the marriage settlement, of which Edward M. Paxson and Eben C. Jayne are the trustees. In addition, he leaves her the use of the house at Ningteenth and Chestnut streets. which, as before stated, is to be kept up at the expense of the estate.

By the express terms of the will no intoxicating drinks are to be kept in the new house, except for medicinal or culinary purposes.

The business of the house of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, in which he owned a controlling in terest, is to be carried on by the surviving partners until all his sons and grandsons now living shall arrive at full age, in order to allow such of them as, in the opinion of his executors, may be qualified to enter the firm and perpetuate the business.

The executors and trustees under his will are his friends Rev. J. Wheaton Smith, Charles H. Rogers, Edward M. Paxson Henry Lewis, and John M. Whitall. They are also the guardians of his minor child-ren, and also of all his grand-children, so far as they take any estate under the will.
